NRA MEMBER U.S. WE DO OUR PART

THE WEATHER: Fair tonight, Wednesday; not much temperature change.

Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph

Only Pittsburgh Newspaper Printing International News Service Dispatches.

VOL. 13—NO. 28 30 PAGES TUESDAY, AUGUST 29, 1933 THREE CENTS

NIGHT WALL ST. CLOSING PRICES

U. S. BREAKS COAL CODE DEADLOCK

Nationwide Insurance Frauds Laid to 10 Held Here

6 KILLED AS LIMITED PLUNGES OFF SPAN

Today

One Correction.
Bang Goes the Brain Trust.
Big Parade, No. 2.
Rest, After Meals.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

A correction. IT WAS stated here on the authority of a gentleman from Alabama that many cotton farmers receiving money from the government for plowing cotton under, had invested part of that money in fertilizer to get, if possible, as big a crop on the remaining 75 per cent of acreage as they would have got on the whole.

A number of gentlemen in the cotton region, including Mr. H. W. Harby, of Sumter, South Carolina, deny that cotton growers are using government money to fertilize the smaller crop.

They couldn't do it if they wanted to, says Mr. Harby, because the government hasn't yet given them their money.

THE LATEST news is that the "brain trust" has exploded, and Prof. Moley is leaving the State Department to run a weekly paper with Vincent Astor and W. A. Harriman.

The weekly will support Franklin D. Roosevelt, NRA and this administration. Prof. Moley will edit it and Vincent Astor will be publisher.

Somebody might say to Prof. Moley and Vincent Astor what Horace Greeley said in the eighteen forties. Albert Brisbane, returning from Europe as a young man, helped Greeley with the Tribune financially, secured for Charles A. Dana a job on the Tribune as exchange editor and was disappointed in the Tribune's policy.

"You are too conservative, Greeley," said Albert Brisbane. "I shall start a weekly and say some things that need to be said."

The wise Greeley replied:

"Don't do that, Brisbane. It will cost you a lot of money. You won't get the circulation. I will sell you a column on the front page of the Tribune every day; you pay me advertising rates. It will cost you less than the weekly and you can say anything you please, as long as I am not responsible."

Albert Brisbane took the wise advice, and in the files of the Tribune back in 1842-43 you will see on the front page a daily column signed by Albert Brisbane and paid for by him "for the dissemination of his ideas."

One of his children, thanks to William Randolph Hearst, has a column on many front pages, and does not pay advertising rates for the privilege.

Astor, Moley and Harriman might save money buying a page in the newspapers every day. That would give Prof. Moley a bigger audience.

THE NRA "big parade," as Fitzpatrick of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch points out, is underway, and no one is safe who stands in the way of it.

Gov. Lehman has signed a law suspending New York State's anti-trust law. "Anti-trust" might prove to be "anti-NRA" so that law fades away.

In Michigan, Patrick H. O'Brien, attorney general, tells the National Association of Attorney Generals that no court will dare stand in the way of NRA.

THANKS TO Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's kind heart, there has been established a camp for "forgotten women."

There they are well fed, and a kind-hearted "counsellor" "sees to it that they rest after meals."

It is comforting to read of that. The pity is that women who camp in kitchen and the laundry, whose exercise is mending, darning, washing the children and making their clothes, have nobody to impress on them that they should "rest after meals."

THE NRA, rapidly developing, now has a "salute" just like Fascism, Hitlerism and other isms. But it is the best salute, and Gen. Johnson illustrates it.

You hold your right hand as high up in the air as you can reach, and smile as though you really believe that prosperity has already come back. If any man holds his arm only half way up as a sign that prosperity is only half way back he's a traitor.

CHANGING TIMES make changing conditions. A little while ago, at Versailles, France, with the help of the other allies, was cutting both arms and legs and most of the body from the Austrian empire, leaving only Vienna, the head. Now Daladier, French premier, says France will protect Austria's liberty, meaning against Hitler, of course.

Already Europe takes it for granted that another war is wanted, and as quickly as convenient, this time by Mr. Hitler. The French postponed their "revenge" for more than forty years after 1870. Hitler will not wait, if he can help it. Europe hopes "the big powers will prevent a conflict."

IN THE Berlin university, you must have muscle, run, jump and put the shot. Even a professor is expected to be muscular. Nothing so drastic has happened since Theodore Roosevelt decided that generals in the American army must prove their ability to ride horseback one hundred miles a day.

This would surprise Humboldt, Helmholtz and other ancient ones, if they should come back, and be told by Mr. Hitler:

"First, let me see how far you can go on the broad jump, then how high on the pole vault. After that comes science."

UNHAPPY CHINA, her enemy is not Japan, but nature. The governor of Shantung reports 3,000,000 destitute in

(Continued on Page Two, Col. Seven.)

U. S. BREAKS COAL CODE DEADLOCK

Johnson Sees Last NRA Hazard Removed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Confident that the last major hazard to his campaign to bring all industries under codes of fair competition was behind, Hugh S. Johnson today turned to speeding the national drive for popular cooperation with the Recovery Administration.

Calling into conference the chairmen of the NRA committees for 14 major cities, he outlined aims of the movement to align every employer and to have consumers buy where the Blue Eagle is displayed.

TOPPED BY COAL CODE

Meantime, a calm pervaded the corridors of the NRA headquarters after the tense negotiations of weeks past as Johnson and others worked out the industrial agreements, topped now by the bituminous coal code, which brought the operators of the highly competitive Appalachian coal fields and spokesmen for mine workers together last night.

This accord is being translated into final form. Johnson expects it to reach President Roosevelt this week. The Chief Executive already is familiar with its general terms and has expressed satisfaction.

With coal in the fold, the administrator expressed belief that the last of the large controversial questions had been solved and that the path of the administration would be smoother from now on.

Announcement that the committees of the United Mine Workers and nonunion operators had reached the basis of an agreement covering the principal points at issue, was made by Johnson last night.

CLEARS WAY

He said:

"This clears the way to the preparation of an acceptable code."

Although Johnson declined to reveal the terms of the agree-

(Continued on Page Six, Col. One.)

DRYS 'HOPEFUL' IN WASHINGTON

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Prohibitionists talked of "a surprise" in the outcome and repealists forecast an over-whelming victory as Washington expressed its will today on the Eighteenth Amendment.

Washington is the twenty-fourth state to vote on the question, the preceding 23 having gone solidly for repeal.

Drys professed to be hopeful, but the wets had statistics on their side. George E. Starr, Democratic state chairman, said:

"If there is a representative vote, every district in the state should go for repeal with the possible exception of the tenth—Asotin, Columbia and Garfield counties."

Said Emery Asbury, campaign head for the emergency committee against repeal:

"This state will surprise the people who are predicting big wet majorities. We are not predicting anything, but we think the vote will be to reject repeal."

The lineup was the familiar wet-city, dry-country one, with a heavy vote expected, and leaders of both sides wondering how much Washington's peculiar election plan would affect the balloting.

Anti-Repealists Meet in Harrisburg

HARRISBURG, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Rallying behind the prohibition standard, anti-repeal representatives from most of Pennsylvania's 67 counties gather in Harrisburg tomorrow to plan their campaign for dry delegates to the state repeal convention.

John McSparran, State Secretary of Agriculture, and a member of the Committee of Nine, is to preside.

INSURANCE FRAUD LAID TO 10 HERE

Ring Charged With Collecting on Fake Accident Claims

Ten men and women were lined up in detective headquarters today accused as members of a nationwide ring, detectives say, which mulcted 60 insurance companies out of hundreds of thousands of dollars in fake accident claims.

The men and women were placed under the glare of a standup before 60 insurance company investigators.

Unnerved by the questioning, Mrs. Anna Giordana collapsed in the detective bureau. She was taken to Mercy Hospital.

FAKE ACCIDENTS

The 10 admitted, according to Detective Inspector Frank R. Boyd, that they had staged fake accidents, had each other beat the chosen victims in the headquarters at 3466 Bates street, Oakland, went to bed with bruises and lacerations to await the insurance adjusters—and then collected.

Those in custody are Frank Gemellarro, 46, of 3466 Bates street, an insurance broker and oil operator and notary public of South Brooklyn, N. Y.; his wife, Rosie, 43, 3466 Bates street; Elmer Hoover, 24, 621 Mellon street; Steve Oliveri, 32, and wife Rose, 25, of 3800 Frazier street; Joseph Giordano, 24, of 1211 James street, Guiseppe Rettino, 37, 1211 James street; Mrs. Anna Giordano, 36 of 1211 James street, wife of Joseph! Raphael Cirroni, 38, of 3832 Bates street and Jerome Schultz, 28, of 3201 Alwyn street.

TAKEN IN CUSTODY

They were taken in custody by City Detective George Brubach and Andrew Carciere, following an investigation begun last May by Detective Inspector Boyd, Charles De Carlo, of the Aetna Insurance Company here, and Thomas F. Harrigan, of the National Bureau of Casualty and Insurance Underwriters of New York.

Boyd and Harrigan stated that insurance companies have been swindled out of hundreds of thousands of dollars by this ring.

Boyd charged the prisoners with conspiracy, and announced they would be given preliminary hearings tomorrow before Magistrate Thomas D. Jones.

Frank Gemellarro, known as "The Duke" was the "brains" of the outfit, Boyd and Harrigan said. He came here from Brooklyn, set up headquarters in an ornately furnished office in Bates street, and gathered in the members of the ring, the detective said.

SYSTEM EXPLAINED

The manner of functioning was to get one to drive a truck and crash into a parked automobile on which another had prearranged insurance, detectives said. After the accident, the one involved came to the Bates street headquarters, they asserted. Others of the mob waiting used "blackjacks," knives, and fists to cause abrasions and injuries to the chosen one, police declared. The victim then went to bed—sometimes from necessity, and the adjusters from the insurance company found him there and settlements were arranged, Boyd explained.

Signed statements from each of the prisoners were made, Boyd said, before him and Assistant District Attorney Jacob Kalson.

Ten Held in Plot Facing Insurance Adjusters

(OTHER PICTURE: PAGE 3)

DETECTIVE INSPECTOR BOYD (LEFT) QUESTIONING 10 MEN AND WOMEN ARRESTED AS INSURANCE ACCIDENT-FAKERS

The standup before insurance adjusters at detective headquarters today for the men and women held as part of a nationwide ring that has mulcted 60 insurance companies of hundreds of thousands of dollars. This is a Sun-Telegraph picture.

FIVE OTHERS DIE IN CRASH OF PLANE

40 Passengers Hurt In Wreck of Train; Baby Aboard Plane

At least 11 persons were killed today in accidents following torrential rains over New Mexico.

Six died, 40 were hurt and many are missing in the plunge of a limited train from a bridge into a raging stream near Tucumcari, N. M.

Five were killed in the crash of a tri-motored plane northwest of Clovis, N. M.

TUCUMCARI, N. M., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—At least six persons met death and 40 others were injured when the crack Golden State Limited, transcontinental passenger train bound from Los Angeles to Chicago, plunged through a washed out bridge into a water-filled arroyo five miles west of here at dawn today.

The engine and six coaches tumbled down the sides of the high fill into the gulch.

The east span of the steel bridge had been crumpled by a torrent resulting from heavy rains climaxed by a four-inch fall last night.

The only identified body was that of C. J. Crost, of Tucumcari, the engineer. The other dead were three women and two men, all passengers in the first day coach.

6 BODIES RECOVERED

The six recovered bodies were brought to morgues here.

The injured were being cared for in hospitals and improvised first-aid wards in hotels and private homes.

Five Pullman coaches remained on the bridge. The train was traveling about 20 miles an hour, railroad officials said, as it was feared the fill might have been weakened by the heavy rain.

A wrecker was sent to the scene from El Paso, and ambulances were called from as far away as Amarillo, 125 miles distant.

The Golden State Limited is operated over the Southern Pacific lines west of Tucumcari, and over the Rock Island lines east to Chicago. The wreck occurred on the Southern Pacific tracks.

T. F. Wheelock, mail clerk, the only man in the mail car, was among those severely injured.

The coaches plunged into a ditch alongside the earth fill on both the north and south sides, but were only partially in water.

Bodies of five passengers brought to Tucumcari were not identified immediately. It was not known how many of the passengers were dead or missing, but at least 40 were brought to hospitals here.

Railroad officials here said the train was running only 20 miles an hour. It had stopped a mile west of the fill to investigate the track for possible damage. The

(Continued on Page Two, Col. Two.)

Jap Who Quit League May Get U. S. Post

TOKIO, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Despite foreign office denials, the newspaper Jiji Shin,po reported today that the ambassadorship to Washington will be offered Yosuke Matsuoka, head of the Japanese delegation which walked out of the League if Nations meeting last spring when a report on Manchuria unfavorable to Japan was adopted.

COYNE, MELLON HIT BY M'NAIR

The merry war between William N. McNair and John M. Henry, Democratic mayoralty candidates, as to whether McNair is too close to the Mellons and Senator James J. Coyne, continued today.

McNair, in a speech last night at Allen school, linked Coyne and A. W. Mellon and W. L. Mellon, and excoriated all three, inquiring why Joseph N. Mackrell and P. J. McArdle, Republican candidates opposing Mayor John S. Herron, backed by Coyne, did not make similar attacks on the Pittsburgh industrialists.

Henry today rejoined that the appointment of Ewing LaPorte as treasurer of the McNair campaign committee was proof that Mellon was interested in the McNair candidacy. Henry said that one of the decorations of LaPorte's office was an autographed picture of A. W. Mellon.

HITS COYNE, MELLONS

McNair, however, rode roughshod in his criticism of Coyne and the Mellons last night, endeavoring to drive home his contention

(Continued on Page Five, Col. One.)

East River Tunnel Leak Delays Trains

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—A report to the Transit Commission today said that the No. 1 tunnel of the Long Island Railroad, under the East River between Manhattan and Queens, "sprang a leak" shortly after 7 a. m.

Trains were proceeding through the tunnel at a speed of 10 miles an hour, and heavy congestion in the tube and terminal were reported.

Taken for Ride, Charge Of County Vote Prober

Felix Zeimer, assessment book investigator, asserted today he had been taken for a "ride" by two men who seized him while investigating alleged "phantom voters" in the Fifteenth Ward yesterday.

He told Leo Riordan, chief investigator, that two men approached him and demanded to see his credentials. Zeimer said they dragged him into an automobile, drove two blocks, and then pushed him out.

Zeimer called police, Riordan said the police had identified the men and would arrest them later.

He announced that many names on the assessment books had been found to bear striking similarity to those of inmates of the Helping Hand and Improvement of Poor homes. In the Eleventh Ward 150 such were struck out.

From the home of one city employe on the North Side, 21 persons were assessed, Riordan said; from another, 18, and from a third, 23. Most of them, he said, were phantoms.

Lawyer Modestly Denies He Blacked Huey's Eye

Society Laughs As Kingfish Blames 'Gangsters'

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The unknown soldier who altered the profile of Senator Huey Long, Louisiana Kingfish, at the battle of the Sands Point Bath Club on Saturday night was a prominent 42-year-old lawyer.

This was the gossip quivering along the social grapevine today following the historic clash in which Huey met a bloody Waterloo.

The lawyer was backward about accepting the honor.

Interviewed on the telephone by International News Service, he insisted he wasn't at the club on Saturday night, but was there the next day. He said:

"But I would have been glad to have struck the Senator in the eye if his behavior was as reported."

The attorney is a member of the exclusive Long Island club.

BIG, GOOD NATURED

Whoever he was, the gentleman who socked the Kingfish, to use the patois of Louisiana, was described by witnesses of the conflict as an athletic type, big and good natured.

Members of the club also recalled that Huey had been the life of the party before his en-

(Continued on Page Eight, Col. One.)

Court Rules Farm Act Constitutional

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Justice Daniel W. O'Donoghue, of the District of Columbia Supreme Court today upheld the constitutionality of the Agriculture Adjustment Act.

Dismissing a suit for a temporary injunction which would restrain Secretary Wallace from enforcing the Chicago milkshed agreement fixing the price of milk, he declared the emergency justified the law. Attorneys for the plaintiffs announced they would appeal.

Machado in Bermuda, Stays Aboard Ship

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Aug. 29.—(INS.)—Former President Gerardo Machado, of Cuba, arrived aboard the liner Lady Rodney today.

Machado's party remained aboard the liner. He refused to see newspapermen.

In Today's Sun-Telegraph

	Page
Premiere	28
Bugs Baer	19, 27
Bridge Lessons	14
Arthur Brisbane	1
Comics	28, 29
Cross-Word Puzzle	29
Daily Pattern	8
Dr. Copeland	14
Editorial	30
Fashions	16
Finance	25, 26, 27
O. O. McIntyre	30
Magazine, Fiction	14
Mark Hellinger	11
Radio	12, 13
Ripley	22
Will Rogers	19
Society, Clubs	16, 17
Sports	22, 23, 24
Stage and Screen	15
Walter Winchell	15

Poor Board Must Repay $40,831

Members of the Allegheny County Poor Board were ordered today to restore to the county $40,831. The courts held they exceeded their authority in spending that amount.

Judge Thomas M. Marshall directed J. Clyde Miller, H. H. Dixon and the executors of the estate of W. L. Henderson to make the restitution.

The suit against the board was brought by Walter W. Riehl as a taxpayer. He alleged that Dixon, Henderson and Miller as directors of the county home, had spent funds for purposes not within the board's purview.

Note Causes Guard At Convict's Home

CHARLEROI, Pa., Aug. 29.—(INS.)—State and municipal police today maintained an armed cordon about the home of Frank Nadeau, 27, Rockview Penitentiary convict, who escapad early Saturday with Wayne Dougherty, Crawford County, assistant prison cook. It was Nadeau's message to his wife, telling her he would "be there to see her and the kiddies and kill anyone who stopped him" that brought out the armed guard for the house.

3 DIE AS PLANES CRASH IN AIR

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Three Randolph Field fliers, one flying instructor and two cadets, fell to their deaths and a fourth "bailed out" with a parachute and landed safely when two pursuit training planes crashed in mid-air at the field today.

Those killed in the first major accident at the "West Point of the Air" were Lieut. Harley R. Grater, instructor, of Lebanon, Ind.; Cadet William Pasche, of Chicago, Ill.; Cadet H. R. Sandberg, of Denver, Col.

Lieut. Louis K. Vaupre, instructor, leaped from his plane at an altitude of about 500 feet and came to earth safely. His ankle was broken.

All but Cadet Sandberg attempted a parachute jump. Lieut. Grater and Cadet Pasche fell within a few feet of the earth before their chutes opened. Cadet Sandberg went down with the plane.

Roosevelt Permits Mined Gold Exports

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 29.—(INS.)—President Roosevelt today issued an executive order permitting the sale and export of gold mined in this country on consignment through the Secretary of the Treasury. This allows mined gold to be exported.

The Treasury Secretary is authorized to sell the gold to persons licensed to acquire gold for use in the arts industries or professions or to dispose of it to foreign purchasers.

British Girl Conquers Channel; 3 Others Try

International News Service.

DOVER, England, Aug. 29.—The first successful attempt to swim the English Channel since 1930 was completed today as Miss Sunny Lowry, British star, touched the shore of St. Margaret's Bay, near Dover, at 10:10 a. m. (5:10 a. m. Pittsburgh time) today.

Miss Lowry swam from the coast of France in 15 hours and 40 minutes, having taken to the water at 6:30 p. m. yesterday.

She was favored by good weather and a sea which, for the channel, was comparatively calm.

Meanwhile a mass attack upon the channel records was launched by three England - to - France swimmers competing for a gold trophy for the fastest time in this direction. There were two Britons and an American, Charles Ziebelman, legless Chicagoan.

Ziebelman entered the water at 7:17 a. m. (2:17 a. m. Pittsburgh time) at Shakespeare Beach, West Dover, and struck out for the French coast.

He was followed by Miss Mercedes Gleitze, former London stenographer, and E. H. Temme, London insurance clerk.

Five hours after entering the channel the three were approximately 12 miles out and all swimming strongly.

Both Britons swam the channel from France to England in 1927. Ziebelman was forced to abandon an attempt a short time ago.

ROOSEVELT MEETS NORMAN, REFUSES STABILIZATION

NEW DEAL PUT FIRST IN U. S. POLICY

President Confers at Hyde Park With Leaders

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—President Roosevelt spurred on his domestic rehabilitation campaign today before leaving for Albany to inspect some bridges sponsored when he was governor.

A night of conferences with James A. Farley postmaster general, and with Secretary Ickes, public works administrator, helped to put the new deal far along its way.

Cheered by developments Mr. Roosevelt announced definitely his plans to return leisurely to Washington by a sea cruise.

NO STABILIZATION

The bugaboo of stabilization of the currency in foreign exchange was very quietly laid aside by Mr. Roosevelt last night as he served tea to Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, and George Harrison, governor of the New York Federal Reserve Bank.

The smiling President added a fresh international flavor to the tea at the summer White House by inviting Prince Louis Ferdinand, the grandson of the former Kaiser and a close friend of the family, to Hyde Park.

Mr. Roosevelt is willing to talk stabilization at a future time but, quite apparently, he does not consider the time ripe now. He wants the American dollar without its gold backing to find its true level with the currencies of other nations. He wants to know if the gold standard countries which are running behind in their budgets can remain on the gold basis.

When all of these questions are settled, he will talk about a return to the gold standard on a world basis and not before.

GOVERNMENT PRESSURE

He awaited results from his order for government pressure to assure that the temporary credit needed to help NRA members over the period of first strain is furnished.

Jesse Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, was at Washington today devising with federal chiefs a plan to make sure that the banks temporarily aid employers who have given news jobs and higher wages until they collect the higher prices that the recovery campaign is driving for.

Secretary Ickes and Postmaster General Farley remained all night with the President. With Ickes he talked over and approved a number of new projects under the public works program.

These will be announced immediately upon the public works administrator's return to Washington by air. Meanwhile, the administration is seriously considering the establishment of a forfeiture clause in future allotments requiring that the projects be put underway in a specified time.

Ickes is not at all satisfied with the speed being shown in starting the projects already approved and money provided for.

Union Officer Slain In Old 'Capone Land'

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Shot in the face and chest, the body of a man identified as John Pippani, 35, secretary of the Italian Bread Drivers' League, was found today on a street in suburban Cicero, former stronghold of Al Capone. Near the body lay a pistol and two hats. A short time later the police arrested hatless suspects.

Today

(Continued From Page One.)

Western Shantung fleeing from rising waters, 800 villages submerged.

If we really took the Christian religion seriously in this country on week days as well as Sunday, this would give us a chance to get rid of some of the 161,000,000 bushels of wheat that the government has stored away and cannot use without injuring the farmer.

THE DECISION in Texas makes it quite certain that the "noble experiment" will soon go to join other experiments that were well meant, but did not work. Twenty-three states in succession having voted against prohibition, it is unlikely that the Eighteenth Amendment will survive the final results.

Repeal will come too late for three men and one woman of a "party" in a Brooklyn shanty. The "party" took the form of an anti-freeze mixture. All drank. Four died.

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Now They're Assessing Statues -:- By QUIN HALL

LIMITED LEAPS OFF SPAN

(Continued From Page One.)

east span of the bridge had been washed out, but the damage could not be seen from the west end.

ENGINE SUBMERGED

The engine was submerged in the deepest part of the ravine. The mail car rested on top of the engine and the baggage car was at a 45-degree angle to the track beside the mail car. The next car, a coach, was crosswise in the creek bed, partially on top of the baggage car. A Pullman tourist sleeper was also across the creek. All these were on the south side of the fill.

On the north side was a club car in the bed of the creek along with a standard coach, which was on its side. The head end of another standard coach was the only other car off the rails, the remaining Pullman coaches remaining on the bridge.

It was not known whether any bodies had been swept away in the torrent, or whether they were lodged in the wreckage.

A special train was being made up at Amarillo to bring survivors to Dalhart, Tex.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—The Golden State Limited, which plunged through a bridge near Tucumcari today, is the best train on the Southern Pacific-Rock Island system.

It makes the run between Los Angeles and Chicago in 62 hours and was due here at 9:15 tomorrow morning.

Five Killed as Plane Crashes in Storm

AMARILLO, Tex., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Five persons fell to their deaths in a Transcontinental and Western Air Line night mail and passenger tri-motored transport plane when it crashed against the south end of Mesa Mountain near Quay, N. M., early today in the same storm that wrecked a railroad passenger train some 20 miles away.

The dead are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gore of Albuquerque, N. M., and their granddaughter, Evelyn Gore, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gore of Amarillo; Pilot Howard Morgan and Co-Pilot C. W. Barcus, both of Kansas City.

The ill-fated plane was caught in the same terrific storm which washed out a span of the railroad bridge, five miles west of Tucumcari, resulting in the wrecking of the Golden State Limited. The scene of the plant crash is about 20 miles south of Tucumcari.

The plane left here at 11:35 p. m. last night to continue the regular flight westbound when the regular ship was storm-bound in Kansas City.

One report from the scene said the ship caught fire and the two pilots and three passengers were trapped in the blazing wreckage.

Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.
Volume XIII—No. 28.
Tuesday, August 29, 1933.

Published evening and Sunday at the office of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Telegraph Square, Pittsburgh, Pa. Price: Daily, 3 cents; Sunday, 10 cents.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Pittsburgh, Pa., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

CHILD BLINDED; 3 LYNCHED

International News Service.

BELGRADE, Jugoslavia, Aug. 29.—The vengeance of an anguished parent, whose daughter was kidnaped and blinded by Gypsies, resulted in a wave of violence and bloodshed at Varvarin today.

A series of fatal clashes began when a peasant recognized as his daughter a 7-year-old girl who had been sent abroad by a Gypsy band to beg for them.

Rounding up friends and relatives, the father led a series of attacks upon the Gypsies. By the time police intervened, three of the Gypsies had been lynched and 20 wounded.

Twenty peasants were arrested.

'HEARSAY' HIT IN BANK PROBE

DETROIT, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—The practice of the one-man Detroit bank investigating jury in taking "hearsay evidence" was criticized before the jury today by Arthur J. Lacy, personal attorney for United States Senator James Couzens (Rep.), of Michigan.

He said:

"It may ruin the reputation of a perfectly fine and good man or woman. Take the case of Mrs. Couzens, wife of the senator. A finer woman does not live. Yet the hearsay statement made here that she had withdrawn 'smart money' was published in the newspapers here without any amount being mentioned, and the inference was permitted that she had withdrawn an enormous sum."

Discussing testimony of Father Charles E. Coughlin, crusading priest, before the jury last week, Lacy said:

"Take the case of Peter Monaghan. (Attorney and prominent Catholic layman mentioned by Father Coughlin as one 'doubtful of escaping federal indictment.') I don't know of a finer Christian gentleman than Peter Monaghan."

Foley Addresses Three Meetings

Robert A. Foley, candidate for Jury Commissioner, last night spoke at a First Ward workers' meeting in the Roosevelt Hotel, and at meetings in Garfield School and South High School.

STREET CROWDS FLEE BULLETS OF GUNMEN

Alky Pedler Target In Busy Chicago Thoroughfare

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Gangsters picked on one of Chicago's busiest thoroughfares—Sixty-third street on the South Side—for their latest attempted assassination and today their victim, described by police as an alcohol peddler, was near death with eight bullet wounds in his body.

He is John Scalzitti, 37, and yesterday when a volley of shots were fired at him from a machine gun, a shotgun and a revolver held by four men in a passing automobile, crowds of shoppers ran for their lives. One of the bullets passed through the skirt of a 15-year-old girl, but she was unhurt.

At a hospital, where physicians said he probably would die, Scalzitti said he was unable to account for the attack.

Meanwhile, the drive against "public enemies" and criminals continued with the conviction of seven persons and the arrest of two more on the "enemy" list.

Jack McGurn, arrested on a golf course last week, was held in jail after being unable to raise a $10,000 release bond on a vagrancy charge. Previously federal agents had questioned him.

The two arrested were James Belcastro, 37, and James Adducci, reputed Capone gang henchmen. Police said they would be turned over to government agents for questioning in regard to kidnapings and other acts of violence.

Double Killing Held Echo Of Hollywood Murder

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—A double assassination by three men in a fashionable Italian restaurant revived a four-year-old murder mystery.

Police asserted the slaying last night of Harry Mackley and Frank Keller, both of St. Louis, was a gangster reprisal. Police said Mackley, alias Harry Frank and Abe Frank, who had also lived in New York City where he was believed to have operated a hat store, had been arrested here in 1929 as a suspect in the mysterious slaying of David Antink, secretary of the Sun Realty Company.

The slayers of Antink have never been apprehended. Antink was to have been the state's star witness against Morris Moll, Kansas City gangster, who had allegedly sought to rob Antink.

The three men who did the killing walked quickly into the restaurant and surrounded the table where Mackley and Keller were seated. They started firing pistols without warning.

Al Capone Absent, Racket Case Delayed

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Eight of the 24 defendants indicted for a racketeering conspiracy appeared before Chief Justice John Prystalski in Criminal Court today, only to hear the state obtain a continuance until September term of court.

Al Capone was due to appear on a habeas corpus writ, but the government had made no move to release him from Atlanta Penitentiary for the hearing and it was assumed he would be brought here when the state is ready for trial.

BOAT CAPSIZES, BOYS BATTLE LAKE WAVES

2 Swim to Safety, 3rd Feared Lost; Cling To Vessel Hours

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Rescue squads combed the 20-mile sandy shore line of Lake Michigan between here and Gary, Ind., today for a youth, who, with two others, attempted to swim to shore when their 18-foot sailboat capsized during a heavy sea.

The one still missing is Lawrence Carlson, 20, of Muskegon, Mich., a student in a Michigan college, and owner of the boat. It is feared he may have perished in his attempt to battle the high waves that lashed the lake last night.

His two companions, Glenn Smith, 21, also of Muskegon, a University of Illinois student, and Frank York, 21, of Chicago, reached shore at widely separated points last night after gruelling struggles with the waves. Today Smith was recuperating in a cottage at Ogden Dunes, west of here, and York was in a Gary hospital.

BATTLED WAVES

The thrilling story of the fight the trio put up against the angry waters of the lake, lashed into a fury by a stiff wind, was told by Smith last night after he staggered onto the beach and appeared at the summer home of P. R. Anderson.

He said they left Chicago early yesterday in the sloop Sonja, bound for Muskegon across the lake. Fighting heavy waves all day, he said they kept close to shore and were about three miles out from Ogden Dunes late in the afternoon when the boat was struck by two big waves and capsized.

From then until darkness set in he said they clung to the overturned craft, which did not sink because of air tanks. Being the best swimmer of the lot, he said, it was finally decided that he attempt to reach shore and summon help. Previously, he said, their attempts to right the boat were futile.

DESPAIRED OF RESCUE

From that point on his story was one of a struggle to keep himself afloat as he rose and fell with the waves. Finally his feet struck bottom and in a daze he made his way to the cottage from where appeals for aid were sent to all Coast Guard stations in the vicinity and in Chicago.

An hour later York reached land—six miles west of where Smith completed his arduous swim. He told rescuers Carlson had started out with him after they had despaired of help ever arriving.

New Yorker Found Dead in Erie Swamp

ERIE, Pa., Aug. 29.—(INS.)—Identified by a note which gave his name and said he was "heartbroken," Edwin Pfeffer, 40, of New York City, was found dead in a swamp near here, police reported today.

He had been dead for about two weeks. Poisoning was believed to be the cause of his death, by police.

Rain Spout Thief Gets $2,500 Loot

A thief who climbed a rain spout to enter the home of Mrs. Morris Nydes, of 2170 Wylie avenue, escaped with jewels and cash valued at $2,500, she reported to police today.

State's Beauty

FLORENCE MEYERS

Miss Meyers, 19, East Rockaway, L. I., selected "Miss New York State" in a state-wide beauty contest at Long Beach to single out a contestant for the "Miss America" pageantry. This is an International News Photograph Service picture.

INSULL ARREST SANCTIONED BY GREEK COURT

Utilities Magnate at Hearing Uncertain As to Citizenship

ATHENS, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—The Appeal Court approved today the application for formal sanction of the detention of Samuel Insull, former Chicago utilities operator, in connection with American extradition proceedings.

Insull arrived shortly before the beginning of the hearing at 10:15 a. m. escorted by two plain-clothes policemen.

After his identity had been established, several questions were put to him regarding himself, his wife and son.

When asked about his nationality, Insull replied that he was British and was born in London, but acquired American citizenship in 1896.

STATUS UNCERTAIN

He said he did not know his present status because the American government has cancelled his passport.

The former Chicagoan on Saturday was taken to a private hospital on doctors' orders after a second attempt began to extradite him to the United States on a new indictment charging violation of the bankruptcy act.

A previous attempt to extradite him on mail fraud charges failed.

Insull told the court, composed of five members, that he lived in Chicago as the executive of a utilities company, but that his business extended through several states.

WRIT ASSURED

Prosecutor Reganacos formally announced he would issue a writ for Insull's arrest following an American legation note, charging him with bankruptcy.

Details of the charge were not known this morning because the indictment had not been submitted.

One of his attorneys requested that Insull be released on bail since there was no fear that he would attempt to escape.

The attorney declared that Insull already had expressed a wish to become a Greek citizen and to establish a permanent home in Greece.

Insull's Son, 7 Others Post Bond In New Suit

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Samuel Insull, Jr., surrendered before Federal Judge John G. Page today and posted $10,000 on an indictment charging him and 10 others with transferring $2,500,000 of the assets of Corporation Securities Company in anticipation of bankruptcy.

The indictment is the same as that on which federal authorities are seeking to extradite his father, Samuel Insull, Sr., from Greece for trial. Young Insull was required only to sign a bond, $10,000 posted on a mail fraud charge being allowed to stand as surety on the new indictment.

Seven other defendants also surrendered. They are Stanley Field, former chairman of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company; Harold L. Stuart, president of Halsey Stuart & Co.; William R. Erwin, an auditor of Corporation Securities; John H. Gulick, D. J. McEnroe, Charles W. Daniel and John F. O'Keefe.

Edward J. Doyle, president of the Commonwealth Edison Company, was reported out of the city, but prepared to surrender upon his return. Martin Insull, a brother of Samuel, Sr., is a fugitive in Canada on the mail fraud charge and has been named in the new indictment.

PRIESTS GIVEN NEW PARISHES

Bishop Hugh C. Boyle, of the Roman Catholic diocese of Pittsburgh, announced the transfer of the following priests today.

Rev. M. J. McBurney, of St. Joseph's Church, Natrona, becomes pastor at St. Francis Xavier, North Side.

Rev. D. J. Hagarty, of the Mercy Hospital, goes to Natrona.

Rev. Edward Misklow succeeds Rev. Hagarty at Mercy Hospital.

Rev. M. P. Boyle, of St. Scholastica, Aspinwall, to St. Raphael's, Morningside.

Rev. Arthur Burns, of the Pittsburgh Hospital, to Aspinwall.

Rev. Martin Flaherty, of St. Bernard's, Mt. Lebanon, to the Pittsburgh Hospital.

Rev. Ray Doherty, recently ordained to St. Bernard's.

Rev. John Corcoran, of the Mercy Hospital to Colyesville.

Rev. Vincent O'Donnell takes his place at Mercy Hospital.

Rev. Patrick Quilten, of Unity, becomes pastor at St. Francis, Finleyville.

Rev. James Brady, assistant priest at St. Bernard's, Indiana, Pa., becomes pastor there.

There has been a vacancy at St. Francis Xavier since last December when Rev. Patrick Maher died.

St. Raphael's at Morningside has been without a designated pastor since the death of Rev. John Gallagher in the spring.

Temporary appointments previously made include Rev. Paul Nee to St. Marys' at the Point, Rev. Ralph L. Hayes (nephew of Bishop-designated Ralph L. Hayes) to Canonsburg, Rev. Cornelius Kane to Blairsville and Rev. F. P. King to West Newton.

Marches Burglar To Police Station

FARRELL, Pa., Aug. 29.—(INS.)—Mix a little righteous indignation with plenty of courage and you have a perfect recipe for burglar catching.

That's the belief of Michael Askerneese, who heard a noise in his home in the wee sma' hours, grabbed up a rifle and, after capturing the intruder, marched him to city police station. The alleged burglar, George Georgaros, was to be given a hearing before Mayor J. A. Franck today.

$36,986,956 TO FIGHT FLOODS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—The public works administration today alloted $36,986,956 to the War Department for continuation of flood control work on the lower Mississippi River and $13,600,000 to the Navy for construction and repair work at shore stations and Navy yards.

Public works funds totaling $9,274,185, to be expended largely for construction and repair work, also were alloted to the Treasury Department, the eVterans' Administration, the War Department, and other government agencies.

Secretary Ickes, the public works administrator, in announcing the allotment for flood control work, said it would complete the work for the lower river and permit the hooking up of levees.

AUTO WRECKAGE FATAL TO EIGHT IN P. R. R. CRASH

RESCUERS PULLING A WRECKED SEDAN FROM THE SUSQUEHANNA RIVER AT COLUMBIA, PA. . . . . A TRAIN STRUCK IT

Six people—three women, two men and a baby—died in the crash of this car at Groom's Crossing with a P. R. R. inspection train. Two others died of excitement caused by the wreck. This is a Wide World News Photograph Service picture.

Colonel Says Soldier Admitted 'Red' Pay

International News Service.

CRISTOBAL, Canal Zone, Aug. 29.—Corp. Ralph Osman, U. S. A., from Brooklyn, N. Y., on trial before a court martial at Fort Sherman, for espionage, confessed that he had been in correspondence with a Communist group in New York, Col. Edmund A. Buchanan, department inspector of the Panama Canal, testified today.

Though Osman pleaded not guilty when his trial opened, he previously had admitted, said Col. Buchanan, that he had received $150 from the New Yorkers.

Earlier in the day testimony had been given that Osman received $50 bills in mysterious letters addressed to a postoffice box in Cristobal and the photograph of an unidentified woman, said to be "of Russian type," was introduced while newspapermen were barred from the room.

Indian Aiding Rescue Of Deer From Cliff

WATKINS GLEN, N. Y., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Chief So-Latcowanee, Mohawk Indian, conferred with Watkins Glen state park authorities and conservation department officials today for permission to attempt to rescue of the seven-point buck deer which has been trapped for the fourth day on a narrow ledge of rock on the face of a precipitious bank in Watkins Glen gorge.

Apparently chased by dogs, the deer and its doe, whose body was found Saturday morning before the plight of the mate was discovered, evidently entered the narrow glen from its source in the wildest part of Schuyler County.

Plans to snare the trapped animal, which is suffering from thirst or to reach it with ropes have been discarded because the deer might jump to death in the gorge.

Hay and water lowered last night by Game Protector William Buck has not been touched, but the deer browses occasionally on some green herbage it has been able to reach.

Frank Haight, superintendent of the Watkins Glen park, said construction of a bridge would be started today at a point where the tourist paths come within 25 feet of one end of the shelf on which the deer is trapped.

The Mohawk chief's plan for rescuing the deer involves construction of a corral at one end of the ledge and a system of snares.

SECOND CHILD ILL OF SLEEPING SICKNESS; ONE DEAD

DOCTORS ALERT FOR SIGNS OF MALADY

One Youth Succumbs, Another Recovering In Hospital

With one child dead and another recovering here from the mysterious sleeping sickness which has taken 42 lives in St. Louis, Pittsburgh physicians were alert today for new signs of the disease.

The first victim here was William Clough, 15, son of Charles M. Clough, of 8126 Kimback street, Chicago. He died in the South Side Hospital yesterday morning.

In the hospital also is Robert Cunliffe, 9, of 302 Aidyl street, Brookline. Physicians said he is suffering from the same malady which took the Clough boy's life, but has passed the crisis and is on the road to recovery.

YOUTH ISOLATED

The Cunliffe boy is isolated, although the physician attending him says the disease is not contagious. The attending physician added:

"The disease now prevalent is not true sleeping sickness. It is a twentieth century variety of encephalitis. So little is known about it that neither the hospital nor anyone else knows what particular measures to take. It is not contagious.

"This new disease differs from past forms in that it starts with the same symptoms as meningitis."

10 DAYS IN COMA

For 10 days the Clough boy had tossed restlessly in a coma while physicians fought to save him.

The boy's parents were on a motor tour of the East when William became ill at Roston. He father said:

"William grew drowsy and indifferent. Then he refused to take his food."

The Cloughs came on to Pittsburgh, and when they arrived at the home of Mrs. J. W. Greene, Mrs. Clough's sister, at 220 Arden road, Mt. Lebanon, William was semi-conscious. From then until his death—10 days—he was conscious only a few minutes.

Asked if any warning would help parents to guard their children, Coroner W. J. McGregor said he could cite no signs of the disease which a layman would recognize. The early symptoms, according to the Coroner, are the same as those of a common cold.

NO ALARM FELT

Dr. Philip Marks, chief of the city Bureau of Infectious Diseases, said the occurrence of sleeping sickness here was not alarming.

There have been 11 cases reported so far this year, he said. Of the 11, six patients have died.

So far the death rate is higher than in 1932, when there were six deaths here during the entire year.

Dr. Marks declared himself more concerned over infantile paralysis than sleeping sickness.

Cases of the childhood disease have doubled here this year, with 35 reported, he said.

Sleeping Sickness Takes Toll of 42 Lives

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 29.—(INS.)—The death toll taken by epidemic encephalitis or sleeping sickness stood at 42 today as research technicians centered their studies on a group of insects believed responsible for its spread.

Surgeon General Hugh S. Cumming arrived to direct the Public Health Service campaign launched to check the epidemic. Federal health experts have joined forces with city, county and state physicians in an effort to discover the disease source.

Five new cases brought the total to 288 in St. Louis County and St. Louis.

The research staff organized to combat the disease began a minute study of certain "biting" insects such as the mosquito and small barn fly. These insects, according to physicians, are peculiarly fitted to spread the infection.

Investigators were still weighing the possibility that the tse-tse fly might be the source of infection. William Godin reported seeing the tse-tse fly here.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Twenty-seven persons have died of sleeping sickness in New York City and 14 others have been affected by the disease since January 1, figures made public at the Department of Health today showed.

Crazed Physician Turns on Wife, Son

CHICAGO, Aug. 29:—(INS.)—In what is believed to have been a fit of madness early today, Dr. Peter Swier, 40, who lives on a one-acre tract in Bloomingdale Township, tried to kill his wife, Ida, and foster son, then set fire to their home.

He wildly chased his wife across a prairie, firing at her with two revolvers. She was wounded.

Insurance Men at Detective Headquarters to Look Over 'Accident Racket' Prisoners

Photo by Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

ADJUSTERS FROM MANY OF PITTSBURGH'S CASUALTY INSURANCE OFFICES AT DETECTIVE HEADQUARTERS TODAY TO TRY TO IDENTIFY 'ACCIDENT INJURED' AMONG 10 PRISONERS

V. F. W. TO FIGHT PENSION CUTS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars, in conferences preliminary to business sessions of its annual convention, today held fast to their program for veteran relief, restoration of discontinued pensions and full, immediate payment of adjusted compensation.

James E. Van Zandt, of Altoona, Pa., slated to be the next commander of the organization, predicted the convention will pass a resoluttion demanding outright repeal of the so-called economy legislation as its affects veterans. Van Zandt said:

"In addition, the organization undoubtedly will ask for pensions for widows and orphans of World War veterans and the immediate payment of adjusted compensation.

"Other recommendations will include a mandate to refuse recognition of Soviet Russia; deportation of foreign-born Communists and provision of a broad Americanization program which will reach every man, woman and child in the country."

WIFE 'MURDERS' BRYANT'S PAL

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Loud noises caused neighbors to call police to the home of Bryant Washburn, former motion picture star, in the early hours today, and officers said they were met by Mrs. Washburn screaming:

"I've just killed a man!"

Detective Lieut. E. J. Romero said he ran into the house and found Washburn administering first aid to a friend, J. Demiteis, who denied he had been killed and added:

"She just hit me with the French telephone."

Romero reported Washburn explained he had brought Demiteis home and his display of hospitality had angered Mrs. Washburn. The officers reported Mrs. Washburn and her mother later left to spend the remainder of the night with friends. The police report was the only official action.

Honeymoon on Yacht Planned by Rogers

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(INS.)—A Mediterranean honeymoon today was planned by Col. Henry Huddleston Rogers, oil millionaire, and his bride, the former Mrs. Pauline Van der Voort Dresser, wed yesterday at a quiet ceremony at Southampton, L. I.

Col. Rogers and his third wife plan to sail tomorrow for England. In London they will visit Rogers' daughter, Millicent, and her husband, Arturo Peralto Ramos. Later they will embark for a Mediterranean cruise on the yacht Sapphire.

Reno on Death Hunt For $100,000 Reward

Probe Ordered, Prize Set in Will of Rich 'Victim'

International News Service.

RENO, Nev., Aug. 29.—Reno, gay divorce and gambling capital of the nation, today was plunged into a death mystery with the stakes set at $100,000 for the correct solution.

Under the terms of the will of Horace Elliott Wadsworth, who died here on the morning of August 10, this huge reward will be paid to whoever brings about the conviction of the person who killed him—if it can be shown he was murdered.

The investigation of his death, Wadsworth stipulated, will be a private one, with an additional $25,000 offered to prosecute whoever can be shown criminally responsible.

$100,000 AT STAKE

Local police officials regarded the case as closed, but with $100,000 at stake it was certain that there will be a thorough delving into the highways and byways of Reno for any shred of evidence that would point to foul play.

The eastern millionaire died in St. Mary's Hospital while here presumably to file suit for divorce against Elizabeth Baker Wadsworth, of Stratford, Ontario.

At first it was believed that he died of an overdose of sleeping tablets, either taken accidentally, or with suicidal intent, or administered by a mysterious killer.

After an investigation, however, Coroner August Frohlich announced that the physicians signing Wadsworth's death certificate gave "alcoholism" as the cause. This closed the case officially, and the body was taken to Kalamazoo, Mich., for burial. Wadsworth was a native of Detroit.

DENIES FOUL PLAY

Lester Summerfield, local attorney who represented Wadsworth while he planned divorce action, asserted today that there was "absolutely no evidence of foul play."

Wadsworth, he explained, had that fear, but an analysis of his stomach showed no poison, but instead a bad case of ulcers plus "acute alcoholism." No inquest was ordered.

The millionaire was brought in late at night to the hospital from the fashionable Desert Inn at Pyramid. He died the next morning.

Whatever may have been the circumstances surrounding his death, Reno braced itself for a good measure of "master sleuthing" in and out of the "gay spots" frequented by divorce seekers, because, as it was sagely pointed out around bars and gambling wheels, $100,000 "is a lot of money."

First Wife Mystified By Reno Probe Prize

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 29.—(INS.)—Mrs. Dorothy Clatt White said today in her home at Brighton, prosperous Rochester suburb, that the will of her former husband, Horace Elliott Wadsworth, leaving $100,000 to investigate his own death, was as much a mystery to her as to everyone else. She declared:

"I never knew Mr. Wadsworth to have enemies. I saw him a year ago and he appeared to be in good health. He was not a heavy drinker and I cannot understand them attributing his death to that. It all is a mystery to me."

Mrs. White refused to let reporters see her 8-year-old daughter, Mary Elizabeth Wadsworth, who may inherit Wadsworth's $900,000 estate or a large share of it.

WOMAN DARED, SHOOTS SUITOR

International News Service.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—Joseph Wood, 35, a former policeman and Democratic candidate for magistrate, who thought his sweetheart wouldn't take a dare, lay in a hospital here today, perhaps fatally wounded.

Last night, during a quarrel that police said resulted from Wood's lack of attention to her, Mary Casper, 21, said:

"If I had a gun, I'd shoot you."

Wood, holding out his revolver, said:

"Here's mine."

The girl grasped the weapon and fired point blank. Wood dropped with a bullet through his right lung.

Suit Against Lloyd Dismissed in Court

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—By stipulation, the $100,000 plagiarism suit of Mrs. Sadie Witwer, widow of H. C. Witwer, the writer, against Harold Lloyd in connection with the latter's film, "The Freshman," was dismissed in the State Circuit Court of Appeals here yesterday.

Terms of the settlement which led to dismissal of the case were not disclosed.

KIDNAP STORY INVESTIGATED

Ralph Marks, 35, of 714 Tube Works street, McKeesport, who staggered into the home of his sister, Mrs. Nellie Best, at Youngstown, with a strange story of being drugged and kidnaped, was in McKeesport Hospital today for observation.

Hospital attaches said an examination disclosed two small punctures on the abdomen, which may have been caused by a hypodermic needle.

Marks, a repairman of cash registers and adding machines, said he was threatened a month ago. Last Thursday, as he started to repair a cash register in Duquesne, a man approached him and spoke to him. The next thing he remembers, Marks said, he was in Youngstown.

Man Admits Sending $100 Extortion Note

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Dan Harliss, a former sailor, was arrested here early today on a charge of sending an extortion letter demanding $100 to Dr. C. A. Bennett under threat of harm to the physician's 23 months old daughter, Barbara Ann.

L. A. Johnson, postal inspector, said Harliss confessed he sent two letters to Dr. Bennett and one demanding $200 to John Underwood, a federal prison guard.

BABY AT DADDY'S TRIAL

DOLORES ROBERTS CARRYING ALLENE GENEVIEVE LAMSON

Miss Roberts, former maid in the Lamsons' Stanford University campus home, with Allene, their only child, at David A. Lamson's trial at San Jose for the death of his wife. Allene doesn't understand. This is an International News Photograph Service picture.

THE WEATHER

Local Forecast.

Fair tonight and Wednesday. Not much change in temperature.

Hourly Temperatures.

(Daylight saving time.)

12 midnight	62	9 a. m.	57
1 a. m.	60	10 a. m.	64
2 a. m.	58	11 a. m.	71
3 a. m.	57	12 Noon	72
4 a. m.	56	1 p. m.	76
5 a. m.	55	2 p. m.	78
6 a. m.	54	3 p. m.	77
7 a. m.	54
8 a. m.	55

Sunrise today.. 6:43 Sunset today... 7:58

Observations for the 24 hours ended at 9 o'clock this morning:

Time.	Temp.	Hum.	Wind.	Weather.
9 a. m.	57	87	N	Clear

Temperature and Precipitation.

	1932	1931	1930	1929	1928	1927	1926	1925
High..	78	75	81	68	89	68	88	84
Low..	62	63	67	54	73	56	67	61
Mean.	70	69	74	61	81	62	78	72
Precip	.62	.00	.00	.00	.00	.04	.05	.00

Bulletin.

Observations taken by the United States Weather Bureau. The morning temperature readings were taken at 9 o'clock. The lowest temperature is for 12 hours ended at 9 o'clock this morning. Precipitation is for 24 hours ended at 9 o'clock this morning.

Station.	Temp. 9 am.	Pre-cip.	Station.	Temp. 9 am.	Pre-cip.
Atlanta.	72	.34	Louisville	64	.42
Atl City	68	.04	Lynchbrg	64	.14
Bismark	48	.00	Memphis.	72	.42
Boise..	66	.00	Miami...	80	.00
Boston..	62	.80	Mntgmry	76	.00
Brwnsvle	76	.20	Nashville	68	.50
Buffalo..	62	.00	N.Orleans	80	.08
Chatnga	72	2.04	New York	64	.54
Chicago.	64	.00	Oklahoma	68	.00
Cincinati	66	.02	Omaha...	60	.00
Clevelnd	66	.00	Parksbrg	60	.14
Columbs	64	.02	Parry Sd	58	.00
Denver..	54	.00	P'delphia	68	.10
Des Mes.	58	.00	PITTSBG	58	.00
Detroit..	62	.00	St. Louis	62	.00
Duluth..	54	.00	St. Paul.	56	.00
Elkins..	58	.14	S L City.	58	.00
Harisbrg	64	.00	San Ant.	76	.00
Helena..	50	.00	San Fran	54	.00
Huron..	52	.00	Seattle...	56	.00
Indnpolis	58	.12	Tampa...	80	.08
Jksonvle	78	.32	Washgton	66	.06
Kan City	64	.14	Winnipeg.	50	.00
Little Rk	72	2.12	YstonePk	44	.00
Los Ang	58	.00

'ROCKET CARS' STALL IN AIR

Universal Service.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Five of the so-called "rocket cars" on the sky ride at the World's Fair were stalled in mid-span over the lagoon yesterday and 30 passengers in two of them were marooned in the air for half an hour. The other three cars were empty.

The cars, which belie their name by traveling at the somnolent pace of four or five miles an hour, were halted altogether by the breaking of an emergency power and telephone cable. The cars eventually were hauled back to the towers and the passengers released.

Fifty thousand persons jammed in the area about the towers on the report that a possibly serious accident had occurred.

Danish Admirers 'Hounding' Lindys

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Dodging autograph hunters is one of the major occupations of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Policemen guard their hotel to keep back the curious, and the chauffeur who took Lindbergh to the seaplane station for an inspection of his plane was under sealed orders.

I See by Today's Want Ads

That a cottage near Bakerstown can be rented for 3 days, including Labor Day, for $1.50 per person. Free pool and tennis.

That 2 lovely rooms in Mt. Lebanon, next to bath, can be had for $3.50 and $2.50 per week.

That a transfer company wants a return load from New York or way points.

That a candy salesman to sell line of package goods is wanted in Pittsburgh territory.

That a one-half interest in men's furnishing store in Ambridge is for sale.

That a 5-room apartment in Beechview, near school, is offered for $25 a month.

For these opportunities and many others, turn to the Classified Pages.

CHAPLIN PLANS NEW 'SILENT'

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Adhering to his policy of pantomime, Charlie Chaplin is going to make another picture, and it will be a silent film with Paulette Goddard, to whom many of the comedian-producer's friends believe he is affianced, playing the leading feminine role.

Alfred Reeves, general manager of the Chaplin studio, said last night he had received orders to get the studio in readiness and that production was scheduled to start about September 15.

Reeves said Chaplin is writing the story.

Miss Goddard is to play a tomboy character in the picture, which will be laid in the lower part of "any big city with factories."

VISCOUNT GREY SERIOUSLY ILL

CHRISTON BANK, NORTHUMBERLAND, Eng., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Viscount Grey, of Falloden, one of Great Britain's most distinguished statesmen, was seriously ill today at his home here.

His secretary issued a statement this morning saying:

"Viscount Grey is very ill. His condition is serious."

Details of the illness were not disclosed except that he has been indisposed for several days.

Viscount Grey, who is 71, for a long time has suffered a serious eye ailment and recently was obliged to visit a London specialist.

As foreign secretary, he made the famous declaration of war between Great Britain and Germany in 1914.

ROBS TROLLEY, AIDED BY GIRL

A bandit and a girl who helped him to escape were being sought by county detectives today after the holdup of a street car in Millvale last night.

The bandit boarded the car at Evergreen road in Millvale and asked George Rink, the motorman, how long it would take to get to Pittsburgh.

In the next block, as Rink was about to pick up two fares, his lone "passenger," pressing a gun at his side, commanded:

"Don't pick them up or it will be too bad for you."

The bandit then took $20 from Rink, but overlooked $15 in tokens.

Midway in the next block, the bandit ordered Rink to stop and stepped into an automobile with a girl at the wheel. The auto had been trailing the street car.

LAMSON SMILE FADES AT TALE OF BONFIRE

Neighbor Says She Detected Odor of Burning Cloth

SAN JOSE, Cal., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Testimony by a neighbor that an offensive odor came from the bonfire which David A. Lamson was tending just before the body of his wife was found in the blood-spattered bathroom of his home brought the prosecution today toward the climax of its effort to convict Lamson of murder.

The testimony was given late yesterday by Mrs. Sylvia D. Bailey, wife of a professor of history at Stanford University, who lives near the Lamson home on the Stanford campus. The smile which the 31-year-old Stanford press executive had worn most of the day faded quickly as Mrs. Bailey told her story.

Mrs. Bailey's testimony was brought as a part of the state's attempt to prove Lamson beat his attractive young wife to death last May 30 with a 10-inch length of iron pipe which later was found in the embers of the bonfire.

ODOR 'DISTRESSING'

The witness said she first noticed "dense, heavy smoke" coming from the Lamson fire at 8:15 a. m. and a half hour later, when she went into the yard, the smoke was acrid. She said:

"The smell was most distressing. First it was like burning meat and then like burning cloth."

Mrs. Bailey, who is in her early thirties, testified she and her husband had been very friendly with the Lamsons during the two years she had lived in the neighborhood.

The prosecution announced it would have testimony from deputy sheriffs that they not only found the length of pipe but also burned bits of cloth in the fire. On both the pipe and the cloth, through the county pathologist, Dr. Frederick Proescher, the state will claim it found evidence of charred blood.

TELL OF ANGUISH

The defendant twice during the day had forced back tears while other neighbors and friends told of his anguish after he had thrown open the front door at 10 a. m. to startle Mrs. Julia Place, real estate broker, and her client, Mrs. Alfred Raas, with the cry that his wife had been murdered.

As Mrs. Bailey testified, Lamson stiffened in his chair and watched every movement of the proceedings. He had started the day with a smile of greeting for his two sisters, Dr. Margaret Lamson and Mrs. Willis Thoits. A short time later he brushed tears from his eyes as Mrs. Place testified and then ended the day gravely intent on the testimony of Mrs. Bailey.

Chief of Police Howard A. Zink of Palo Alto testified contrary to statements of another state's witness, Mrs. Buford Brown, that he found Mrs. Brown scrubbing blood tracks from the front hall when he entered the Lamson house. Zink told of finding many blood spots in the bathroom, on the floor, on the walls and wash basin and on the inside of the bathroom door.

SLAIN DOCTOR'S WIFE GRILLED

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Two weeks after her wealthy husband, Dr. James I. Gaines, sportsman and drugless physician, was mysteriously shot to death, Mrs. Lily Banka Gaines was held in the City Jail today "for questioning."

No charge was filed against her.

Mrs. Gaines said she found her husband dying in the driveway of their home early on the morning of August 15 after she had been awakaned by three shots. Dr. Gaines had just returned from a boating trip and a late visit to the apartment of Mrs. Harriette Andrew, a friend.

Mrs. Andrew is one of a dozen or more women who have been brought into the investigation. She told police Gaines rented an apartment for her soon after she had applied to him for work.

Deputies on Guard At Garage Razing

Eighteen deputy sheriffs surrounded a portable two-car garage in Twenty-seventh street, McKeesport, today while workmen dismantled the structure. The garage was reclaimed for an alleged bill.

Constable Accused Of Picnic Shakedown

Constable Lawrense Haser, of Keown Station, Ross Township, was arrested today by county detectives on an extortion charge, on complaint of officers of the Veteran Fiemen's Association of Allegheny County.

Haser, according to the complaint of John Bellmer and John Malone, president and secretary of the association, ordered them to break up their association's picnic in Turner Grove, Ross Township, last Sunday unless tney paid him $50.

They compromised on $40, according to Detective Chief George W. Murren, who said he understood beer was being served to the picnickers.

Haser was placed under $2,500 bail for a hearing tomorrow by Alderman Thomas A. Flanigan.

Only Six Smackers Left In 'Kiss Marathon'

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Three couples qualified for the final round of Coney Island's "world championship kissing marathon" today by remaining locked in each others' arms for more than an hour.

Seven teams entered the contest, in which no holds were barred, but they began dropping out after the first three minutes. The only married couple was Mr. and Mrs. George Newcombe, of Long Island, who observed their golden wedding anniversary two years ago, and who held out for 19 minutes.

The finalists, who will compete for the championship Wednesday, are Ethel Kane and Michael Calabrese; Helen Gould and Jerry Cardinal, and Betty Burns and Frank Ferreti, all of New York.

SCHRAMM URGES CHILD CRIME SURVEY

Advocating a study of "delinquency belts" by the Juvenile Court, Gustav L. Schramm, candidate for the new court, addressed a mass meeting at Thaddeus Stevens School, Penn Township, and a meeting of the Colored League of McKeesport, at Hungarian Hall, last night. He said:

"There is now no proper agency to study the community weak spots that produce child delinquency. The study of recreational needs is only one way in which the court must work to prevent children falling into evil habits."

SMITH SPEECHES SET

Judge Ralph H. Smith, candidate for Common Pleas Court, will speak tonight at the McKees Rocks Elks' corn roast; in Elizabeth High School, at the dedication of a new fire station in Undercliff, in Oakmont, and in Garfield School, Tenth Ward.

The Twenty-ninth Ward Veterans' Association indorsed Judge Smith's candidacy at a special meeting last night.

EVANS AT OUTING

Assistant United States Attorney Raymond D. Evans, candidate for Common Pleas Court, will speak at a picnic of the McKees Rocks Elks' Club, at McKees Rocks this afternoon, and at a meeting in Elroy School, Francis avenue, Brentwood, tonight.

CLUB HEARS CANDIDATES

William A. Walker, member of the Legislature and candidate for County Court, and Judge M. A. Musmanno, candidate for Common Pleas Court, will speak at a banquet given by the Italian-American Citizens' Political Association in East Deer Junior High School, Creighton, tonight. Walker is known to the association for his fight at Harrisburg to regulate public utilities.

MUSMANNO SUPPORTED

A committee of 100 Negro voters has volunteered support of Judge M. A. Musmanno, candidate for Common Pleas Court. The committee was formed in tribute to Judge Musmanno's high character and ideals of justice, according to H. L. Keith, chairman, and is composed of Republicans, Democrats, and Independents.

FIREMEN INDORSE THREE

The Volunteer Firemen of Allegheny County have indorsed the candidacies of Judge Harry H. Rowand, and Attorneys Alexander P. Lindsay and Raymond Evans for Common Pleas Court. James Balmer was chairman of the meeting.

NIXON INDORSED

The Ex-Service Men of Carnegie, United States war veterans' organization, has indorsed the candidacy of Attorney Clarence B. Nixon for County Court.

LENCHER SPEAKING

Judge Benjamin Lencher, candidate for County Court, will speak today at a meeting at McKees Rocks Elks' grounds; and tonight at a meeting in Elizabeth High School, Elizabeth.

BACK PIEKARSKI, ROWAND

The Eleventh Legislative District Republican organization has indorsed the candidacies of Judge Frank A. Piekarski, candidate for County Court, and Judge Harry H. Rowand, candidate for Common Pleas Court.

Judge Piekarski has also been indorsed by the United Veterans Association of the Nineteenth Ward.

Judge Rowand will speak tonight in Elizabeth High school, Elizabeth. His indorsement by the Twentieth Ward Republican club has been announced.

MRS. M'BRIDE BACKED

Mrs. Lois McBride, candidate for the bi-party nominations for judge of the new Juvenile Court, was indorsed yesterday by delegates from 32 county branches of the Polish Woman's Alliance, according to Mrs. Martha Pietruisinska, president of the group. Support of her candidacy also was announced by the Tarentum Young Citizens Club, the Polish Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post No. 41.

Meetings Set In City, County Primary Drive

P. J. McArdle, Independent Republican candidate for Mayor, will speak tonight at Peabody High School, Beatty and Black streets; Wickersham School, Thirtieth and Carson streets, and Langley High School, Hutton avenue.

Edward O. Tabor, Charles Wolff, Howard B. McNutt and Robert N. Waddell, Independent councilmanic candidates, will also address the meetings.

John D. Houston, whose letter to Council started the investigation of the city supplies department, will speak at the Peabody High meeting, opening under the chairmanship of Councilman Robert Garland at 8 p. m. The other meetings open at 8:30 p. m.

William N. McNair, Democratic candidate for Mayor, will speak at Taylor Allderdice High School, Fourteenth Ward, and at Twelfth Ward Democratic headquarters, 6414 Frankstown avenue. Both meetings open at 8 o'clock.

David L. Lawrence, Democratic county chairman, is also scheduled to speak at the Twelfth Ward Headquarters, as will B. B. McGinnis, Pittsburgh Democrat who threw the Pennsylvania delegation to Woodrow Wilson in 1912; and John Murphy.

George E. Evans, John M. Huston and Representatives Thomas J. Gallagher, Democratic candidate for Council, and Austin L. Staley, candidate, will address the meeting at Taylor Allderdice High.

James L. O'Toole, Jr., Democratic candidate for County Court; John Heinz, for sheriff; Vincent L. Marino, for coroner; and William S. Cooper, Jr., for poor director, will speak at Heyer hall, Natrona, at 8 p. m.

Thomas Bradley will preside at a meeting at 336 Baldwin road, Thirty-first Ward. Huston, Gallagher, and Walter R. Demmler, Democratic candidates for council; and John J. Kennedy and Andrew G. Smith, for Common Pleas Court, will speak. The meeting opens at 8 p. m.

Joseph N. Mackrell, Progressive Republican candidate for mayor, and candidates on his ticket will inaugurate their South Side campaign tonight in South Side High School, Tenth and Carson streets. They will speak later in the evening at the Garfield school, North Atlantic avenue.

The North Side drive will open Thursday with a meeting in Perry High School, Theodore H. Doehla, chairman of the Twenty-sixth Ward, has invited independent voters in an open letter to attend and meet Mackrell. Doehla will preside.

A rally of Nineteenth Ward women workers for the Regular Republican ticket will be held in the party's headquarters, Hotel Henry, tomorrow afternoon. Women workers of the Fifteenth, Sixteenth and Seventeenth Wards will meet at headquarters today to hear both city and county candidates.

The speakers' bureau of the Regular Republican Campaign Committee announces the following revised list of meetings through Friday:

Tonight—First Ward, Forbes School; Fifth Ward, Watt School; Fourteenth Ward, headquarters, 5850 Forbes street; Morrowfield Hotel, Eleventh Ward; Patton Rose Hall, 5710 Broad street; Twentieth Ward, Luckey School, Shaler and Wabash streets.

Tomorrow—Twenty-first Ward, Manchester School; Twenty-sixth Ward, McNaugher School; Twenty-seventh Ward, Twenty-seventh Ward Republican Club; Nineteenth Ward, headquarters, Hotel Henry, Women's Republican Organization (2 p. m.); Alderman Michaels' office, Transport street, Overbrook.

Thursday — Twenty-second Ward, Allegheny High School; Twenty-fifth Ward, Columbus School; Eleventh Ward, Traffic Court; First Ward, Monongahela House, Margaret Brent Civic League.

Friday—Falcon Hall, 3024 Brereton avenue; Seventh Ward, Liberty School; Tenth Ward, Garfield School; Eleventh Ward, Traffic Court.

Candidates to Talk At Labor Day Fete

Several candidates for county offices will speak at the Pitcairn Italian Society's Labor Day celebration Monday in Sugar Camp, Pitcairn. A fireworks display in the evening will climax the day's program.

HOUSTON CALLS M'ARDLE ONLY CURE FOR ILLS

The Regular Republican organization offers no remedy for the cure of economic and political conditions facing Pittsburgh, John D. Houston declared today at a noon meeting on behalf of the candidacy of Councilman P. J. McArdle for the Republican mayoralty nomination. The meeting was held in William Penn Hotel headquarters.

HITS COST

Houston, food dealer who precipitated the investigation of the Supplies Department in the Kline administration, said:

"Vacant houses, office buildings and hotels are in evidence everywhere. Real estate has been deflated because of lack of earning power. On the other hand, the cost of municipal government remains the same or has actually increased. The cities must pay as they go, a problem which will tax the most competent administrator. This is the condition which confronts Pittsburgh.

"The dominant political organization offers no remedy. Its efficiency lies in its ability to buy, steal and cajole votes. Through its incompetence a deficit occurred and it is content to let things drift until the final collapse comes.

"The one mayoralty candidate who grasps the situation and offers a remedy is P. J. McArdle. The alternative to his election is misery and ruin to the property owner and stagnation in business."

HOUSTON PRAISED

Edward O. Tabor, candidate for City Council on the McArdle ticket, asserted:

"The most constructive piece of work in connection with city government was the audit of the department of supplies in 1931, brought about by our chairman of today, John D. Houston.

"The Organization Republican group, made up of Herron, Little, English and Connelley did everything within its power to prevent the truth from being found out.

These officials now seeking re-election have been convicted of a betrayal of public trust.

"There is only one thing that the people of Pittsburgh should do to them, and that is to remove them from City Hall."

Shaler Assessors Cited by Democrats

The Democratic party today charged that the registrar assessors in the First, Second and Fifth districts of Shaler Township have failed to change the registrations of more than 650 voters who switched from the Republican ranks.

Attorney James O'Toole, for the Democrats, filed a petition in court asking that the assessors, George Siegel, Charles Perry and Wilbur Munn be ordered to bring their lists into court for correction. The hearing will be September 6.

MACKRELL RAPS RATE OF CITY'S EXPENDITURE

Announcing his platform, Joseph N. Mackrell, Progressive Republican candidate for Mayor, indicted Council for "wanton extravagance," and promised, if elected, "rigid but practical" economy as the keynote of his administration, in a speech at Osceola School, Eighth Ward, last night.

Pointing out that municipal expenditures had more than doubled from 1915 to 1931 Mackrell promised steps to remove the existing deficit, "ignored by Council in its camouflage of a millage reduction for 1933." He advocated liquidation of benefit assessments.

But major services, as police, fire, public works, health and welfare, must, he said, be maintained without a sacrifice of efficiency. He promised thorough reorganization of police, with elimination of politics in the department.

Genuine civil service, a program of municipal and highway improvements, re-assessment of unfairly taxed properties, co-operation with the Board of Education and with the county government, were other high-lights of the platform.

CITES EXPENDITURES

Making financial improvement the backbone of his program, Mackrell pointed out that the "staggering sum" of $28,022,796.48 had been appropriated in 1931 by Council, under the leadership of the present mayor. Expenditures were $13,025,822.51 in 1915, he said.

CALLS TAX RATE HIGH

Asserting that the tax rate of Pittsburgh—expressed in dollars as $37.21 per $1,000 assessed valuation—was the third highest among the country's 12 largest cities, Mackrell advocated a preferential base of assessment to industries within the city limits.

For the relief of unemployment, every authorized public improvement should be begun as soon as possible, Mackrell said.

Promising to attempt to obtain a larger share of state highway funds for through thoroughfares, Mackrell advocated an extensive program of traffic improvement.

All city construction work should be performed by reliable contracting firms, paying a decent wage to labor, Mackrell stated.

The Board of Education should be given hearty support instead of being harrassed with threats of political investigations, he said.

Mackrell also announced his advocacy of old age pensions adequate recreation and care for needy children, intelligent city planning.

Some 1,000 attended the meeting, presided over by C. J. Koch. Other speakers were Mrs. Walter McFarland, chairman of the womens' division of the Progressive Republican party; Mrs. Jesse Stewart, vice chairman of the Eighth Ward; Mrs. Lois McBride, candidate for Juvenile Court; Robert A. Foley and Thomas P. Carmichael, candidates for Jury Commissioner; Attorney Joseph A. Rossi, Hugh McKnight, Joseph M. Stack, and Louis J. Wechsler, candidates for City Council.

Veterans Rally Tonight to Pick Their Candidates

The United American Veterans' Association of Pittsburgh will meet to select its candidates for city and county offices in Schenley High School tonight at 7 o'clock.

The association, claiming a membership of 15,000 distributed among all veterans' groups, will indorse candidates for both Democratic and Republican nominations, wherever possible, so its fight may be carried on in event its choice for an office in one party loses the nomination.

Questionnaires have been sent to all candidates, requesting data on which indorsements will be based. Except where they are best fitted, indorsements will not be confined to ex-soldiers, according to officials of the organization.

Max Henley, city chairman, will preside at tonight's meeting.

Asserts Democrats Denied Free Speech

Declaring Democratic candidates were being denied the right of free speech, Van A. Barrickman opposed the election of candidates opposed to the principles of Jeffersonian Democracy at Post No. 207, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Patton Township, last night.

'SKIDS' READY FOR M'NAMARA

Police Magistrate William McNamara has another week to think it over — about that accountant job in the Mayor's office.

Mayor John S. Herron, who intended calling a special meeting of Council tomorrow to confirm the McNamara appointment, has postponed action another week. And then—well, the Mayor tells it:

"Our program will go through."

Which means, according to observers around City Hall, that Magistrate McNamara will be fired.

McNamara is a son-in-law of P. J. Sullivan, Mr. Sullivan hasn't been taking an interest in the mayor's campaign for re-election.

George C. Metzier, Sixth Ward legislator, has. In fact, the mayor looks upon him as "his man," even a leader.

Mayor Herron wants to put Metzier in as magistrate. He says:

"The police magistrate is the mayor's personal representative."

Political Button Blamed in Stabbing

Declaring he had been attacked by five men in Water street, Richard Weeks, 36, of 221 East General Robinson street, was found at Sixth street and Duquesne way early today, suffering from stab wounds in his chest.

He told police he had been attacked because he wore a political button.

TAX SLASH AIM OF COUNCIL ASPIRANT

Louis Wechsler, Progressive Republican candidate for Council, pledged a determined effort to reduce taxes on real estate at a meeting in the Osceola School, Eighth Ward, last night.

Also striking at "exorbitant" taxation, Hugh McKnight, councilmanic candidate, blamed the present administration for permitting many old Pittsburgh industries to be driven from the city.

Mrs. Walter L. McFarland, chairman of the women's division of the Progressive Republican committee, lauded Joseph N. Mackrell, Progressive Republican candidate for Mayor, as a typical Pittsburgher, a representative of the highest ideals of public service, and an opponent of "Coyne misrule."

The speakers announced their sympathy with Mackrell's platform, made public at the meeting.

TABOR INDORSED

As a result of his work in the last 15 years in behalf of peoples comprised in their group, the Slavic and Allied Civic Leagues of Allegheny County have unanimously indorsed Edward O. Tabor, Independent candidate for council. Tabor's candidacy has also been indorsed by the John Kolar club of the South Side.

MRS. PHILLIPS SPEAKS

Stressing the duty of women to register and vote, Mrs. Sarah M. Phillips, candidate for council, addressed more than 100 women at the home of Mrs. W. J. Stewart, Greensburg pike, yesterday.

ITALIANS BACK SLATE

Organizing for support of Mayor John S. Herron and the Regular Republican ticket, voters of Italian origin have named Frank J. Zappalla, chairman, and Nicola Carlo secretary. John A. Fugassi heads an advisory committee.

UPHOLD CITIZENS' LEAGUE

The Citizens' League of Allegheny County and its approved candidates have been indorsed by the Independent Republican Organization of the Thirty-second Ward, William N. Ward, chairman, announced today.

Child Sticks Tongue In Light Socket, Dies

FOTTSTOWN, Pa., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Childish curiosity cost 4-year-old Virginia Lee her life.

The child stuck her tongue into an electric light socket in her home yesterday and was electrocuted.

World's Best Pianos

Sensational Reductions

TUES., WED. AND THURS. ONLY!

$1,500 STEINWAY GRAND—Exquisite tone; medium size..... $435
$750 CHICKERING GRAND—Period model..... $325
$1,100 KURTZMANN BABY GRAND—Perfect—exquisite tone..... $390
$ 475 Baby Grand, like new $155
$ 700 Steinway, Upright $125
$1600 Electric Baby Grand .. $290
$1100 Kurtzmann Reproducer, Electric $265
$ 700 Emerson Baby Grand .. $295

Come and see the greatest bargains ever offered in Pittsburgh. Terms to suit.

Schroeder's 820 Liberty Ave. Pittsburgh

19TH WARD BOSS DENIES THREAT TO PAYROLL

His suggestion that city employes of the Nineteenth Ward contribute funds to buy tax receipts was interpreted today as a welfare measure by Samuel J. Reno, Nineteenth Ward chairman.

Reno addressed a meeting of about 200 city employes last night at the City-County Building. Some of those who heard him believed he had suggested that every city employe contribute.

But Mr. Reno said today:

"What I suggested was that some of the workers look after the unfortunates in our district by furnishing the money to buy tax receipts.

He denied that he had said that every employe was expected to contribute his share toward taking care of the tax receipts.

Asked if he told the meeting it was all right to use one name for three or four tax receipts, Reno said:

"No. What I did say was that if any had friends out of work who wanted tax receipts, not to make the receipts out in one name, as that was illegal."

Reno declared he never has collected money from the payroll. He spoke to the employes, he declared, on the benefits of continuing the present administration. He remembered that among the high-lights of his speech were:

"We have the most honest candidate of the lot, one at whom the finger of suspicion has never been pointed."

"Our candidate did not vote to keep Oliver avenue narrow, and then have his son get $250,000 insurance from the William Penn Hotel.

"Our candidate is not backed by a man who was indicted for selling out the Pittsburgh Life and Trust Company."

Commenting on last night's meeting today, Mayor Herron inquired:

"Since when has it been a crime to help a man with his tax receipt?"

The Mayor said Reno has assured him there had been no coercion, that the get-together was "just a pep meeting."

Director of Public Works Edward G. Lang voluntarily issued this statement:

"I was very much surprised to hear that a political meeting had been held in the City-County Building last night. It will not take place again. I have given strict orders to custodians and bureau heads not to permit it. It isn't fair; it isn't right, and such an action is against public policy."

About a dozen city employes answered a call from Ward Chairman Harvey A. Lowry, who is also alderman of the Eleventh Ward, to a political meeting last night. No requests for donations were made, according to those who attended, but they were asked to extend their personal efforts on behalf of Mayor Herron and his campaign and also to enlist the aid of friends in support of the administration.

LABOR DAY to ROCK SPRINGS PARK on STEAMER WASHINGTON

Monday, Sept. 4

Leave Wood St. 9:00 A. M.
Return 11:30 P. M.
Arrive Park 2:00 P. M.
Leave 4:30 P. M.
Daylight Saving Time
Fare: Adults, 75c—Children, 40c

90-MILE RIVER TRIP

Passing thru immense Government Locks, where you are raised and lowered 20 feet.

NEW ORCHESTRA
Hardesty's Californians

Cafeterias—Lunch and Refreshments

LAST OF THE SEASON

CLIP THIS COUPON
Present at Steamer—Receive Regular 50c Ticket for 25c
GOOD FOR SUNDAY, SEPT. 3
Excursion to Rochester 10:30 A. M. (S-T) taste the Cereal Thrill of 1933!

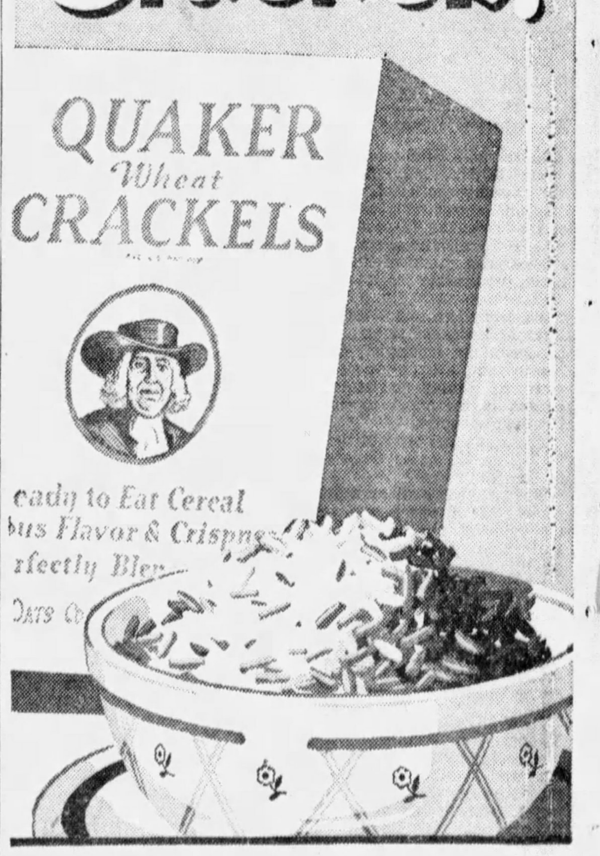
Wheat Crackels!



THROW away your old ideas about regulation cereals. And enjoy breakfast as you never enjoyed it before! For a new, modern, up-to-the-minute cereal has just been created. Crisp. Brisk. Zestful. Different!

It's called Wheat Crackels. It's different because it's made by a just-discovered process never used in cereal making before.

How it's made

We take the rich energy parts of wheat. Compress these wheat hearts under 5000 pounds pressure to the square inch. Then the wheat is whirled in a seething cyclone of 500° of heat. It puffs. Expands. Explodes into delicious tissue-walled tidbits. Toasted and flavored to the Queen's taste.

The result is a cereal excitingly different from all others. It tastes as wheat has never tasted before. It looks exactly like delicious candy. It has a delicate, fresh crispness.

Get Wheat Crackels today from your grocer. See how wonderful it is to serve a cereal children adore. A cereal everyone likes. Serve Wheat Crackels tomorrow morning.

A 1933 PRODUCT OF THE QUAKER OATS CO.

DO YOU WANT A SHOWER BATH LIKE THIS?

You'll get one—sure as fate—if you happen to be standing near that old rusty hot water boiler of yours when it breaks loose.

The rusty flood may come today, next week or next month, but rest assured that it is bound to happen,—so why not pass it on to the junk-pile now and get a modern RUUD Automatic Water Heater that has no tank to rust, leak and waste gas?

Get a RUUD and have all the hot water you want,—when and where you want it. Buy RUUD for its long-term investment in comfort and because it will give you the lowest cost-per-year of any water heating method. Prices now are low and terms long; there's a liberal allowance for your old water heater.

Demonstrations all day long; come at your convenience. Or phone for a factory-trained man that knows his business.

RUUD

444 OLIVER AVE • ATLANTIC 5586

(Opposite Wm. Penn Hotel)

RUUD FACTS

WHAT YOU GET: Hot water that flows instantly every time you open the faucet . . . that flows steadily hot as long as the faucet is open. Baths, shaves, massages, shampoos at your own convenience. Shorter house-work hours. More play-time.

WHAT YOU PAY: Less per gallon and less per year. Gas burns only when you open the faucet. You pay only for hot water used; you get all the hot water you pay for. You save money!

WHAT YOU ELIMINATE: Rusty hot water. Cold water when you want hot. Waiting for water to heat. Stair-climbing. Cold baths, cold shaves, cold dish and laundry water. Wasted gas.

A WORD ABOUT PRICES: RUUD prices are the lowest in many years. Advance buying of raw materials at low costs makes present prices possible. Depletion of these stocks can lead to but one thing,—higher costs and higher prices. To buy now is to save money—REAL DOLLARS!

$63.50 AND UP

RUUD
444 Oliver Avenue
Pittsburgh, Pa.
Tell me why RUUD gives BETTER hot water service at a lower cost per gallon and per year.

Name.....
Address.....
City.....

One Day Sale!

12¢ to 19¢ CEILING

WALL PAPERS

White and cream grounds. Chrome, mica and blended effect.

5¢ ROLL

27 x 54 Newburg RUGS

Free Premiums With Orders of $5 or More!

$1.69

Soft and velvety finish throw rugs for bedroom or guest room. Full 27x54-in. size.

NRA WE DO OUR PART

45c VALUE 24-Inch HALL RUNNER

Choice of several of the season's most popular pattern and color effects. A real value! Buy now!

25c YD.

$1.75 Independent ROOF PAINT

A quality that will last and protect your roof from the weather.

$1.25 Gal.

INDEPENDENT WALL PAPER CO.

North Side	634 SMITHFIELD ST.	N. Kensington
106 E. Ohio St.	Homestead	McKeesport
East Liberty	225 E. 8th Ave.	516 Walnut, 542 5th Ave.
5955 Penn Ave.		Braddock—712 Braddock Ave.
		421 Ninth St.

M'NAIR BRANDS COYNE AS TOOL OF MELLON

(Continued From Page One.)

that he is free of any alliances with members of the Republican party. He charged that Coyne tried to camouflage his flouting of public interest by gifts of potatoes from his McCandless Township farm, and contrasted these gifts with the Senator's opposition to old age pensions in the last session of the Legislature.

Independent Republicans, he said, urged the defeat of "Coyneism" within their party, but he insisted that "Coyneism" and Republicanism were synonomous, and that Coyne was merely a present symbol of conditions which had existed for years, and would continue to exist under Republican rule. He asserted that all Republican mayoralty candidates had Mellon entanglements.

He said:

"No candidate seeking any office on the Republican ticket, from constable to Common Pleas Court judge, including also the offices of Mayor and Council of the City of Pittsburgh, organization or anti-organization, has, so far, mentioned the name of Mellon, let alone discuss Mellonism as a campaign issue.

"Yet these self-appointed advisers to the scores of thousands of outraged Republicans have the audacity to plead with those who have been betrayed and exploited to stay in the party and not to judge the party by the record of Coyne, but to assist in the redemption of the organization by 'purging it of Coyne.'"

SCORES G. O. P.

McNair was referring to the plea of J. Garfield Houston, manager of the McArdle campaign, that Republicans remain in their own party for the primary.

He continued:

"Before Coyne, the Republican party was administered by Armstrong, and before Armstrong there was Max Leslie. If these self-styled independent Republican leaders succeed in dethroning Coyne as a Republican boss, then by the grace and with the help of Mellon another boss of the type of Leslie, Armstrong or Coyne will be created immediately.

"Mellon secured good-will and approbation for himself through contributions to charity, to education and to science.

"Coyne, more limited in his ability to bestow largesse, has acquired a reputation for generosity through acts of kindness toward destitute and impoverished constituents.

"From his large farm in McCandless Township he sends bushels of potatoes and other vegetables and fruits to those in need. In the winter he pays for many a load of coal, and on numerous occasions he forgets his rents from some unemployed tenants.

'HYDES' OF POLITICS

"But Mellon, dispenser of millions, and Coyne, dispenser of food and fuel and shelter—these two men, the Dr. Jekylls of community life, become the Mr. Hydes of politics and government, the one as a political boss in Pittsburgh and a Senator at Harrisburg and the other from the privacy of his citadels issuing orders of monosyllabic brevity, to the Coynes at home and the Dave Reeds at Washington.

"I wonder if any family of old folks, grateful for Coyne's potatoes, ever wondered why he voted against the submission of the question of old age pensions to the people of Pennsylvania?

"I wonder how many of Coyne's constituents living in indescribable slums in Soho or the Hill district know that it was Coyne's Republican party that prevented the passage of a bill at the last session of the Legislature which would have paved the way for the wiping out of these blighted areas, breeding spot of disease, physical as well as moral?

WHAT PRICE POTATOES?

"I would like to ask those constituents of Senator Coyne who have thanked him for innumerable acts of kindness, 'Have you ever stopped to ask yourselves — 'What price potatoes?'

"And I would like to ask the people of this community—

Useless to Jail Tax Delinquent, Judge Rules

BEAVER, Pa., Aug. 29.—Thomas Cole, Ohio Township, held in jail for non-payment of $10.50 in taxes, was discharged by Judge W. A. McConnel following a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus. The court said:

"There is no use putting a man in jail at the expense of the taxpayers when he has no money to pay his taxes."

Tax Collector H. L. Anderson said that when he asked Cole for the taxes the man told him to "go jump in the river."

Have you ever stopped to ask yourselves: 'What price Mellon's benefactions? What price his gifts to this community?'

"What part of them for instance came through the profits obtained by the exploitation of the scores of thousands of employes of the Mellon-controlled Pittsburgh Coal Company—the one outstanding concern in America today that is resisting the adoption of a NRA code?

"Coyneism must be eliminated once and for all. But there is only one way to eliminate Coyneism and that is by removing the Republican party from control of our local and state governments."

Proposes Business Regime as Sheriff

Robert K. Cochrane, Jr., independent candidate for Sheriff, stressed a business administration for the Sheriff's office, in an address at Clairton High School last night.

Cochrane cited his experience as secretary and general manager of the Builders' Exchange in the past six years and service in the Army as qualifications.

U. S. Peerless TIRES

How safe will your tires be on that Labor Day trip? Be wise—refit with U. S. "tempered rubber" tires that give 7 to 36% more safe mileage at no extra cost!

Sizes	Prices
29x4.40-21	5.55
29x4.50-20	6.00
30x4.50-21	6.30
28x4.75-19	6.70
29x5.00-19	7.20

Liberal Trade-in Allowance on Purchase of U. S. Royal Tires.

Use Your Charge Account or Our Convenient Payment Plan on Purchases of $20 or More.

AUTOMOBILE SEAT PADS

Made of clean ricestraw. Covers entire seat insuring cool and comfortable riding. Keeps clothes cleaner on trips. A seat pad will make your holiday trip more pleasant. 1.79

TIRES . . . BALCONY

GIMBELS

SIXTH AT SMITHFIELD

Just 2 More Days and Gimbels August Sales Will Be History!

Time's Short! Buy Your

COAT

IN GIMBELS ANNUAL SALE

$58

If you need a new coat—it's so important that you buy it NOW! Delaying will prove expensive. Buy while the tremendous saving is still yours!

Don't worry about ready cash. A reasonable deposit will hold your coat for you.

GIMBELS . . . COATS
THIRD FLOOR

$128

Silver Muskrat

With Russian Fitch Collar

Only two more days to buy your fur coat at a tremendous saving. What if you don't need it till later—be wise, anticipate your need NOW. The beautiful coat sketched is but one of the many exquisite models in our stock. Other coats from $44 to $495. Altered to fit the figure without cost. Don't delay! "Beat the Price Rise."

GIMBELS . . . FURS . . . THIRD FLOOR

TWEED Registers on the Campus

10.95

Swagger Coat, Skirt & Hat!

You'll live in it! It's the one costume that you'll wear with equal pride in the classroom, on the campus—and to town when classes are out. It's in tune with your vital, dashing, thrilling existence! Don't think of going off to school or college without it. Newest, nubbiest, flecked tweed, in smartest Fall shades. Misses' sizes.

TALLY-HO SHOP
THIRD FLOOR

Men's Topcoats

Just Arrived!

It may be years before you'll see topcoats like these again this side of $25. Anyway, not until the woolen market reaches the rock bottom it touched when we bought this merchandise. But as long as they last they go at 16.50

And every coat has just arrived! All the new models, carefully tailored, Single and double-breasted coats! Raglans! Full or half-belted or no belt at all. The fabrics are the latest creations in grays, tans and browns in the very shade you want.

GIMBELS
FIFTH FLOOR

Lady Pepperell

Sheets 1.14

Have More Wear Per Square Inch!

Why? Because long-fiber threads are used to resist constant rubbing. More threads used per square inch, too. Choose Lady Pepperells for extra value at this pre-price-rise cost.

72x108 and 81x99-inch sizes

Other Sheets and Cases proportionately low priced.

GIMBELS . . . BEDDING . . . SIXTH FLOOR

Send Her to School in a

Jumper

3.98

Wool Jumper With Gay Plaid Blouse

First days at school are mighty important. Let your daughter register her importance in one of these dashing wool jumper costumes. Note the gay epaulets. They're smart! And the metal buttons, too. The plaid cotton blouse is as bright as a new dollar. Has cute puffed sleeves and a gay white collar. Wine, Green, Navy or Brown. Washable!

Sizes 8 to 16

GIMBELS
FOURTH FLOOR

You'll Find No Lower Credit Terms Than Gimbels

Lounge Chairs

Replacement Price, 29.75 19.95

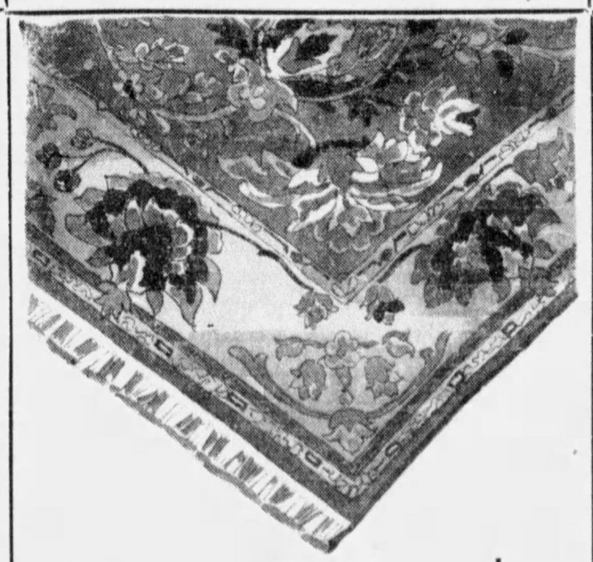
Two gracious designs, the pillow-back (spring-filled) one shown, and one with a good-looking plain back and roll arm. Built for comfort. Come in, try one out and see if we're not right! And sturdily built, according to our standard construction specifications. Fine tapestry covers.

GIMBELS . . . FURNITURE . . . NINTH FLOOR



Amer. Orientals

Sarouk Designs 49.50

Have you longed for the delicate beauty of a Sarouk rug, or the precise colorful effect of a Chinese? It's yours in these glorious silky American Orientals for just 49.50. And when this selection of 50 is gone, the price will be 64.50! Made of the finest wools, with the "highlight" woven in. 9x12.

GIMBELS . . . RUGS . . . EIGHTH FLOOR

5-Pc. Breakfast Set

Solid Oak 24.95

So handy for a small space and so good-looking at the same time. Use it in the two-toned green and brown finish in your dinette alcove. In two-toned oak stain in a small dining room. Table has two leaves, 56 inches open. Four Windsor-type chairs to match. Be wise—beat the price rise!

GIMBELS . . . HOUSEWARES . . . SEVENTH FLOOR

BE WISE Beat the Price Rise GIMBELS

Sixth at Smithfield
Shopping GR. 8400
Other Calls
AT. 4400

NRA MEMBER U.S. Do Our Part

Saving small amounts regularly in a Savings Bank is more interesting and more profitable than saving larger sums now and then without system.

The small amounts steadily earn interest, and the habit of regular saving is in itself a source of strength.

$1.00 deposit opens a Savings Account with this Bank.

Ask about our PURPOSE CLUB plan of saving.

OFFICERS
H. C. McEldowney, President
R. B. Mellon, Vice President
E. V. Hays, Vice President
H. L. Collingwood, Cashier
L. G. Wilhelm, Assistant Cashier
W. M. Crow, Assistant Cashier
H. H. Breitenbach Assistant Cashier
R. F. Smith, Assistant Cashier
Jas. J. Waters, Assistant Cashier

DIRECTORS
J. Frederic Byers
George W. Crawford
Arthur V. Davis
Henry C. Fownes
Childs Frick
Roy A. Hunt
James H. Lockhart
J. Marshall Lockhart
Richard B. Mellon
Richard K. Mellon
William L. Mellon
Henry C. McEldowney
Lewis A. Park
Hon. David A. Reed
William B. Schiller
George E. Shaw

Capital and Surplus, $4,000,000

Union SAVINGS BANK

FRICK BLDG - FIFTH AVE & GRANT ST

U. S. SHATTERS COAL CODE DEADLOCK

(Continued From Page One.)

ment, it was learned from usually reliable sources that it called for a basic minimum daily pay of $4.60 in the Northern Appalachian region, with a 40-cent differential for Southern West Virginia, Eastern Kentucky and Tennessee.

The same sources said miners and operators had agreed upon a 40-hour maximum work week for a six months' trial period. During that time a federal commission would make a thorough investigation of hours and their relation to wages and competitive conditions with a view to determining whether the industry could stand a reduction.

The operators, long opposed to unionization of their fields, were understood to have held out against inclusion of a provision for the "check-off"—deduction of union dues from miners' pay. They also were said to have insisted on retention of their labor clause, which would permit them to hire, discharge or promote miners without regard to the employes' membership or non-membership in any organization.

Coal men also understood that the operators still maintained that the labor provisions of the Recovery Act, coupled with Johnson's "clarification" of several nights ago, meant that minorities as well as majorities of employes were to be organized for collective bargaining purposes.

Frank E. Taplin, Cleveland financier, said today he felt the reported agreement possibly was the best that could be reached under the circumstances, although "it was a compromise and thus wasn't reached on the merits of the case."

Taplin, whose interests include the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Company, has insisted that no wage differential between North and South was justified.

He said that the agreement practically meant recognition of the United Mine Workers of America by the non-union operators.

RETAIL CODE

Strenuous effort continued today to bring the separate codes of the dry goods retailing group and of the druggists into a line that would permit covering every store of the country under one blanket retail agreement.

Deputy Administrator Arthur D. Whiteside, in charge of this endeavor, was highly hopeful that he would conclude the task by Labor Day, September 4, which is designated as the climax date for the Blue Eagle campaign.

The latter, its impetus well launched, was swinging along on the efforts of the country-wide organization of more than a million volunteer workers engaged in a door-to-door canvass so that the characteristic insignia pronouncing that its displayer was doing his part in the higher wage, shorter work hours and more jobs movement, might be shown by every business establishment in the country and in the windows of millions of homes.

Labor officials, realizing the prospect of upward moving cost of living within the next few months, also have been giving thought to what may be done about scaling up wages again if they fall behind in purchasing power.

None of the codes which have gone through the NRA machine contains any provision for keeping workers' pay up to the cost of living, and establishment of some governmental machinery to deal with this question is under consideration.

HER NEW FIANCE

ANDREW PIERCE MRS. MARIAN HUGHES WHITEHEAD

Mrs. Whitehead, divorced only last week from C. P. "Conky" Whitehead, Atlanta's soft drink heir, pictured in New York with her new fiance. His family's in woolens. They say they'll be married shortly. This is an International News Photograph Service picture.

BEAUTY SHOPS TRY OUT CODE

Agreement on a temporary basis to the recently-adopted hairdressers' code for beauty shop owners in Allegheny County last night terminated a meeting of downtown Pittsburgh shop owners after a stormy three-hour session in the Investment Building.

According to present plans the trial period, to extend for two weeks, will be followed at a date to be announced later by two meetings—one for scientific revision of price scales pending advice from the National Hairdressers' Association, and the second for general discussion and final passage by shop owners throughout the county.

Plans also include publication in Thursday newspapers of Allegheny County beauticians in agreement with the following price code:

Permanent wave, $5; single curl, 50 cents; shampoo, 50 cents; special shampoo, 75 cents; hot oil shampoo, $1.50; medicated oil, $2.50; dyeing and bleaching, $7; retouch, $5; henna pack, $2.50; hair cutting, 50 cents; marcel, 50 cents; finger wave, 50 cents; arch, 50 cents; manicure, 50 cents; facial, $1; eyebrow and lash dye, $1.

Shoe Industry Code Ordered Re-Written

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—A revised code of competition for the boot and shoe industry, submitted tentatively last week, today was ordered rewritten by National Recovery administrators.

3-POINT DRIVE FOR NRA HERE

Pittsburgh's recovery campaign today assumed a three-point drive, with 250 Boy Scouts completing their Blue Eagle survey, the businessmen's "sales" army prepared to follow up Thursday and the womens' auxiliary scheduled to meet tomorrow to formulate their consumers' pledge campaign.

Miss Mary E. Hughes, national head of the Womens' Division of NRA, will address members of the women's auxiliary tomorrow in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium at 10:30 a. m. This meeting will be preceded by a session of the auxiliary executive committee.

Members of this group, headed by Mrs. Oliver J. Haller, include Judge Sara M. Soffel, Mrs. J. O. Miller, Mrs. C. A. Verner, Mrs. Henry Rea, Mrs. Albert Pressley Burchfield, Mrs. John W. Lawrence, Miss Helen Grimes, Mrs. William Maclay Hall, Mrs. R. Templeton Smith, Mrs. Robert Cochrane, Mrs. Charles Buerger, Miss H. Marie Dermitt, Mrs. Mary Horan, Mrs. Harry G. Samson, Mrs. W N Stieren, Mrs. Abraham Lincoln and Mrs. Rose Molinari.

NRA meetings and speakers for today include Frank J. Chesterman, WCAE, 6:40 p. m., and Royal S. Goldsbury, Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants, Pittsburgh Chapter, Keystone Athletic Club, 12:15 p. m.

ICKES NAMED OIL CODE HEAD

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT,
International News Service.

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 29.—President Roosevelt today appointed Secretary of the Interior Harold F. Ickes administrator of the fair competition code for the oil industry under the Nation Recovery Administration.

The appointment automatically makes Ickes head of the committee of planning and co-ordination provided for in the oil code, planned by President Roosevelt just before he left Washington 10 days ago.

The President intends to complete naming the personnel of the oil committee by tomorrow night. Secretary Ickes expects to have the committee well organized and ready for action in time for operation of the code on September 2.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Secretary Ickes, in his new role as oil administrator, today told newspapermen he would call together immediately upon appointment by President Roosevelt, the petroleum committee of 15 to discuss price and production control.

It was said authoritatively that one of the three government members of the committee would be James A. Moffett, former vice president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. Moffett resigned his position with the company some weeks ago.

The allocation of production to the oil states, to hold the flow of oil to market demand, Ickes said, also would be discussed with the committee, although the code provides that the federal agent designated by the President may make this allocation.

LEADERS MEET ON STEEL CODE

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Representatives of the National Industrial Recovery Administration conferred today with directors of the American Iron and Steel Institute to perfect plans for application of the steel industry's code.

The meeting was attended by Donald Richberg, general counsel to the Recovery Administration; Dr. Alexander Sachs and E. K. Simpson, representing the government. The Institute directorate constitutes the planning board of the industry under the code.

Spokesmen for the Institute said the session had been called for the purpose of taking such routine action as was necessary to make the code immediately applicable. The filing of new price lists and dissemination of statistics among the steel makers were among the details being worked out at the meeting.

Hill Billies Fear Blue Eagle as Sign of Doom

STILLWELL, Okla., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—The Rev. W. E. Rockett, conducting a revival here, says the NRA Blue Eagle is interpreted by many hill dwellers of Eastern Oklahoma as a spiritual mark "of a beast that will descend upon the world and destroy it." He said:

"John's description in the Book of Revelation of the multi-headed beast that rose out of the sea as he stood on the Island of Patmos and saw the prophecy of the next destruction of mankind is the basis for this crude doctrine."

Stillwell merchants report many of the residents of remote communities who visit their stores for supplies had threatened to boycott the "stores that are marked by evil."

Lake Ship Owners For Pay Increase

CLEVELAND, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—An increase of 10 per cent in the wages of all employes on lake ships owned by members of the Lake Carriers' Association was recommended to the membership by the association's executive committee here yesterday. Approximately 6,000 men would be affected.

The executive committee also appointed a sub-committee to seek an interview with Deputy NRA Administrator William H. Davis in Washington with a view toward placing the lake carriers under a code.

WATCH PRICES, BUYERS TOLD

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Buy from Blue Eagle stores if you can, but buy at the lowest prices for the same quality, was the advice given today by Prof. William F. Ogburn, formerly director of the Consumers' Advisory Board of the NRA, who quit the job recently after some dissension.

If prices rise faster than purchasing power, "there will be another economic catastrophe, he said in an address before the City Club of Chicago. He added:

"The tendensy undoubtedly is for prices to rise the faster. It is easier to mark up the prices of things you sell than it is to mark up wages, hence it is the consumer's moral duty to watch prices closely and keep them down.

"It is not enough to buy from NRA establishments; it will be just as patriotic to spend time in investigating prices and to buy at the best price."

Sheriff Disarmed At Foreclosure Sale

MILBANK, S. D., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Sheriff W. W. Wilson was disarmed and Deputy John Nord beaten at a mortgage foreclosure sale at the Grant County Fair Grounds yesterday after the deputy had fired a tear gas gun in the face of one spectator.

Nord said he fired the tear gas gun after several members of the crowd began advancing on him when the deputy sheriff bid $5 on a binder.

Merchants Duped On Fake NRA Emblems

Their enthusiasm for NRA cost six unwary McKees Rocks merchants 25 cents apiece today.

A glib salesman with cheaply printed cards and lapel pins, authorized, he said, "by Washington," appeared in the borough this morning and began a canvass of its stores.

He had traded a half dozen pins for quarters when a suspicious merchant telephoned for police. The canvasser fled, and police began a search for him.

PITTSBURGHER AT NRA MEET

By JOHN P. COWAN
Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Gathering here following the hasty summons of Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, NRA Administrator, members of a national strategy board today began outlining plans for a country-wide campaign to co-ordinate the far-reaching activities of the National Recovery Administration.

Frank C. Harper, manager of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, is representative for the tri-state territory embracing Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia. At a preliminary meeting of his colleagues, Harper discussed plans for effective execution of the recovery program which had been suggested by Pittsburgh businessmen. These ideas later were presented to Johnson.

SEES FORD GO BEYOND CODE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Senator Schall (Rep.), of Minnesota, said yesterday that "to put a Baruch-Johnson code over a man of the standing of Henry Ford, who led the way to the maximum wage scale, would be a political blunder beyond the range of serious contemplation."

In a formal statement commenting on the fact that Ford has not yet come under the NRA code for the automobile industry, Schall predicted the prompt appearance of a "Ford code" which would yield the wage earner 20 per cent more income than the NRA plan. Schall said:

"The country at large, both the car users in town and on farms, and the wage earners, will recognize Ford's plan as so far superior to that of Washington, D. C., that even an 'associate of Bernard M. Baruch' will hesitate to carry out any 'big stick' threats against our western 'Henry.'"

German Bankers On Trial for Fraud

BREMEN, Germany, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Karl and Heinz LaHusen, brothers, went on trial today on charges of fraudulent practices in connection with the collapse of the big Nordwolle Company whose failure precipitated the 1931 German bank crisis.

The LaHusens were directors of Nordwolle, which had ramifications in New York and Buenos Aires. Its failure was said to have led to the collapse of the Darmstaedter Und National Bank.

HORNE'S DOWNSTAIRS

Sale! Women's Sample Shoes

(Sizes 3½, 4 and 4½)

NRA MEMBER U.S. WE DO OUR PART

$2.35

101 Pairs Regularly $4.00
97 Pairs Regularly $5.00
116 Pairs Regularly $6.50
84 Pairs Regularly $8.00

All brand new advance Fall styles that you'll be the first to wear. The actual showroom models and salesmen's samples of two famous makers. We repeat—SAMPLE SIZES ONLY, 3½, 4 and 4½.

HORNE'S DOWNSTAIRS

Mothers...

We bought 300 of these suits before their price went up! We can't duplicate the value later!

Boys' Combination Suits

• Wool English Shorts! Button-on Wash Blouses $1.25

These are THE practical suits for school and they're nice enough for dress. Your choice of blue cheviot shorts with plain white or blue blouse; or tan, gray and brown mixtures in shorts with blouses of fancy stripe or figure. Sizes 4 to 10 years.

NRA MEMBER U.S. WE DO OUR PART

McCanns Diamond at Ferry Highland at Kirkwood

For Sandwiches
Rich, Mild Cheese
lb. 25c

Now here's a cheese that makes a hit with people who do not like pronounced cheese flavors. It's exceedingly delicate of flavor. And so creamy of texture, it all but melts in your mouth. Try it.

Chicken Cut-ups

Breasts and Legs
lb. 55c

The tender, thick-meated breasts and legs of freshly-dressed roasting chickens. What a perfectly splendid way to buy chicken . . . everyone can have his favorite cut.

Cuts-Giblets . . lb. 20c

None better
Fresh Eggs
2 doz. 55c

Now that mornings are cool, start the day off with eggs . . . scrambled, fried, boiled or shirred. There's nothing more appetizing . . . specially when the eggs come from McCanns. Guaranteed to please you or your money back.

BASKET SALE

Fruits and Vegetables of McCann quality for jelly and canning

Damson Plums
. . . those small blue sour ones that make such good plum preserves . . 8 qt. chip 39c

Stringless Beans
Homegrown beans right off the vines . . . that's the way to buy them at McCanns. Crisp, fresh. 8 qt. chip 39c

Wealthy Apples
. . . of good size and tartish flavor for all apple cookery . . . . . 8 qt. chip 39c

Ripe Tomatoes
. . . buy them by the basket for stewing, baking and frying as well as for making tomato preserves 8 qt. chip 25c

Here's something good
Irish RAISIN BREAD with lots of raisins loaf 13c
2 loaves 25c

One thing McCanns never do and that is . . . skimp on raisins. You'll find these loaves loaded down with them . . . nice, plump ones. And by the way, there's white boiled frosting on top.

Raisin Whole Wheat Bread . . . . loaf 13c
One hundred percent wholewheat bread and lots of raisins. Two loaves for 25c.

Ready to eat
Large Deviled Crabs
3 for 25c

Fresh crab meat from McCanns own fish department is used in preparing these deviled crabs for you. It certainly saves a lot of work when you buy them ready to eat, doesn't it?

Cole Slaw . . . . pt. 18c
Made every hour . . . you'll like the fresh crispness of our cole slaw and the way it's seasoned.

Tartar Sauce . jar 23c
Another tasty companion for Deviled Crabs is tartar sauce. We make it every day . . . it's fresh.

Here's a buy in coffee
South American COFFEE
Fresh-roasted
3 lb. pkg. 69c

Rich, full-bodied strength without bitterness . . . that's the flavor of South American and the reason men prefer it to other coffees. Roasted here at McCanns . . . you can't buy fresher coffee.

Black Assam Tea . . 3 lbs. $1
Map of India trade mark on each package stands for quality.

An economical dinner
Fresh Ground Meat
2 lbs. 35c

Choice government inspected beef ground as you buy it. Why not make a meat loaf for dinner . . . or some meat patties . . . or brown it and combine it with Heinz spaghetti? No matter how you serve it, it's economical. Ask for recipe.

Special Combination Offer

A long-handled wire wiener roaster with every purchase of two pounds of McCanns own, freshly-made wieners. Tuesday and Wednesday . . . . . for 35c

GOING! GOING! GOING!

THE August Sales

HORNE'S

FURS
FURNITURE
FUR-TRIMMED COATS
MEN'S SUITS-TO-ORDER
BEDDING

Welcome Fall in These!

Tweed Travel Suit

Of monotone frosted tweed, with raccoon-collared long coat which also has grand possibilities as a separate wrap, and a sweater-blouse of cashmere-knit. Brown or blue with gold-color sweater, and Oxford gray with bright green . . . A hint to autumn travelers, with a sense of the practical. $49.75.

..Suit Section, Second Floor..

Chenille-Knit Classics

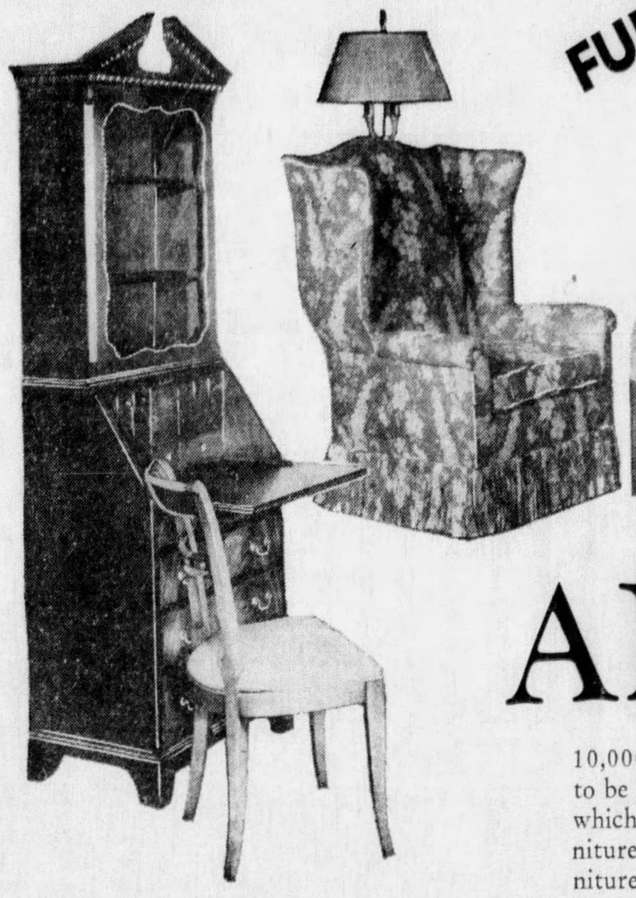
1933 fall successors to those frocks which last season made the Sportswear Shop famous . . . In the model pictured, lapels and collar are knitted to look like beautiful Italian cutwork. Others are inset with white angora, or edged with tri-color crochet. Gorgeous colors. $22.50.

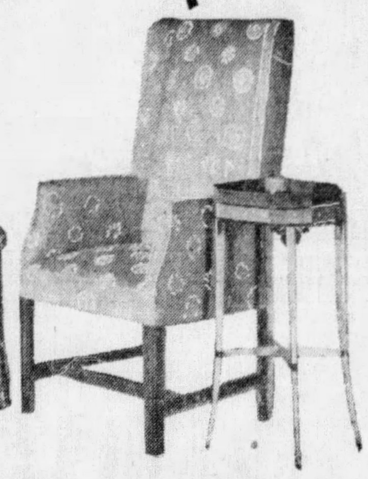
..Sportswear, Second Floor..

"The Perfect Line

For Women's Figures"—that describes the wrap-over line of this woman's afternoon dress, which is wearable by every type, and in every size from 34 to 44 . . . In an autumn sheer, black or night brown, with flattering sleeves of velvet-brocaded chiffon. $17.50.

. . . Women's Dress Section, Second Floor . . .





15% OFF

ALL Furniture

10,000 words could not put this August proposition stronger. There is 15% to be saved on any furniture you may care to buy from the stocks of a store which has stood for years Pittsburgh's acknowledged headquarters for fine furniture. Our present stocks represent purchases made at the lowest levels of furniture costs in modern times. Replacement costs are 25% to 50% higher than six months ago. Horne customers will have the benefit of early costs as long as present stocks last, but the 15% discount ends positively August 31.

Visit this great floor of furniture with its many interesting August exhibits—the Stylthrift Rooms (for modest homes and budgets), the 20th Century Modern Displays, the Robert Irwin Rooms, our Section of Custom-Made Furniture manufactured in our own shops, and the Interior Decorating Studios with their beautiful qualities and inspiring decorative ideas. See this wealth of fine furniture, and make your selections at this August saving.

Convenient Payments Readily Arranged

. . . Horne's, Sixth Floor . . .

The College Shop

Girls from leading campuses—north, south, east and west—are serving as hostesses. Freshmen will have the opportunity to get acquainted with future fellow students, as well as have their advice on the clothes they will need. Our College Shop will take on the aspect of an Intercollegiate Meet for the next ten days.

Tomorrow's hostesses will be Elizabeth Kunkel, of Vassar; Marie Andrews, of Wells, and Margaret Galvin, of Carnegie Tech. There will be an informal Fashion Show tomorrow, Thursday and Friday in the Tea Room, 11:30 to 2:30 o'clock, and in the College Shop, 2:30 to 4:30. Janet Nevin and Helen McCreery, of P. C. W.; Marion Herron and Eloise Dorrance, of Pitt, and Jane Morgan, of Wells, will be the models.

Our stocks of College Fashions are based on actual knowledge, so count on us for everything, from indispensable sweaters to butterfly formals.

. . . Horne's, Second Floor . . .

School Notes for Girls

Girls' Silver-Tip Fleece Sports Coats—wool-lined and wonderfully warm! Brown, navy, wine, dark green. With beret to match. Sizes 7 to 16 years. $15.

Leather Jackets—soft capeskin with yoke back, wool plaid linings—details of expensive jackets. Sizes 7 to 14 years. $5.95.

Wool Crepe Dresses—in at least 15 different styles—with charming new collars, epaulet shoulders, distinctive new sleeves. Brown, blue, green, wine. Sizes 7 to 14 years. $5.95.

Wash Dresses—the famous Fleurette and Celeste makes—the leaders among fine cottons. Classic smocked styles, guimpes, epaulets, novel sleeves. $2.95.

School Hosiery—¾-length socks of fine lisle. Plain colors, stripes, patterns. Sizes 6 to 9½. 5 Pairs, $1.00.

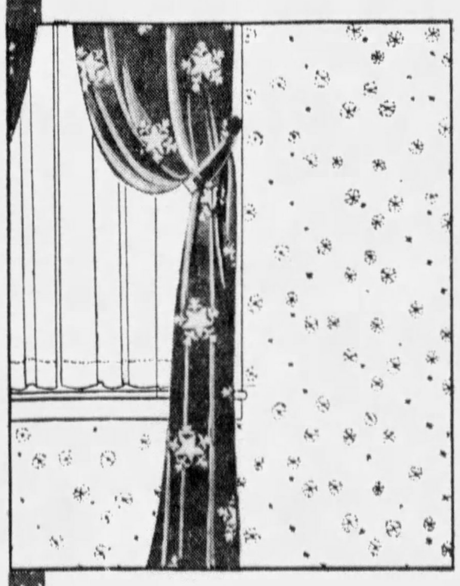
Young Feet Are Well-Protected in

Kali-sten-iks Shoes for Children

The only shoes with the seamless quarter, that eliminates blistered heels—with the three-point suspension arch that supports every part of the foot—with the bulb-shaped heel that fits snugly—and with many more features of foot-health and wear! Scientifically constructed to give every protection to active young feet. Styled for school and dress. Sizes small 3 to growing girls' 8. Priced $2.75 to $5.75, according to size.

. . . Children's Floor, Third . . .

Choose Fall Chintzes and Wall Papers in Perfect HARMONY



One of the outstanding manufacturers of our artistic wall papers and one of the foremost chintz designers have joined in the designing of patterns, so that their products may be used together in perfect harmony. The possibilities of this arrangement will be instantly apparent to the home decorator.

Both the papers and chintzes offer exclusive patterns which will be confined to this store for Pittsburgh.

Wall Papers, 20c to 75c bolt
Chintzes, 35c to $1.00 yard

Visit our new Ensembling Room and let us demonstrate some of the delightful possibilities of these combinations for fall room schemes.

Miss. Lila Wareham

Interior Decorating Consultant, will be in the Wall Paper Section this week to advise you concerning decorating problems and to suggest ways of improving your home.

. . . Horne's, Fourth Floor . . .

5 Star Finals

In the August Fur Sale

Two days more of the August Sale and then FINIS for such grand opportunities as this! Choice of five staple furs of dependable Horne quality, each in a range of types and sizes, at a price that is not likely to be duplicated in a long, long time.

★ Hudson Seal (dyed muskrat)
★ Black Caracul
★ Leopard Cat
★ Brown Kid
★ Raccoon

$145

This is an opportunity for the woman interested in conservative furs of long-wearing character . . . for those whose choice is a formal type of fur coat, chosen for chic and beauty . . . and for college girls and other young women who are eager for the hit of the season—the swagger fur coat.

Pay a reasonable deposit now, and the rest later

. . . Horne's, Fur Salon, Second Floor . . .

LAWYER DENIES HE'S MAN WHO SOCKED HUEY

(Continued From Page One.)

thusiasm was extinguished with a punch.

Of course, the Senator, nursing bruises and a gash over his eye in Milwaukee, offers his own version.

It was a mob of gangsters—at least three or four—who waylaid him in the washroom when he had his back turned. They drew a knife on him. Only his natural agility permitted him to escape the ambuscade, says the Kingfish.

GANGSTERS? MERCY NO!

Members of the Sands Point Bath Club, who always talk in modulated tones of feverish episodes, indignantly denied any gangsters were present. They pointed out that it was a charity affair, a benefit pageant for the Judson Health Center, and that gangsters never did anything for charity.

Among those present, in addition to Huey, were Edward P. Mulrooney, head of the New York State Beer Control Commission and former New York City Police Commissioner, and Gene Buck, president of the American Society of Authors, Composers and publishers. Both are confirmed teetotalers.

'Ganged,' Says Kingfish, Face, Head Bruised

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 29.—(INS.)—United States Senator Huey P. Long, the Louisiana "Kingfish," nursed his wounds in semi-seclusion today and in a statement charged that he was knifed by a gang of ruffians at the Sands Point Bath Club, Long Island, early Sunday.

Senator Long broke his silence after reports from New York stated that he was the recipient of a punch or two directed by an unnamed but indigant guest at the Long Island social function.

His injuries consist of bruises about the head and face and a wound on his forehead close to the eyes.

In his written statement the Senator said he had been threatened and added that he "was lucky to have escaped with such trivial injury."

HUEY'S VERSION

Senator Long is here to address the Veterans of Foreign Wars, of which he is an honorary member. His statement read:

"On Saturday night persons connected with the music composers and publishers asked me to attend a charity benefit Saturday to be given on Long Island. I had been there some 20 minutes or more when I walked into the washroom. Just as I faced the basin and the wall someone struck me from behind, and upon turning three or four men covered me.

"I saw one strike at my head with a knife or something sharp, and I ducked so that it grazed my forehead. One man was blocking the door and I stumbled low through them and managed to wriggle clear. I felt blood coming down my face from where I was cut. I called some of my friends. We rushed back to the washroom, but all the persons had escaped and no one had seen them to identify one of them."

WOUND DRESSED

Senator Long said he then returned to his New York hotel, where a doctor dressed the wound. The Senator added:

"I have been repeatedly threatened. Any number of warnings have been given, even by column writers, that some such thing would occur to me sooner or later. I was lucky to have escaped with such trivial injury and am grateful. Except for a scar over the left eye, nothing remains to show for the Saturday night ganging."

Upon his arrival here yesterday Senator Long went into seclusion in his nineteenth floor hotel suite and declined to see newspapermen. He emerged only long enough to hand out the prepared statement which explained that he had refrained from discussing the incident until it appeared in the newspapers.

The Senator promised to appear before the veterans today for his scheduled speech.

Make This at Home

New Note for Fall
Pattern 1537
Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph 15c Practical Pattern

Very striking new frocks are seen wherever smart women gather. We've sketched one of the smartest today. Seamings and panels follow a new angle . . . clever as can be; sleeves stop quite a bit below the elbow with a perky puff; trig buttons and top-stitching are little details that count a lot. The new wool-like crepes, ribbed silks or sheer wools will be ideal. Buttons, hat and gloves should match.

Pattern 1537 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 takes 3½ yards 39-inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included with this pattern.

Send 15 CENTS in coins or stamps(coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

THE ANNE ADAMS PATTERN BOOK features a charming collection of afternoon, sports, golf, tennis dresses, jumpers, house frocks, special beginners' patterns, styles for juniors, and lovely clothes for youngsters and instructions for making a chic sweater. SEND FOR YOUR COPY. PRICE OF CATALOG 15 CENTS. CATALOG AND PATTERN TOGETHER 25 CENTS.

Address orders to Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Pattern Department, 243 West Seventeenth street, New York City.

1.—Enclose 15 cents in coins.
2.—Write clearly NUMBERS of patterns and SIZE wanted.
3.—Write or print your NAME and ADDRESS plainly.
4.—If you want SUN-TELEGRAPH Style Book send 10c extra.
5.—Address your request to the
PITTSBURGH SUN-TELEGRAPH PATTERN DEPARTMENT,
243 West 17th St.,
New York City.

BOULDER DAM BUILDER DIES

International News Service.

MOSCOW, Aug. 29.—Postponement of the post mortem examination of Warren A. Bechtel, San Francisco contractor who died here yesterday, was asked by his widow today.

Mrs. Bechtel, who was in Vienna when notified of her husband's death, cabled she would arrive in Moscow tomorrow and asked that the examination be held up until then.

Preliminary investigation indicated death was due to an overdose of insulin which the contractor, who headed the construction of Boulder Dam, on the Nevada-Arizona line, had been taking under doctor's orders for several years.

Mrs. Bechtel first learned of her husband's death, it was revealed today, when she called the Soviet Tourist Bureau from Vienna to announce she would arrive in Moscow tomorrow. She had expected to find her husband alive.

Cambria Man Chief Of Registers' Group

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Charles A. McIntyre, of Cambria County, is the new president of the Registers' Association of Pennsylvania.

By a 14-13 vote, he was elected at the association's convention yesterday over George E. Hill, of Delaware County.

BEQUEST FOUND FOR ORPHAN

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—A childhood spent in orphanages and foster homes has brought its reward to 21-year-old William J. Reynolds, who left Washington, D. C., Sunday to hunt for his parents.

Police Lieut. James Stanley has located an inheritance left in trust for him by Reynolds' mother, who died when he was very young.

The young man, who has been working as a huckster in Washington to get money to investigate his early life, knew only his father's name, A. C. Reynolds, a railroad brakeman living at Cameron, W. Va.

Fog Aids Oregon Forest Fire Fighters

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—A heavy fog today came to the aid of thousands of men who for more than a week have battled forest fires along a 40-mile front in North Oregon.

The additional contributions of subsiding winds and higher humidity brought relief to the burned and blackened areas of more than 1,200 square miles and gave hope to leaders of the fire-fighting organizations that extreme danger threatening many coastal towns and villages had definitely passed.

Man Hurt Stepping From Auto to Curb

John Mahaffey, 57, of Foster road, McKeesport, was in McKeesport Hospital today with a concussion of the brain suffered when he fell while alighting from a machine and struck his head on the curb, according to a hospital report.

Enlistment Under Blue Eagle Urged By Mrs. Wilson

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, widow of the wartime President, today appealed to all Americans to enlist under the Blue Eagle banner in the same spirit which characterized 1917-18.

Recalling the sacrifices made in war days, she said in a statement made public by the NRA:

"In 1933 that same brave spirit is abroad, ready to support the administration in its heroic effort to wage war—one that is less dramatic, but even more vital to the life of the country, though there are no flags flying or bands playing for marching troops."

BOY THREATENS TO KILL JUDGE

International News Service.

ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 29.—Judge Marion D. Patterson today laughed off the threat of a boy auto thief who yesterday promised to shoot him as soon as he is released from Huntingdon Reformatory. The Judge said:

"He's a young chap who doesn't realize the import of what he says."

The youth, Blaine Montgomery, pleaded guilty to stealing an auto and officers then told the court Montgomery had attempted to evade arrest by firing a gun several times out of a window and falling to the floor as his mother rushed into his room.

After sentencing him to an indefinite term, Judge Patterson told the boy's mother she need not fear her son would shoot himself.

Montgomery, standing before the bar, snapped back:

"She don't need to fear that I'll shoot myself, but as soon as I get out I'm coming around to shoot you."

OFFICIALS TAKE OATH FRIDAY

Attorney H. S. Dumbauld, of Uniontown, and Attorney J. Hilary Keenan, of Greensburg, Democratic appointees as United States Attorney and United States Marshal for Western Pennsylvania, will take office Friday morning.

The induction ceremonies will take place in the courtroom of Federal Judge R. M. Gibson at 11 a. m. Judge Gibson will administer the oaths. Dumbauld will succeed Louis E. Graham, of Beaver, as United States Attorney.

OLIVER PRAISES JOBHOLDERS

Appointments made by Mayor John S. Herron have been non-political, Councilman George S. Oliver, candidate for election on the Regular Republican ticket, declared in an address last night.

Oliver cited appointments of H. Raymond Hilliard as city treasurer, Harmar D. Denny as director of public safety, and Franklin T. McQuaide as superintendent of police, in proof of his contention.

Attacking the Independents, Oliver said:

"With the impudent arrogance of political ignorance they advance old political theories under the name of the New Deal. A few disgruntled politicians have joined their ranks, some because they could not have their own way in the organization and others because they had lost their jobs with the city in consequence of the recent budget cutting."

15% Lower Prices ON FURNITURE During August
FALLER'S Wayside FURNITURE MART
Open Evenings 7 to 9
7301-21 PENN AVE., PGH.

"Your Eyes Deserve the BEST and the BEST Costs Only $9"
—S. H. DeRoy

No Matter What Your Eyes Need!
Glasses $9 Complete
Our Only Price.... You Can't Pay More
NO EXTRAS! No Higher Price!

It's A Waste of Money To Pay More!
My one price of $9 includes any lenses your eyes require, even Kryptok two-vision lenses or tinted lenses, and any style of white or pink gold-filled frame or mounting—and examination complete.

CREDIT IF DESIRED

See Me—
Insist upon seeing Mr. S. H. DeRoy — then you will be certain you are in Pittsburgh's only one-price optical establishment.

S.H. DeROY
408 SMITHFIELD

Daily 9 to 6—Mon., Wed., Sat. Until 8 P. M. Plates Made in a Day
Smile—You are judged by your Teeth DON'T Fear PAIN or HIGH PRICES for all kinds of dental work
WHY Pay MORE? SAVE UP TO ½
LIBERAL CREDIT! CASH DISCOUNT!
The Best Costs Less at Dr. Walls
Lowest prices for Fillings, Cleaning, Bridgework.
Roofless or Full Plate
Painless Teeth Extraction
AWAKE OR ASLEEP
Safely, Quickly, Painlessly
Doctor WALLS D.D.S.
M. D., Baltimore University; D. D. S., Harvard, University of Paris, Johns Hopkins Medical, etc.
FIFTH AVE. AT MARKET ST

ROACHES BANISHED...QUICKLY!

Bee Brand Insect SPRAY
"THE QUALITY THAT KILLS"
INSECT POWDER IF YOU PREFER

It's easy to see why Pittsburgh is swinging so sharply to BUICK

In Pittsburgh, buyers of motor cars priced between $1000 and $2000 are turning in rapidly increasing numbers to the sound, sure value of the new Buick Straight Eight.

During 1932, 34.1 per cent of all the men and women who bought cars within Buick's price range here, selected Buicks. Surely, a remarkable record! *But during the first seven months of 1933, that figure has increased to 58.8 per cent. In other words, more than half of all the buyers in this field are choosing Buicks; the remainder are dividing their patronage among the ten other makes of eights in Buick's price range.

It seems almost unbelievable, doesn't it, that one car should so completely dominate such an important section of the motor car market? And yet when you know the new Buick Eight—when you understand how much this car has to offer in fine motoring over a long period of time—it is easy to see why buyers here and everywhere are swinging so sharply to Buick.

In the first place, the new Buick Eight is a decidedly modern car, both in appearance and in action. It has the wind-stream styling so essential to any car which asks public approval these days. And wind-stream styling as it is seen on Buick is neither a modification of an old style, nor a make-shift. It is a harmonious new design, from the narrow, V-shaped radiator to the smooth, sweeping panel which makes the rear view so unusually attractive.

Bodies by Fisher give Buick a big advantage in appearance—and in comfort—and in beauty of interiors. Furthermore, because it has bodies by Fisher, Buick is the only car in its price group with the new, individually controlled Fisher Ventilation System. That in itself is sufficient to make many buyers prefer this car.

Obviously, Buick is modern-to-the-minute in appearance and in body construction. And it is equally modern in chassis design and in the way it performs.

Buick's Valve-in-Head Straight Eight engine is considered by many motorists the most remarkable power plant ever developed for a motor car. This engine is exceptionally smooth and silent. It is swift, flexible and powerful. In addition, it is noted for its uniform reliability and sturdiness—for its ability to deliver upwards of 200,000 miles of fine, economical transportation.

These are qualities offered by the new Buick Eight. And because they are qualities which thoughtful motor car buyers everywhere are seeking, Buick is winning a larger portion of the sales in its price range than it has ever enjoyed before. Decide now to make your next car a Buick Straight Eight. It will give you far greater satisfaction than any other automobile at or near its price.

Visit the General Motors Building Century of Progress

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

* Percentages compiled from R. L. Polk Co. official registration figures.

New BUICK Eight

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

Pittsburgh

KEYSTONE BUICK CO.,
Baum Blvd. and Liberty Ave., E. E.

Aliquippa
SNYDER GARAGE
721 Franklin Ave.

Bellevue
BELLEVUE GARAGE, Inc.
504 Lincoln Ave.

Braddock
H. S. LEIGHTON & CO.
431 Sixth Street

Canonsburg
HOXWORTH AUTO CO.
100 E. Pike Street

NORTH SIDE BUICK CO.,
100 W. Stockton Ave., N. S.

Clairton
NORTH CLAIRTON GARAGE
State St. and Blair Ave.

Crafton
LIMBAUGH-ODGEN MOTOR CO.
1700 Crafton Blvd.

Etna
ETNA BUICK CO.
427 Butler St.

Homestead
HOMESTEAD BUICK CO.
221 East Ninth Ave.

McKeesport
D. C. UHRICH
1732 Fifth Ave.

Mt. Oliver
SOUTHERN BUICK CO.
758 Brownsville Rd.

Oakmont
PERRY McCURDY
201 Allegheny Ave.

Sewickley
ANDERSON AUTO CO.
Broad and Centennial St.

DORMONT BUICK SALES,
2676 W. Liberty Ave., Dormont

Tarentum
LONG-STEWART MOTOR CO.
East Seventh Ave.

Washington
MINNEMEYER MOTOR CO.
Chestnut and Jefferson

Waynesburg
W. RAY INGHRAM
Jefferson Road

Wilkinsburg
KEYSTONE BUICK CO.
Jeannette and Rebecca St.

BUICK GIVES MORE AND BETTER MILES

GERMAN CROWN WILLED KAISER, BERLIN HEARS

International News Service.

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—Fearing public comment at this time would harm their cause, leading Monarchists today maintained silence regarding reports an agreement had been reached whereby President Paul Von Hindenburg would be succeeded upon his death by a Hohenzollern prince as regent.

The reports, considered reliable, have it that Chancellor Adolf Hitler has agreed to remain in his present position, but that he would turn over the position as head of the Reich to a member of the family of former Kaiser Wilhelm II.

HINDENBURG'S WILL

The plan is supposed to be contained in a new will drawn up by the 86-year-old Hindenburg last week. He is reported to have discussed his succession with leading members of the government, all of whom were reported willing to agree to the solution.

According to the plan the "German people" would be advised in the will of the President to elect a Hohenzollern prince as regent of the nation. Since Hindenburg has the backing of virtually the entire nation, such a plan probably would be carried out as he asked.

SON OF CROWN PRINCE

The most likely candidate for such a regency would be Prince Louis Ferdinand, son of the former Crown Prince.

The movement for a return to a monarchy apparently has gained ground rapidly of late. Linked with this is the belief that Hindenburg's term of office, in view of his great age, probably will be much less than the seven years for which he was re-elected last year.

Train Ride Injury Fatal to Pittsburgher

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Struck by a girder while riding atop a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train August 21, Michael Swick, 50, of Pittsburgh, died in the County Hospital today. He was on his way to Pittsburgh at the time of the accident.

LOW ROUND TRIP FARES

—SEE THE WORLD'S FAIR—

CHICAGO

$14.10

NINE-DAY EXCURSION

Tickets on Sale Daily—Good in Coaches.

$17.15

TEN-DAY EXCURSION

Tickets on sale every Tuesday and Saturday—Good in Pullman Cars at reduced round trip Pullman rates.

TORONTO

$18.40—All Rail
$17.80—Rail-Boat

Account Canadian National Exhibition,
August 24—September 9
Tickets on Sale Daily
Return Limit September 13

OVER SUNDAY EXCURSION

$5.50 INDIANAPOLIS, IND.
$5.50 ANDERSON, IND.
$5.50 MUNCIE, IND.

Saturday, September 2
Going Saturday Night—Returning Monday Morning

OVER SUNDAY COACH FARES

$2.50 ASHTABULA
$2.75 ERIE

Going Saturday, Sept. 2; Returning Sunday Night, Sept. 3.

OVER LABOR DAY COACH FARES

$2.50 ASHTABULA
$2.75 ERIE

Going Sunday, Sept. 3 and Morning Train Monday, Sept. 4; Returning Monday Night, Sept. 4.

16-DAY EXCURSIONS

Good in Pullman cars.

$12.00 NIAGARA FALLS
$14.00 TORONTO
Every Friday

OUTINGS EVERY SUNDAY

$2.25 CLEVELAND
$1.25 YOUNGSTOWN
$1.25 NEW CASTLE
$1.25 ELLWOOD CITY

Good Sunday Morning—Returning Sunday Evening.

Reduced Round Trip Railroad and Pullman Sleeping Car Fares Each Week-End

From Noon Friday to Noon Sunday. Returning until following Monday night.

P. & L. E. R. R.

Why Doug and Mary Separated!

* * *

Intimate revelations regarding the shipwrecking of filmland's ideal romance will be told in Mary Pickford's life story. Don't miss this exciting close-up of the heart and mind of America's Sweetheart, who rose from poverty to riches—and sorrow.

* * *

Starts in the

Sunday
Sun-Telegraph

NEXT SUNDAY

NRA MEMBER U.S. WE DO OUR PART

ROSENBAUM'S

SIXTH, LIBERTY AND PENN STORE HOURS: 9 A. M. TO 5 P. M. ATLANTIC 4500

Last 2 Days

August Sales

Furniture, Fur-Trimmed Coats, Fur Coats

Buy NOW! In All Probability These Prices Will Not be Duplicated for Years to Come . . . If Ever!

DOWNSTAIRS STORE

—Rosenbaum's Downstairs

Youths' New Fall Hi-School Suits

$5.95

The two most popular shades for Fall—blue cheviot and oxford grey. Carefully tailored. Reinforced at points of strain. 12 to 20 years.

Boys' Blue Cheviot Knicker Suits $3.70

Coat, vest and fully lined knickers. 8 to 16.

"Tommy Tucker" Shirts

New Fall patterns in this famous make, also plain colors. Double yoke, lined cuffs, etc.

79c

Boys' Knicker Pants, 59c

ROSENBAUM'S DOWNSTAIRS STORE

Headquarters for "Red Goose" Shoes

"It Takes Leather to Stand the Weather"

$1.98

"Red Goose" All-Leather SHOES

New straps and oxfords in patents, grain and calfskin. Guaranteed all leather. Sizes 8½ to 2; B to D.

$2.49

Fall styles for misses, children, growing girls. Covered and leather heels. A to D; 8½ to 2, 2½ to 8.

$2.95

Shoes of the finest construction in newest styles for children, misses, growing girls. AA to D, 8½ to 3—3½ to 8.

$3.50

The high school miss and growing girl will thrill over these classy styles. Sizes 12 to 3, 3½ to 8, AA to D.

—ROSENBAUM'S DOWNSTAIRS

$29.75

SWAGGER SUIT of nubby tweed with tucked sleeve and huge shawl collar of French Beaver.

—SUIT SHOP, SIXTH FLOOR

WOOL FROCKS

That Blend Colors With a Master Artist's Touch!

As witness the model sketched . . . a soft woolly dress of burnt brown with velvety chenille trimming of sea green. The wrap-around skirt is in favor in tailored and afternoon dresses, such as this! Sizes 14 to 20.

$17.50

This Featherweight ANGORA WOOL DRESS is just one of the many in this group.

Others of black, rust, eel grey, green, etc.

Other Wool Dresses $5.95 to $45 —DRESSES, SIXTH FLOOR

TWEED SUITS

Than Which There's Nothing Smarter or Newer!

Whether you look best in a swagger or a slightly fitted style, you can find many stunning models! Novelty tweeds, basket weaves! With dyed squirrel . . . marmink . . . nutria . . . wolf or beaver. Sizes 14 to 20.

Browns, Greens, Greys, Tans, Wine, Rust and Black

Holiday Jaunts Require

NEW HATS

$2.95

What a break to get a hat such as the one above . . . a smart visor type of soft felt . . . for this low price! Plenty of models in felt, velvet, satin and Chili wools. Small, tight-fitting hats or sailors . . . flat hats or peaked models. Sizes 21 to 24. Black and Fall colors.

—MILLINERY, FIFTH FLOOR

Here's the "Youngest"

DEBUTANTE!

$6.50

It's just one of Rosenbaum's 15 new "Debutantes." It shows the effectiveness of perforated kid overlay over black suede. Others in all suede . . . suede and calf combinations . . . all kid or calf. Operas, one-straps, step-ins and oxford ties. Sizes 4½ to 8, AAA to B.

—SHOES, THIRD FLOOR

(Political Advertisement) (Political Advertisement) (Political Advertisement) (Political Advertisement)

Pittsburgh's Taxpayers and Tax Dodgers

The Amazing Story of How New York and Chicago Controlled Utilities, Protected By Pennsylvania's Republican Bosses, Compel Pittsburgh and Allegheny County Property-Owners To Pay the Utilities' Share of the Cost of Local Governmental Service

Thirty Thousand Pittsburghers Were Unable to Pay Their Taxes This Year. Seven Thousand Lost Their Homes under the Sheriff's Hammer—but the Name of NO Utility Corporation Appeared on the Delinquent Tax List for the very Good Reason that Republican Legislators Have Forbidden Pittsburgh and Allegheny County to Tax Scores of Millions of Dollars' Worth of Real Estate Owned by Light, Telephone, Gas, Railroad and Railway Corporations. Thus, None of Them Suffered Eviction Such as This.

By WILLIAM N. McNAIR
Roosevelt Democratic Candidate for Mayor of Pittsburgh

THIRTY thousand Pittsburgh home-owners were unable to pay their taxes this year. During the depression, the sheriff of Allegheny County has advertised for sale more than 7,000 homes, farms, apartments, stores or factories—whose owners were unable to pay taxes and keep up payments on mortgages.

But on neither delinquent tax nor sheriff sale lists has appeared a single property owned by traction, electric power, water, telephone or gas company.

The reason for this is twofold. In the first place, scores of millions of dollars' worth of property owned by these utilities cannot be taxed under the laws of Pennsylvania. In the second place, these same Pennsylvania laws, interpreted by a subservient Public Service Commission, permitted these utilities to charge such high rates for the service rendered that in many instances, particularly in the case of the Duquesne Light Company, earnings increased during the depression, while practically every other business and industry in Pittsburgh was operated at a loss.

MR. McNAIR

The man who coined the phrase, "there is nothing sure but death and taxes," never lived in the City of Pittsburgh in the year 1933.

For while the master minds of the public utility corporations have not, as yet, found a way to cheat the undertaker, they have without doubt found a way to cheat the tax collector.

Proof of this assertion is to be found in the records in the offices of Thomas C. McMahon, chief of the Board of Assessors for the City of Pittsburgh, and George E. Meyers, chairman of the Board of Assessment and Tax Revision for Allegheny County.

Take a look, first, in the big, black book kept in the offices of the Pittsburgh Board of Assessors. You will find, writ in flowing Spencerian, the names of those whom Father Pitt feels should be exonerated from sharing in the cost of administering the government of the City of Pittsburgh.

Heading the list of tax-exempt properties is the City of Pittsburgh itself. Of course, Father Pitt could not be expected to pay taxes to himself, as this would be like taking money from one pocket and putting it into another.

Property located within the city limits, owned by the County of Allegheny, the State of Pennsylvania and the Federal Government also is not taxable. Nor are churches, schools, universities, colleges, religious and charitable associations, asylums, hospitals and cemeteries required to contribute to the cost of governmental operation. This is as it should be and no one finds fault with laws placing such property on the exempt list.

All other real estate in the City of Pittsburgh, from the most humble of homes to the most magnificient of mansions, from the one-man shop to the largest department store, from the plant of the tinsmith to the great furnaces and mills of the steel corporation—all must pay taxes—that is, all except certain properties owned by the Duquesne Light Company, the Bell Telephone Company, the Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio, the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and the Wabash Railroads, the Pittsburgh Railways Company, the Allegheny County Steam Heating Company and other utility corporations.

In the City of Pittsburgh alone, property owned by the above named corporations amounting to more than $32,000,000 is exempt from city taxes. Utility holdings in the City of Pittsburgh unassessed for county taxes must run well over $100,000,000, the exempt list in the Second ward alone reaching the almost unbelievable sum of $24,666,650. The total for the county, if computed and made public, would shock the average home-owner who is unable to escape all manner of taxes and who must pay his assessment promptly or run the risk of having his mortgage foreclosed. And so with Pittsburgh business men operating Pittsburgh-owned businesses and industries. They make regular contributions to the treasuries of the City of Pittsburgh and the County of Allegheny to help pay for the cost of these twin governments.

Foreign-owned and foreign-controlled utilities almost completely escape the Pittsburgh tax collector. Their political agents and lobbyists long ago saw to it that no law was written on the Commonwealth's statute books making their properties subject to municipal or county taxes.

The Citizen Pays!

When a home-owner or owner of a business or industrial property pays city and county taxes, he pays for such services as protection by police and fire departments, street paving and maintenance, construction and operation of flood and sanitary sewer systems, new bridges, airports, health departments and welfare departments.

You and I and scores of thousands of other citizens of Pittsburgh and Allegheny County must pay for all these services rendered by the city and county government. And if we fail, our names are published in the delinquent tax lists and the cost of advertising charged against our properties. And later, if our taxes still remain unpaid and the owner of the mortgage hears about it, he has the legal right to bring foreclosure proceedings and sell the property under the hammer of the sheriff.

This is not only what can be done. It's what has been done in thousands of instances during the present depression.

When the Pennsylvania legislature met in regular and special sessions during the past two or three years, when the newspapers were filled with stories of "perplexed" Republican leaders seeking new sources of revenue with which to meet state and municipal obligations and to provide money to feed the hundreds of thousands of destitute citizens of this state, you may be very sure that General Edward Martin, chairman of the Republican State Committee; Senator James J. Coyne, Republican leader in Western Pennsylvania, or Bill Vare, Republican leader in Philadelphia, never suggested that the exempt real estate of the electric power, telephone, gas, railroad, railway and water companies be taxed.

Not one of these leaders of the Republican party came forward demanding that these corporations, a majority of them owned and controlled in New York and Chicago, be put on the same plane as the citizens of this community, that they be compelled to pay for the police and fire protection their properties were receiving in Pittsburgh, that they be forced to make compensation for the sewer service given to their buildings, that they assume their legitimate shares of the cost of constructing new bridges and boulevards and maintaining them, that they help defray the cost of our public school system like other business and industrial establishments and that they pay their just share of keeping the thousands of impoverished men and women in Mayview and Woodville.

Some one did introduce a bill in the last legislature, which if had it had been passed would have made the property of all utilities, excepting rights of ways of railroads, railways and pipe and transmission line companies, subject to taxation. But it did not get very far. On orders from the Republican bosses it was sent to sleep in the pigeonholes of the Committee on Municipal Corporations.

Probably one of the most glaring examples of the operation of Pennsylvania laws which permit utility corporations to escape a full measure of local taxation is the Bell Telephone Building, located on Seventh avenue, downtown Pittsburgh, between Grant and Smithfield streets. This property occupies a site containing 29,635 square feet (more than half an acre) and is a twenty-one-story skyscraper in which are housed several of the exchange stations and the general office staff of the Bell Telephone Company in Western Pennsylvania. The city valuation of this property, land and buildings, is $4,612,210. No taxes whatsoever are paid on the building but taxes are paid on only 15 per cent of the value of the land. The records in the county assessor's office also show this property to be tax free, the county valuation being placed at $2,880,000.

But this is not the only property owned by the Bell Telephone Company in the City of Pittsburgh that escapes taxation. A hurried survey of the Exempt Book in City Assessor McMahon's office shows that this utility owns and operates tax-free property at Highland avenue and Rural street, in the Eleventh ward, valued at $404,272. In the Eighth ward, at Highland and Center avenues, it owns property valued at $92,640, but worth much more—also free from taxation. Its branch exchanges, scattered throughout the city, must not be taxed by city or county authorities on orders from the legislature of the State of Pennsylvania.

Power Plants Pay Little

The two chief power generating stations of the Duquesne Light Company pay almost no city or county taxes. One of these, the James H. Reed power plant on Brunot's Island, Twenty-seventh ward, City of Pittsburgh, is reputedly worth some ten millions of dollars. It is assessed for city taxation at $507,000. On the county tax books, it is assessed for taxes on a valuation of $452,200 and exempted on a valuation of $5,103,300.

The Colfax plant, another $10,000,000 plant, in the Borough of Springdale, pays county taxes on only $230,550 assessed valuation—but escapes any tax on an exempt assessment of $6,300,200.

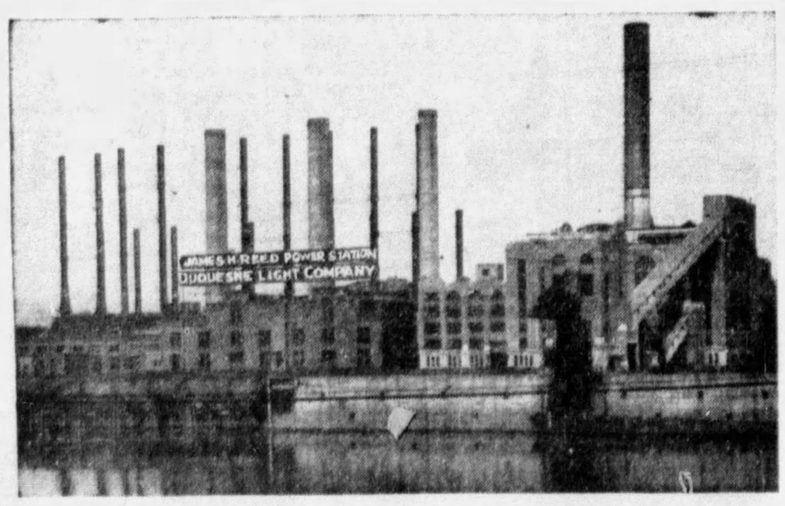
A few more examples of tax exempt property owned by the New York-and-Chicago-managed-and-owned Duquesne Light Company: In the Twenty-second ward, it operates a plant valued at $500,362 on which it pays no taxes. In the Second ward, on Cecil place, between Penn avenue and Duquesne way, it owns a ten-story brick power house and addition valued at $636,041, and in the Eleventh ward another substation appraised at $281,960. Neither of these properties is assessed for taxation. In the Second ward, in Second avenue between Gas and Iron alleys, it operates a station valued at $314,876, while in the Fourth ward in Henry street there is another electric plant assessed at $45,681. These properties mentioned are but a few of the many owned and operated by the Duquesne Light Company in the City of Pittsburgh on which no taxes are paid.

But the Duquesne Light Company is not the only subsidiary of the Moritz Rosenthal-dominated Philadelphia Company. The Allegheny County Steam Heating Company has a $361,330 plant (that is the assessed value; it is worth much more) at Etna street, in the Second ward, which is tax exempt.

But for the deadly comparison, turn your attention for a moment to the picture at the right, which shows two adjacent properties located on Sandusky street, in the Twenty-second ward.

These properties adjoin. One of them is a private home, a modest dwelling, conservatively appraised at $9,000 and on which the owner pays about $350 in city and county tax payments annually.

Next door to this residence is a property owned by the Pittsburgh Railways Company, much larger in size and far more valuable.



Here is the Comparatively New Ten Million-Dollar Duquesne Light Power Plant on Brunot's Island, Twenty-seventh Ward, Pittsburgh. It is Assessed to be Taxable by the City on a Valuation of only a Half-of-a-Million Dollars. Why?

There they stand, side by side. Should a fire break out in either of these properties, the fire department maintained by the City of Pittsburgh would answer the call and send to the scene expensive apparatus and a crew of trained firemen. Both properties would likewise get the same protection from the city's police department. But in the one case, that of the home owner, the service would be paid for. In the case of the other property, the one next door, owned by the Pittsburgh Railways Company, which company is in turn owned by the foreign-controlled Philadelphia Company, the service would be free.

The Pennsylvania legislature, controlled for generations by Republican lawmakers, has decreed that the city shall not charge the Pittsburgh Railways Company for this fire protection. Neither must it make a charge for police protection or sewer or street service, nor for the maintenance of schools or the city's welfare department.

The Republican mayor of Pittsburgh, the Republican president of City Council and the Republican City Council have full knowledge of the fact that these utility corporations are the owners of scores of millions of dollars' worth of improved properties in Pittsburgh on which they pay little or no taxes. They know in their own hearts that a great injustice is being done the people of Pitsburgh in saddling on them not only their fair share of the cost of government but the share that should be borne by these utility corporations.

Republicans Inactive

But I challenge anyone to produce a single interview or the report of a single act on the part of the Republican mayor, Republican president of Council or any member of our Republican Council directed toward correcting this sad state of affairs.

Why?

Why did the mayor and Council of Pittsburgh and the Pennsylvania legislature refuse to equalize the tax burden borne by Pittsburgh taxpayers when faced with an emergency in city and state treasuries—when everyone was coming forward with all manner of suggestions for new taxes—why did they refuse to consider the obvious remedy, the just thing to do under the circumstances, and make the Duquesne Light Company, the Bell Telephone Company, the Pittsburgh Railways Company and the great railroad companies pay for police and fire protection?

The Mayor of Pittsburgh, the Council of Pittsburgh and the Pennsylvania legislature kept silent on the utility tax because they did not dare suggest it—for the same reason that a Senate investigating committee stopped an inquiry into the bribery of the Pennsylvania Public Service Commission.

Republican office-holders in Pittsburgh and Pennsylvania know that the question of public utility reform is taboo. It must not be mentioned. And they know why. When election time comes around, hundreds of thousands of dollars are contributed by heads of these utility corporations to Republican leaders for campaign purposes.

Mr. Mellon arrives home from a vacation on his million-dollar yacht several weeks before election day. He summons his Republican lieutenants and goes over the situation. Candidates are approved and a budget of campaign expenses set-up. Then Mr. Mellon makes a few telephone calls and from all points of the compass the money begins rolling in to the campaign treasurer.

That money is used to elect Republican mayors in Pittsburgh, Republican councilmen, Republican judges, Republican members of the Senate and Assembly and Republican governors who will appoint members of the Public Service Commission like Judge W. D. Ainey, who had no compunction about selling out the eight million citizens of Pennsylvania to the New York and Chicago utility racketeers for thirty pieces of silver.

Pittsburgh home-owners, Pittsburgh renters, Pittsburgh business men will keep on paying their own share of the cost of municipal and county government plus the share that these utilities should be paying so long as the Republican party is dominated by these utility racketeers. There is no escape in that direction or through that party.

The only chance of correcting this odious condition, the only way of putting an end to such control of our local and state governments must come through the medium of the Democratic Party. The Republican Party has failed. It has failed because it has sold itself lock, stock and barrel to the utility corporations. The record of the Democratic Party under Roosevelt at Washington and at Harrisburg this year proves that it owes allegiance to no special interest and that it is committed to the enactment of legislation which will restore to the people the rights and privileges that have been taken away from them by the Republican Party and handed over to special interests.

Relief? Change Parties!

On September 7, 12 and 16, every citizen of Pittsburgh will have an opportunity to take action toward correcting the unfair and un-American tax system prevailing in Pittsburgh and Allegheny county.

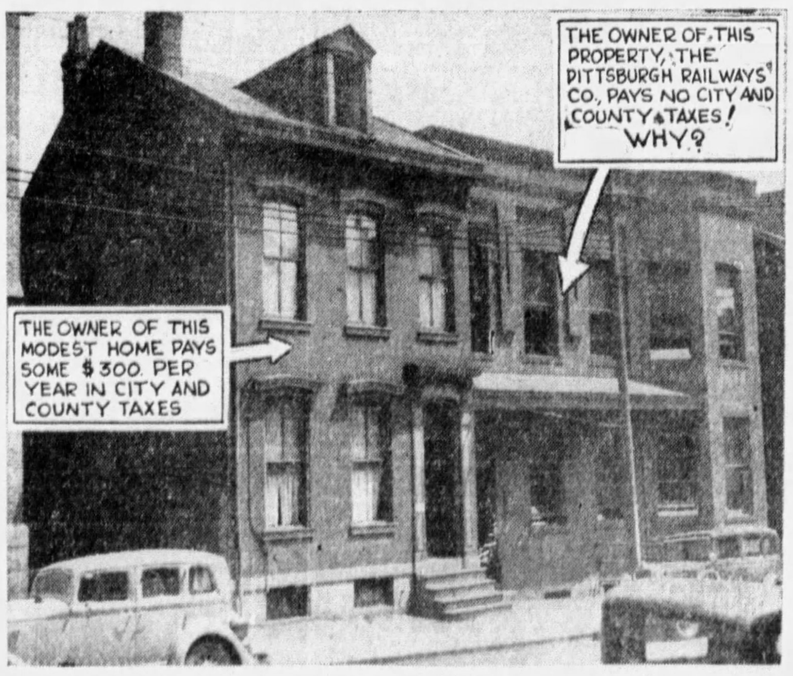
Progressive Republicans, interested in good government, in equitable methods of taxation, should realize that the party with which they are now affiliated has betrayed them.

With this in mind, the common sense policy is to change parties. That's what the people of the United States did last year and as a result every man, woman and child can thank God for Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Nothing can be lost through giving the Democratic Party a chance to administer the affairs of the government of Pittsburgh. Conditions cannot be made worse. Therefore the odds are that they will be made much better.

Register Democratic and vote for the ticket selected by the Roosevelt Democrats of Pittsburgh. Cut out this list and take it with you to the polls on primary election day, September 19, and vote for these candidates:

FOR MAYOR
William N. McNair
FOR PITTSBURGH CITY COUNCIL
(Five to elect)
John J. Kane
Thomas J. Gallagher
Walter R. Demmler
George E. Evans
John M. Huston
FOR JUDGE OF COMMON PLEAS COURT
(Three to elect)
A. Marshall Thompson
Andrew G. Smith
John J. Kennedy
FOR JUDGE OF THE COUNTY COURT
(Two to elect)
James O'Toole
Austin Staley
FOR JUDGE OF THE JUVENILE COURT
Gustav L. Schramm
FOR CORONER
Dr. Vincent L. Marino
FOR POOR DIRECTOR
William S. Cooper, Jr.
FOR JURY COMMISSIONER
Thomas A. Dougherty
FOR SHERIFF
John Heinz



An Outstanding Example of the Power of the Pittsburgh Railways to Escape Taxation. These Two Buildings, One a Private Home and the Other a Traction Company District Office, Are Located on Sandusky Street, 22d ward.

STATE SCHOOL SYSTEM FACES CRUCIAL TEST

HARRISBURG, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—The bells that ring next Tuesday, calling to Pennsylvania's public schools the greatest number of pupils in history, bring state and local educators face to face with the the biggest problems they ever have confronted.

Gov. Pinchot and Dr. James N. Rule, Superintendent of Public Instruction, have summarized the situation in statements that all schools in the 2,587 districts will open, but many will not be able to finish the year.

Particularly in the smaller districts will the school directors be caught on the two-edged sword of increased enrollment and sharply reduced revenues.

TEACHERS CUT

More than 2,100,000 pupils trek back next week to schools whose budgets have been pared by 10 to 25 per cent to keep within available funds. Teachers who will supervise their instruction will work for reduced salaries, which apparently will not be restored for another year.

Generally, as compared with a 10 per cent increase from 1930 in the number of pupils enrolled, the school system's budget will be down 10 per cent from the same year. The 1930 enrollment was 1,913,456 and the total school expenditures, $206,549,892. This year the estimated total expenditures will be about $185,000,000.

Present indications are that the coming term offers the crucial test of the system. Various factors promise improved conditions, both in finances and decreased enrollment, for 1934-35.

NRA BOOSTS ENROLLMENT

The peak in total enrollment for several years to come will be reached this year. The National Recovery Act codes which bar boys and girls under 16 years of age from manufacturing and mechanical industries are sending to the full-time schools from 15,000 to 20,000 who otherwise would have obtained employment and attended part-time continuation schools.

Industrial conditions have influenced thousands over 16 to continue in school instead of trying to get work, and have sent back hundreds of high school graduates for post-graduate work.

The influx of this abnormal group will be no greater in 1934-35 and probably will be less. In addition, the state's declining birth rate, dropping steadily since 1929, is beginning to be reflected in decreasing enrollment in the primary grades. Indications are that the 1934-35 enrollment will be cut at both the primary and high school ends, below that of the coming term.

Similarly the financial difficulties promise to be most acute this year. Tax collections have been low and slow, and those persons most familiar with the situation do not expect receipts to increase at once in response to improved economic conditions predicted as results of the NRA program.

K. C. Council Holds 4th in Party Series

Allegheny Council No. 285, Knights of Columbus, will hold the fourth in a series of card parties sponsored by the organization's officers tomorrow night on the lawn of its new home, 939 Western avenue. The Rev. Edwin P. Fussenegger, chaplain of the council, will be in charge of the affair. He will be aided by the Ladies Guild.

Lay Preacher Leads Worship

Byron B. Evans, lay preacher of the Schenley Heights Methodist Episcopal Church, will lead the mid-week worship service for businessmen in the Downtown Y. M. C. A. tomorrow noon.

All in a Day

By Mark Hellinger

Stories from the Visitors.

WELL, the visitors keep coming. Sometimes the doctor refuses to let them in, but there are occasions when he is most magnanimous. They all ask me what I need, and I give them my paraphrase of that popular song hit of the past: "Don't Bring Me Roses When It's Stories That I Need."

Today, I think I have accumulated enough stories to turn out a column. Let's see what I can gather from my notes. All right. Let's ride:

In walked Mr. William Moore, son of "Sunny Jim" Moore, the restaurant man. We talked of Mr. Mulrooney's recent letter to this column, and the fact that the lash was being urged as a crime preventative. Whereupon Mr. Moore remembered the story of the crook who was sentenced to 20 lashes in a Delaware prison.

When the bird with the whip walked into the crook's cell, the latter gentleman began to bargain with him. He offered him the sum of $250 if the lasher would hit the wall instead of his body. The lasher asked for $500, but the crook said he would pay no more than the $250. So the man with the whip agreed to it.

Nineteen times the lasher struck the wall of the cell with his whip—while the crook let out phony howls of pain in order to make the thing sound legitimate. But on the twentieth stroke, the lasher hit the crook squarely across the back and knocked him, bleeding and shrieking with agony, to the floor.

"What's the idea?" groaned the criminal when he was able to speak. "Nineteen times you didn't hit me, and on the last stroke you almost kill me?"

The other man grinned.

"I just wanted to show you," he replied, "what a bargain you were getting!" . . .

In walked Billy Gibson, the gentleman jockey and jeweler. We talked of Saratoga—and and Mr. Gibson unfolded a story that the Yacht Club Boys were telling when he was there.

A little tailor—Goldblatt by name—was given a tip on a horse named McTingle. For the first time in his life he walked into a horse room near his shop and played $2 on the horse to win. Some 20 or 30 horse players were seated around the room and the proprietor thought he'd have a little fun.

"Abe," he said, "that McTingle race is the next one coming in. How would you like to take the ear phones and give the other boys a description of the race?"

Mr. Goldblatt shrugged his shoulders.

"Why not?" he returned. "With business the way it is, I could sit here for a week."

He adjusted the phones to his ears—and in a short ime, the ponies were off.

"Ah, ha," he cried. They're at the quarter. McTingle—that's my horse—is in front by three lengths." He waved a hand. "Another horse is second. And another horse is third."

He smiled happily.

"They're at the half," he went on. "Ah, ha. McTingle—that's my horse—is in front by four lengths. Another horse is second. And another horse is third."

The other players glanced at each other in amazement as Mr. Goldblatt continued his strange description.

They've passed the three quarters and they're in the stretch. McTingle—that's my hoss—is in front by a length." He spoke swiftly. "Another hoss is second, and another hoss is still third."

Suddenly, he leaned forward. His eyes opened wide. His lips moved, but he said nothing. Then he removed the ear phones and placed them slowly on the desk. He looked out at the other players.

"Another horse was the winner," he announced. "Another horse was second."

He sighed deeply.

"And another horse," he went on, was third!" . . .

In walked S. G. C., a gentleman who does not wish his name mentioned here. It was good to see him though, and he brought me a story I like immensely.

It seems that, in a Western prison, a group of ladies were being escorted through the institution. They were a noisy bunch of damsels, and they asked the most ridiculous questions as they walked along.

Finally one woman, more curious than the rest, opened a small door and peeped in. She closed it hurriedly, and raced over to the man who was guiding her party.

"Mister," she cried excitedly, "Something is terribly wrong. I'm very, very worried."

The guide looked at her.

"What's wrong, madam?" he asked.

The woman clasped her hands.

"I just looked into that little room," she said, as she pointed at it, "and I saw three of the most deperate-looking men sitting around a table without any chains at all. Isn't it dangerous to leave such desperate characters unguarded?"

The guide touched her arm.

"Come along, madam," he muttered, "you've nothing to worry about. That's a meeting of the parole board." . . .

(Copyright, 1933, Daily Mirror, Inc.)

Nurse Settles Balm Suit Against Patient

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—A $100,000 breach of promise suit filed several weeks ago by Mary Wirt, 23, Denver Naval Hospital nurse, against Percival Hunter, Jr., former Annapolis midshipman, has been settled out of court, it was said after the nurse's attorney entered a stipulation in court for dismissal of the suit. He declined to state the terms.

Miss Wirt charged Hunter promised to marry her after meeting in the hospital where she was his nurse.

YOUTH DESIGNS SIMPLE RADIO

Robert King, 16, a June graduate from Fifth Avenue High School, has designed what he believes is the simplest radio set.

It's a crystal set which can only get one radio station, WCAE, and he listens by earphones to Louis L. Kaufmann, the Globe-Trotter, every day, he says.

Getting a flat board, of quarter-inch thickness and three inches square, he fastened to it a little curl of tin, about half an inch wide and thin, attached to the tin two wires—and tied them down with three screws. The earphones are attached to the wire terminals and King says the more delicate the wire, the better reception.

King, a Negro, lives at 1917 Center avenue.

Police Hunt Negro As Man Is Stabbed

A Negro assailant of William Hellig, 37, of 75 Chatham street, who attacked him with a knife, was being sought by police today. Hellig, a knife wound in the neck, was taken to Mercy Hospital.

Come . . .

and Bring the Kiddies to

McCREERY'S

WOOD ST. AT SIXTH AVE.

Frigidaire Follies

In a musical presentation of "The Wedding of The Eskimos"

- Daily performance at 2:15 p. m. week of August 28th.
- Saturday, September 2nd, two performances . . . 11 a. m. and 2:15 p. m.

(Fifth Floor Children's Departments)

McCREERY'S

WOOD ST. AT SIXTH AVE. ATLANTIC 4600

Last 2 Days!

Your Final Opportunity to Save in the First Annual Sale!

Wall Paper

10c Roll

Just a Few Dollars Will Repaper the Whole House!

Fresh, clean stocks, regularly selling from 18c to 75c! Nearly all are sunfast papers. Colonials, tapestries, florals, etc., included at this price. But hurry . . . only 2 more days!

We Carry a Complete Stock of Valspar Paints and Varnishes

(McCreery's—Wall Papers and Paints—Sixth Floor)

Not a Speck of Rust In a Million Gallons!

IF IT'S A PITTSBURG Instantaneous GAS WATER HEATER

$59.50 A Lifetime Of Rust-Free Water! Imagine it! The water heater that never spoils your wash with rusty water, because of its copper and brass construction! The water heater that lasts a lifetime—because there's no storage tank to rust, leak, wear out! Now you can buy it—at a soon-to-rise bargain price!

$59.50 For All The Hot Water You Want! Think of it! A "Pittsburg" Instantaneous — mighty-powered, lightning fast! A heater that delivers faultless performance, phenomenal economy—gives you instant, steaming pure hot water—as much as you want, right when you want it! And the price is soon to go higher.

$59.50 While Present Stocks Last! It is impossible to predict prices even a week ahead with any certainty! While present stocks last, we offer this better, more economical water heater for only $59.50—easy terms! The thing to do is BUY! The time to buy is NOW! A bargain you'll always boast about!

PITTSBURG

WATER HEATER SALES CO.

110 JENKINS ARCADE

Ground Floor GRant 5410

Calm

in the heart of New York!

A SEEMING PARADOX . . . but you may actually enjoy it when you stop at The DEVON. Close to everything worth seeing and doing, yet a modern oasis of quiet. Special Summer rates . . . prevailing through August . . . give you a pleasant combination of luxury and economy.

Hotel Warwick management and cuisine

The DEVON

70 West 55th Street

NEW YORK

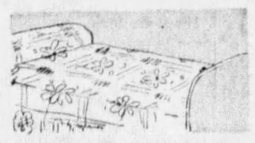
HURRY—August is the Deadline Month to Buy at Depression Prices—TWO MORE DAYS Before the Government Tax Makes It Definite That

COTTON'S going UP

We Do Our Part

McCREERY'S friendly tip is . . . buy everything you need in cottons NOW . . . before the Cotton Processing Tax goes in effect. Fill your linen closets and stock up on favorite wearables made of cotton . . . fill your household needs . . . for it's unlikely you will find cotton merchandise marked this low for many a day to come!

Mail and Telephone Orders Filled if Received Up to 5 P. M., August 31st



Bedspreads Ole Kentucky Country Lodge design. For full or twin beds . . . $3.45 (Second Floor)

"Cast Iron" Sheeting A heavy quality sheeting bleached snow white; 72-inch width. Yd. 39c (Second Floor)

Damask Cloths 58 x 58 in. Lovely blue and rose florals. 75c (Second Floor)

Chenille Bath Mats Heavy quality. Size 24x36 inches. Rose, blue, etc. . . . . $1.25 (Second Floor)

Mattress Covers Full cut, well made. Single and double bed sizes . . . . . $1.25 (Second Floor)

Candlewick Spreads Full and single bed sizes. White with colored tufting . . . . $1.45 (Second Floor)

Beacon Blankets With two-tone effect. Size 72x84 inches. Smart shades . . $2.75 (Second Floor)

Wash Cloths Terry cloth with colored borders. Assorted to the dozen. Dozen . . . 89c (Second Floor)

Utica Percale Sheets Hemstitched and soft as silk. Snow white. Size 72x108. Ea. $2.75 (Second Floor)

Sheet Blankets Block plaid, large size, 72x84. All colors . . . . . $1 (Second Floor)

India Quilts Beautiful Eastern designs. Bedspread or quilt . . . . . $2.95 (Second Floor)

Jumbo Towels Size 24 x 48 inches. Fluffy towels; colored borders; pastel shades. 29c (Second Floor)

Mattress Protectors Pure white cotton filling. Full or twin-bed sizes . . . . . $1.35 (Second Floor)

Dress Shields Crescent or regular style. Sizes 2, 3 and 4 3 pairs 65c (Street Floor)

Dress Protectors Hold one garment. 60 in. long; in white. Snap closing . . . . . 50c (Street Floor)

Wardrobe Bags 60-inch garment bags; hold 8 garments; heavy art ticking . . . . . $1 (Street Floor)

Household Aprons Coverall and tea apron style; assorted pastels. 3 for 75c (Street Floor)

Exclusive "First Lady" SHEETS

81x99 Sheets 99c

63x 99 Sheets	85c
63x108 Sheets	89c
72x 99 Sheets	89c
81x108 Sheets	$1.09
90x108 Sheets	$1.19
42x36 Cases	25c, 6 for $1.45
45x36 Cases	29c, 6 for $1.65

(McCreery's—Second Floor)

Men's Athletic Shirts Full combed cotton yarns. Sizes 30 to 46 . . . . . 50c (Street Floor)

Men's Lisle Hose Lisle, rayon and lisle; numerous patterns. Fall shades . . . . . 25c (Street Floor)

Men's Shirts White-on-white and white fancy woven broadcloths. Sizes 14 to 17½. $2 (Street Floor)

Boys' Golf Hose Heavy ribbed cuff, fancy patterns. Sizes 8 to 11 . . . . . 25c (Fifth Floor)

Boys' Shorts Washable. Cotton tweed and sanforized. White ground and stripes. 85c (Fifth Floor)

Boys' 2-Pc. Pajamas Broadcloth; coat and slip-on style. Sizes 8 to 16 . . . . . 95c (Fifth Floor)

Boys' Wash Suits Broadcloth, plain or color combinations . . . . . $1 (Fifth Floor)

Flannelette Sleepers Button down back, drop seat. Sizes 2 to 6 . . . . . 65c (Fifth Floor)

Girls' Princess Slips Lace and embroidered trims. Sizes 2 to 14 years . . . . . 59c (Fifth Floor)

Baby Blankets 30x40 in., figured. Pink and blue . . . . . 60c (Fifth Floor)

Women's Union Suits Our famous "Athena" make. In white. Sizes 36 to 44 . . . . . $1.25 (Fourth Floor)

Broadcloth Uniforms For nurses and maids. Detachable buttons. 14 to 42 . . $1.25 (Fourth Floor)

Women's Hooverettes In pretty fast-color prints. Small, medium, large sizes . . . . . 65c (Fourth Floor)

Nainsook Kickernicks In white and flesh. Sizes 34 to 42 . . . . . $1.65 (Fourth Floor)

Women's Smocks In Balkan and notch styles. Assorted colored prints. Sizes 14 to 40 . . . . . $1 (Fourth Floor)

Hand Made Gowns Sleeveless or ¼ sleeves. Sizes 16, 17 . . . . . $1 (Fourth Floor)

Curtains Tailored French marquisette and Spanish Net. 88 ins. wide, 2¼ yds. long . . . . $1 (Sixth Floor)

Curtains Priscilla style marquisette. Ivory grounds with colored madras designs. $1 (Sixth Floor)

Chenille Bath Rugs Reversible; 24x45 inches. Floral patterns . . . . . $1.35 (Sixth Floor)

McCREERY'S

WOOD ST. AT SIXTH AVE. . . . . ATLANTIC 4600

HARBORD TALKS FOR NRA -:- Senator Byrd Discusses 'Too Many Governments' -:- ON THE AIR TONIGHT

Gen. Johnson Broadcasts Tomorrow

Gen. James G. Harbord, for 35 years an army officer and since his retirement from military service one of the country's leading business executives, addresses the radio audience under auspices of the National Recovery Administration tonight at 8 over NBC-KDKA.

A second NRA broadcast tonight brings F. J. Chesterman to the WCAE microphone at 6:40 under the auspices of the NRA City of Pittsburgh Committee.

Taking tomorrow's aerial spotlight will be a 30-minute address by Gen. Hugh S. Johnson over nation-wide NBC-blue facilities, including KDKA, at 1:30 p. m. The NRA administrator will give a complete analysis of the Recovery Act and report on adoption throughout the country.

* * *

Former Governor, now Senator, Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia, speaks over the same network at 7:15, discussing the question, "Are There Too Many Governments?" Senator Byrd believes thousands of units of local government should be abolished.

* * *

Pencils for Skillets

The Sisters of the Skillet change characters tonight. They swap their mops and skillets for pencils and notebooks, and become "reporters" on the program recently abandoned by Ed Wynn's "uncle." Don Voorhees' orchestra and a male quartet continue to supply the musical portion of the program. Eddie and Ralph make their debut in their new roles over WCAE at 9:30.

* * *

Magee and Duggan

William A. Magee, twice mayor of Pittsburgh, now candidate for a seat in City Council, continues answering questions on city government over WCAE at 7:15.

Frank L. Duggan, campaigning for re-election to City Council, speaks over WCAE at 10:45.

* * *

James Gordon Bennett, famous newspaper publisher, called in Henry M. Stanley, reporter, and simply said: "Go find Livingston." Livingston was lost somewhere in the wilds of darkest Africa. Stanley's journey of hardship and adventure that finally led him to Livingston, is dramatized over WCAE at 10.

* * *

Theater Revival

The NBC-KDKA Miniature Theater is revived tonight. "Op o' Me Thumb," an amusing story of the romantic flights of fancy of a London laundress, is presented in the form of a one-act play at 9.

* * *

Lewis Carruthers, past president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, is interviewed by Walter L. Pate over WCAE at 6. Carruthers will give his views on the national championship matches held at Brookline, Mass.

* * *

Gen. Churchill B. Mehard, speaking in behalf of the Allegheny County Fair, is heard over WJAS at 5:45 this afternoon.

Most Famous Actor In the World

Who can guess his name? George Seibel, literary and dramatic critic of the Sun-Telegraph discusses the world's most famous actor over WCAE at 7.

The Globe-Trotter, voice of the Sun-Telegraph and Hearst Metrotone News, broadcasts all the interesting events of the day over WCAE-WJAS at 9:05 a. m. and 12:15, 2:15 and 6:30 p. m.

TEN BEST BETS

6:00—WCAE—Lewis Carruthers.
7:00—WCAE—George Seibel.
9:00—WCAE—Ben Bernie.
KDKA—Miniature Theater.
9:30—WCAE—Eddie and Ralph.
WJAS—Nino Martini.
10:00—WCAE—Lives at Stake.
WJAS—Lee Tracy.
10:45—WJAS—Light Opera Gems.
12:30—KDKA—Mark Fisher.

Tuesday, Aug. 29

4:00 P. M.

WCAE—The Golden Treasury.
WJAS—Ann and Helen.
KDKA—Meredith Wilson's Music.
KQV—Square Dance "Cy."
WWSW—Baseball Game (cont'd).

4:15 P. M.

WCAE—Golden Treasury (cont'd).
WJAS—U. S. Navy Band.
KDKA—Jack Walton's Orchestra.
KQV—Square Dance (cont'd).
WWSW—Ball Game (cont'd).

4:30 P. M.

WCAE—Tea Dansante.
WJAS—Enoch Light Orchestra.
KDKA—Business News; Markets.
KQV—Fred Jurkowski, accordion.
WWSW—Ball Game (cont'd).

4:45 P. M.

WCAE—Baseball scores; Popular Tunes.
WJAS—Orchestra (cont'd).
KDKA—"Country Playhouses," by Montrose J. Moses.
KQV—Victory Four Quartet.
WWSW—Ball Game (cont'd).

5:00 P. M.

WCAE—Melodic Thoughts.
WJAS—Herbert Fritsche Melodies.
KDKA—Baseball Scores; Paul Ash's Orchestra.
KQV—Five O'Clock Special.
WWSW—Radio Rascals.

5:15 P. M.

WCAE—Melodic Thoughts (cont'd).
WJAS—Four Clubmen.
KDKA—Tarzan.
KQV—Five O'Clock Special (cont'd).
WWSW—Rascals (cont'd).

5:30 P. M.

WCAE—Schirmer and Schmitt.
WJAS—Jimmie DePalma, songs.
KDKA—Larry Larsen, organist.
KQV—Five O'Clock Special (cont'd)
WWSW—News; Baseball Scores.

5:45 P. M.

WCAE—Baseball Scores; Dancing Discs.
WJAS—Allegheny County Fair Talk—Gen. Churchill B. Mehard.
KDKA—Little Orphan Annie.
KQV—Melody Time.
WWSW—Quentin Wagner, pianist; Walter Steinhauser, tenor.

5:58 P. M.

WCAE—Program Announcement.

6:00 P. M.

WCAE—Lewis Carruthers, past president United States Lawn Tennis Association, interviewed by William L. Pate.
WJAS—Add Brickell, "Pianoisms"
KDKA—News; Piano Classique.
KQV—Crazy Hill Billies.
WWSW—Ed. Sprague's Sport Slants.

6:15 P. M.

WCAE—Viennese Ensemble, direction Walter Logan.
WJAS—Elizabeth Barthell.
"Isn't It Heavenly"
Here You Come With Love
I've Got You Where I Want You.
Alabammy Home.
Orchestra.
Isn't It Heavenly.
Marching Along Together.
KDKA—Weather; Sports; Pat Haley, romantic troubadour.
KQV—Movie Broadcast.
WWSW—John M. Henry, political speech.

6:25 P. M.

WCAE—Baseball Scores.

6:30 P. M.

WCAE-WJAS—The Globe Trotter of the Sun-Telegraph and Hearst Metrotone News.
KDKA—Pittsburgh Spotlights.
KQV—Pillerman's Rhythm Boys.
WWSW—Jack Davis' Orchestra.

6:40 P. M.

WCAE—NRA City of Pittsburgh Committee—Address by F. J. Chesterman.
WJAS—County Fair, Capt. J. O. Corbett.
KQV—Dr. P. L. Jacoby.

6:45 P. M.

WCAE—Mitzi Green in Happy Landings.
WJAS—Melodeers.
"Songs at Eventide"
KDKA—Lowell Thomas.
KQV—Gold Room Concert.
WWSW—Jack Davis (cont'd).

7:00 P. M.

WCAE—Plays and Players—George Seibel.
WJAS—Gypsy Nina.
"Hold Your Man"
My Fiddle and Me.
To Stay.
Hold Your Man (revised lyrics).
Medley of Russian Songs.
Instrumental.
First Echo Song.
Let Me Call You Sweetheart.
KDKA—Amos 'n' Andy.
KQV—Gold Room (cont'd).
WWSW—Two Boys and a Girl.

7:15 P. M.

WCAE—William A. Magee, candidate for Council, speaker.
WJAS—Dr. Springer's Forum.
KDKA—National Advisory Council on Radio in Education.
"Are There Too Many Governments?" Senator Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia; Henry Morgenthau Jr., governor, Farm Credit Administration.
KQV—Jack Lavender.
WWSW—Blue Pacific Serenaders.

7:30 P. M.

WCAE—Lum and Abner.
WJAS—Lewis Munhall, baritone.
KDKA—Education (cont'd).
KQV—Sunset Royal Entertainers.
WWSW—Uncle Cal.

7:45 P. M.

WCAE—The Goldbergs.
WJAS—Boake Carter News.
KDKA—Ray Heatherton.
KQV—Entertainers (cont'd).
WWSW—Susan McDermott, pianist.

8:00 P. M.

WCAE—Frank Crumit and Julia Sanderson.
"I'm a Dreamer"
Sweeter Than Sweet. Sanderson and Crumit.
Someday, I'll Find Your, from "Private Lives." Sanderson.
Singin' in the Rain. Crumit.
Rosita. Miss Lovo.
Broadway Melody. Sanderson and Crumit.
Songs My Mother Taught Me.
Tiptoe Thru the Tulips. Crumit.
I'm a Dreamer. Sanderson.
Yokaammo. Miss Lovo.
Precious Little Thing Called Love. Sanderson and Crumit.
WJAS—Marty Gregor's Orchestra.
KDKA—"The NRA," by Gen. James G. Harbord.
KQV—Dr. Hugh Greer Caruthers.
"Creative Thinking"
WWSW—Phil Romano's Orchestra.

8:15 P. M.

WCAE—Crumit (cont'd).
WJAS—Knights of Melody.
KDKA—Pastorale.
KQV—Around the Town.
WWSW—Phil Romano (cont'd).

8:30 P. M.

WCAE—Wayne King's Orchestra.
WJAS—Kate Smith.
KDKA—Adventures in Health.
KQV—Around the Town (cont'd).
WWSW—News; Baseball scores.

8:45 P. M.

WCAE—Wayne King (cont'd).
WJAS—Poet's Gold—David Ross.
KDKA—The Rollickers.
KQV—Melody Time.
WWSW—Louise Wolstoncroft pianist.

9:00 P. M.

WCAE—Ben Bernie's Orchestra.
WJAS—Moden Male Chorus.
KDKA—Miniature Theater.
"'Op-o'-Me-Thumb,'" one act play by Frederick Fenn and Richard Pryce.
KQV—Cassinelli Brothers' Trio.
WWSW—Lew Heller, tenor.

9:15 P. M.

WCAE—Ben Bernie (cont'd).
WJAS—Frank Westphal's Orchestra.
KDKA—Miniature Theater (cont'd).
KQV—Renna Kimball, soprano.
WWSW—Dance Recordings.

9:30 P. M.

WCAE—Don Voorhees' Orchestra, Eddie and Ralph, Reporters; Male Quartet.
WJAS—Nino Martini with Columbia Symphony.
"Spirit Flower"
O Del Mio Amato Ben. Donaudy
Nino Martini and Orchestra.
Overture. "Le Rio I'a Dit" Delibes
Orchestra.
Rondini Al Nido de Crescenzo
Nino Martini and Orchestra.
Funeral March of a Marionette. Gounod
Orchestra.
Spirit Flower Campbell-Tipton
Nino Martini and Orchestra.
Prelude, G Minor Rachmaninoff
Orchestra.
Giulia Denza
Nino Martini and Orchestra.
KDKA—"The Passers By."
Musical fantasy featuring Joan Blaine, narrator; Cyril Pitts, tenor; Roy Shield's Orchestra.
KQV—Eddie Peyton's Orchestra.
WWSW—Recordings (cont'd).

9:45 P. M.

WWSW—Frank McBride, tenor.

10:00 P. M.

WCAE—Lives at Stake.
"Henry M. Stanley," dramatic sketch; orchestra direction of Harold Stokes.
WJAS—California Melodies; Lee Tracy, guest artist.
KDKA—Musical Memories.
Edgar A. Guest, poet; Alice Mock, soprano; vocal trio; Josef Koestner's Orchestra.
KQV—Cavaliers.
WWSW—Etzi Covato's Music.

10:30 P. M.

WCAE—Musical Comedy Gems.
WJAS—Ted Husing with Leon Belasco's Music.
"Reflections in the Water"
Sing to Me. Orchestra.
Trouble in Paradise. Barbara Maurel.
Limehouse Blues. Orchestra.
Ted Husing.
Reflections in the Water. Barbara Maurel.
My Own. Orchestra and Trio.
KDKA—"Miss Lilla."
KQV—Red Fluke's Orchestra.
WWSW—News; Baseball Scores.

10:45 P. M.

WCAE—Frank L. Duggan, political speaker.
WJAS—Light Opera Gems.
Second part of Audran's Comic Opera, "Olivette." Rhoda Arnold, Theo Karle, Roger Kinne, Charlotte Harriman, Crane Calder.
WWSW—WWSW Artists.

11:00 P. M.

WCAE—Baseball scores; Harold Stern's Music.
KDKA—Weather; Sports; News.
KQV—Good night.
WWSW—Phil Romano's Orchestra.

11:15 P. M.

WCAE—Benny Meroff's Orchestra.
WJAS—Little Jack Little.
KDKA—Houston Ray's Orchestra

11:30 P. M.

WCAE—Talkie Picture Time.
WJAS—Eddie Peyton's Orchestra.
WWSW—Good night.

11:45 P. M.

KDKA—Ernie Holst Orchestra.

12:00 MIDNIGHT

WCAE—Ralph Kirbery, the Dream Singer.
WJAS—Freddie Martin's Music.
KDKA—Phil Harris' Orchestra.

12:05 A. M.

WCAE—Meyer Davis Orchestra.

12:30 A. M.

WCAE—Lake George Village Orchestra.
WJAS—Good Night.
KDKA—Mark Fisher's Orchestra.

1:00 A. M.

WCAE—Weather.
KDKA—Good Night.

Local Highlights on WJAS Tonight

Gen. Churchill B. Mehard offers his version of the coming Allegheny County Fair in a special early evening broadcast.

Marty Gregor's orchestra plays a prize-winning arrangement of "Chinatown" as the highspot of an 8 o'clock program.

Add Brickell revives the old favorite "Nola" as the feature of his 6 o'clock spot.

Eddie Peyton's Frivolities return to the air with a half-hour program at 11:30.

Junior Patrollers On Air Again Tomorrow

Ola Cooper

Another exciting program of adventure with the Junior Patrollers is in store for all their friends at 4:45 tomorrow over WCAE. And there's a musical treat in the Junior Patrol broadcast, too. Here are the boys and girls you'll hear, besides Snuggins, Spike, Perce and Bill:

Virginia King—Song—Trees.
Ola Cooper—Nursery Rhyme—Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star.
Walter Mehlmauer—Accordion solo—Rock Me In a Cradle.
Harriet Wheller—Ukrainian Song.
Ruth Jane Gullyes—Piano solo—Dutch Dance.
James McIlowell—Recitation—A Birthday Trip.
Hannah Maich—Piano solo—Meditation.
Richard Rockwell—Violin solo—Angel's Serenade.
Flora Burkey—Recitation—The Mourning Veil.
Eugene Hecht—Song, accompanying himself on his guitar.

Globe-Trotting

By LOUIS L. KAUFMAN

Hello, ladies and gentlemen:

Earl Brown, of Morgantown, W. Va., claims space in this column on behalf of his dog and cat. The dog discovered a 'possum's lair. The animal had several young ones in its pouch. Earl took them home to raise. One hot day the mother 'possum died, leaving her young ones helpless.

Unable to take nourishment themselves it was feared that the whole family would follow the mother. That's where the cat stepped in. She had three kittens and didn't object at all to adopting four baby 'possums. In fact kitty gives more attention now to her adopted children than to her own.

* * *

Magazine Gifts

Miss G. M. Davis, Lincoln Place—leave the magazines at the Sun-Telegraph downtown office, Fifth and Market. They'll be sent to one of the hospitals.

Will be glad to receive donations of this kind from anyone. There are many calls from hospitals and forest camps for magazines and books.

George Seibel's visiting sister-in-law brings a child story from the West. She heard a little girl startle her mother with, "Oh, mama, look at the Indian baby with her mother tied on in front."

* * *

Missing Persons

In re Frank Young—Have you notified the Bureau of Missing Persons of the Pittsburgh police? The Bureau is at No. 1, First and Short streets.

Dr. Glassco, Warren—Thanks.

Mrs. Ellsworth Avenue—The closing date of the Chicago World's Fair has not been definitely decided upon. However, it will not continue through the winter. The last advices to a railroad information service states October 31.

* * *

G. H. Leighton, Ambridge—Aneurin Bodycombe writes good music. Address him at the William Penn Hotel.

JEAN CAMPBELL, R. N.

TRAINED NURSE MAKES BIG HIT ON RADIO

Just a short while ago, Jean Campbell, R. N., was practicing her profession as a registered trained nurse—like hundreds of other earnest young women. Today, she is a vivid radio personality, with an ever-growing audience of women who listen to her three mornings each week over station WCAE.

Miss Campbell has a fascinating subject—because she tells women how to reduce surplus weight and how to groom their figures for the slim fashions of 1933. She also has a soft charming voice and plenty of that quality that radio men call "microphone appeal."

Without any previous broadcasting experience whatever, Miss Campbell started her series of talks three weeks ago. Since then hundreds of Pittsburgh women have written her letters and met her personally at May's, 5th and Liberty Avenue, where she lectures each day on Vannay, the new scientific method of weight reduction.

Tune in on Station WCAE on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings at 9:00 o'clock and see if you are not delighted with this young woman who is surely winning a place for herself among the radio stars.

AL SMITH NEW 'RADDIO' CZAR

By AIRCASTER

Customers with good memories may recall it was stated here recently that the new directorate of WMCA would have a chairman whose identity would somewhat startle business and political circles as well as the headmen of radio.

The gentleman who becomes chairman of the board — and who will preside over its initial meeting September 6, is—as I knew but couldn't tell—no other than Alfred E. Smith, former Governor of New York. So firm is his belief in the cultural and social possibilities of "the raddio" that he takes the job hoping in this new role, "to be of service to the public of New York City through a station which reflects the life, pulse and tempo of New York."

Both the former Governor and the board of the Federal Broadcasting Company lay great emphasis on the declaration that there is no political significance in the acceptance of Al Smith of the new post.

Those who know their radio dismiss the talk of politics in the air, with a shrug. Back in the directorates of the established chains, for years, such figures as Owen D. Young have labored and have kept broadcasting out of the editorial or political columns, and there is no probability that political partisanship will become a factor at this date.

* * *

'Raddio' Service

In announcing his acceptance of the chairmanship at WMCA, former Gov. Smith said:

"The enthusiasm of the industrious young Americans, who are members of the board of directors, leads me to believe that the station will serve its listening audience with programs of entertainment and education of the highest degree.

"The potentialities of the raddio and its intimate association with the home have raised it to institutional proportions with an opportunity for unlimited service to the public."

Warrendale Man Sued for Divorce

Esther D. Pringle, 1133 Stanford road, has filed a divorce suit against Robert P. Pringle, Warrendale, charging desertion, cruel and barbarous treatment and indignities. They were married May 16, 1928, and separated September 7, 1931.

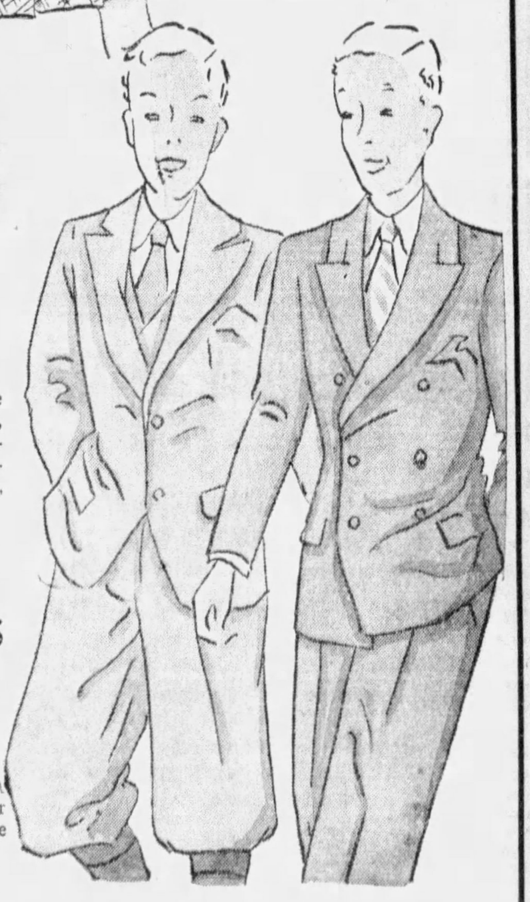
First to FRANK & SEDER Then to School

Girls' Wash DRESSES $1.79

New dresses for school! The kind that tub easily. Fine quality cotton tweeds, broadcloths in colorful prints, stripes and checks. With cute little epaulets. With linene or pique collars.

The smaller sizes have bloomers... 7 to 10. Without bloomers, 8 to 14. Sizes for bigger girls, too... 10½ to 16½.

THIRD FLOOR



Students' 2-Pants SUITS 12.95

New Fall patterns for the high school boys! Checks, plaids and plain colors. Decide on single or double-breasted coats. Greys, tans, navy. Sizes 12 to 22.

BOYS' 4-PIECE Knicker Suits $6.95

Two pairs of knickers, a vest and coat in grey, brown or tweeds. Replacements will be $7.95 or more.

FOURTH FLOOR

Tots' New Dresses $1.19

A lovely selection of Tots' New, Washable Frocks . . . plain colors, prints, checks, dots . . . panty styles 2 to 6 years.

BROTHER AND SISTER TOGS $1.19

All-wool French Spun Jersey . . . little suits with lined pants for brother . . . little dresses with pleated skirts for sister . . . sizes to 6 years.

THIRD FLOOR

Children's SHOES $1.95

The hardy kind that school children need. Black, brown, patent. PLUS styles for misses and growing girls.

THIRD FLOOR

DEPRESSION PROOF DIVIDENDS

Again It's HEARST Dividend Day

Third Quarterly Dividend for 1933 Declared Payable Sept. 15

Dependable Income

How Satisfying!

INVESTIGATE

7%

Mail the Coupon or Telephone GRant 6500

HEARST CONSOLIDATED PUBLICATIONS, INC.

7% Cumulative Participating Class "A" Shares

Price $25 a Share

EITHER FOR CASH OR ON THE HEARST 7% THRIFT PLAN

HEARST CONSOLIDATED PUBLICATIONS, INC.
Sun-Telegraph Bldg., Telegraph Sq., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Please send further information regarding Hearst Consolidated Publications, Inc., 7% Class "A" shares.

Name .....

Address .....

City 1-49

7%

Why Doug and Mary Separated!

* * *

Intimate revelations regarding the shipwrecking of filmland's ideal romance will be told in Mary Pickford's life story. Don't miss this exciting close-up of the heart and mind of America's Sweetheart, who rose from poverty to riches—and sorrow.

* * *

Starts in the

Sunday Sun-Telegraph

NEXT SUNDAY

Early Wednesday Programs

WCAE

6:45 A. M.—Health Exercises.
8:00 A. M.—Dick Leibert, organist.
8:30 A. M.—Landt Trio and White.
8:45 A. M.—Florenda Trio.
9:00 A. M.—Miss Jean Campbell.
9:05 A. M.—The Globe Trotter of the Sun-Telegraph and Hearst Metrotone News.
9:15 A. M.—The Market Place, Alice Abbott.
9:30 A. M.—Cheerio Program.
10:00 A. M.—Breen and deRose.
10:15 A. M.—Young Artists Trio.
10:30 A. M.—Three Scamps.
10:45 A. M.—Betty Crocker.
11:00 A. M.—Juan Reyes, pianist.
11:15 A. M.—Radio Household Institute.
11:30 A. M.—Betty Moore.
11:45 A. M.—Fields and Hall.
12:00 Noon—Gene Arnold and the Commodores.
12:15 P. M.—The Globe Trotter of the Sun-Telegraph and Hearst Metrotone News.
12:30 P. M.—On Wings of Song.
1:00 P. M.—Missing Persons; Weather.
1:05 P. M.—Instrumental Soloists.
1:15 P. M.—Four Horsemen.
1:30 P. M.—Rex Battles Concert Orchestra.
2:00 P. M.—Dick Fiddler's Orchestra.
2:15 P. M.—The Globe Trotter of the Sun-Telegraph and Hearst Metrotone News.
2:30 P. M.—Two Seats in the Balcony.
3:00 P. M.—Grande Trio.
3:15 P. M.—"How British Laborites View the NRA," Arthur Henderson, Jr., and Drake DeKay.
3:30 P. M.—Women's Radio Review.
3:58 P. M.—Baseball Scores.
4:00 P. M.—Pop Concert.
4:30 P. M.—Baseball Scores; Texas Cowgirl.
4:45 P. M.—Junior Patrol.
5:15 P. M.—"What Do You Want to Know?"
5:30 P. M.—Baseball Scores; Three Jesters.
5:45 P. M.—Melodic Thoughts.
5:58 P. M.—Program Announcement.
6:00 P. M.—Viennese Ensemble.

KDKA

7:00 A. M.—The Musical Clock.
8:00 A. M.—Martha and Hal.
8:15 A. M.—Yoichi Hiroaka, Japanese xylophonist.
8:30 A. M.—Lew White, organist.
9:00 A. M.—Morning Devotions.
9:15 A. M.—Breakfast Club.
9:30 A. M.—Contest.
9:35 A. M.—The Market Basket.
9:45 A. M.—News; Weather.
9:55 A. M.—Work-a-day Thoughts.
10:00 A. M.—Four Southern Singers.
10:15 A. M.—Clara, Lu and Em.
10:30 A. M.—Sammy Fuller.
10:45 A. M.—Singing Strings.
11:00 A. M.—Style Service.
11:05 A. M.—American Bar Association.
11:30 A. M.—Rhythm Ramblers.
12:00 Noon.—Eva Taylor, crooner.
12:15 P. M.—Kiddies' Klub.
12:30 P. M.—Huston Ray's Orchestra.
12:55 P. M.—Beauty News—Elizabeth Ardenx.
1:00 P. M.—News.
1:05 P. M.—Business News; Markets.
1:15 P. M.—Huston Ray's Orchestra.
1:30 P. M.—NRA address by Gen. Hugh S. Johnson.
2:30 P. M.—Singers.
2:35 P. M.—Home Forum, Edward Dunbar, tenor.
3:00 P. M.—Betty and Bob.
3:15 P. M.—Words and Music.
3:30 P. M.—Contest.
3:45 P. M.—Happy Days in Dixie.
3:58 P. M.—Baseball Scores.
4:00 P. M.—Southern Symphonies.
4:30 P. M.—Through the Hollywood Looking Glass with Frances Ingram.
4:45 P. M.—Business News; Markets.
4:58 P. M.—Baseball Scores.
5:00 P. M.—Uncle Tom and Betty.
5:15 P. M.—Tarzan.
5:30 P. M.—Larry Larson, organist.
5:45 P. M.—Little Orphan Annie.
6:00 P. M.—News; Piano Classique.

WJAS

7:30 A. M.—Early Risers.
8:00 A. M.—Pitfalls in English.
8:15 A. M.—Musical Moments.
8:30 A. M.—Cheery Melodies.
9:00 A. M.—Modern Melody.
9:05 A. M.—The Globe Trotter of the Sun-Telegraph and Hearst Metrotone News.
9:15 A. M.—Goldy and Dusty.
9:30 A. M.—Modern Living, John X. Loughran.
9:45 A. M.—Raymond D. Evans.
10:00 A. M.—Grant, Graham and Coughlin.
10:15 A. M.—Bill and Ginger.
10:30 A. M.—Luxembourg Gardens.
10:45 A. M.—Will Osborne's band with Pedro DeCordoba.
11:00 A. M.—The Merrymakers.
11:15 A. M.—Judge Ralph H. Smith.
11:30 A. M.—The Playboys.
11:45 A. M.—Dorothy Darling.
12:00 Noon.—Vincent Travers' Orchestra.
12:15 P. M.—The Globe Trotter of the Sun-Telegraph and Hearst Metrotone News.
12:30 P. M.—Concert Miniature.
1:00 P. M.—Musicale.
1:30 P. M.—Allegheny County Fair.
2:00 P. M.—Esther Leaf, organist.
2:15 P. M.—The Globe Trotter of the Sun-Telegraph and Hearst Metrotone News.
2:30 P. M.—Ron Russo's Orchestra.
2:45 P. M.—The Captivators.
3:15 P. M.—Madame Belle Forbes Cutter.
3:45 P. M.—Luis Russell's Orchestra.
4:15 P. M.—Columbia Artist Recital.
4:30 P. M.—Dancing by the Sea.
5:00 P. M.—Joey Bova, songs.
5:15 P. M.—Jack Brooks.
5:30 P. M.—Jeanne Dix, songs.
5:45 P. M.—Allegheny County Fair.
6:00 P. M.—Elbert R. Moses, "Great Americans."

KQV

7:00 A. M.—The Breakfast Club.
8:00 A. M.—Organ Thoughts, Alicia Fuller.
8:30 A. M.—Dad's Mountaineers.
9:00 A. M.—Eddie South's Orchestra.
9:15 A. M.—Musical Echoes.
9:30 A. M.—Musical Tidbits.
9:45 A. M.—Tidbits (cont'd.)
9:55 A. M.—Old Family Almanac.
10:00 A. M.—The Blues Chasers.
11:15 A. M.—Crazy Hill Billies.
11:30 A. M.—Easyway Melody Time.
11:45 A. M.—Dr. P. L. Jacoby.
12:00 Noon.—Russell Holdren, songs.
12:30 P. M.—Radio Review.
1:00 P. M.—Board of Education, Norman P. Bish, Westinghouse High School, "The Citizens of Pittsburgh and the Fall Elections."
1:15 P. M.—The Music Room.
1:30 P. M.—Sammy Abrams, pianist.
1:45 P. M.—The Watchtower, religious service.
2:00 P. M.—Matinee Club, record requests.
2:30 P. M.—Dr. P. L. Jacoby.
3:00 P. M.—The Harlemites.
3:30 P. M.—Clim Johnson, songs.
3:45 P. M.—Sunny Ludwig.
4:00 P. M.—Mt. Troy Mountaineers.
4:30 P. M.—Mierophone Lady.
4:45 P. M.—Rita Claire Layton, songs.
5:00 P. M.—The Five O'Clock Special.
5:45 P. M.—Easyway Melody Time.
6:00 P. M.—Crazy Hill Billies.

WWSW

8:00 A. M.—Coffee Club.
8:30 A. M.—Dad's Mountaineers.
9:00 A. M.—Lest We Forget.
9:30 A. M.—Vera and Her Cow Punchers.
10:15 A. M.—Musicale.
10:30 A. M.—WWSW Artists.
10:45 A. M.—Blessed Event Parade.
11:00 A. M.—Ernest Neff—Organlogues.
11:30 A. M.—News.
11:45 A. M.—WWSW Artists.
12:00 Noon—Helen's Hi-Lights.
12:15 P. M.—Recordings.
12:30 P. M.—Silver String Aces.
1:00 A. M.—Hollywood Show Shopper.
1:15 P. M.—Retail Research Bureau.
1:30 P. M.—WWSW Artists.
1:45 P. M.—Lydia Boys.
2:00 P. M.—Blue Moon Orchestra.
2:30 P. M.—Afternoon Dance Club.
3:00 P. M.—Pittsburgh at Philadelphia—Baseball Game.
5:30 P. M.—News; Baseball Game.
6:00 P. M.—Ed. Sprague's Sport Slants.

Woman Physician Arraigned in Slaying

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Charged with the knife murder of Miss Ann Kiffe, Dr. Virginia Wilson was arraigned yesterday before Justice Philip Smith at the County Hospital, where she is being held in the psychopathic ward.

With staring eyes and tense body, Dr. Wilson, who early Saturday apparently went suddenly insane, killed Miss Kiffe and wounded her friend, Dr. Anita Muhl, gave no sign of understanding when the judge read the warrant.

Poison Victim Asks Antidote, Arrested

Charles Krause, of Denniston avenue, walked into Allegheny General Hospital last night and told attendants he had taken poison in Preble avenue. He asked for an antidote. Police charged him with disorderly conduct.

(Advertisement)

Fat Woman
LOST 32 LBS.

Original Hollywood Prescription Guarantees You Lose 16 Lbs. in 18 Days—Or No Cost.

There is only one sure way to safely reduce. You must remove the cause—toxins that encourage fat. That's exactly what science—latest discovery does. Originated for the overweight movie stars, it's now available to you.

No starving, pills, rubbing creams or exercise. You reduce with the same formula that the movie stars use, who have to keep their lovely figures.

And we prove it to you. We guarantee you will lose at least 16 pounds in 18 days, look and feel 100% better.

So easy and pleasant. Just take a little HOLLYWOOD 18 in a glass of water before breakfast.

Ask Mayflower Sup. Economy, Peoples or any good druggist for the original HOLLYWOOD 18.

City Buying Nine Trucks for $12,606

Contracts for nine trucks, to cost $12,606, have been awarded by the city, it was announced today by Col. W. R. Dunlap, director of supplies.

Seven 1½-ton machines will be purchased from the McKinley-Gregg Company, and two, of 2½-ton capacity, from the Manchester Auto & Machine Co. The companies were low bidders.

King Gustav Greets New U. S. Envoy

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Laurence Steinhardt, new United States minister to Sweden, yesterday presented his credentials to King Gustav in an elaborate eighteenth century ceremony which included a trip to the royal palace in a four-horse "glass" carriage.

Steinhardt was the fifth American minister to be received by the present Swedish monarch.

Florist Charged With Killing Girl

PASADENA, Cal., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Harold Wolcott, Pasadena florist, yesterday was held to answer to a murder charge in connection with the death near his penthouse of Helen Bendowski, his asserted sweetheart.

The ruling was made by Justice Elliott Gibbs at the conclusion of the preliminary hearing.

B. & O. A. A. Plans Outing Saturday

Several thousand members, their friends, and their families are expected at the fourth annual outing and corn roast of the Baltimore and Ohio Athletic Association, scheduled for Locust Grove, Homeville, Saturday. An elaborate program of sports has been arranged. Samuel Thompson is chairman.

Divorced Socialite Weds Naval Officer

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Mrs. Katherine De Puyster McKim Morgan, whose marriage to G. Kenneth Morgan was dissolved by a Reno divorce last Friday, was married today to Lieut. Frank C. L. Dettmann, U. S. N.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Robert A. McKim, of New York and New London, Conn., was married to Morgan in 1914, when 17.

Two Students Get M. I. T. Scholarships

Two Pittsburgh students have been awarded graduate scholarships of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, according to an announcement today. They are Robert K. Kulp, of Cambridge court, Edgewood, and Joseph J. Dysort, of 43 Division street, Crafton Station.

Dysort was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan University and Kulp from the University of Pittsburgh.

RESORTS.

Ocean Grove, N. J.

SEASIDE HOTEL
OCEAN GROVE, N. J.
Directly on ocean front. All guest rooms overlooking sea. Charles G. Stockton.

SUNBURN
Relieve the soreness, prevent blisters, dryness and roughness by using Resinol

No Mail or Phone Orders on Clearance Items

HUNDREDS OF BARGAINS NOT ADVERTISED

FRANK & SEDER

NRA MEMBER U.S.

Odd Lots MUST GO

Tomorrow! Wednesday! A Dramatic Month-End Clearance in Every Department!

Shop carefully! Throughout the store you'll find worthwhile reductions on all odds and ends... incomplete assortments . . . broken size ranges and slightly mussed merchandise remaining from a month of active selling. Come Early! You'll find hundreds of bargains in every department.

Furnishings

250 Men's Ties, 2 for 25c
Up to 55c ties drastically reduced for quick clearance.

Men's Wool Sweaters 79c
All-wool sleeveless sweaters in several colors.

300 Broadcloth SHIRTS 65c
Plain and fancy broadcloth shirts left from previous sales. Up to $1.65 values. Broken sizes.
FOURTH FLOOR

Men's Pajamas 85c
100 prs. plain and fancy designs. Small sizes. Values to $1.95.

400 Prs. Men's Sox, 14c
Up to 50c sox priced for immediate and final clearance.
FOURTH FLOOR

Men's Wear

Sanforized Slacks . . . $1
Up to $1.95 values. Pre-shrunk. Neat striped designs.

Men's Sport Coats . . . $6
Up to $15 values. Blue and tan flannels. Plain and belted.

Up to $6 Knickers . . . $2
116 prs. all-wool knickers. Plaids, checks and plain.
FOURTH FLOOR

Boys' Wear

89 Boys' Sweaters, 64c
Regular $1 values. Sleeveless. All wool. Tan, yellow and white. Sizes 26 to 36.

25 Boys' Suits 97c
Reg. $1.95 Linen "Rugby" suits . . . 3-piece styles, not all sizes in all colors. Sizes 4 to 8.

Wash Suits . . . . 2 for $1
Regular $1 values. Slightly mussed. Limited quantity . . . while they last. Sizes 3 to 6.
FOURTH FLOOR

Men's Shoes

To $4 Men's Shoes, $1.99
Black and tan calf and kid oxfords in broken sizes.

Boys' Shoes, Pair $1.85
Dress and sport oxfords. Sturdy school shoes. Up to $3 values.
FOURTH FLOOR

Lingerie

$1.98 Silk Undies $1
Only 145 Chemise and dancettes. Extraordinary values. Some slightly soiled.

$1 Pajamas 79c
Assorted patterns and styles. Only 112 in the lot. Not all styles in all sizes.

$1 Sheer Gowns at 79c
125 Only! Prints and plain colors. Sizes 15, 16 and 17. Reduced for quick clearance.

165 Sheer Undies at 59c
Gowns, chemise and panties of Peter Pan Prints. Real bargains at 59c.

$1 Rayon Undies at 69c
Panties, Step-ins and Bloomers of heavy quality delustered rayon.

$1.29 Silk Slips 79c
65 Only. Odd lots. Broken sizes. Some slightly soiled.
STREET FLOOR

150 Women's Hats $1.55
Odd lots of Felt and Satin hats repriced for quick clearance.
THIRD FLOOR

Tots' Wear

Boys' Wash Suits, $1.00
56 Only! Were up to $2.98. Sizes to 6 years. Some slightly soiled!

Infants' Sweaters at 69c
Were to $1.69. All wool. Slip-over and coat styles. White with pink or blue.

142 Silk Bonnets . . . 69c
Were $1 to $2.50. Silk lined. Some slightly soiled.

65 Tots' Frocks at $1.59
Were to $3.98. Silk and wool crepe dresses. Long sleeves. Sizes to 6 years.
THIRD FLOOR

TO $1 BOYS' Wash Suits 59c
Also dresses. Elbow sleeves and panties. Sizes to 6 years.
THIRD FLOOR

226 Light Colored
MEN'S SUITS $13
Odds and ends of higher-priced suits. Light patterns . . . but materials that are suitable for year 'round wear.

124 Tropical Worsted Suits $9
Up to $19.75 values. This group includes tropical worsteds . . . linens . . . and crashes.
FRANK & SEDER—FOURTH FLOOR

Curtains

165 Sets Curtains . . 88c
Were $1.25. Ruffled, tailored and cottage sets. Marquisette or voile.

150 Lace Panels . . . 77c
Were up to $1.25. One and two-of-a-kind. Marvelous buys.

Jaspe, 2 Yards for 27c
Only about 455 yards! 36 inches wide . . . rust or green, for covers, drapes, etc.

85 Da-Bed Covers, $1.19
Were $1.65. Made of Jaspe cloth. Green or rust. Deep full valance.

Furniture Covers, ea. 55c
About 20 pieces . . . for chairs only. Hurry in fast for these bargains.

$1.59 Swing Pads . . 95c
Only 46 of them. Regular 4-foot size . . . cotton filled . . . colorful cretonnes.

$1.25 Chintz Shades 50c
Only 75 . . . 36x6 ft. Bright printed chintz on guaranteed rollers.

95 Auto Cover Sets . . $1
While they last! For Sedan, Coach or Coupe.

$1.98 Curtains . . . $1.19
Embroidered lace panels, all 2¼ yards long. Only 125 pairs in the lot.
FIFTH FLOOR

Odd Rugs

Porch Rugs . . . . . ½ Off
Grass and fibre . . . slightly soiled or damaged. 4x7 ft. to 6x12.

Hall Runners at . . . . . ½
Broadlooms now priced $3.95 to $12.75. 3x9 to 5x12 ft. sizes.

Throw Rugs $1.59
27x54-inch samples. Wiltons, Axminsters, etc. To $3.95 value.

Large Size Rugs . . ⅓ Off
9x15, 11.3x12 and 11.3x15 rugs. Discontinued patterns.

69 Odd Rugs $25
Wiltons, Axminsters and Oriental types. 6x9 to 9x12 ft. sizes.
FIFTH FLOOR

Footwear

Women's Shoes at $1.88
Many suitable for Fall and Winter wear. Broken size range.

Women's D'Orsays, 69c
Black satin, contrasting lining and trims. Leather soles. Cuban heels. Most sizes.
THIRD FLOOR

Foundations

40 Corsettes only $1.39
To $5 values! Assorted styles, but broken size range. Marvelous values.

28 Summer Girdles, 89c
Were $1.59. Sizes 26 to 32. Mesh and voile girdles. Lightly boned front and back.
THIRD FLOOR

Child's Undies

81 Union Suits 25c
Gauze union suits for boys or girls. Sizes 4 to 12.

56 Rayon Undies . . . 29c
Combinations of heavy quality rayon. Panty or bloomer style. Sizes to 14 years.
STREET FLOOR

Domestics

$1.69--81x99 Sheets 98c
Hemstitched colored-hem sheets. Fine quality muslin. While they last.

$3.95 Bedspreads, $2.33
"Kentucky Beauty" Fine woven. Reversible in rose, blue, orchid and gold.

73 Patch Quilts, $1.29
Size 72x84-inch. Colorful patterns. Scalloped border.
FIFTH FLOOR

Paints, Etc.

Plastic Wall Papers . . 9c
Patterns for any room; sold with binders. 30 inches wide.

Room Lot Wall Paper 98c
10 wall, 20 yards border; for any room.

Roof Paint, Gallon $1.00
Red metallic paint; ground in linseed oil.
FIFTH FLOOR

Accessories

Women's Neckwear, 25c
210 Collar and cuff-sets, collars, etc., that were up to $1. While they last.

Women's Gloves . . . 49c
To $1 values! White and eggshell gloves. Smart styles. Not all sizes.

84 Women's Belts . . 25c
Values to $1. Odd leather belts. Black, red, green, brown, etc.

Women! Just 1000 Prs.
Silk Hose 49c
First Quality! Full Fashioned! Silk Chiffon and Service-Weight . . . Broken size range . . . and not all colors.
STREET FLOOR

Novelty Jewelry . . . 13c
Or 2 for 25c. Odd lots beads, bracelets, pins, etc. Values to 50c.
FIRST FLOOR

Lamps

To $1.65 Bed Lamps, 39c
Celanese or silk. Slightly soiled. Assortment of styles.

Boud'r Lamp Shades 15c
Pleated or stretched. All colors and sizes. To $1 values.
SIXTH FLOOR

Wash Dresses

Women's Dresses . . . 69c
88 sheer wash dresses in prints, broadcloths, etc. Sizes to 48.

$1.98 Wash Frocks, $1
146 in the lot. Sunbacks and sleeveless models. Not all sizes in all styles.
THIRD FLOOR

Bathing Suits

Women's Swim Suits 89c
All-wool bathing suits, all sizes, but not in all styles, reduced to 89c.

Bathing Ac'sories ½ Off
Entire stock of bags, shoes, bathing caps, etc., all priced ½.
THIRD FLOOR

Women's & Misses' Apparel — SECOND FLOOR

38 Mid-Season Suits $9.00
Grey, tan, dawn blue and navy. Wear them now . . . before you put on Winter suits. With galyak, squirrel, wolf, vicuna fox. Misses' sizes.
(Second Floor) Were to $35

54 Mid-Season Coats $12
Navy and black coats to wear right now! Furred with squirrel, wolf, black galyak. Some without fur. Misses' sizes.
(Second Floor) Were to $39.75

85 Dark Dresses $5.00
Navy and black . . . prints and printed sheers in women's and misses' sizes. Many with jackets. 14 to 18 and 40 to 46.
(Second Floor) Were to $10.75

86 Better Dresses $8.00
Black and white, navy and white sheer prints. Pastels. Chiffons with jackets or swagger coats. Women's and Misses' sizes.
(Second Floor) Were to $16.75

52 Light Dresses $3.00
Silk prints, light crepes. Daytime styles. Mostly misses' sizes.
(Second Floor) Were $5.95

199 Silk Crepe Dresses $4.00
White and pastel crepes. Washable. Sports styles. Misses' sizes . . some Women's sizes.
(Second Floor) Were to $8.95

169 Sheer Dresses $6.00
Printed chiffons . . . light sheers. Many jacket styles. Some with swagger coats. Misses' and Women's sizes.
(Second Floor) Were to $12.75

55 Sports Dresses $1.50
Corded silks, sports crepes, Acetates. White and pastels. Misses' sizes.
(Second Floor) Were to $3.95

97 Cotton Dresses 79c
Were to $2.95
Eyelets and piques. White and pastel colors. Misses' sizes only. (Street Floor)

Skirts & Blouses—69c
Were to $1.95
84 Cotton skirts and blouses. Also durene and lisle sweaters. (2d Floor)

Basement

Silk Dresses, now $2.88
Women's higher-priced models reduced. 14 to 52. Sub-Basem't

Medium Weight Coats, $5
Sold for 2 and 3 times the price. For women and misses. Sub-Bmt.

Boys' Sweaters for 49c
Sleeves and sleeveless; pullover style; assorted colors. Basement

Boys' 79c Knickers, 49c
Medium weight; variety of patterns. Sizes 7 to 16. Basement

Children's Anklets, 10c
Fancy anklets; all sizes. Worth 19c pair. F. & S.—Basement

Women's Hosiery, 19c
Chardonize hosiery; sizes from 8½ to 10½ in lot. Basement

Men's Summer Ties, 11c
Formerly sold to 39c. Assorted patterns and colors. Basement

Basement

$1.39 Lace Curtains, 77c
Heavy lace; full width; embroidered, 2¼ yds. long. Sub-Bsmt.

Sash Curtains, Pair 11c
Ruffled; marquisette or voile; low priced. Sub-Basement

Mix Paints, Gal., $1.39
Suitable for outside use. White and colors. Sub-Basement

4-Hr. Varnish, Gal. $1.49
For interior and exterior use. $1.95 values. Sub-Basement

Women's Slippers, 19c
Leather slippers; leather soles; not all sizes. Basement

Women's Hats at 69c
Clearance of models worth to $1.94. White and colors. Bsmt.

Sleeveless Sweaters, 49c
Men's; 100% wool; formerly sold for $1 and more. Basement

FURNITURE DEPARTMENT OPEN WEDNESDAY NIGHT TILL 9 O'CLOCK

TELL IT TO ELSIE

Follow This Unusual Feature Day by Day

By ELSIE ROBINSON

Girl Advises to Take Kiddies Away From Bad Father

Should wrangling parents "keep the home together for the children's sake?"

Not long ago we asked that question in this column. A distracted mother wanted to know. She had lived through years of quarrels, thinking that some day the youngsters would appreciate her sacrifice, thank her for her martyrdom.

But she was beginning to wonder. Was she doing her babies a service? Was it better for them to have a father, even if he were a brute? Or would it be better for her to take them away, and go on alone?

Today Myra gives her answer to that question.

Will it agree with yours?

Dear Elsie:

You have asked whether a quarreling couple should stay together for the sake of the children. My answer is that they shouldn't. I'll tell you why I feel that way.

I was a child in that kind of family. My mother, I know, would be hurt and horrified, if she knew the real way we feel about her "sacrifice" in staying with our father, in spite of the way he treated her. Yet, for as long as I can remember, we were made miserable, my brothers, my sisters and I, by hearing quarrels, and sensing bitterness, between my father and her.

Even as children, we couldn't help taking sides in these family feuds. We tried to hide our feelings, but our father sensed our loyalty to our mother, and when he got mad, he threatened and cursed us, as well as her.

LIVED IN TERROR

We began to go out, and stay out, as soon as we were old enough. But even at a party or a show, we never really enjoyed ourselves, for fear of what might be happening at home. It hung over us like a cloud, always. And we used to talk, among ourselves, about it, and wonder if all married people were like that. We resolved never to get married.

We were always afraid to bring friends home, because we never knew when our father would blaze into a violent temper, and stage a terrible quarrel. I know that mother thought she was doing what was best for us, that we were having "a home and a carefree life," because she hung on.

But as a matter of fact, we lived in terror. We got a dreadful picture of home life.

Do we thank her for what she did? No. We don't. We don't tell her how we feel, now that we've grown, and she has finally left our father. But we would be happier, better balanced people, I am sure, if we had been free from the shock and fear of our father's terrible tempers.

AFRAID TO MARRY

When Mother left, my sister and I were sorry to see Dad left alone. He was getting along in years, so we decided to stay and look after him. But did he thank us for that? No. Not at all. Even though, after he lost his job, we kept up the home, he showered abuse on us. So we finally walked out too. We tried to do all we could. Now, looking back, I know the whole family would have been better off if we had been entirely free of him when we were small.

My sister and I have an instinctive horror of ever marrying. Maybe we will get over it. We know, in our minds, that there are plenty of fine men . . . but with our feeling, we are afraid. We look at every fellow who notices us, and wonder if he would turn out like Dad.

Maybe we'd have had to stand for snippy looks and remarks, if we'd been "a broken family"—but it couldn't have been as bad as what we went through.

So I'd say to any mother who has a bad husband—get the youngsters away from him. Don't think you're doing them a service to stick. You're not. And you're likely doing them grave harm. MYRA.

There's one side of the picture. What's yours?

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Fay King Warns Girls of the Charmer Who Would Lead Astray

By FAY KING

When we are charmed we are almost persuaded. When we are persuaded we are easily led.

Charm is an essential asset to those who would entice one in the wrong direction. Deception demands the most convincing argument.

No girl has ever been led astray except by what seemed to her the most sincere declaration of love, loyalty and devotion, and sound promises of marriage—eventually, if not now.

But, alas, the man who can charm a girl out of her doubts and better judgment is too often just as charming in postponing and evading all these bright promises!

It is safer to be a little wary of those who succeed too easily in charming us from our own ideals to theirs. It's for their own interest.

(Copyright, 1933, by Daily Mirror, Inc.)

Given in Marriage

A Sequel to Heart Of a Wife

By ADELE GARRISON

Madge Reluctant to Go to The Larches to Phone Veritzen

At Mrs. Ticer's request that I stop at The Larches in order that she might telephone more quickly, I felt somewhat as if I were a pawn in a chess game, moved from square to square with no volition of my own concerning the direction in which I was going.

I remembered rebelliously Lillian's whimsical declaration, upon Mrs. Ticer's appearance at the farm house, that it looked as if fate insisted upon making me use Hugh Grantland's telephone. For when I had realized that I must telephone Philip Veritzen about his silence concerning the invitation we had sent him to attend the wedding of Mary and Noel, and that I could not talk to him within earshot of Mary's captious grandmother, I had planned to use Mrs. Ticer's telephone, or even the public ones in Bridgehampton, in preference to entering The Larches.

It was easy for me to analyze this reluctance of mine to see Hugh Grantland, for, of course, that was my only reason for avoiding the hospitality of The Larches, where Hugh Grantland and his high born Chinese friend, Lee Chow, were living. They were to remain there until Marion's birthday and the opening of her lock box, the danger of whose secret compartment Lee Chow had so recently and melodramatically demonstrated, with nearly fatal consequences to himself. It was because of those tense nights and days in the mountains at the time of Marion's kidnaping, when emotions and passions, masked for years, were brought nakedly into the open in the stress of that awful experience, which had so nearly spelled tragedy for all of us.

MET BY HUGH

I was caught fairly now, however. It was impossible for me to explain to Mrs. Ticer why I did not wish to enter The Larches. In Harry Underwood's parlance, she would have "sniffed two or three mice," and my cheeks flushed at the thought of the speculations my kindly neighbor would put upon that reluctance. So I braced myself for this first meeting with Hugh.

"Here we are, already!" Mrs. Ticer said as we turned into the curving driveway of The Larches. "My, but you sure can make a car cover the ground," she added, admiringly.

"I hope I didn't frighten you," I said absently, for Hugh, evidently having seen the car, was coming down the steps to greet us.

"Shucks! I've yet to see the speed that would frighten me," she returned, with truth. And then we were at the door, and Hugh was saying protestingly:

"Is this wise? With your ankle? Should you be driving? How do you do, Mrs. Ticer? Please wait until I get Mrs. Graham out of the car, and I'll come round to you."

"Shucks! I wouldn't know what to do with anybody helping me out," she said. "I'm always out before my men folk start to think about getting down."

CARRIED UP STEPS

I knew that she spoke only the truth, and my lips twitched as I remembered numberless instances of contrast between the good-natured but undeniable indolence of Sam and Jerry Ticer and the sturdy, quick ways of the woman who ruled both of them.

She was out of the car as she spoke, and I wondered if she meant to come around to Hugh's side and try to help him with me; but instead she busied herself with a search for a small package, which I guessed was a mythical one, while Hugh opened the car door and looked reproachfully at me, as he saw the cane.

"You still have to use this, and yet you are driving a car!" he said.

I wanted to remind him that many cripples drove cars, but forbore because of the genuineness of concern. And then, as I leaned forward to take the hands he extended to help me out, he made a quick, deft maneuver, and, lifting me bodily from the car, carried me up the steps, calling to Mrs. Ticer to bring my cane with her.

It was only at the wide open front door that he paused, and I heard him mutter to himself, "Why not?"

And then, inexplicably, but with infinite tenderness, he set me down upon my feet and, holding my arm with one hand, handed me the cane. But I was filled with natural feminine curiosity as to why he had halted at the threshold, when a few steps further would have brought me to a chair.

(Continued Tomorrow)

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Heartburn Is Wrongly Attributed to Heart

Scarcely a day passes that I do not receive a letter requesting information about heartburn. As a rule, the writer complains of stomach symptoms, yet fears he has heart disease because of the persistent and annoying discomfort in the heart region. Many persons think, too, that heartburn is a sign of heart disease. This is a foolish fear. Heartburn is invariably due to indigestion.

Dr. Copeland

"Heartburn" is the name given that peculiar burning sensation felt in the pit of the stomach, or in the area around the heart. There is burning in the throat, too. There is no actual pain but the sensation is distressing. It is usually the result of gas formation in the stomach with distension and pressure of the stomach against the heart.

It is a signal that should not be ignored. It may be the result of overeating, or of too rapid eating. It is commonly seen in men and women who rush through their meals, bolt their food and fail to chew it properly.

Few persons realize that the saliva contains one of the most important digestive substances of the body. When the food is slowly chewed and thoroughly masticated before swallowing, it mixes with the digestive "ferment" or "enzyme" found in the salivary juices. This prepares the food for further digestion in the stomach.

It will be readily seen that when food is hastily swallowed it reaches the stomach in an improperly prepared state. It is not ready for stomach digestion. This places an additional burden on the stomach and leads to an increase in the acidity of the stomach juice. This condition gives rise to many distressing symptoms commonly associated with heartburn.

"Indigestion" is a word, vague in its meaning and used to cover a multitude of disturbances. Many of the symptoms of digestive failure are described in remarkably indefinite language. I have in mind the common use of such term as "gastritis," "inflammation of the stomach," "acid stomach," "gas on the stomach," as well as heartburn. These are often incorrectly used by the sufferer.

If you have frequent attacks of heartburn or other stomach distress I advise that you seek medical advice at once. Follow the treatment prescribed by your physician. Above all, keep away from patent medicines and home remedies.

Chew your food slowly and carefully. When in a hurry remember that a glass of milk with a piece of toast, is more beneficial than a large meal hastily swallowed.

It is a grave mistake to neglect heartburn. There is always the danger that it is due to some serious disturbance of the stomach. More likely it is a simple thing and will be speedily relieved.

Answers to Health Queries

C. O. V. Q.—Is there a cure for loss of pigment?

A.—There is no specific cure.

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Asparagus and Artichokes

Dear Mrs. Beekman:

1—I have been taught since childhood always to use my fork for vegetables. Now a friend argues that asparagus should be eaten with the fingers, and that in Europe finger bowls are served at the same time. Of course I am interested in how we eat in America.

2—However, I am a little in doubt as to how artichokes should be eaten. Will you please advise me? H.

1—You are right . . . asparagus should be eaten with the fork. Then, of course, there is no reason to serve finger bowls with asparagus. However, the hostess should make a very definite point of serving finger bowls with artichoke and with corn on the cob.

2—Artichokes are, of course, eaten with the fingers. One leaf at a time is peeled off, the tip nearest the stalk dipped in the melted butter or sauce, the edible portion at the end of the leaf scraped off between the teeth, and the remainder laid on the plate. Then the heart of the artichoke is eaten with the fork.

Response to Invitation

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Will you please let me know whether the response to an invitation to a reception following a wedding should be addressed to the bride or to the parents of the bride, from whom the invitation to the ceremony has been received?

Any suggestion as to how this response should be worded will be very much appreciated. D.

Our response to the reception invitation should be addressed to the parents of the bride, since they are the ones who send out the invitations and who are therefore the hosts.

This is the form:

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wells accept with pleasure
Mr. and Mrs. (bride's parents)'s kind invitation for Tuesday, the first of August at five o'clock

Write the acknowledgment on the first page of double-sheeted letter-paper, and space it as nearly as possible as the lines of the invitation are spaced.

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Contract Bridge

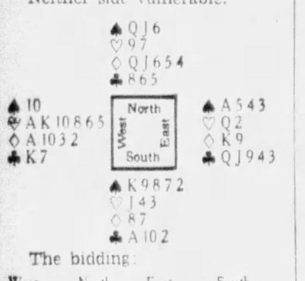
HOW TO PLAY and HOW TO WIN

By JOSEPHINE CULBERTSON

A Well Bid Slam

The final round match for the Asbury Park Team-of-Four Challenge Trophy was one of the closest knockout matches ever seen in tournament play. Over 48 boards the team of Messrs. Oswald Jacoby, Howard Schenken, David Burnstine and Richard Frey won out by only 300 points over Mr. Waldemar von Zedtwitz and his teammates. One hand which was partly responsible for the victory of the former team was the one below, on which Mr. Jacoby and Mr. Burnstine reached a Slam which was not reached at the other table. The bidding, although rather unusual, proved to be a most successful way of getting to six.

West, Dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.



The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 ♡	Pass	2 ♣ (1)	Pass
3 ♡ (2)	Pass	3 ♠ (3)	Pass
3 N T (4)	Pass	4 ♣ (5)	Pass
4 ♡	Pass	5 ♡ (6)	Pass
6 ♡ (7)	Pass	Pass	Pass

1—A natural and correct response.

2—This hand is sufficiently strong for a Jump Rebid, which bid, although not absolutely Forcing, is the next thing to a Force. The club fit tends to make West bullish on the hand.

3—Although the spade suit is not particularly strong, East must take some temporizing action. After partner's strong bidding there may very well be a Slam in the hand; and East chooses the shaded spade suit to keep the bidding open, particularly since this suit contains the Ace.

4—West does not as yet know that his partner has a particularly strong hand. Since he has made a very strong bid previously, he now must make a minimum response, which response of course shows that he has control of the diamond suit.

5—This bid, although it may appear weird on the face of it, was really the finest bid on the hand. East still has hopes of a Slam, despite his partner's three notrump response. However, the response may indicate a more or less balanced hand and does give East some doubt as to the strength of the heart suit. Therefore, the four club bid is another temporizing measure to find out if West can bid four hearts. East does not consider himself sufficiently strong at this point to jump from three notrump to five hearts with only a Queen and one, and is still seeking more information.

6—West's four heart bid is just what East has been looking for and more or less expecting. He now knows that his Queen and one holding is sufficiently strong to give partner a Slam try in that suit. West is not strong enough to bid six immediately, but knows that his partner will bid six if his previous bids have not been shaded.

7—It is a simple matter now for West to bid six. His partner has bid two suits and shown support for hearts in addition. There is practically no hand that he can have that will not give East and West a play for the Slam. If East does not hold the diamond King his own suits must be sufficiently strong to afford the necessary discards.

As a result of this Slam, which was not reached at the other table, the winning team picked up some 500 points on the board, which they richly deserved.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Dealer opens with a bid of one in suit. Second Hand passes. Responding Hand has a Raise for her partner and also has a biddable suit of her own. Should she raise her partner first, and show her own suit if she has an opportunity to bid again, or show her own suit first?

Answer: Holding a choice between bidding a suit of your own or raising partner's suit once, the Takeout bid should be preferred. If the hand contains two Raises, however, the proper response is to give the double Raise at once.

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Household Hints

Salt fish is ready for cooking more quickly if soaked in sour milk instead of water.

When soaking table linen and sheets, before wash day, add a small quantity of ammonia to the water, and the dirt will come out twice as easily.

If you have grease marks on your carpet, treat in the following way: Put one teaspoon of ammonia into a pint of warm water with about two tablespoons of oxgall. Sponge the marks with this mixture, rinse with clean warm water and wipe dry.

Fashion Flashes

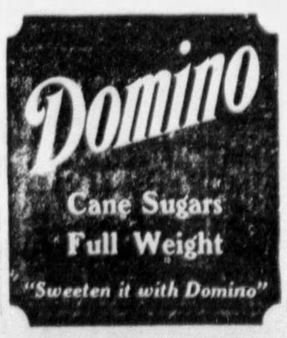
By ALICE ALDEN

You must have at least one little hat of white cotton pique. A charming little model is finely tucked around the top of the crown, and the tight brim is also tucked. The veil, which ties in a bow at the top of the hat, is of wide, stiffened navy mesh.

A distinguished appearance is guaranteed the wearer of a frock to be shown this autumn. It is of pale flesh chiffon, a high-necked evening frock with buttons at the waist and neckline in double-breasted arrangement. The ruffled sleeves are banded with mink and there is a small mink cape.

Always a star is that alliance of black with white. A lovely midseason evening ensemble is of silk crepe in a clear leaf and stalk print of white on black. At the waist is a heart-shaped insert, something like a cummerbund, of black satin. There is a loose three-quarter coat with ruffled elbow sleeves.

A good support is given by the all-in-one foundation garment, which is really the best wear for the larger woman. A new and very light model is made of triple net, the whole garment marked by horizontal strips of satin ribbon. This keeps the figure remarkably firm. Porous elastic is at the sides.



WASH DISHES THIS WAY—SAVE YOUR HANDS

YOUR hands will say, "Thank you!" when you wash dishes in creamy, lively Rinso suds. Grease loosens in a jiffy. Pots and pans come shiny-bright in half the time.

On washday Rinso soaks clothes whiter—saves scrubbing. Cup for cup, Rinso gives twice as much suds as puffed-up soaps—even in hardest water. Try it now!

Rinso

Now is the time for everyone to stand behind the President

NRA "We do our part"

Noted for her salads . . NRA

Mrs. David Morgan says

"..it tastes better than mayonnaise"

MRS. DAVID MORGAN, whose salads are famous, says—"Kraft's new Miracle Whip Salad Dressing tastes even better than mayonnaise."

● Like many other of the critical women to whom we have submitted Kraft's Miracle Whip Salad Dressing, she prefers it to mayonnaise! And so do thousands of others! In it, the time-honored ingredients of true mayonnaise and true old-fashioned boiled dressing are combined in a new way. Mixed to an extra creamy fluffiness in the exclusive Kraft Miracle Whip.

LISTEN! One hour radio revue with Al Jolson and Paul Whiteman Thursday nights, 10 to 11 P. M., E.D.S.T., over WCAE.

Kraft's MIRACLE WHIP SALAD DRESSING

Made by the makers of Kraft Cheese and "Philadelphia" Brand Cream Cheese

WEDNESDAY ONLY

YOUR BUTLER SAYS—

Were Selling Longhorn—Short!

LONGHORN CHEESE

FANCY WISCONSIN STATE

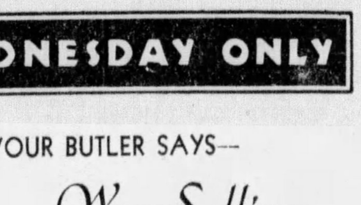
Lb. 17¢

CRESCENT Macaroni Or Spaghetti 2 Pkgs. 15c

Produce Depts. Offer Tomatoes 3 lb. 10c

Butler's for better groceries

Meat Markets Offer Luncheon Meat lb. 23c



ORDERS

Like a good soldier, the telephone obeys orders. It runs errands, helps you shop, brings news, puts you "in touch" with friends and neighbors. Every day it simplifies the varied duties of your household. There are times when your orders by telephone are vital, urgent: "Quick, the doctor!" . . . "Help, fire!" . . . "Send a plumber!" With the same precision and dispatch it brings the help you need—help that without the aid of a telephone might arrive too late!

More than a convenience, a telephone is one of life's necessities. Yet you can have one in your home for less than 10 cents a day!

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

BELL SYSTEM

Walter Winchell ON BROADWAY

Things I Never Knew Till Now

(At least he admits it!)

That a street fakir, arrested on Broadway, was fined $2 in court. He paid it with a phony ten-spot and got away with $8 in good coin!

That President Roosevelt returns 15 per cent, or $11,250, of his salary to the United States Treasury.

That British radio announcers are called "annancers."

That the most congested area in New York City when everybody else is in bed is on West Street (at the vegetable and fruit market) when all the trucks in Jersey and here are loading—at 4 a. m.

That in the Broadway movie temples when the feature is dull—sit in the balcony and howl at the comments of the flip.

That no matter how empty the Pullmans are on the trains to the coast—the dining steward must sleep in an upper.

That the sweet potato, scientifically, does not belong to the potato family—but to the morning glory tribe. (Oh, I read it!)

That Glenn Curtiss, who designed and built his own planes, shortly after the Wrights invented them, flew until his death three years ago—without ever being in an accident. (The air lines will like it.)

That the Women's Christian Temperance Union hit upon a shrewd scheme to fight lager when it became legal—by broadcasting the statement for women that beer is fattening. (The brewery magazine immediately fought the charge by proving that beer isn't!)

That Honolulu is closer to Alaska than it is to Seattle.

That nothing that comes in jars, tubes, bottles or compacts can improve a woman's face so much as a pleasant smile can.

That a former playboy, now reformed, and at his desk every morning early—has this under his glass-top to remind him of the coin and health he wasted: "A fast life is a prelude to slow music."

That there are more prophets than profits in business.

That Cuba complained more than any other country over several American-made films, arguing that their night life was libeled.

That no villain in history has ever been so bad but that somebody at one time or another rose to defend him. (A Benedict Arnold monument was recently erected. So there's hope for some of us.)

That the newspaper business wasn't always exciting. Editors once wrote stinging editorials denouncing long hatpins.

That an old-timer is a guy who can remember all the way back when a girl had to have a lotta clothes loosened when she fainted.

That Mrs. Woodrow Wilson claims descent from Pocahontas.

That in Hollywood modesty pays the male more than the female. Male models who pose for artists rate $1 an rour—and femmes who pose nude rate only 75 cents for the same time.

That columnists in Italy are not allowed to crack jokes about the army or any official. (Will Rogers would be jailed there.)

That Mexico has had 60 revolutions in 75 years.

That Henry Ford and Gene Tunney were two of the outstanding Americans who urged you to vote—and then failed to register!

That there are over 50 different languages spoken in this country—including money.

That you have to get a license in Los Angeles to install a bathtub in your own home! (They put one man in jail who didn't!)

That a radio exercise program sponsor wants to know what is nicer on chilly mornings than dialing in on his exercise with the windows wide open? (Crawling back into bed, if you asked me.)

That Mickey Mouse was once banned in Germany—"Mickey Mouse in the Trenches" was the picture. (They couldn't be kidded.)

That the honeymoon is positively over when she starts getting on his nerves eating corn on the cob. (Stop making such faces!)

That "October" is from the Latin word "octo," meaning eight—yet it is the name of the tenth month. (Have that fixed!)

That "pal" is said to have sprung from the gypsies. (In the Romany language "pal" is the word for brother.)

That in the old days when they wanted to trim a sucker they sold him the Brooklyn Bridge. (Nowadays at a Coney "museum" they sell him a ticket to see (among other things) a cigaret stub that Rudy Vallee threw away.)

And that one renowned writer says that Will Rogers wakes up every morning smiling. (What! With a column to do every day?)

(Copyright, 1933, Daily Mirror, Inc.)

Stately

Carole Lombard will appear with Gene Raymond in "Brief Moment" at the Davis and Sheridan Square Friday.

THEATER CLOCK

PENN: Marlene Dietrich, Brian Aherne in film, "The Song of Songs." Daily at 10:10 a. m., 12:04, 1:58, 4:00, 6:02, 8:04 and 10:08 p. m.

STANLEY: Norman Foster, Marian Nixon in film, "Pilgrimage." Daily at 11 a. m., 1:16, 3:32, 5:48, 8:04 and 10:20 p. m.

FULTON: James Dunn, Gloria Stuart in film, "The Girl in 419." Daily at 11:30 a. m., 1:11, 3:04, 4:57, 6:40, 8:33 and 10:26 p. m.

WARNER: Richard Dix, Doris Kenyon in film, "No Marriage Ties." Daily at 11:40 a. m., 1:29, 3:18, 5:07, 6:56, 8:45 and 10:34 p. m.

DAVIS: Mae West, Gary Grant in film, "She Done Him Wrong," and Randolph Scott, Verna Hillie in film, "Man of the Forest." Complete shows begin daily at 11:30 a. m., 1:47, 4:12, 6:37 and 9:11 p. m.

SHERIDAN SQUARE: Stuart Erwin, Dorothy Wilson in film, "Before Dawn," and Randolph Scott, Verna Hillie in film, "Man of the Forest." Complete shows begin daily at 12:23, 3:46, 5:09, 7:34 and 9:55 p. m.

ENRIGHT: Slim Summerville, Zasu Pitts in film, "Her First Mate." Daily at 1:10, 3:01, 4:52, 6:43, 8:34 and 10:25 p. m.

Stolen Baby Story Filmed By Paramount

Rupert Hughes has written a brand new story which will serve as Baby Leroy's starring vehicle for Paramount. "Miss Fane's Baby is Stolen" is the title, and the yarn will run in the October issue of Cosmopolitan Magazine.

Fatal Sickness Of Boy, 9, Probed

Attaches of the morgue were to make an investigation to determine the cause of the death of Arthur Kelly, 9, in his home at 1123 Pearl street, Wilkinsburg, early today.

The boy was stricken ill Saturday a short time after he had been swimming near Ligonier.

Fall Down Stairs Breaks Man's Skull

Alex Kaczynski, 51, of 27 Thirtieth street, suffered a fracture of the skull last night when he fell down a flight of stairs while visiting at the home of a friend, Sylvester Lucasvcarcz, at 2915 Mulberry street. He was taken to West Penn Hospital.

Fall Down Stairs Fatal to Woman

An hour after she had fallen down a flight of stairs in her home, Mrs. Eva Djucic, 75, of 2733 Carey way, died early today, according to a report to the morgue.

STAGE, SCREEN -:- Glimpses of New Pictures And News About Stars -:- MOVIE BILLS

In a Strange Mood

KATHARINE HEPBURN PHOTOGRAPHED IN A STRIKING STUDY OF LIGHT AND SHADOW

Miss Hepburn Portrait Displayed at Theater

An oil painting of Katharine Hepburn, by S. Tilden Stern, brought here several months ago by Warner Brothers to do a series of murals for the Warner lobby, will be on display in the foyer of the Stanley this week. It will then be shipped by airplane to the glamorous star of "Morning Glory" which begins in the Stanley Friday.

Combined Show Opens Variety Saturday

"Hello Prosperity," combined musical comedy, vaudeville and burlesque show will open the fall and winter burlesque season of the Variety Theater, Penn avenue, Saturday night, September 2, featuring five comedians and 15 feminine principals. In two acts and 38 scenes, the cast of 20 principals will be supported by a chorus of 20 Pittsburgh girls.

Two Stars Get Ready For Vacations

With "My Weakness" and "Charlie Chan's Greatest Case" nearing completion, the two stars of the productions, Lillian Harvey and Warner Oland, are making plans for their vacations.

Miss Harvey will go to her villa at Cap d' Antibes, on the French Riviera, while Oland plans a rest at his ranch at Mazatlan, Mexico, where he owns an estate of 7,000 acres.

Lovely

Ann Harding, to be featured tomorrow in the Enright with William Powell in "Double Harness."

Coming Screen Programs

Ann Harding and William Powell are featured in "Double Harness," opening tomorrow in the Enright.

* * *

"Morning Glory," with Katharine Hepburn, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Adolphe Menjou and C. Aubrey Smith, is coming to the Stanley next Friday. Miss Hepburn plays the role of a small town stage-struck girl who encounters difficulties in her climb to success.

* * *

Alice Brady, Frank Morgan and Jackie Cooper are members of a family of troupers in a play within a play story, "Broadway to Hollywood," which opens in the Penn next Friday. Jackie Cooper becomes Eddie Quillan in the grown-up scenes, and Madge Evans is his sweetheart.

* * *

Joan Blondell is Warren Williams' very efficient secretary in "Goodbye Again," the story of a best-seller author who gets himself in philandering difficulties, at the Warner, beginning next Friday. A comedy.

* * *

"The Nuisance," opening in the Fulton next Thursday, features Lee Tracy and Madge Evans in a comedy of shyster lawyers in a modern version of the ambulance chasing racket.

* * *

The double bill at the Davis and Sheridan Square, opening next Friday, features Carole Lombard and Gene Raymond in "Brief Moment," and Robert Armstrong and Helen Mack in "Blind Adventure," the story of a night's mysterious adventures in a London fog.

Mimi Jordan at Work On New Picture

After vacationing in New York for several weeks, Mimi Jordan is in Hollywood to make tests and start rehearsals for her part in "He Knew His Women" in which she will be featured with Warner Baxter and Heather Angel.

GRETA GARBO comes to life

Her True Story Now To Be Printed For The First Time

Greta Garbo's true life story and true love story are to be printed for the first time. This same statement made about any other character in Hollywood would not be news. It would just be funny. In Hollywood there are few secrets and little reserve. Again and again they turn their silly souls inside out for the sake of a head line.

But not so, Garbo.

She has been "the cat that walked by herself." She has stood alone on the mountain top. Even her press agents scurrying for copy have never been able to fathom the real Garbo who has now been revealed for the first time.

True Story Magazine has had many hundreds of thousands of all-too-human human documents pass across its editorial desks. Life stories and love stories that reached to the very heart of us millions upon millions of everyday people for whom they were written. But this True Story of Garbo comes pretty close to the top.

For Garbo herself not only comes from the common people. She still belongs to the common people. She has not changed.

The first chapters of the Great True Story of Greta Garbo will appear in the next issue of True Story Magazine which will be out on Friday, September 1st. Watch for it eagerly. It is well worth watching for.

English Star Too Short For Garbo

By HARRISON CARROLL

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 29.—In the general excitement over the reunion of Greta Garbo and John Gilbert, Hollywood has almost forgotten about Laurence Olivier.

The English actor will be well repaid, however, for the hurried trip from London and the anti-climatic finish when studio officials decided he was not tall enough to play opposite La Garbo.

Before sailing for Honolulu yesterday with his wife, Jill Esmond, Olivier signed one of the most unusual contracts of recent film annals.

Over a period of years, he can return to Hollywood at his own convenience and make pictures for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. The contract has options but he, and not the studio, has the right to take them up.

Meanwhile, the actor must return to Broadway after a brief vacation to take the leading role in Jed Harris' production, "The Green Bay Tree."

* * *

They tell it that Norma Talmadge, George Jessel and Harry Akst were attending a concert the other evening at the Hollywood Bowl. Norma exclaimed:

"Think of it! Fifty thousand people in this bowl."

Jessel looked about him and murmured:

"How would you like to have it filled with borsch soup?"

* * *

Poor Kathryn Carver Menjou. Illness forced her to cancel her reservations on the Lurline an hour before it sailed for Honolulu. Chances are she'll take a later boat.

Come January and Joan Crawford will be an aunt. The expectant parents of the lucky baby are Joan's brother, Hal Le Seuer, and his wife.

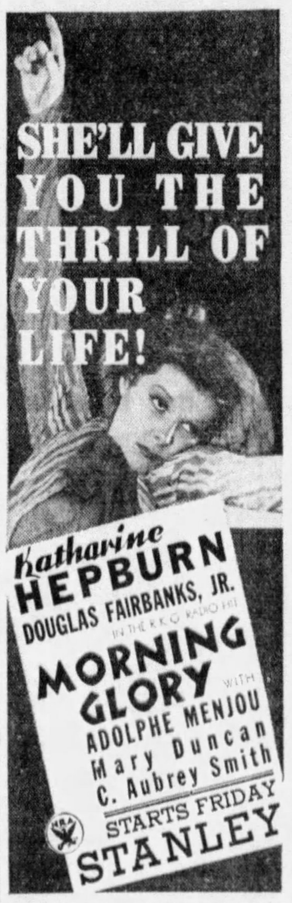
Has it been reported that John Gilbert's daughter is named Susan Ann? . . . Jimmy Durante is upset over a Mexican paper which informed its subscribers that he was dead. They called him: "El Extinto Senor Durante." . . . Hollywood's two newest bachelors, Adolphe Menjou and William Powell, were colony-clubbing it alone the other evening. It was Bill's first appearance in a late spot since his divorce. . . . Blonde Claire Windsor, who still is so beautiful, was there with a Mr. Anderson, of New York. . . . And Bolton Mallory, with Nancy Carroll, revealed he'll stay on in Hollywood for a week at least. Nancy was scheduled to fly East yesterday.

The networks are hot after Mae West. The star of "She Done Him Wrong" turned down an offer of $5,500 each for 13 weekly broadcasts of 15 minutes. Mae believes in doing one thing at a time . . . John Leroy Johnson, one of my favorite people has resigned as head of the Universal publicity department and will go east September 2 to take charge of the exploitation division of the RKO chain of theaters.

Did You Know: That, until recent years, Warner Baxter spent a good part of his winters at his San Jacinto mountain cabin, where he trapped foxes for the market?

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

FILMLAND.



TODAY'S NEIGHBORHOOD THEATERS

NORTH SIDE

HIPPODROME — Rich. Barthelmess in "Heroes for Sale."

GARDEN—"Tomorrow at Seven" and "The Narrow Corner."

PARAMOUNT—"College Humor" with Bing Crosby; also shorts.

BELLEVUE

BELLEVUE — Robt. Montgomery in "Made on Broadway," also "Life in the Raw."

BRUSHTON

BRUSHTON—"Strictly Personal" and "Warrior's Husband."

EAST LIBERTY

TRIANGLE—"International House"—"Private Detective 62"—Grocery Night, 9 P. M.

LIBERTY—Jas. Cagney in "The Mayor of Hell," also "Supernatural."

MT. OLIVER

HARRIS—Constance Bennett in "Bed of Roses."

FILMLAND.

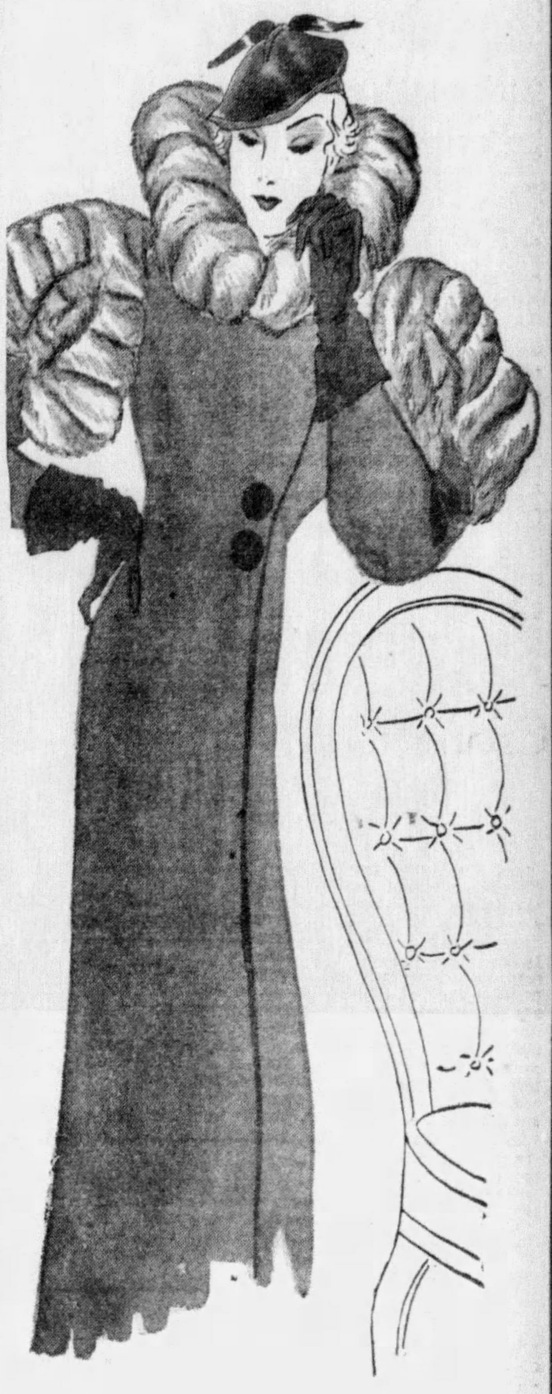
REGENT	"Melody Cruise" and "Fast Workers"
ROWLAND	'She Done Him Wrong' and "Man Who Dared"
SO. HILLS	'42nd STREET'
KENYON	KAY FRANCIS LYLE TALBOT in "MARY STEVENS, M.D."
ETNA
SCHENLEY	"Mama Loves Papa" and "Williamson Beneath the Sea"
MANOR	"Melody Cruise" and "Gambling Ship"
ARSENAL	'Mama Loves Papa' & "Man Who Dared"
BELMAR	"Best of Enemies" and "Made on Broadway"
PLAZA	"She Had to Say Yes" and "Man Who Dared"
WM. PENN	'Story of Temple Drake' and "Devil's Brother"
RITZ	Ann Harding and Robt. Montgomery in "When Ladies Meet"
CAMERA-PHONE	"GOLD DIGGERS OF 1933"
PALACE	"I Am A Fugitive" and "Hello Sister"
AMBRIDGE AMBRIDGE	Lionel Barrymore in "Stranger's Return"
John P. Harris MEMORIAL McKEESPORT	Helen Hayes, Robt. Montgomery in "Another Language"

MEYER JONASSON'S

NRA We Do Our Part

. . . but 2 days left to BUY--at

August Prices!



FUR-TRIMMED

COATS

Fashions that will cost you many dollars MORE after September 1st

$58

Make these LAST days in AUGUST COUNT . . . in SAVING many dollars on a fur-trimmed coat. Prices have risen a great deal, and it's an absolute impossibility for us to duplicate or replace coats of this quality at their AUGUST price . . . so make a special effort to get here tomorrow . . . you'll be amazed at what $58 BUYS for you in a new coat! . . . Juniors', Misses' and Women's sizes.

Ask about our convenient payment plan! A deposit reserves your coat purchase!

for fashions

MEYER JONASSON'S

Liberty at Oliver

Meyer Jonasson's Melodeers . . . . WJAS 6:45

Patricia Pitt's Sprightly Comment on Pittsburgh Society Happenings

In Mayfair —With— Patricia Pitt

Now that the horseshows have been canceled, the hunter trials will be more important than ever, though they have always been well attended. The hunter trials at Rolling Rock have always aroused a great deal of enthusiasm, and horse lovers will be delighted that the Westmoreland trials will be held there this year and the date is announced as September 23.

In charge of this year's trials is Herbert A. May. He and Mrs. May have been spending the summer in a cottage at Ventnor, N. J., and they'll return early next month.

With them are their three sons, Herbert A., Jr., Philip Davidson, and Edward James May. They are also accompanied by Mrs. May's mother, Mrs. J. J. Davidson, of Beaver.

Richard King Mellon returned Monday from Watch Hill, where he spent the week-end with his mother and father, the R. B. Mellons, who plan to return here in mid-September.

Touring Germany

The Alan Magee Scaifes, who have been in Europe since the first of August, are touring Germany and expect to return some time next month.

Adele Lippincott and Ann Fader, of Sewickley, returned Saturday from Provincetown, Cape Cod, where they have been for the past month. Adele's father, James Lippincott, with his other three daughters, Nancy, Marian and Louise, are at Pine Lodge, Ahmic Lake. They have as their house guest Margaret Meanor, of Sewickley.

The Pittsburgh Polo and Riding Club leaves soon for Lexington, Ky., to play three return games with the Iroquois Polo and Hunt teams, on Saturday, Sunday and Labor Day. The David I. McCahills are driving down, with their twin daughters, Marie and Marguerite. Their son, David I. McCahill, Jr., you know, plays on the team.

Hostess To Club

Mrs. Raymond C. Suckling, of Coraopolis Heights, entertained the Moon Township Garden Club at her home last week. Her aides were Mrs. Stewart Johnson, Mrs. H. F. Robertson and Mrs. H. I. Jackson. Miss Lottie Hart, of the Home Economics Department of Pennsylvania State College gave a demonstration of the most approved methods of canning and preserving. Mrs. R. Kent Hanson presented the speaker.

Mrs. Elizabeth Burt Mellor, of the D'Arlington Apartments, is spending the summer at Fisher's Island.

* * *

Flower Exhibit

The annual fall flower show of the Westmoreland Garden Club is scheduled for Tuesday, September 12. Judges will be Mrs. James D. Hailman, Mrs. George M. Laughlin, Jr., and Stanley Leonard. Margaret Coulter, of "Skara Glen," Greensburg, is president of the club.

The show committee this year includes Mrs. D. Ray Murdock and Mrs. Elmer L. Turner, chairmen; Mrs. J. Rappe Myers, Mrs. C. Ward Eicher, Miss Bess Garwood, Mrs. Curtis H. Gregg, Mrs. Richard Coulter, Mrs. Charles McKenna Lynch, Mrs. John Barclay, Mrs. Mary C. Boarts, and in charge of publicity is Mrs. Curtis H. Gregg.

* * *

Miss Alma Hiller, of New York, is the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Seibel, of Ridgeville street. Miss Hiller is accompanied by her niece, Mrs. Walter Boardman, of Long Island, with whom she has been touring the Canadian Rockies. They stopped at the Century of Progress en route East.

LUNCHEON GUESTS AT ALLEGHENY CLUB

Photo by Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

MRS. GEORGE HARTON SINGER, JR. MRS. LEWIS A. PARK

MRS. SINGER, MRS. PARK, SEWICKLEY FIGURES, AT ALLEGHENY COUNTRY CLUB FOR LUNCH

Lillian Goldman Is Married to H. J. Weisberg

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goldman, of Heberton street, East End, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lillian Goldman, to Harry I. Weisberg, which was solemnized at 5:30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon in the Hotel Schenley. The ceremony took place under a canopy of cibotium ferns. Rabbi B. A. Lichter was the officiant.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of apricot crepe made along Grecian lines, with a matching turban from which was draped a shoulder length veil of tulle. She carried talisman roses.

Miss Fannie Goldman, as maid of honor, wore pale blue satin and velvet made with a brief cape and a matching turban. She carried pink roses and blue delphinium. Mrs. Morris Gorenstein, the matron of honor, wore brown and flesh colored silk faille with a matching jacket and turban. Her flowers were Talisman roses. The bride's mother wore eel grey crepe with a shoulder corsage of purple orchids and lilies of the valley. The bridegroom's mother chose burgundy lace and velvet with a shoulder spray of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. T. N. Treese sang, accompanied by Mrs. E. Branthoover, pianist.

There was a dinner for 50 guests, after which Mr. and Mrs. Weisberg left for the East. After October 1 they will be at home in Hempstead road, Squirrel Hill.

Swissvale Democratic Group to Give Party

The public is invited to the card party which the Woman's Auxiliary to the Swissvale Democratic Organization will have tomorrow afternoon at headquarters in the Wentzel Building, Washington avenue.

Mrs. Margaret Guthrie, general chairman, is assisted by Mrs. Della Deniston, Mrs. Mollie Fawcett, Mrs. Helen Escher, Mrs. Margaret Kramer, Mrs. Carl D. Smith, Mrs. Elizabeth Beatty, Mrs. Dorothy Barry, Mrs. Esther Arnold Isles, Mrs. May Prendergast, Mrs. Julia Furocy, Miss Elizabeth Murphy and Miss Mary Bumbera.

Mrs. Crawford to Give '90's' Party at Springs

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—The one hundred twenty-sixth anniversary of Gen. Robert E. Lee's birth today launched a series of social and sporting events celebrating "Lee Week."

A bridge tea at the President's Cottage, opened festivities.

Today Mrs. George W. Crawford, of Pittsburgh and New York, is arranging a "gay nineties" party. Recitals in costume, pageants, a polo match and a demonstration of aerial maneuvers by United States Army planes are on the week's program.

Year Book Published By Newest in Ranks Of Junior Clubs

By MRS. CHARLES M. BREGG

The infant of the junior club family, the Junior Woman's Club of Verona, which was organized in June, has its year books ready for distribution. The books, attractively bound in brown and gold, the club colors, announce president's night for September 19 at the home of Miss Frances Cribbs, Brunot street, with presidents from other junior organizations as guests. Mrs. J. M. Stein, State Federation chairman of juniors, will address the meeting.

Mrs. Robert Heckert will talk on Russia at the October meeting and Miss Venus Shakarian will discuss aviation in November. The Christmas meeting is to be featured by a talk on the Oberammergau Passion Play, and at the January session Mrs. James G. Chalfant, district president of the Federation, will tell all about "The Business of Being a Clubwoman." Another Federation official, Mrs. C. C. Taylor, chairman of work for the blind, will visit the new club in February to speak on "Education of the Blind."

March brings a talk on "Style" by Miss Sally Watkins; April a book talk by Miss Sara Moot, Oakmont librarian, and May, the annual business meeting with a program in charge of the entertainment committee.

Miss Sara Hilliard is president of the new club; Miss Malvene Snyder, vice president; Miss Mary Jane Wolfe, recording secretary; Miss Lillian Hunter, corresponding secretary, and Miss Frances Cribbs, treasurer.

These committee chairmen have been appointed: Miss Isabelle Rupert, constitution; Miss Malvene Snyder, program; Miss Eva May Rupert, publicity; Miss Florence Jones, membership; Miss Frances Cribbs, music, and Miss Mildred Wilson, entertainment. Miss Adaline Cooper is club historian.

Dolly Madison Chapter Officers Announced

Officers elected by Dolly Madison Chapter, United States Daughters of 1812, for next season are: President, Mrs. J. G. Kahl; vice presidents, Miss A. Marian Cowen; Mrs. Mark McGaffey and Mrs. Joseph W. Marsh; Mrs. J. W. McAllister, recording, and Mrs. George W. Hosack, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. J. W. Henry, treasurer.

Mrs. John A. Shaw is chaplain; Mrs. G. R. Hobson, registrar; Mrs. W. H. Soisson, historian; Mrs. Ola K. Bontrager, color bearer, and Mrs. Harry H. Rowand, curator.

Mildred Elizabeth Gaul To Marry on Saturday

The marriage of Miss Mildred Elizabeth Gaul, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Gaul, of Boggston avenue, South Hills, to Ralph W. Mortimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mortimer, of Warrendale, Pa., will take place at noon Saturday in the bride's home.

Miss Gaul will have her sister, Mrs. Rynd S. Miller, as matron of honor, and Clyde C. Mortimer will be his brother's best man.

Sallie Cushing Has Church Wedding

A bride of Friday morning was Miss Sallie Cushing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cushing, of Johnstown, Pa. Her marriage to Regis Whalen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Whalen, of Howard street, Latrobe, was solemnized in the Holy Rosary Church, Homewood, in the presence of the families. The Rev. J. R. Reilly officiated.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Cushing, and James Glatts was the best man.

The wedding breakfast was served in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. H. W. Lawson, of Jonathan Court, Homewood.

After a trip to Canada Mr. and Mrs. Whalen will make their home in Freeport road, Blawknox.

Thompson Family Holds 46th Annual Reunion

The forty-sixth annual reunion of the Thompson family will be held at the chapel, Riverview Park, tomorrow.

Labor Day Party To Close Girls' Club Camp

The Pittsburgh Girls' Club will close its camp at Sandy Lake with a Labor Day party beginning Saturday afternoon. The camp, under the direction of Miss Jean Wilson Morrison, of Sewickley, has been a favorite vacation and week-end spot for many Pittsburghers throughout the season.

Mrs. Edward Granz, formerly Miss Charlotte Botnik, of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios of Los Angeles, is now a guest at Sandy Lake. Miss Nan Fagan, president, and Miss Blanche Olliffe, secretary of the club, are at camp, after a tour of the Middle West and a visit to the Century of Progress Exposition.

Registrations for the week-end are being taken at club headquarters in the Fort Pitt Hotel.

Margaret F. Roebuck Weds Clarence R. Rowe

Miss Margaret Frances Roebuck, of Kerr street, became the bride of Clarence R. Rowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Rowe, of Lemont Furnace, on Friday, August 18, in the parsonage of the East Liberty Presbyterian Church. Officiating was the Rev. Dr. Stewart Nye Hutchinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Roebuck were the only attendants. The bride wore a blue gown with a corsage of roses, and Mrs. Roebuck wore black and white.

Lillian Herron Engaged To Wed Edward Lookman

Mrs. Ida Herron, of Chislett street, announces the betrothal of her daughter, Miss Lillian Herron, to Edward Lookman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lookman, of Chislett street.

DAYTIME SILHOUETTE SIMPLE, VERY WEARABLE, BUT NEW

REALLY SMART women know the secret of wearing a spectator-type sports costume on the street. It is only by being comparatively simple in daytime that they can appreciate the distinction that comes from being luxurious in the evening. The entire personality goes through a subtle change. The woman seen on the street in a tailleur is often hard to recognize in an evening gown. Her hair is dressed more elaborately, her jewels (real or not) are taken out from hiding, her gown is of a rich fabric, her figure swathed like a sheath—in fact, a new individual emerges. It is because she likes this day-to-night transformation that she dresses in simple tailored clothes during sunlight hours.

* * *

WHILE THIS year's daytime silhouette is simple and very wearable, it is new. It is tightly fitted, straight and often belted. Fabric combinations are often unusual. Necklines have climbed higher than ever, a fashion that demands extra care of your skin since attention automatically is directed to the face. Waistlines are normal, skirts usually 10 inches from the floor.

* * *

TWEEDS ARE daytime classics—this year they're quite prominent for sports and streets. Some of the most exquisitely made have dark blouses that contrast in color, though not in fabric or design. The blouses are sheerer, but identical tweed.

* * *

THE INTEREST in ornaments for these costumes grow. Many trimmings that were fashionable in 1900 appear in the most important collections today. With well-tailored suits, wooden buckles and buttons are also smart. Newer still are those of sole-leather—perfect to complement hardy fabrics. Some woolens have contrasting suede pipings at each seam—and no other decorations.

* * *

THE SUIT in two tones of taupe grey in the accompanying picture has been enjoying an enormous success. It appeals to the commuter, the shopper, the active spectator. One can always vary its appearance by substituting new gilets, blouses or scarfs. With the greys, a touch of raspberry at the throat is a luscious idea. Another good combination can be worked out with brown accessories, or those of a new purplish blue.

* * *

IN THE CIRCLE we call attention to a tailored sports accessory ensemble designed by John-Frederics. It could be one of many ideas to change the appearance of this suit. A particularly effective color combination is the set of velveteen resembling tweed in grey, black and green. Gloves, hat, bag and scarf are identical in design and fabric.

* * *

ANOTHER DAY you might wear this same sports set with a simple furless coat. Tricks like these make a few good clothes go a long way. It's a fashion idea that will never die. Mix this type of accessory set with different costumes—and what have you? Endless effects with very little to start with!

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Dorothy Brown Engaged To Laurence B. Kuhns

Dr. and Mrs. Prentice A. Brown, of McCargo street, New Kensington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Brown, to Laurence B. Kuhns, son of Dr. and Mrs. John Moser Kuhns, of Dalmatia, Pa. An October wedding is planned.

Turred Cloth Coats

$75 to $350

Because You Save at Least 40%
Buy a Better Coat in August

WHILE low August prices are still in effect, why not buy a coat of the quality kind . . . one that will give you eternal satisfaction?

For instance, the mink-trimmed brown coat sketched. Very new and very different . . . far in advance of the ordinary sort. It is typical of a matchless group in which you will find Mink, Silver Fox, and other Grabowsky furs mounted in the original manner of our workrooms on the richest of woolens.

Four more days to make your selection. The August Sale ends this Saturday, September 2nd.

Grabowsky's
514-516 WOOD STREET

NRA

FURRIERS SINCE 1875

Think of it!—RELIEF from HAY FEVER in from 10 to 15 minutes

Recent experiments to determine what effect air-conditioning might have on relieving the suffering of hay fever patients, have shown the value of this form of attack. In one series of experiments, patients who were taken to a room supplied with cleansed air showed a striking improvement in from ten to fifteen minutes. "Within an hour," says Dr. Gay, member of the medical staff of Johns Hopkins Hospital, "the symptoms had entirely subsided and after two hours the individuals, who had previously been most miserable, had no evidence of hay fever."

Come and Learn What "PITTSBURG"-FRIGIDAIRE AIR-CONDITIONING can do for YOUR Hay Fever

Now—the Pittsburg Water Heater Company and Frigidaire, division of General Motors, have combined their engineering talent and produced practical air-conditioning for the home. At 110 Jenkins Arcade, complete equipment is installed that you can witness in actual operation. If you suffer from hay fever, we invite you to visit this office and see for yourself what this man-made atmosphere will do for your hay fever.

PITTSBURG
WATER HEATER SALES CO.
110 JENKINS ARCADE

WHO LIVES AT The LOMBARDY in NEW YORK?

A composite photograph of our patrons would reveal someone very like yourself . . . appreciating perfect service . . . a bit of a connoisseur of cuisine . . . particular as to fellow-guests . . . yet with enough Scotch ancestry to welcome the chance to enjoy these refinements at a saving! If you're planning a summer visit to New York you'll find the summer rates at The LOMBARDY a pleasant surprise!

The Lombardy
111 East 56th Street, New York
Just off Park Avenue

September 11 Set For Opening of Review Club

One of the few clubs which begin their season in September is the Review Club, the eleventh being its opening date, when "A Sojourn in Greece" is to be discussed. The Pulitzer and Nobel prizes of the last five years, a book review and music are the October attractions, a speaker for November and a play for December being announced in the new year books.

After the new year "Educational Conditions in Pennsylvania" will afford material for thought and later the members will hear a speaker from the League of Women Voters. Then comes a debate on whether the Eighteenth Amendment should be repealed, Mrs. O. K. Price and Mrs. C. C. Rinehart putting forth the arguments in favor of repeal and Mrs. J. C. C. Holding and Mrs. H. B. Ackerman taking the negative.

Old fashioned gardens and household economics, modern American poets and current events form the mental menu for subsequent meetings. The year will be rounded out with a June picnic.

Mrs. Clark, Womans' NRA Chairman, Heads Survey

Mrs. J. Wood Clark, who has been named county head of the women's division of the NRA, is also county chairman of the national milk survey carrying out President Roosevelt's program to aid the farmer in cost and consumption of dairy products.

For eight years Mrs. Clark has been president of the Democratic Women's Club of Allegheny County, and under her leadership similar clubs have been organized in adjoining counties, which are now affiliated in the Western Pennsylvania Federaton. As chairman of Roosevelt Day at Kennywood Park on Saturday, Mrs. Clark will be assisted by the executive committee of the Women's Club and the County Democratic Organization.

Gertrude Schlesinger Marries Jacob S. Hill

Mr. and Mrs. J. Schlesinger, of Beechwood boulevard, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Gertrude Schlesinger, to Jacob S. Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Hill, of Jancey street.

The ceremony took place Sunday in the Poale Zedeck Synagogue with Rabbi Benjamin Lichter and Rabbi Joseph L. Alpert officiating. There was a small reception in the bride's home. Mr. and Mrs. Hill will be at home in the Schenley View Apartments.

Mrs. Lucy F. Newmyer Hostess at Luncheon

Mrs. Lucy Frick Newmyer entertained with a luncheon in the Pittsburgh Athletic Association Wednesday, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Sleeman and Miss Lena G. Galley, of Sheraden, and Mrs. A. J. Wurtz and John H. N. Wurtz, of Pittsburgh.

McPherson Relief Corps Garden Party Tonight

McPherson Woman's Relief Corps, No. 60, auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic, is having a garden party tonight at the home of Mrs. Blanche Mickley, Stratford avenue, East End. Cards will be played.

Over Sunday Excursions
Saturday, Sept. 2
Round-Trip Fares

NEW YORK $6.50
PHILADELPHIA ..$6.00
BALTIMORE $5.00
LV. PITTSBURGH 7:00 P. M.

Cincinnati $5.00
Columbus $3.25
Newark 3.00
Zanesville 3.00
LV. PITTSBURGH 9:40 P. M.

Buffalo ... $4.25
Rochester $5.00
Niagara Falls $5.00
LV. PITTSBURGH 10:30 P. M.

Niagara Falls
AND RETURN
$8.60
LV. PITTSBURGH, ALL TRAINS
SATURDAY, SEPT. 2
RETURN LIMIT 5 DAYS
Valid in Pullman

BARGAIN EXCURSION
TO VIRGINIA
NORTH AND SOUTH
CAROLINA
VIA B. & O.—SOUTHERN RY.

Manassas, Va.	$ 6.70
Culpeper, Va.	7.40
Orange, Va.	7.75
Charlottesville, Va.	8.30
Lynchburg, Va.	9.50
Danville, Va.	10.80
Greensboro, N. C.	11.75
High Point, N. C.	12.05
Salisbury, N. C.	12.75
Charlotte, N. C.	13.60
Winston-Salem, N. C.	12.30
Spartanburg, S. C.	15.10
Columbia, S. C.	15.80
Greenville, S. C.	15.75
Asheville, N. C.	15.55

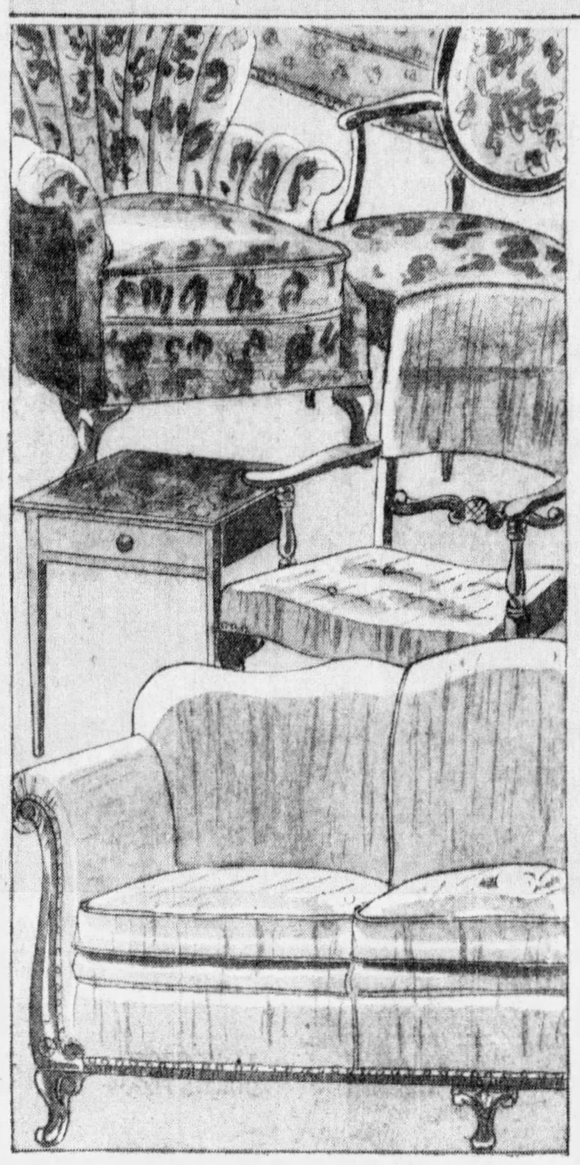
LEAVE PITTSBURGH 9:18 A. M.
FRIDAY, SEPT. 1
VALID IN COACHES ONLY
RETURN LIMIT 10 DAYS
CONSULT TICKET AGENTS FOR FURTHER DETAILS

(Eastern Standard Time)
BALTIMORE & OHIO

The August Sales Say "Hasten" Just Two More Days and These Good Sales Will Beckon No More

Floor-Wide Sale

SAMPLE FURNITURE



Extremely Low Prices!

Active furniture selling throughout the month with the result, an accumulation of odd pieces, some slightly soiled from use in window displays, etc., others that have been slow to move, floor samples from which we have sold through the month.

Every last piece is desirable Boggs & Buhl recognized quality and worth. Includes sofas, chairs, coffee tables, chaise lounges, chests of drawers, davenports, dressers, bedroom chairs and benches, serving tables, bedroom, dining room and living room suites.

It is all furniture you will be proud to own and will be bought eagerly at such sensational savings.

Partial List of Features:

$575 Mah. 8-Pc. Dining Suite	$245
$215 Cherry 4-Pc. Bedroom Suite	$145
$245 Avodire 5-Pc. Bedroom Suite	$145
$245 Rose Damask, Down Filled Love Seat	$100
$15.75 Pull Up Chairs	$8.75
$115.00 Moire Chaise Lounges (Down Cushions)	$57.50
Up to $49.50 Odd Chests of Drawers	$15.00
Up to $29.50 Odd Serving Tables	$5.00
Up to $17.75 Benches	$3.95
$195 Walnut 8-Pc. Dining Room Suite	$135
$195 Walnut 4-Pc. Bedroom Suite	$125
$295 Mahogany 4-Pc. Bedroom Suite	$195
$345 Blue Frieze 2-Pc. Living Room Suite	$150
$24.50 Bedroom Chair	$10
$11.75 Decorated Tables	$2.50
$3.95 Decorated Folding Coffee Tables	$1.95
Up to $59.50 Odd Dressers	$19.75
Up to $49.50 Odd Vanity Tables	$10.00

—Fourth Floor—

OPEN TONIGHT and TOMORROW NIGHT 7:30--10 P. M.

FURS
CLOTH COATS
FURNITURE DEPARTMENTS

Bright Jersey
BLOUSES
Multiply Their Virtues
$2.95-$3.95

One day a skirt top; next, a suit blouse; third, companion to a suede jacket, etc., etc. Always some bright way to vary your wardrobe! Red, Grey, Yellow, Brown, White. 34-42. Blending corduroy skirts, $2.95.

—Second Floor—

FURS CLOTH COATS

MOIRE
Caracul*
$385

Manufacturers Quote $525 for Identical Coats— 2 Days Only, $385!

Caracul is taking its place again as a costly, precious fur—comparable to Mink, etc. Caracul, leading fur of all dress furs, will soon be history at present August levels! Before Friday, is the time to buy our finest Caracul coats of softest baby lambs, dyed to sleek, shiny black—with regal Silver Fox collars—at $385! We cannot guarantee our prices after August!

Other fur coat groups at August Savings for 2 Final Days—$45, $65, $95, $135 and up to $1485. Reasonable credit terms.

White Dyed Lamb*

—Furs, Second Floor—

With $72 Worth of MINK
$58

Examples of Values Yours Tonight—Tomorrow— Tomorrow Night— Thursday!

Nine full skins of Mink—appraised conservatively at $72—on coats at $58—fill our August price pledge to you. Friday, September 1, because Mink prices are steadily climbing from this all-time low—because Mink-trimmed coats are beyond $79.75 to replace—we will be forced to raise them to higher prices. But—two days and two nights are yours to avail yourself of these coats, their splendours! You'll be congratulating yourself that you bought such values at $58! Other August Sale Coats, $38, $78, $98.

—Second Floor—

Delay Means Dollars! 2 Days Only!

Fur Rejuvenating

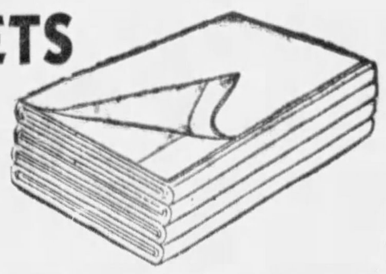
Remodeling—Repairing—Rehabilitating

20% Below September Prices

Does that old Raccoon need a swagger line? Wouldn't a ripple collar put that Leopard right in season? Need patches fixed? Any small to sundry items that would make your furs modern, you can afford to say "yes" to at below-season prices—if you act at this 20% discount these two final days of August!

—Furs, Second Floor—

81x99 DIAMOND
SHEETS
95c



Only while this lot lasts can you buy these sheets for practically what the maker is asking us today. Take advantage of this rare opportunity and stock up. Our most popular brand—there must be a reason!

72x99 Diamond Sheets	85c	90x108 Diamond Sheets*	$1.15
63x108 Diamond Sheets	85c	42x36 Diamond Cases	22c
72x108 Diamond Sheets	95c	45x36 Diamond Cases	25c
81x108 Diamond Sheets	$1.05	42x63½ Diamond Bolsters	45c
		42x72 Diamond Bolsters	48c

Telephone Shopping Service—Fairfax 2650

—First Floor—

NRA WE DO OUR PART

BOGGS & BUHL

Vanishing LOWS ... at KAUFMANN'S

Just two more days left to shop at Kaufmann's Vanishing Lows! August 1933—a month you'll always remember for prices you'll probably never match. The privileges of a Kaufmann charge account are available to you.

Why WAIT!

Only Two More Days of Kaufmann's

AUGUST FURNITURE SALE!

You are too well informed—really to need this Word to the Wise! Neither are we trying to stampede you into buying—at the Eleventh Hour of our August Furniture Sale.

You KNOW the market facts to-day! The thing is—are you going to ACT quickly enough to profit by them?

Realize please—you've only two more days to buy in Kaufmann's famous Furniture Sale in August—only two more days for the Tremendous Savings!

Now, this doesn't mean that Kaufmann's is arbitrarily raising all Furniture prices on Sept. 1st. Far from it!

We're keeping all prices--(not Furniture prices alone)--just as low as we can!

Prices in our August Sale are 'way down—in line with the low market on which we bought this Furniture—months ago!

—But this Furniture is fast disappearing! And we cannot replace it to sell at near present prices.

There is hardly a piece of Furniture on our floors that is priced anywhere near what its retail price would be in accordance with the present wholesale market.

Make no Mistake—this is the time for buying Furniture at what looks like All-Time Lows!

---And you can buy on KAUFMANN'S CLUB PLAN---with not only the privilege of Monthly Payments but Liberal Credit Terms worked out to fit your individual needs.

SEVENTH and EIGHTH FLOORS—KAUFMANN'S

if You Knew What We Know

About the Re-order Situation You Would Not Leave Us With One Single Coat In Stock from the August Sale of Furred Cloth Coats.....$58

Last Two Days!

Women's, Misses', Juniors', Half Sizes

COAT SHOPS FOURTH FLOOR

Here's How to Pass the COLLEGE CLOTHES TEST

Hairy Knits

The utterly "right" knitted dress. Stripes in contrast blues, greens, black-and-white, lemon-and-black. 11 to 17. 17.50.

PRINCESS SHOP, FOURTH FLOOR

Classic Brim

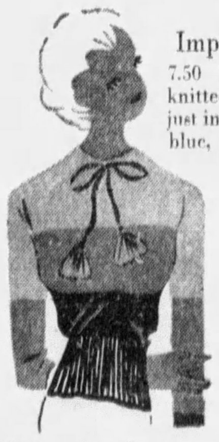
7.50 also makes you the proud possessor of this brim hat of Forstmann wool.

MILLINERY, FIFTH FLOOR

Fuss is Taboo

Upper classmen respect that knowing simplicity. Hairy wool with wooden buttons, green or rust. Sizes 14 to 20. 17.50.

SPORTS SHOP, FOURTH FLOOR



Imported Beret Set

7.50 buys this hand-knitted beret and scarf, just in from Paris. Choice blue, red, brown, green.

Twins for Sweaters

Only 5.95 the pair and remember twin sweaters are "required" campus equipment. Color choice, Sizes 14 to 20.

SWEATERS . . . FOURTH FLOOR

Short Lengths BROADLOOM CARPET

9, 12 and 15 Ft. Wide

1/2 Off

Regularly 2.50 to $5 Sq. Yd.!

Lengths suitable for every room—from the small bedroom or hallway to the large living room. Colors, too—to meet most decorative requirements—wanted greens, taupes and mulberry shades. Half Price!

KAUFMANN'S—NINTH FLOOR

Kindergarteners' WASH FROCKS

You'll love her in this neat little plaid! You'll want to hug her in this tiny-strip frock. And you'll chuckle at her importance in the new, colorful prints! All with panties, and deep hems. Dependably washable. 2 to 6..... 1.95

KAUFMANN'S . . . THIRD FLOOR

See Other Kaufmann News on Page 23

NAVY NARRATIVES :-: Naval Men Face Hazards in Clearing Mine Barriers :-: By LIEUT. JIM HAYS

CLASSIFIED ADS BUY, SELL, RENT FOR YOU

Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT NEWS

TUESDAY, AUGUST 29, 1933

BANKS HERE TO ACCEPT HOME LOAN BONDS

POLITICS

Signed Replies Needed In Bar Referendum

—By MARK SHIELDS—

The Bar Association referendum on the fitness of judicial candidates offers the opportunity for some sharp and direct discussion by attorneys as to their views on the battles for Common Pleas, County and Juvenile Courts. But the answers to some of the questions propounded under the direction of a small group of the bar will lose their force and effectiveness unless they are given in signed form, with the commentator standing publicly on his opinion.

Mr. Shields.

For instance, there are two questions upon which the public would like considerable light. One is: "Do you have confidence both in his personal and intellectual honesty?"

The second:

"Do you believe him subject to the influence of politics, friendship, race, creed or class?"

If lawyers answer those questions frankly and append their names for publication the consensus should be vastly entertaining.

But if they are merely to mail under the cloak of anonymity their replies then the way is opened for all kinds of splenetic "gettin even" for cases lost—imagining for one moment that this has anything to do with some lawyers' conception of a judge's caliber.

And if a lawyer does say that he thinks a sitting judge or a candidate is personally dishonest, then is the law of libel to be construed by some other judge as protecting the agency which gives publication to the opinion? That's a question the legalistic gentlemen might give some attention to.

* * *

Public Wants to Know Source of Verdict

The answer to that question as to honesty are something which the public certainly would like to know, but it wants to know the source of the verdict.

The second question quoted above is something which should be discussed. It is of vast importance. The electorate is entitled to information as to whether candidates will be swayed by something outside the law beside correlated questions of humanitarianism. But again there should be no cloaking of the authority for the opinions, and any lawyer who answers the questionnaire being sent out should be perfectly willing to have his name used.

And the questionnaire should not be sent out unless that is understood.

Otherwise the opportunity for secret blackguarding is too wide open.

Yet another question concerns the judicial temperament of the sitting judge or lawyer-candidate—whether he has it or hasn't.

Some lawyers jokingly say that the judge with the desirable judicial temperament is the one before whom they have won, while the judge entirely unfitted by temperament for the bench is the one who has decided against them. Let's hope the question posed would not be answered in that light.

These questions are fine and dandy, but they should be asked and answered in a huge open mass meeting of attorneys, and not with names withheld. The agency which would promulgate the answers to such questions made secretly would not be doing its full duty, for much might depend upon the caliber of the lawyers who decided one way or the other. I should like to know who the lawyers were who thought this or that candidate honest or dishonest, and that might have a lot to do with how the public accepted the analysis.

* * *

Any Inquisition Should Go to Candidates Also

The final question both as to sitting judges and lawyer-candidates asks whether their election is recommended, the answer to that apparently being predicated on the conclusions to the previous interrogations. That is a good and fair question, but there are those who say that the referendums of the Bar Association in the past have not been free from politics.

What might be done, would be to put some pertinent questions to the candidates themselves, and print those answers. That is a thought offered the Bar Association. For example:

"Where is your campaign fund coming from?

"Where is it going?"

Why not answer these questions now instead of waiting until after election?

"If a sitting judge, have you ever side-stepped a case because of political considerations or considerations of friendship?

"If not already a judge, would you thus sidestep if elected?

"If a sitting judge, what is your record with regard to the handling of convicted election law offenders?

"What would be your attitude if elected?"

And some more of the same. If we are to have an inquisition let it go to the candidates also.

Boy Hurt in Fall From Apple Tree

Falling from the limb of an apple tree at 5913 Callowhill street, Thomas Flaherty, 12, of 614 North Mathilda street, was in the Pittsburgh Hospital today in a serious condition. Three companions of Flaherty called police, who removed him to the hospital.

WORD OF NRA FLOOD CONTROL AID AWAITED

Herron Due to Make Report Today to Committee

The committee appointed by Mayor John S. Herron to urge Federal adoption of the City Flood Commission's plans for flood control in the tri-state district was to hold its first meeting today in the Pittsburgh Athletic Association

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss methods of presentation of the flood project to civic and business organizations throughout the district, and to open a concerted drive for support of flood control.

Mayor Herron likely will report definite progress toward early action by the NRA on plans for a system of 10 reservoirs in the Allegheny and Monongahela valleys as a national emergency public works project.

Those who were to attend today's meeting are Mayor Herron, Mayor Gordon P. Fought, Wheeling, W. Va.; Mayor J. C. McMaster, Steubenville, O.; Mayor J. G. Payne, Oil City; Mayor J. Fred Thomas, Sharon; Mayor A. G. Martin, Fairmont, W. Va.; Edward G. Lang, director of Public Works, and George S. Davison, president of the city's Flood Commission, and County Commissioner Charles C. McGovern. M. L. Benedum and Joseph F. Guffey have been invited to attend today's meeting and act as advisors.

The meeting was to go into session immediately following a luncheon.

YOUTH MAKES QUICK ESCAPE

A 15-year-old boy who escaped from the Juvenile Detention Home in Oakland 10 minutes after being taken there yesterday was sought by police today.

The boy, one of seven arrested in connection with the theft of an automobile, was seen running down Forbes street by Radio Patrolmen Charles Taylor and Patrick Coyne, who took him to the Detention Home. The patrolmen concluded he couldn't have been their charge, but when they returned to the South Side Police Station they learned differently.

The other boys, all over 16, were held for further investigation when arraigned in Morals Court yesterday morning.

Penn Avenue Man, Hit by Auto, Dies

Steve Lewandowski, 48, of 2237 Penn avenue, was dead today of injuries suffered Saturday when he was struck by an automobile at Twenty-ninth street and Penn avenue. I. Parino, 20 Jacksonia street, the driver, was to appear before the Coroner today.

WILL ROGERS SAYS

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Aug. 29.

To the Editor, Sun-Telegraph:

I believe that Mr. Moley, chief of the "brain trusters" getting out, is about the starting of the end of college professors in government. A professor gets all of his ideas out of a book, but the politician, as bad as he is, does have an understanding of human nature, and the mob.

Will Rogers

So we just as well become reconciled to the fact that the old politician is with us, "even unto death." Theories are great. They sound great, but the minute you are asked to prove one, in actual life, why the thing blows up.

So, professors, back to the class room, idealists back to the drawing room, Communist back to the soap box (and use some of it), but old Congressman "Hokum" and old Senator "Hooey" are still the Mussolinis of our country.

Yours, WILL.

(Copyright, 1933, McNaught Synd., Inc.)

BAR HEAD RAPS 'SHYSTERS'

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—A call for a systematic nation-wide campaign by attorneys to drive from their profession the unscrupulous and dishonest practitioners was sounded here today by Clarence E. Martin, of Martinsburg, W. Va., president of the American Bar Association, in an address prepared for delivery before a conference of officers of state bar associations.

Martin, who called the meeting irrespective of affiliations with the American Bar Association, charged that unprincipled lawyers have aroused a public distruct of the profession which finds "the honest intention of lawyers everywhere challenged."

He said:

"There is an unconscious movement toward disintegration of the bar, a movement so pronounced that unless strong and effective measures are initiated and taken promptly, the future of the profession, as a profession, in America to say the least, is problematical if not forlorn."

Martin demanded a raising of the standards for admission to the bar, appointment of proctors to keep watch on the character of young lawyers, action to combat overcrowding of the profession and registration that would require that when an attorney is disbarred in one court, he could not go to a distant one and resume practice.

Man Admits Giving Nurse Fatal Poison

PITTSFIELD, Ill., Aug. 29.—(INS.)—A confession that he put poison in coffee, causing the death of Mrs. Julia Tucker, 76-year-old nurse, and the serious illness of his father, Tom Hall, a Detroit (Ill.) farmer, has been signed by Charles Hall, 30, Sheriff Ivis Johnson said today.

Mrs. Tucker died while nursing Mrs. Tom Hall at the Hall home. Hall may die. Young Hall, Sheriff Johnson said, admitted he quarreled with his father over money.

West View Firemen To Stage Benefit

The West View Fire Department No. 3 will stage a benefit show at the West View Park Talking Temple at 8:30 o'clock tonight. "One Heavenly Night" will be the featured picture. Edwin Hutchison is chairman of the affair.

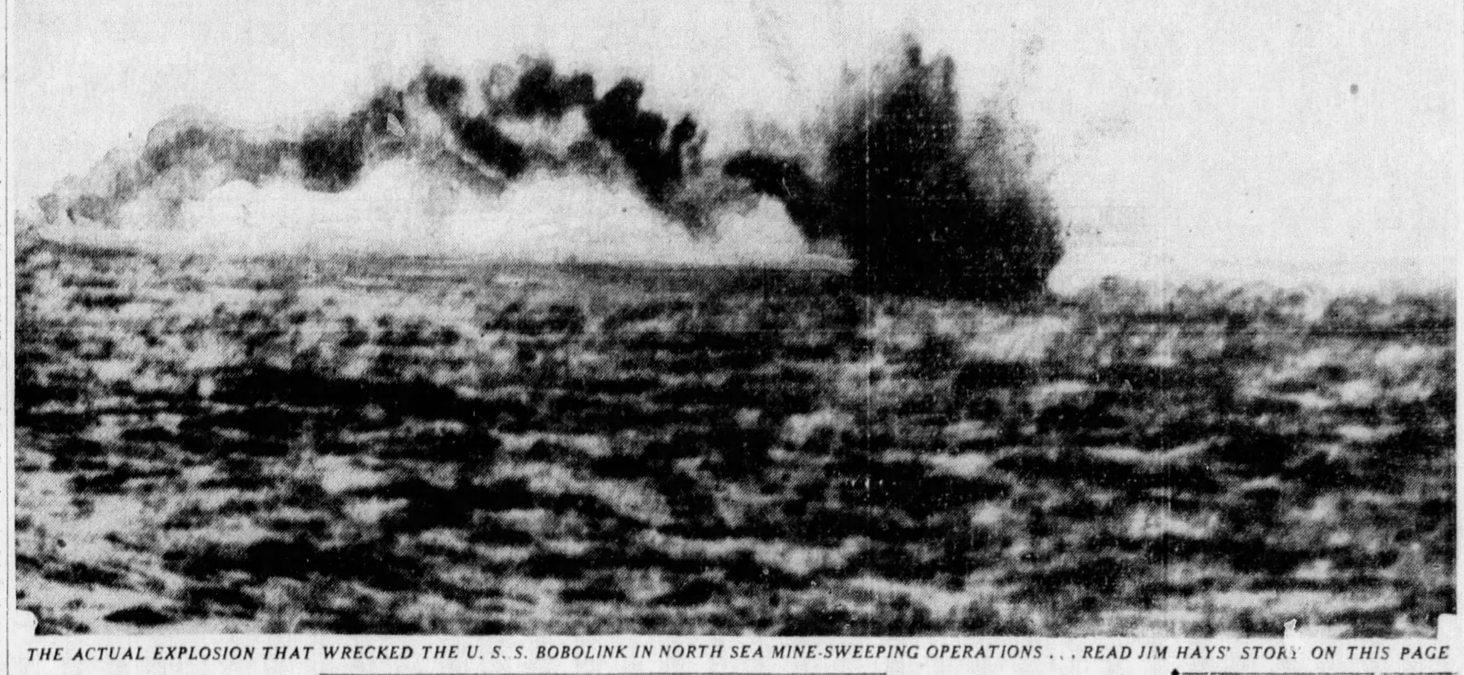
$50 in Prizes for News Tips

Are you alert? Do you wish to make your alertness pay? The Sun-Telegraph is presenting the opportunity. Every week it is offering a total of $50 in prizes for NEWS TIPS telephoned to the News Tip Editor, Grant 6500.

If you know of an accident, of a business merger, of a big building project—that is NEWS. Watch especially for unusual stories about children and animals and for stories that lend themselves to interesting pictures.

For the best exclusive news tip of the week $15.00 will be given, for the second best, $10.00, and for the next 25 best, $1.00 each.

U. S. Navy Mine Sweeper as a Mine Blew It Up in the North Sea



THE ACTUAL EXPLOSION THAT WRECKED THE U. S. S. BOBOLINK IN NORTH SEA MINE-SWEEPING OPERATIONS . . . READ JIM HAYS' STORY ON THIS PAGE

Vessels Sent Out to Sweep Dangerous Mines Are Rocked By Many Explosions

By LIEUT. JIM HAYES

II.

To clear the whole barrage by means of frail wooden boats was, of course, impossible. Nor could we do any effective sweeping by any means during the winter gales. Rugged, powerful vessels, fit for all weather, would be required for such work.

For some time now, they had been building a fleet of vessels of this type back home in the States. Almost every week one of the new, powerful steel sweepers was being completed and placed in commission in one shipyard or another along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

Mr. Hays

But all these fine, new steel vessels would be of no use unless we could in some way protect them, so that they could cross and recross the mine fields and strike the mines without exploding them. It was a baffling problem.

We thought of sheathing them with wood, but it would take a year to fit out the necessary ships, if it could be done at all. Nor would it be safe enough to paint them with tar or other insulation.

Then, one mid-winter day, when the problem seemed farthest from solution, a young ensign knocked timidly at the door to the office of Admiral Strauss, at Base 18, and entered shyly.

"I have a scheme, sir," he addressed the admiral, "for protecting steel ships against the mines. It is so simple that I hesitate to suggest it."

It was simple, too, but one of those simple things that require the mind of a genius to discover.

If a positive current existing in the hull of every steel ship would explode the mines at a touch, then a negative current might prevent the mine from exploding.

Fifteen minutes after Ensign Nichol advanced his theory, the necessary equipment to test his scheme was being assembled at the base. That same afternoon tests were made, and they were successful.

Our greatest handicap was thus removed, and we were free to use steel ships as soon as they could be fitted with the new electrical protective device. Specifications for its construction were cabled to the United States, and the new mine sweepers scattered among the various ports along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts were soon equipped with it, fitted out with mine-sweeping gear, provisioned for a long period away from home and started for the North Sea to begin work on the mine barrage at the break of spring.

A Deadly Barrier

For the rest of the winter those of us at Base 18 worked steadily developing kites that would hold the sweepwire down to great depths in the sea.

The barrage from Scotland to Norway was composed, for the most part of five parallel rows of mines. The mines in each row were planted at one of three levels below the surface . . . upper, middle and lower.

Three rows were usually laid at the upper level so that the barrage would be thickest at the surface.

The reason for this was psychological. Submarines, knowing the barrage was there, would prefer to risk crossing on the surface, even though their chances of getting through were less.

On the surface they would have some chance of escaping

(Continued on Page Fourty.)

Synopsis

Lieut. Jim Hays describes a tremendous and hazardous task the United States Navy faced immediately after the Armistice.

The gigantic North Sea Mine Barrage, 70,000 super-sensitive spheres of TNT, 300 pounds each, planted in a 250 line across the North Sea from Scotland to Norway had bottled up the German U-boats and hastened the end of the war.

With the arrival of peace, the mines had to be swept up. The Navy borrowed from the British Admiralty two tiny wooden sailing vesesls, insulated their hulls with tar and sent them forth to experiment in sweeping the mines away. After six mines were exploded a furious North Sea winter gale bore down upon the two small vessels.

Finally, when the Navy had abandoned hope for their safety, the frail sweeper, blown 400 miles away from their base, reported their safe arrival in port.

There are still 69,994 mines to be accounted for..

Now Go on With The Story

FIVE MEN HURT IN MIFFLIN RIOT

Mifflin Township residents, bereft of police protection since the discharge of the township's two-man police force last week as an economy move, planned today to petition the township commissioners to rehire the officers as an aftermath to an alleged three-hour riot at a corn roast staged by volunteer firemen early Sunday.

Five men were injured in the battle which occurred, firemen said, when a group of men broke in at the conclusion of the corn roast and started a fight.

Police Chief Jesse J. Crawford and Patrolman John Butko were fired last Wednesday by the township commissioners, who claimed the township was financially embarrassed.

Although the board is not scheduled to meet until September 9, residents declared they would petition them to meet earlier to insure police protection.

Veteran's Wife Held In Insurance Error

Mrs. Wilthia Buford, 32, illiterate Negro woman of 609 Fifth avenue, Coraopolis, was held for court by a United States commissioner today, charged with making false affidavits. Bond was set at $5,000.

Agents of the Veterans' Administration charged that the woman received $10,000 in war insurance as the widow of William Eskine Buford, of Richmond, Va. She is the widow of William Buford, Negro, formerly of Richmond, Va., who was killed in Pittsburgh in 1930, she said.

American Marquise Dies in Nice at 80

PARIS, Aug. 29.—(INS.)—News of the death of the Marquise Cecile De Wentworth, 80, member of a former Chicago family, at Nice was received by the American consulate today.

The marquise, widow of a British nobleman, once owned valuable property in New York state, but gave it to a convent.

A sister is believed to live in Chicago.

WATER SHUTOFF STIRS FIGHT

Facing the prospect of having the water in their homes disconnected for nonpayment of bills, members of about 100 families of the Forest Camps section of Oakmont have appointed a committee to meet with officials of the Suburban Water Company in their Verona office tonight.

The water company began disconnecting service yesterday and during the day cut off about 15 homes.

Hearing that the company intended to continue disconnecting water in the section, an emergency meeting was held in the Oakmont Council room last night.

Burgess J. B. Bossert, Councilman Morris Verner and Attorney John Walker were appointed to meet with officials of the company tonight.

MISSING GIRLS TRACED IN OHIO

A telephone call from an Ohio city was traced today by the parents of Helen Ions, 15, of 600 Centennial avenue, Sewickley, who disappeared from her home in company with another girl yesterday afternoon.

The Ions girl, Sewickley police said, telephoned her home this morning, informing her parents that she was in Ohio and would return home at once. She did not state from where she was calling.

Helen and Grace Goron, 15, of Glen Mitchell road, Sewickley, left their homes at 4 p. m. yesterday. This morning Sewickley police were asked to begin a search for the pair and their descriptions were sent to the county detectives and to Pittsburgh police. The search was dropped shortly after when the telephone call was received.

BIRTHPLACE? P. R. R. DEPOT!

MRS. CLARENCE J. FOWLER AND HER EIGHT-POUND BOY

Mrs. Fowler in Allegheny General Hospital with her son, born at the Pennsylvania depot as she and her husband, traveling on an excursion train from New York to a long-awaited job in Canton, reached Pittsburgh. "Doing nicely." This is a Sun-Telegraph picture.

50 IN DISTRICT FRIENDLY TO U. S. PLAN

Legal Ruling Clears Way for Mortgage Exchange

More than 50 banks in the Pittsburgh district have agreed to accept the bonds of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, issued to aid distressed householders, according to J. S. Baughman, local manager for the corporation.

Among these are several large downtown banks, he stated. The way for open banks to accept the bonds in exchange for mortgages was recently cleared by a decision from the Attorney General.

LOAN GROUPS HOLD BACK

It was also ruled that building and loan associations may take the bonds in cases where they otherwise might suffer loss, but a number of Pittsburgh building and loan associations have not agreed to accept them.

The first large bank in the Eastern states to actually take the bonds is the Cleveland Trust Company of Cleveland, according to word from Washington. Approval of the first loans to home owners in the Pittsburgh district awaits word from the Philadelphia office.

REQUEST SPECIAL RULING

An official ruling enabling closed national banks in Western Pennsylvania to take the bonds in exchange for mortgages has been asked by Congressman Henry Ellenbogen in a letter to J. F. T. O'Connor, Comptroller of the Currency.

Ellenbogen declares the efficiency of the corporation would be greatly increased and home owners aided by such action.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Four per cent bonds of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation are described by Clarence J. Weary, district manager of the corporation's central Pennsylvania district, as becoming increasingly popular with banks as an investment.

Weary said yesterday many of the banks, trust companies and building and loan associations are "co-operating admirably" in the plan to exchange the bonds for mortgages held by the various financial institutions.

CAR IN FLAMES, GIRL ESCAPES

Janet Wright, 17, of 5649 Woodmont street, narrowly escaped death last night when the automobile in which she was riding burst into flames after a collision in Northumberland and Barnsdale streets. Miss Wright, suffering lacerations, was treated at the scene.

Her companion, Thomas L. Campbell, of 5705 Bartlett street, was uninjured. The driver of the other car, Clare Bookmyer, of 5647 Pocussett street, also escaped injury.

Firemen extinguished the flames.

Struck by an automobile near his home, Oliver Cooper, 4, of 1076 Banksville road, was in Passavant Hospital last night with a possible fracture of the skull.

Huge Feed Bill As Camels Come Home to Roost

—By ARTHUR (BUGS) BAER—

Sovereign commonwealth of Washington goes to bat today with 23 on base.

When asked about the beer question Postmaster General Farley said: "Boys, it's in the barrel."

The voting starts to look like border warfare. Texas is slapped plumb against the Mexican line. There ain't nothing separating Washington and Canada but a gentleman's agreement.

They're fixing it so a man in Nevada can go either north or south for his health. Texas wets pulled a smart one. Knowing the cities always vote for beer, they pulled the election on a Saturday when all the farmers come to town.

Looks like we will be spared the painful sight of Kansas voting on this question. If they have to go through with it we know the Kansans can always dig up a little local anaesthetic for the operation.

Senator Sheppard is going to have a big feed bill with all those camels coming home to roost.

(Copyright, 1933, Distributed by Universal Service, Inc.)

MINE SWEEPERS OFTEN ROCKED BY BLASTS

(Continued from 1st Page, Second Section)

with their lives. If they struck a lower level mine while submersed, their drowning was certain.

The three levels of mines formed a complete barrier to a depth of 260 feet, deeper than any submarine could submerge.

Having planted the mines at lower depths than they had ever been laid before, we had to devise a new type of sweep gear that would maintain a depth of nearly 300 feet while being dragged through the sea between two ships.

In March, before spring had come to the North Sea, the Patuxent and the Patapsco, those two powerful steel tugs, set out for the barrage to experiment with this new equipment—the electrical protective device and the new sweep gear.

Mines Exploded

Upon reaching the barrage, the Patuxent and the Patapsco rigged out a sweepwire and kites between them. Sounding tubes were slid down to the kites to measure the depths at which they were flying, and when the proper depth was attained, the pair of ships altered their course to head across the lines of mines, and explosions began to occur thick and fast.

The first few explosions were well astern and in the center of the sweepwire, and although the terrific concussions shook the ships from stem to stern, the men quickly became used to the novel sensation . . . in fact, they made sport of it . . . for a while.

Mines, too, kept popping up behind the sweepers, having been cut away from their anchors before the sweepwire had time to slip up along the anchor cable and touch the mine and cause it to explode beneath the surface. As many of these floating mines as possible were exploded or sunk with riflefire, but once they were lost to sight it was difficult to find many of them.

Thus the Patuxent and the Patapsco were steaming along, laboriously dragging their sweep between them, now exploding a mine below the surface, now cutting one loose from its mooring, when suddenly all bedlam let loose!

Rapid-fire explosions of mines occurred on every side in quick succession. Towering columns of glistening, white water sprang high into the air on every hand, poising for an instant, then settling down again with a thunderous roar.

Vessel Damaged

The Patuxent seemed to stop for an instant, as if stunned, and then, as the water and spray around her settled back again, great clouds of black smoke, flame and red coals belched out of her funnel. The lights below deck dimmed, and went out. The steel floor plates in the fire room, with firemen standing on them, were hurled about, and an ever-widening circle of muddy brown water spread out around the ship. The Patuxent had been countermined. One of the mines set off by the sweepwire had detonated several others.

Happily, the mine that exploded directly beneath the Patuxent had been planted at the deepest level, 260 feet down. An upper level mine would have blown her out of the sea. Aside from a scare and a few minor damages, the Patuxent got off easy.

The next mine caught in the sweep exploded and shattered the sweepwire, and before the break could be mended a blinding snowstorm ended this second experiment on the North Sea Mine Barrage.

We had sampled a danger with which we were to be faced constantly during the coming spring and summer months—a danger which no human effort could avert.

New Sweepers

The new electrical protective device would prevent mines exploding when in contact with the ships, but against these countermine explosions it was of no avail. An upper-level countermine beneath the sturdiest sweeper would certainly destroy her.

By now a flock of the newly-built sweepers were half-way across the Atlantic. Someone with a sense of humor had given the new sweepers the gentlest of names—the Penguin, the Pelican, Flamingo, Sanderling, Lapwing, Bobolink and other bird names—and what a weird and violent future confronted them!

Little did the crews of these staunch little vessels suspect what was in store for them, though they did know that the average life of a mine sweeper on the mine field is reckoned at 20 days and that the Red Rose and the Red Fern, the Patuxent and the Patapsco had narrowly escaped destruction in a few hours' experiments during the winter.

The first of the new sweepers from the States arrived at Base 18, Inverness, Scotland, in the latter part of April, 1919. After a short rest from their long trans-Atlantic voyage, 12 sweepers and six submarine chasers left Inverness and headed for the great adventure on the Mine Barrage.

At the end of two days we returned to port, having accounted for only a handful of mines.

From the little that we had accomplished, it was evident that it would require years for 12 sweepers to complete so tremendous a job, and so 20 additional ships were requisitioned from home Navy yards, and 20 newly-built steam trawlers were chartered from the British admiralty.

Kites Soon Destroyed

None of the 12 ships had been damaged in the first two-day operation, although mines exploding in our sweepwire had often caused others to explode nearby. And submarine chasers, following in our wake to sink the mines we had cut adrift, learned that the mines would explode sometimes when shot at with rifles and machine guns.

When fitted out for the expedition, each mine sweeper had been supplied with three kites, designed to fly down in the water, just as a boy's kite flies up in the air and keep the sweepwire at any desired depth in the sea.

Three kites had seemed an excessive supply. But in the first two days the entire allowance of kites had been blown away by mine explosions.

Aside from the problem of keeping the sweepers supplied with sweep gear, our hopes had risen in the first operation. We thought the good fortune would continue. But it seemed that all the ill luck had been stored up for the second operation.

No sooner had the sweepers reached the mine field for the second time than casualties began, from an entirely unexpected source. We had devised a means of protecting the steel hulls of the sweepers, so that they would not set off the electric mechanism of the mines and explode them. Then we discovered that one mine set off in our sweepwires would sometimes cause others, nearby, to explode. But this third hazard was the most worrisome of all.

Ship Blown Apart

The old Patuxent, a veteran of the early experiments on the mine field, was the first victim. The sweepwire that she and the Patapsco were dragging between them was severed by the explosion of a mine, and the two loose ends had to be hauled in to be repaired.

By the time the kite came up to the surface a few feet astern of the Patuxent, a mine was discovered fouled in the kite, and it was necessary to clear the mine away before the kite could be taken aboard. The commanding officer, realizing the danger, sent all hands forward, away from the scene of trouble and went aft, himself, assisted by one volunteer, and proceeded to haul in the sweepwire.

When the mine was within four or five feet of the Patuxent's stern, suddenly, without warning, or apparent cause, it exploded. For an instant the entire ship was obscured in a mass of flying water, and when it subsided four of the crew could be seen struggling in the sea. All of them were rescued by shipmates.

The captain was perhaps the luckiest of all. Standing only a few feet away from the mine when it exploded, his only injury was the loss of his right thumb, carried away by a fragment of the mine's shell.

Two days later an identical accident befell the Bobolink, Bob Longwell, of Wilkinsburg, is a survivor of the Bobolink's catastrophe. The captain, as in the Patuxent's case, went aft on the Bobolink to clear the mine, himself, after sending all hands forward to comparative safety. The mine exploded before he could do anything to clear it away from the kite.

The commanding officer, Lieut. Frank Brice, was killed and several men were blown into the water, one officer landing in the sea, unconscious, a hundred feet from the ship. The Bobolink was virtually destroyed.

Another two days and the sweeper Turkey was countermined and had to be towed to Invergordon to drydock. The Sanderling fouled a mine in her kite soon after the Turkey was countermined, and had her propeller blown off.

And real misfortunes hadn't yet begun.

(Continued tomorrow.)

TRAINING FOR THE COUNTY FAIR'S HORSE SHOW

Photo by Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

J. H. M'GRATH ON "APRIL GIRL" MARGARET M'GRATH, 17, ON "SARGON"

MR. M'GRATH AND HIS DAUGHTER, 4031 CALIFORNIA AVENUE, TWO OF THE ENTRANTS FOR THE COUNTY FAIR SHOW

Girl, 8, Reported Missing by Uncle

Catherine Scott, 8, blonde, blue-eyed and barefoot, was reported missing from the home of her uncle on the Brodhead road, according to a report to police. She disappeared at 7 p. m. last night.

PRIZE HORSES WILL FEATURE COUNTY FAIR

More than 200 horses, including expensive thoroughbreds, huge draft and speedy harness horses, will be on exhibition for visitors to the County Fair opening Thursday in South Park.

There will be a saddle horse show, draft horse exhibit and light harness horse races for those persons who are equestrian minded. County Commissioners, who are in charge of the county's first fair, said today that the show will be one of the fair's outstanding attractions.

Mrs. Simon T. Patterson, society woman, is superintendent of the saddle horse show. Col. George H. Cherrington, who is assisting her as chairman, announced today that 21 events have been listed and that nearly 150 horses will be entered.

He said:

"It should be one of the finest shows ever held in the county. Mighty fine horse shows with just two-thirds the number that have entered the fair have been held in this section."

Some of the early entries, he said, are Mrs. Clark Miller, Buckley Byers, Horton Singer, Mrs. Patterson, John H. McGrath, Allegheny County park policemen and the Handley Court Stables.

The judging will start Friday morning, continue through Saturday afternoon and finish Monday about noon. Judges for the hunters and jumpers are Maj. E. L. Hubbard and Capt. Harry B. Peebles, both of the 308th Cavalry, and William Barry Hamilton. Judging the ponies and saddle horses will be laughrey Roberts and Mr. Hamilton.

Ten classes are listed in the draft horse exhibit, according to David McDonald, superintendent of the city stables, in charge of this section of the show. He said that 43 horses are entered so far in this division. Judging will start Friday morning.

Monday afternoon five light harness horse races, to include pacers and trotters, will be held on the half-mile track.

Silver trophies, blue and red ribbons will be awarded various winners in the three divisions of the horse show.

Labor Day at noon the winners will parade around the track, led by a band and the city and county police.

Minnehaha Falls Laughs Again After Drought

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Minnehaha Falls, Poet Longfellow's "Laughing Water," laughed again for a moment yesterday.

Dry for several years because of extended drought, the famous falls was "fed" water so that the cruiser Minneapolis, scheduled for completion in Philadelphia September 6, might be christened with authentic "laughing water."

While Thomas B. Mouer, who is to represent Minneapolis at the christening, stood below with a bottle, workmen above the falls released city water impounded by a dam. The filled bottle will be broken over the bows of the new cruiser as it slides into the water for its maiden voyage.

BOY LOSES LIFE STEALING RIDE

Joseph Porch, 16, of 129 Johnston avenue, Hazelwood, was killed late yesterday when he fell under a truck in Second avenue near Lock No. 1.

John McClean, 28, of 5 Graphic street, the driver, told police Porch and several other boys were stealing a ride on the truck. McClean ordered them off, but when he turned to drive the boys again boarded the truck, police said the driver told them. Porch slipped under the right rear wheel and suffered a fractured skull.

Judge Would Lash Wife Deserters

BLOOMSBURG, Pa., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Judge Charles C. Evans, of the Columbia County Court, believes that men who desert their wives should be lashed at the whipping post.

The jurist told Wesley G. Wilson, after the latter admitted yesterday he had neglected his wife and two children:

"Any husband like you ought to be subjected to a public whipping."

Judge Evans then ordered Wilson to pay his wife $15 monthly.

COLONIAL TRUST BACKS BANK IN WILKINSBURG

The Colonial Trust Company of Pittsburgh has agreed to act as trustee to the First National Bank at Wilkinsburg, George R. Craig, secretary of the planning committee told a meeting of the depositors and stockholders of the new institution in the Wilkinsburg High School last night.

Mr. Craig said the new bank will come into existence with deposits exceeding $2,000,000, all assets sound and approved by the Comptroller of Currency. He further stated:

"As yet there are no stockholders. There are only subscribers. Consequently, no stock can be sold until a board of directors is selected. They then will form a corporation and issue stock to the subscriber. In the next step, the Comptroller of Currency will issue a government license and the bank will then be ready to open its doors."

William M. Turner, former burgess of Wilkinsburg, and recently appointed postmaster of Pittsburgh, who helped form the new bank, said:

"Nothing has happened to hurt Wilkinsburg more in many years than the closing of the old bank. There is nothing that has happened to encourage the people of Wilkinsburg more than the opening of this new bank."

Joseph T. Miller, chairman of the planning committee, said:

"We pressed forth for support from all organizations, clubs, and to the city of Pittsburgh in general, and we received support."

Thomas M. Allen, general chairman, presided.

Hoover Sets Out On Fishing Cruise

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Sword-fishing has lured Herbert Hoover to Southern California waters.

Accompanied by Lee A. Phillips, insurance man and financier, the former President shoved off from San Pedro in Phillips' 100-foot yacht Pasado Manana. The yacht was provisioned for a week's fishing expedition.

Free Service for your Lighter

VISIT our Exhibition Room and drop over to the Gulf Pump that re-fills your cigarette lighter, free of charge. Smoking is permitted and you will enjoy your inspection of the newest Gulf Products. Be sure to see the 1932 Chevrolet 4-cycle engine in action.

THE GULF EXHIBIT
707-709 GRANT STREET

GULF

"CAMELS DON'T JANGLE MY NERVES"

Camel's costlier Tobaccos
Never get on your Nerves... Never tire your Taste

You and Your Camay Complexion Are a Pair to be Envied by All!

If you value the texture of your skin—if you care at all about its "feel" and its appearance—then, by all means, use Camay.

For Camay—the Soap of Beautiful Women—can make a noticeable improvement in the texture of your skin.

THE SOAP OF BEAUTIFUL WOMEN

Nothing so caressingly rich as Camay's gentle lather has ever touched your cheek before.

Luxuriant to use—fragrant to smell—creamy-white and pure, Camay is a 1933 beauty soap—a new perfection of soap—a new cosmetic that can assist your beauty.

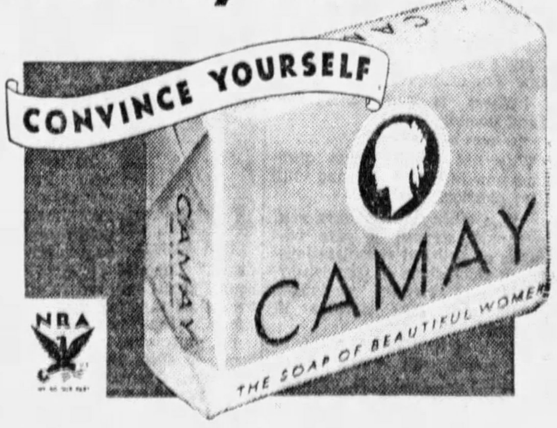
"Camay is the mildest soap I've ever used. And I love the way it lathers," said the charming girl who posed for the photograph above.

CONVINCE YOURSELF

Exciting things have happened in 1933. Thousands and thousands of lovely women are changing their old soap habits—forsaking all other soaps and turning to Camay.

Try Camay yourself. A new smooth texture will flatter your hands—a new clear beauty will come into your cheek—a soft and radiant Camay Complexion will be yours.

Be modern. Keep up with the times. You and your Camay Complexion are lovelier than you are alone!



Rich of lather—freshly fragrant—Camay, the Soap of Beautiful Women, is made to order for the feminine skin. In its green and yellow wrapper, Camay is on display at dealers' everywhere—featured at an attractive low price. Get your supply today!

CAMAY THE SOAP OF BEAUTIFUL WOMEN

FIGHT OVER POLL ASSESSMENT IN COURT

Argument was scheduled for this afternoon on a rule granted by Common Pleas Court on the petition of District Attorney Andrew T. Park directed against the Board for the Assessment and Revision of Taxes to show cause why certain persons should not be enrolled on the poll tax list.

Argument will be heard at the same time on a motion to quash the alternative mandamus action, presented this morning by counsel for the tax board. It was contended that Park's petition "does not set forth a clear duty of the board to perform an act."

Complaint having been made to the District Attorney by Betty Liderman, 7118 Idlewild street, and Lathan Flannigan, 624 Clyde street, that assessors refused to enroll them, Park appealed to the court as required by law.

According to the rule granted, the tax revision board is required to show cause why all citizens who may present themselves in a lawful and orderly manner shall not be assessed and enrolled. Should the alternative writ of mandamus be allowed it is contended many thousands of names would have to be added, provided those who have been denied enrollment appear in person before the board.

Flannigan claims that he lives in the First District of the Seventh Ward, and the sub-assessor at No. 28 Engine Company on August 11 refused to assess him. Betty Liderman claims the board failed to assess her August 13 last, when she appeared before its members.

Judges Elder W. Marshall and John P. Egan last week refused action in a similar proceeding, holding they could not make a blanket order covering 10,000 individual assessments.

The court said each individual case must be considered, although the petition asking assessment set forth there were 10,000 other individuals waiting for a similar purpose. The court only directed that the petitioner be assessed.

BLUE SHIRT AIM HELD MYSTERY

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Sean O'Kelly, vice president of the executive council of the Irish Free State and minister for local government and public health, arrived today on the liner Laconia.

He was interested in reports from Ireland indicating a fusion between the Center Party, of which William T. Cosgrave is chief, and the Blue Shirts, or National Guard, of which Gen. Eoin O'Duffy is the head.

Asked whether he understood the objectives of the O'Duffy group, O'Kelly said:

"Gen. O'Duffy has issued manifesto after manifesto. Not once has he stated what his objective is. There is certainly no new political objective, except to get rid of the present government."

The Free State vice president said he was satisfied that instead of losing strength since he took office, President De Valera "is growing in strength steadily."

FATE OF 6 NUNS UNCERTAIN

HANKOW, China, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—The fate of eight Catholic missionaries, six of them nuns from the Pittsburgh district, trapped for two months in the siege of Yuanchow, remained uncertain here today.

A telegram informing the American consolate here that government troops had recaptured the town also says that there is no cause for worry concerning the Americans. It does not, however, mention their present whereabouts or conditions.

The six nuns isolated are Sisters Genevieve Ryan, Christiana Worth, Magdaline Ivan Dosario Goss, Saintanne Callahan and Mary Mark Mullen, all of the Sisters of St. Joseph, with headquarters at Baden, Pa. Two priests with them are reported to be the Rev. Edward McCarthy, of Boston, and the Rev. Francis Flaherty, of Cincinnati, members of the American Passionist Order.

Moves for Economy After Scottish Visit

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Hereafter, if Alderman Herbert S. Simpson has his way, visiting celebrities will have to get along somehow without a police escort.

Home from a visit to Scotland, the alderman last night introduced a resolution in the City Council providing that visiting notables receive no police escorts except on special order of the Mayor. The alderman said he had figured it up and found that the escorting business had been costing the village something like $600 a year.

'Allegheny 'Y' Boys Engage in Hike

Allegheny Y. M. C. A. boys took a train to Glenfield, will hike to Mount Nebo, ride horseback, and return home by trolley from Avalon today. W. D. Helfer, boys' work secretary, is in charge of the party.

Police Hunt Rider Who Stops Freight

West End and Pennsylvania Railroad police today sought a man who hopped a freight on the Panhandle division, pulled the air brake and stopped the train at the DU tower, near Main street, West End.

PICKING A STEER-ON-THE-HOOF FOR DEMOCRATS' ROAST

MRS. J. WOOD CLARK — DAVID L. LAWRENCE — MRS. LAWRENCE

The Democratic County Chairman Lawrence and Mrs. Clark, his vice chairman, in an East End packing house with the steer they selected for the old-fashioned ox roast that will feature the Western Pennsylvania Democratic rally Saturday at Kennywood Park.

Altoona Man Held In Fatal Ohio Fight

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Aug. 29.—(INS.)—Charles Donnelly, 45, of Altoona, Pa., faced arraignment on an intoxication charge today as the sequel to a row which resulted directly in the death of one man and indirectly in the death of another.

His arraignment is expected to close the investigation of the death of Frank Williams, 60, and the inquiry into the fatal fall of an unidentified man, about 40, while attempting to escape after the fight.

French Guard Wine Reputation in U. S.

PARIS, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—French wine interests were warned today against exaggerated estimates of future American trade and against dealing with "unqualified persons or groups." The warning came from the executive committee of the Export Commission.

The commission advised "greatest prudence," expressing fear that there would be disappointments and perhaps damage to France's reputation in the United States, thereby hurting wine sales.

Catholic Students To Enroll Friday

First year and ecclesiastical students will report to the Boys' Catholic High School, Fifth avenue, Oakland, for registration Friday. Second year students will be assigned to their classes September 5; third year students, September 6; and fourth year students, September 7.

Bishop Hugh C. Boyle of the Pittsburgh diocese will say mass at the school September 8. Twelve additional Christian brothers will join the teaching staff this year.

BRITON VISITS TECH; TALK OF COAL

England is watching with interest America's efforts to cure sick Old King Coal, according to Sir Harold Hartley, chairman of the Fuel Research Board of Great Britain. In Pittsburgh to viist the coal research laboratory at the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Sir Harold, as research director of the London, Midland and Scottish Railway, is interested in American railways and their fuel problems.

Coal research, Sir Harold pointed out, tends to reduce consumption of coal by improving the efficiency of engines and boilers. The need thus created for less coal creates more unemployment. President Roosevelt's NRA plan, therefore, as one solution of the unemployment problem, he said, was engaging the interest of all England.

His chief reasons for visiting this country, Sir Harold said, were to inspect American railroads and American research laboratories.

British railways, like those here, he said, are experimenting with light rail units of wood and aluminum, and are interested in American air conditioning of trains.

Sir Harold, also a fellow of the Royal Society, was the guest of Dr. Thomas S. Baker, president of Carnegie Tech, at a dinner in his honor at the Pittsburgh Athletic Association last night.

Dr. H. H. Lowry, director of the Coal Research Laboratories, was Sir Harold's guide during his visit yesterday.

LOW ROUND TRIP FARES
—OVER——LABOR DAY—
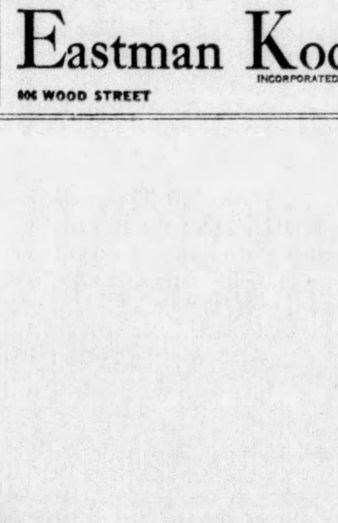
BETWEEN ALL STATIONS
and to certain points on Connecting Railroads
Good in Coaches or Sleeping Cars
Reduced Round Trip Pullman Sleeping Car Rates
Travel in Comfort and Safety . . . By Train
BALTIMORE AND OHIO RAILROAD
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
PITTSBURGH AND LAKE ERIE RAILROAD

OPENS LIKE A JACK-IN-THE-BOX



Jiffy Kodak

STOP IN AND TRY IT

NOW we can show you a folding camera that's as easy to use as a Brownie. The new Jiffy Kodak—Eastman's latest.

Just touch a button, and—Pop—it opens, ready to take a picture. Touch another—Click—and the picture is made. That's how the Jiffy gives you box camera simplicity, with folding camera convenience. A beautifully finished camera, with its smart combination of metals and enamels. And a fine picture maker as well.

Jiffy Kodak Six-16 is for 2½ x 4¼ pictures, $7.50. Jiffy Kodak Six-20 for 2¼ x 3¼ pictures, $6 75 Come in and try this interesting camera. Press the buttons and see for yourself.

BRING US YOUR FILMS FOR CAREFUL FINISHING

Eastman Kodak Stores INCORPORATED

806 WOOD STREET Telephone ATLANTIC 6227

There are other good cigarettes but they are not like Chesterfield

. . . . and Chesterfields are not like any other cigarette.

As soon as you light up a Chesterfield, we believe you will notice that they are mild. And before very long, you will certainly notice that they taste better.

These things don't just happen so. There isn't any accident about it. For we put into CHESTERFIELDS all that Science knows and money can buy to make them "satisfy."

Just try them!

Chesterfield

the cigarette that's MILDER · the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

© 1933, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

JENSEN STARS AS BUC ATTACK TAKES ON NEW LIFE

SUN-TELEGRAPH SPORTS

SPORT COMMENT

By James J. Long

Why Not Start Chagnon?
Monday Bucs' Lucky Day.
French Overcomes Hoodoo.
Maranville Chases Honus.
Tradition Against Tony.
Checker Record Sought.

PIRATE RELIEF MAN OUTDOING REGULARS

While admitting that Leon Chagnon did not make an impressive record as a starting pitcher earlier in the season, when he went the route only once in five trials, Pirate followers believe that his continued excellent relief work warrants his being given another chance as a regular. The Bucs need pitchers who can throw that ball with something behind it, and Chagnon has that ability.

Leon Chagnon

Leon has been brilliant against all opponents in relief roles lately, and surely appears to be deserving of a starting opportunity in view of the fact that Bill Swift has not won a game since July 17 and has been lifted from five of seven games started in the meantime; Steve Swetonic has not gone the distance once in five starts since July 17, and Heinie Meine has pitched only one complete game in five starts since July 22. Certainly Chagnon could not do worse.

The successes of Chagnon and Larry French in toppling the Phils twice yesterday improved the Pirates' position to such an extent as to leave the club only one game below third place and only two games below second place.

BUCS LOSE ONLY ONE MONDAY GAME

Monday has been the Corsairs' lucky day this season. They have lost only one game on that day of the week, 3-to-0 shutout here on May 23 at the hands of Watson Clark, while the latter still was hurling for the Dodgers. The Gibsons have won eight Monday games, five of them from the Phils.

In spite of consistently good pitching, it took Larry French more than four weeks to hang up his thirteenth victory of the year, as he hadn't won a game since July 27 and had completed only one out of six contests started in the interim.

FOHL AND WAMBY RIVAL SEMI-PRO MANAGERS

Lee Fohl, former Pittsburgher, who managed the Cleveland, Boston and St. Louis clubs in the American League from 1916 to 1923, now is running a semi-pro team in Cleveland.

And one of his rival managers is Bill Wambsganss, who played second base under Fohl when the latter managed the Indians, and the only man who ever made a triple play unassisted in a world series game.

PHILLIES HOLD RECORD FOR NON-SHUTOUTS

The success of the Philadelphia and Boston Nationals in going through 132 games in 1894 without being shut out has been cited as the closest approach to the Yankees' record of 308 games, but 132 was not the highest previous mark. Both clubs went longer than that one season without being blanked. The Phils made the better mark, as their streak extended from August 16, 1893, to May 11, 1895, a run of 187 scoring games. Like the Yanks, the old Phillies owed their long escape from shutouts to their slugging power. They had two of the greatest hitters of all time in Ed Delehanty and Sam Thompson. Jack Clements and several others also could send the ball away, and Billy Hamilton was the best base-runner and run-getter in the game prior to the coming of Ty Cobb.

MARANVILLE WOULD BEAT HONUS' MARK

Perhaps you think that baseball's marvel of endurance, Rabbit Maranville, has no further ambition in planning to go right ahead with his remarkable career than merely to keep on playing as long as possible for the sake of the financial returns.

Rabbit Maranville

But the Rabbit reveals that he has a goal. He wants to continue playing until he has beaten Honus Wagner's record for number of games played in the National League. And he has a chance, too, if he can stick in there as a regular through next year. Wagner played in 2,785 games in his 21 seasons. Maranville in a similar period has taken part in 2,615 games up to date and can pass the Dutchman's mark by playing in 171 more contests.

One of the greatest changes that Maranville sees in the majors has to do with the spirit of the young players who come up. He says they lack the fire, fight and zest of the ambitious recruits of his day. Staying on a club is made too easy for them, he thinks, saying:

"Why, a star today is peeved if he doesn't have two or three understudies. In the old days the veteran regulars burned themselves out playing at top speed so that the youngsters could not break in. The game has been made too soft for the incoming kids, and they show it in their lack of fight."

CANZONERI MAY ESTABLISH TITLE PRECEDENT

If Tony Canzoneri succeeds in defeating Barney Ross for the lightweight ring championship in their return match in New York on September 13, Tony will be the first dethroned titleholder ever to regain the crown in that class. The only case suggesting a second reign was that of Joe Gans, and many fistic authorities contend that Gans never had lost the title before he came back to re-establish himself. After winning the championship by knocking out Frank Erne, conqueror of Kid Lavigne, in the first round of a bout in 1902, Gans refused to make the limit of 133 pounds ringside and Jimmy Britt claimed the title until defeated by Battling Nelson in 1905. Nelson then became the claimant, and his manager, Billy Nolan, dictated the terms of a title match with Gans in 1906, forcing Joe to weigh in at 133 pounds ringside wearing his ring togs. Gans won on a foul in the forty-second round.

Though Gans, from 1902 to 1906, could not or would not make the weight and fought among the welters, old-timers assert that, on the accepted principle that a fighter cannot lose a championship otherwise than in competition in the ring, the Baltimore Negro still was champion when he first met Nelson.

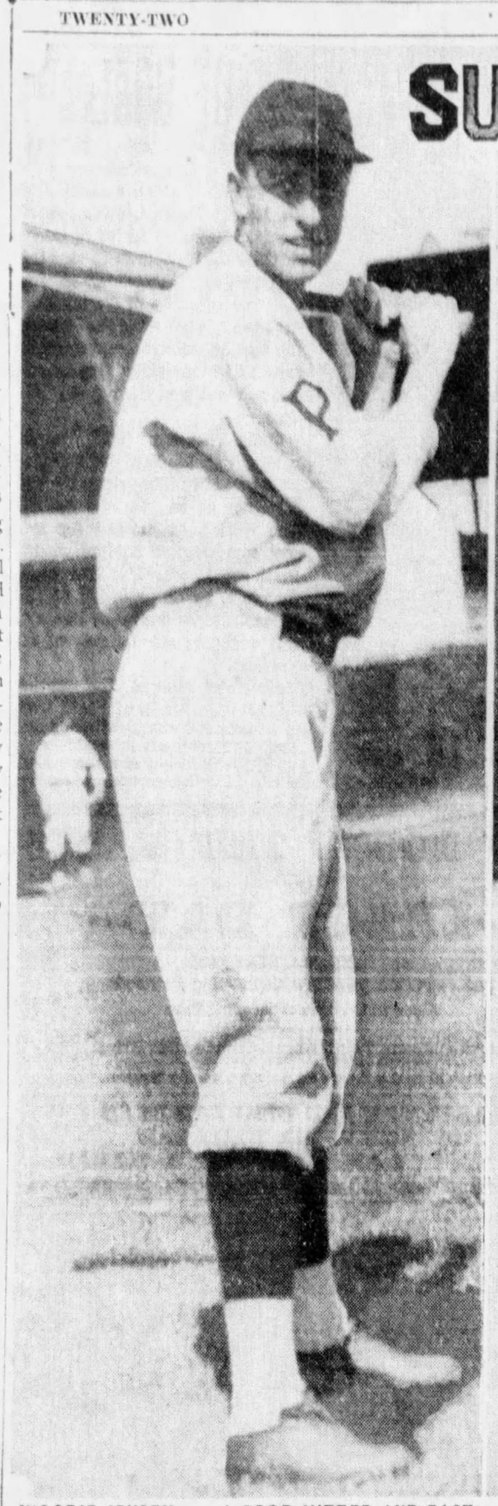
That was the nearest thing to what might be called a recapture of the lightweight title. Only two former champions tried to get back on the throne and both were defeated, Gans was beaten again by Nelson two months after losing the crown to him in 1908, and Ad Wolgast, unseated by Willie Ritchie on a foul in 1912, tried to regain the title from Freddie Welsh in 1916, only to lose again on a foul.

BANKS OUT TO BREAK CHECKER RECORD

Among the novel sports features that remain to be staged in Chicago in connection with the World Fair is an attempt that Newell Banks, professional champion, will make to beat his own world record for simultaneous play in checkers. This record was set in Detroit last March, when he played against 133 opponents.

Banks did not lose a match in the 133 games, and he

(Continued on Page Twenty-four.)



WOODIE JENSEN . . . A GOOD HITTER AND FAST

With the Pirates for two years, although optioned to the Newark International League club most of last year, Forrest (Woodie) Jensen, 24-year-old outfield star, is getting a chance to win a regular job, replacing L. Waner and coming through in fine style. He is tall, but built for speed, and makes hard chances in the outfield look easy. The Yankees wanted to grab

CLOSEUP OF JENSEN . . . . HE REPLACES L. WANER IN THE PIRATE LINEUP

WOODIE ROAMING IN THE FIELD . . . . A BALL HAWK

him from Newark, but the Pirates refused to give him up. He collected four hits in the first game of yesterday's doubleheader with the Phillies. These are Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph pictures.

WOMEN STARS BATTLE FOR PARK TITLE

By PAUL G. SULLIVAN

Mrs. Helene Kauffeld, Mount Lebanon luminary, meets Elizabeth Cone, dark horse contender, in final contest for women's singles honors of the District IX parks-playgrounds tennis championships on the South Park gallery court at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon. Concurrently with the feminine singles windup, title tussles in the men's and women's doubles are slated to be staged.

Yesterday's bill, punctuated by intermittent showers, failed to advance the tilting as far as officials had hoped. Despite the uncertain weather, however, Henry Ackerman, Rockwood ace, and Ted Rosenthal, Bureau of Mines entry, advanced abreast of Champion Russ Unger in the semi-final bracket, Ackerman eliminating Earl Myers and Rosenthal accounting for Walter Douglas. Both verdicts read 6-3, 6-2. Remaining man-to-man engagement for entry into the penultimate frame is slated for early today, Harry Wald, ex-Pitt satellite, battling Walter Kase, surprise conqueror of Pittsburgh Parks Premier Al McCorkle.

SEMI-FINALS TODAY

Men's singles semi-finals will be late-afternoon features, with concluding masculine fracas listed for the morrow at 5:30 o'clock. Jack Redmond and Al Lazar, P. A. A.-Highland combine, achieved the men's doubles final yesterday by virtue of a 6-3, 6-2 decision over Dick Young and McCorkle.

The East Enders tangle with survivor of impending fray between the Frank Broida-Harry Wald coalition and the E. J. Grennan-Locke array. In the ladies' dual terminal skirmish, the McColligan sisters encounter Hazel Dixon, of Rockwood, and Ruth Challis, of Sewickley. The McColligans trimmed Mrs. Kauffeld and Mildred Cartwright, 6-0, 6-1, yesterday.

Billy O'Loughlin and Frank Broida meet at 5:30 o'clock tomorrow for top honors of the second annual Stanton Heights invitation men's singles tourney.

The parks-playgrounds summary:

MEN'S SINGLES

Fourth round—Walter Douglas won from Harry Tsorvas by default.

Fifth round—Ted Rosenthal defeated Walter Dougler, 6-3, 6-2; Henry Ackerman defeated Earl Myers, 6-3, 6-2.

MEN'S DOUBLES

Fourth round—Frank Broida and Harry Wald defeated James Criswell and Frank Moore, 6-2, 6-3.

Semi-final round—Jack Redmond and Albert Lazar defeated Dick Young and S. A. McCorkle, 6-3, 6-2.

WOMEN'S DOUBLES

Semi-final round—Elizabeth McColligan and Marie McColligan defeated Mrs. Heneie Kauffeld and Mildred Cartwright, 6-0, 6-1.

Sidney Wood, Net Star, Engaged

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—The engagement of Miss Edith Godfrey Betts, New York society girl, to Sidney B. Wood, Jr., fourth ranking American tennis player, has been announced.

Major League Run Scoring For Week

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Clubs.	S.	M.	T.	W.	T.	F.	S.	Tls.
PITTSBURGH			18					18
Philadelphia			6					6
New York		6	8					14
St. Louis	12	12						24
Brooklyn	5							5
Chicago	4							4
Boston	10	0						10
Cincinnati	5	2						7

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Clubs.	S.	M.	T.	W.	T.	F.	S.	Tls.
Chicago	14	5						19
Philadelphia	11	9						20
Boston	10							10
St. Louis	10							10
Detroit	6	6						12
New York	15	1						16
Washington	17							17
Cleveland	7							7

Blind Swimmer To Try Again

TORONTO, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—That perennial entrant, "Blind Mike" Hambourg, will be in the field again when the Canadian National Exhibition's 15-mile marathon swim gets under way tomorrow, still hopeful of winning the cash prize that might regain for him his sight.

The $5,000 first prize would enable him to take a trip to Europe to see a specialist, who, Mike thinks, may be able to restore his sight.

Toronto Baseball Official Succumbs

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Ill of heart trouble for two weeks, James A. Dunn, vice president of the Toronto International League Baseball Club died in a hospital here last night. He was 52.

Convalescing!

YESTERDAY'S SCORES

FIRST GAME

PITTSBURGH	AB.	R.	H.	P.	A.	E.
Jensen, lf	6	1	4	3	0	0
Lindstrom, cf	6	0	2	2	0	0
P. Waner, rf	5	1	0	1	0	0
Traynor, 3b	5	1	1	2	2	0
Vaughan, ss	3	2	3	1	2	0
Suhr, 1b	4	1	2	9	1	0
Thevenow, 2b	5	1	3	5	4	2
Grace, c	3	1	1	3	0	0
Swift, p	2	0	0	0	1	0
Chagnon, p	3	1	0	1	2	0
Totals	42	9	16	27	12	2

PHILA.	AB.	R.	H.	P.	A.	E.
Fullis, cf	5	0	2	0	0	1
Bartell, ss	5	1	4	6	2	0
Klein, rf	5	0	1	5	0	0
Hurst, 1b	5	0	1	9	0	0
Davis, c	5	1	2	3	0	0
Schulmerich, lf	4	1	2	2	0	0
Warner, 2b	4	1	0	1	5	0
Knothe, 3b	4	1	1	1	2	0
Elliott, p	3	0	0	0	2	0
Berly, p	0	0	0	0	1	0
*McCurdy	1	0	0	0	0	0
Liska, p	0	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	41	5	13	27	12	3

*McCurdy batted for Berly in eighth.

Pittsburgh	0	0	0	2	0	4	0	3	0—9
Philadelphia	1	1	0	2	0	0	0	0	1—5

Runs batted in—By Hurst, Fullis, Thevenow 3, Knothe, Bartell, Jensen, Lindstrom 3, Vaughan 2, Davis.

Two-base hits — Thevenow, Lindstrom, Bartell.

Home run—Davis.

Earned runs—Pittsburgh 8, Philadelphia 4.

Double plays—Knothe to Warner to Hurst; Warner to Bartell to Hurst.

First base on balls—Off Elliott 2 (Grace, Vaughan); off Berly 3 (Vaughan, Suhr, Grace); off Swift 1 (Knothe); o* Chagnon 1 (Schulmerich).

Wild pitch—Berly.

Hits—Off Swift, 7 hits and 4 runs in 4 innings; off Chagnon, 6 hits and 1 run in 5 innings; off Elliott, 9 hits and 6 runs in 5⅔ innings; off Berly, 5 hits and 3 runs in 2⅓ innings; off Liska 1 hit in 1 inning.

First base on errors—Pittsburgh 1, Philadelphia 2.

Sacrifice hit—Warner.

Left on bases—Pittsburgh 11, Philadelphia 12.

Double play—Swift 1 (Elliott); to Chagnon 2 (Knothe, Warner); by Elliott 1 (Traynor); by Liska 1 (Chagnon).

Winning pitcher—Chagnon.

Losing pitcher—Elliott.

Umpires—Moran and Magerkurth.

Time of game—2:08.

SECOND GAME.

PITTSBURGH.	AB.	R.	H.	P.	A.	E.
Jensen, lf	5	1	0	5	0	0
Lindstrom, cf	5	3	3	3	0	0
P. Waner, rf	4	2	2	1	0	0
Traynor, 3b	5	2	3	0	2	0
Vaughan, ss	5	1	3	0	0	0
Suhr, 1b	3	0	1	10	0	0
Thevenow, 2b	4	0	0	1	2	0
Picinich, c	4	0	1	7	0	0
French, p	4	0	1	0	1	0
Totals	39	9	14	27	5	0

PHILA.	AB.	R.	H.	P.	A.	E.
Fullis, cf	4	0	0	4	0	0
Bartell, ss	4	0	1	2	3	0
Klein, rf	4	1	2	1	0	0
Hurst, 1b	4	0	0	9	1	0
Davis, c	4	0	2	4	1	0
Schulmerich, lf	4	0	1	5	0	0
Warner, 2b	4	0	0	0	5	0
Knothe, 3b	2	0	0	3	1	0
Holley, p	2	0	0	0	0	0
*Todd	1	0	0	0	0	0
Regland, p	0	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	33	1	6	27	11	0

*Todd batted for Holley in eighth.

Pittsburgh	0	1	4	0	0	0	3	0	1—9
Philadelphia	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1—1

Runs batted in—By Thevenow, Lindstrom, Vaughan 4, Traynor 2, P. Waner, Schulmerich.

Two-base hits—Bartell, P. Waner, Klein.

Three-base hit—Vaughan.

Home runs—Lindstrom, Vaughan.

Earned runs—Pittsburgh 9, Philadelphia 1.

First base on balls—Off Holley 3 (Suhr 2, P. Waner); off French 1 (Knothe).

Hits—Off Holley, 12 hits and 8 runs in 8 innings; off Regland, 2 hits and 1 run in 1 inning.

Left on bases—Pittsburgh 6, Philadelphia 6.

Struck out—By Holley 3 (Lindstrom, Picinich, French); by French 7 (Schulmerich, Holley, Hurst, Klein, Knothe, Fullis, Bartell).

Losing pitcher—Holley.

Umpires—Magerkurth and Moran.

Time of game—1:34.

DAYTON BEATS COLS.

DAYTON, O., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Dayton defeated the Louisville Colonels of the American Association last night in an exhibition game, 5 to 3. Two Louisville errors were combined by the Bucks with two infield outs to count two runs in the fifth.

BROVELLI HERE TO START GRID GRIND

Angel Brovelli, former great fullback of St. Mary's College in California, arrived in Pittsburgh this morning to join the local squad in the National Professional Football League.

The Coast star, who likely will be transformed into a halfback for Art Rooney's club, which goes into training Friday, went to a downtown hotel, where he will be joined by other incoming stars.

Brovelli is regarded as the outstanding bit of talent signed by the local outfit, which opens its season against Cincinnati at Forbes Field on Saturday night, September 16.

MAJOR LEAGUES

Tuesday, August 29, 1933.
(Time is eastern daylight.)

GAMES TODAY

NATIONAL LEAGUE

PITTSBURGH AT PHILADELPHIA, clear, 3:30 p. m.

St. Louis at New York, cloudy (2), 1:45 and 3:45 p. m.

Chicago at Brooklyn, cloudy (2), 1:30 and 3:30 p. m.

Others not scheduled.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

New York at Detroit, clear, 4 p. m.

Philadelphia at Chicago, clear, 4 p. m.

Boston at St. Louis, clear (2), 3:30 and 5:30 p. m.

Washington at Cleveland, clear (2), 2:30 and 4:30 p. m.

Conquers the Channel

SUNNY LOWRY, OF ENGLAND, WITH TRAINER JABEZ WHITE

Miss Lowry, 22-year-old Manchester girl, today completed the crossing of the English Channel from Cape Gris Nez, France, making the trip in less than 16 hours. It is the first successful attempt of the year. White himself swam the channel years ago. This is an International News Photograph Service picture.

Major League Summary

STANDING OF THE CLUBS

NATIONAL LEAGUE

1932.	Won.	Lost.	Pct.	G. B.
7 New York	71	46	.607	....
6 Boston	68	55	.553	6
1 Chicago	67	56	.545	7
2 PITTSBURGH	65	56	.537	8
5 St. Louis	66	57	.537	8
3 Brooklyn	50	68	.424	21½
4 Philadelphia	50	70	.417	22½
8 Cincinnati	48	77	.384	27½

AMERICAN LEAGUE

1932.	Won.	Lost.	Pct.	G. B.
3 Washington	81	42	.659	....
1 New York	72	50	.590	8½
4 Cleveland	66	56	.516	15½
2 Philadelphia	61	62	.496	20
5 Detroit	63	65	.492	20½
7 Chicago	59	67	.468	23½
8 Boston	53	72	.424	29
6 St. Louis	46	81	.362	37

RESULTS YESTERDAY

NATIONAL LEAGUE

First game—										R.	H.	E.
PITTSBURGH	0	0	0	2	0	4	0	3	0—9	16	2
Philadelphia	1	1	0	2	0	0	0	1	0—5	13	3

Batteries—Swift, Chagnon and Grace; Elliott, Berly, Liska and Davis.

Second game—										R.	H.	E.
PITTSBURGH	0	1	4	0	0	0	3	0	1—9	14	0
Philadelphia	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1—1	6	0

Batteries—French and Picinich; Holley, Ragland and Davis.

										R.	H.	E.
Cincinnati	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	1—2	6	1
Boston	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—0	2	0

Batteries—Lucas and Lombardi; Brandt and Spohrer.

											R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	0	0	0	0	0	3	0	1	1	7—12	13	1
New York	0	0	0	1	0	2	0	3	2—	8	12	0

Batteries—Carleton, Vance, Dean and O'Farrell; Parmelee, Schumacher, Clark and Mancuso.

Chicago-Brooklyn, rain.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

										R.	H.	E.
New York	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	1—	4	0
Detroit	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	2	0	*—	6	10	0

Batteries—Allen, MacFayden and Dickey; Sorrell and Hayworth.

										R.	H.	E.
Philadelphia	0	0	1	0	0	0	4	0	4—	9	14	4
Chicago	2	1	0	0	1	0	0	0	1—	5	10	2

Batteries—Cain, Peterson and Cochrane; Jones, Lyons and Sullivan.

Other games postponed—rain and wet grounds.

GAMES TOMORROW

NATIONAL LEAGUE

PITTSBURGH AT PHILADELPHIA.
Cincinnati at Boston.
Chicago at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at New York.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

No games scheduled.

PIRATES BEAT QUAKERS IN TWIN BILL

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—The in-and-out Pirates are at it again. Within a couple of steps of the runnerup position today, the Pittsburg diamond performers had visions of prolonging the realization of the Giants' pennant dreams for many a day. And all because the Buccos snapped out of it here yesterday to win a couple of ball games from the Phillies.

The Pirates are eight full games below the league leaders, who, in defeat yesterday at the hands of Frank Frisch's Cardinals, were given a boost by Red Lucas and his Cincinnati brethren, who toppled the Braves to prevent a loss of New York ground to the Boston boys.

BUC CHANCES SLIM

The Buccaneer chances for copping the pennant are very slim. They have only 33 unplayed games on their chart, so that to make up a deficit of eight games they would have to win nearly all of their pastimes, provided the Giants would stay in a mediocre clip.

But the Pirates stand an excellent chance to win second honors and this pays off at the rate of approximately $1,000 per man. Of course, the Braves, Cubs and Cardinals have similar designs, in the event that none of them can overtake the Giants. The home stretch, then, is apt to provide some exciting competition.

With Lloyd Waner benched because of his stubborn batting slump, the Pirates yesterday hit like real champions to win both games with the Phillies. Woodie Jensen, who has pushed Lloyd out of the lineup, came through with four hits in the first game, the Buccos making 30 hits in the bargain encounter. The scores were 9 to 5 and 9 to 1.

Leon Chagnon turned in a fine job of relief pitching as the Bucs won the early game. Bill Swift was ineffective after starting the game, but Chagnon was in a great stride. Jim Elliott, Berly and Ad Liska pitched for the Phillies.

The Buccos jumped on Elliott for four runs in the sixth inning and put the game on ice in the eighth by scoring three more. The clean hitting of Jensen, Thevenow and Lindstrom swung the verdict.

HOMERS WIN GAME

Vaughan and Lindstrom came through with homers in the third inning to sway the second fight. Vaughan's fourbagger was good for three runs.

French limited the Quakers to six hits in the nightcap. Larry had the home boys blanked until the ninth when Chuck Klein worked his way around the paths.

LARKINS TO COACH

KENT, O., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Richard Larkins, 23-year-old freshman football coach at Ohio State University and former grid star at Ohio State, has been approved as head athletic coach at Kent State College by the board of trustees.

ENID WILSON, VIRGINIA VAN WIE ADVANCE

FAVORITES WIN IN WOMEN'S TITLE GOLF

EXMOOR COUNTRY CLUB, HIGHLAND PARK, Ill., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Miss Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago, defending champion, and Miss Enid Wilson, English title-holder, swept through the first round of the women's National golf championship today with easy victories.

Miss Van Wie defeated Elizabeth Dunn, of Indianapolis, by the one-sided margin of 7 and 6, losing only one hole, while Miss Wilson, making her third try for the title, submerged Mrs. Marion Turpie Lake, of New York, 3 and 2.

Peggy Wattles, of Buffalo, finished the front nine 1 up on the second foreign threat in the field, Ada MacKenzie, Canadian champion.

Breaking par by two shots with a 37, three better than Miss Wilson and Miss Van Wie, Mrs. Leona Cheney, of San Gabriel, took a 5-up lead over Mrs. Mildred Green, of Culver City. The standings in other matches after nine holes:

Rena Wilson, Chicago, and Mrs. Harley Higbie, Detroit, all square.

Charlotte Glutting, West Orange, 1 up on Helen MacMorran, Chicago.

Aniela Gorzyca, Fort Worth, Tex., 2 up on June Beebe, Chicago.

Maureen Orcutt, Haworth, N. J., and Mrs. Charles Dennehy, Chicago, all square.

The Pittsburgh contingent of three young golfers failed to crash the match play list, although Mary Kuhn, of the Pittsburgh Field Club, failed by only one stroke. She had rounds of 42 and 46 for an 88, when an 87 would have done the trick.

Betty Abernethy, of Oakmont, took a 95 and Barbara Warncastle, also of the Field Club, scored a 90.

Net Stars Seeded For National Test

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Ellsworth Vines, Jr., the national champion, and Jack Crawford, of Australia, who defeated him for the Wimbledon title, today were seeded first in the domestic and foreign lists, respectively, for the national tennis singles championships beginning Saturday at Forest Hills.

Behind Vines in the home-bred seeded ranks came, in order, Wilmer Allison, Cliff Sutter, Frankie Parker, Sidney B. Wood, Jr., Lester Stoefen, Gregory Mangin, George Lott and Bryan Grant. The foreign players, seeded in order after Crawford, are Fred Perry, England; Jiro Satoh, Japan; H. G. N. Lee, England; R. Nunoi, Japan; Vivian McGrath, Australia; E. Itoh, Japan; Adrian Quist, Australia; Don Turnbull, Australia, and Ted Avory, England.

Yankee Pitcher Quits for Year

NEW YORK, Aug. 29—(AP.)—Walter Brown, big right-handed pitcher of the New York Yankees who recently was released on option to the Hollywood Club of the Pacific Coast League, has decided to retire from baseball for the rest of the year because of the serious illness of his wife, it was said today at the Yankee's office.

Between Rounds

Lew Raymond, local matchmaker, plans to leave Pittsburgh this week-end, after more than a year's residence for Detroit, where he will make matches for Nick Londos.

Johnny Datto, local Filipino featherweight boxer, meets Eddie Speaks in a 10-round bout in Indianapolis Thursday night.

Boxing at Hickey Park, Millvale, will be resumed one week from next Monday, and the club hopes to get in at least two or three shows before the outdoor season closes.

Charley Massera, Monongahela heavyweight, gets his baptism of big league fire tonight when he boxes Steve Hamas at Coney Island.

GRAPHIC GOLF

STARTING THE BACKSWING

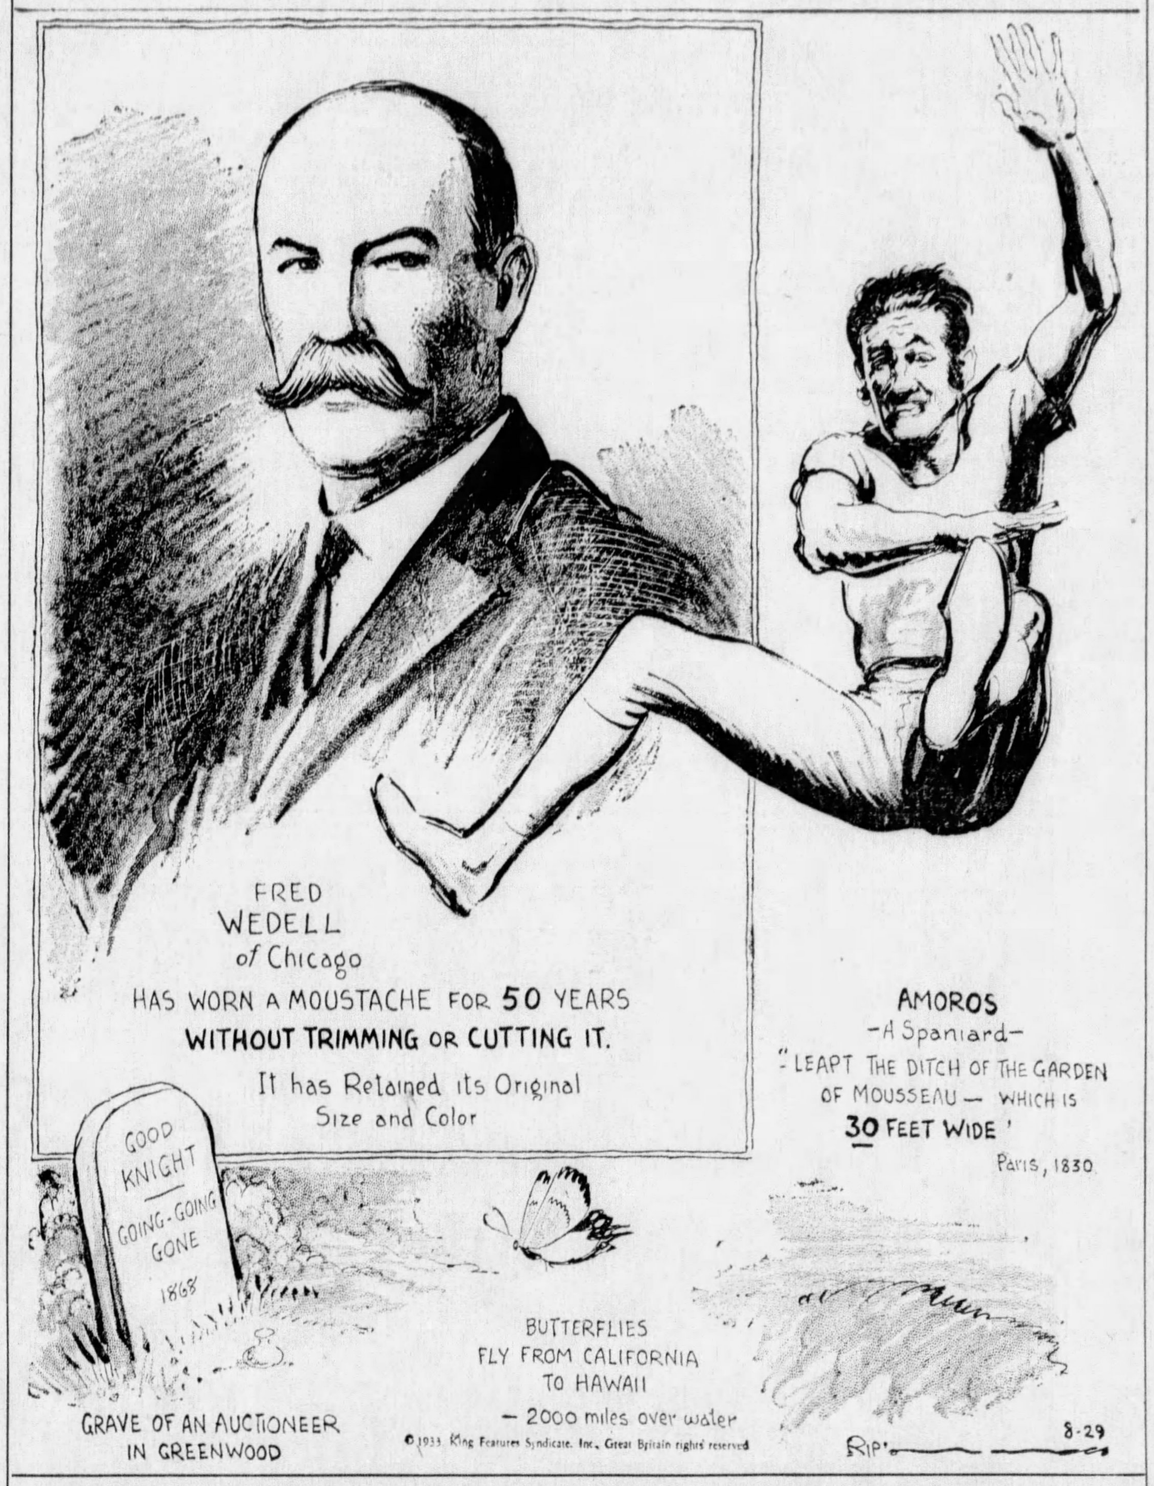
Although golf is a painstaking game in which concentration on each shot plays a large part, there is a point where too much time, like too much hast , may make waste. Particularly is this true of the golfer in the act of addressing the ball and making the necessary preparations to get the swing underway. Here too much time often is spent getting ready, so much, in fact, that the golfer's muscles are tensed. Instead of a free and leisurely backswing initiated by a turn of the body it becomes purely an arm and hand movement, and a taut one at that. Much more can be accomplished by a simpler process that sizes up the situation without stress or strain and makes the backswing a leisurely affair. For instance, Bobby Jones' nethod, though unhurried, is without waste motion. Bobby first groun s the club, then, after sizing up the proposed line of flight, puts the left foot into place, followed by the right. The waggle is completed and the backswing is underway about the same time the right heel touches the ground. It really is a blending of the motion of assuming the address and the start of the backswing, a smooth procedure all around.

(Copyright, 1933, by Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Believe It Or Not — By Ripley

(Reg. by U. S. Patent Office)

(On request, sent with stamped addressed envelope, Ripley will send proofs and details of anything depicted by him in these cartoons.)



EXPLANATIONS OF RIPLEY'S CARTOONS OF YESTERDAY: THE MAN WHO OUTSPED A BULLET—Francesco Agello, crack Italian airman, set a new world airplane speed record in April of this year, traveling at the rate of 423.522 miles per hour. This is a little better than 621 feet per second, or 11 f. s. faster than the muzzle velocity of the 38 Super-Police Revolver. Compared with the average or instrumental velocity of this revolver, the ratio of the airplane speed is even higher. THE BOTTLE HOUSE—This curious structure situated on Ellis Street in Tonopah required about 19,000 beer bottles in its construction. The bottles are imbedded in cement and mortar. The house has been standing for the last 20 years.

TOMORROW: A RECORD SHOT.

SPORT VIGNETTES

The return match between Vince Dundee and Ted Yarosz, at Newark, N. J., Dundee's home town, on September 18, was made possible because Dundee is confident he can defeat the Monaca star in another meeting and Yarosz is just as certain he can "take" the Jerseyite any time they clash . . . Under the shower in his dressing room after their bout at Forbes Field last week, Dundee said he had an off-night and that he didn't think Yarosz was so hot as a fighter except for one feature, which was that he has an awkward style to combat . . . Reminded that a similar awkwardly clever style had carried the late Harry Greb on to two championships, the world middleweight and American light-heavyweight, Dundee said all he wanted was another chance . . . As soon as he got back home his manager prevailed upon Newark promoters to angle for a return bout and succeeded in getting it when Yarosz accepted a $5,000 guarantee with a privilege of 30 per cent of the gross receipts, the biggest purse of his career so far. Just what will be left for Dundee is a question, but there can be little doubt that he would fight Yarosz again for almost nothing other than the opportunity to square accounts and re-establish his damaged prestige.

When boxers who have been beaten by Yarosz attribute their defeats solely to his "awkward style" they do not take into consideration the fact that he moves with rare speed for a middleweight, is a fair hitter, takes a punch well, is smart, courageous, and, with his crowding tactics, takes the play away from them and makes them fight to his pattern.

Rabbit Maranville says Bill McKechnie's Boston Braves are on their way to pulling another 1914 Miracle stunt to win the pennant. . . . He was a member of that crew of two decades ago which came from last place in July to grab the pennant . . . Tommy Hitchcock's ranking as the ace poloist of America took a drop in the East-West series in which he was outshone by Cecil Smith, the dashing Texan . . . They say that Joe Cronin wasn't sitting so hot when the Yankees were threatening to walk away with the American League pennant in May, and Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington club, was beginning to have some misgivings about having named the youngster manager of his contenders . . . But that's all water over the dam now.

Martin Gudat, the outfielder formerly of the Chicago Cubs, filled in during a pitching shortage the other day and beat the Sacramento Cub, 13-4, in a Pacific Coast League night game. . . . He allowed only six hits and had a shutout until the ninth inning, when he eased off . . . The opposition got only one hit during those first eight frames . . . The catch is that Gudat was a pitcher before he became an outfielder.

Pepper Martin, of the Cardinals, who has been transformed from an outfielder into a good third baseman reveals the fact that he was a pitcher in the Oklahoma State League back in 1924, the year he broke into professional baseball, and one of the fellows he always could beat was Carl Hubbell, now the ace of the Giants . . . Do tell!

Boxing has sunk to such a low level in Philadelphia, for many years one of the greatest boxing cities in the world, that the boxers now are fighting on a co-operative basis to get work and are willing to take what they can draw . . . A recent show attracted only $460, of which 65 per cent went to the 12 boxers who figured in six-round bouts, each receiving about $23 for his end.—HARRY KECK

TONIGHT'S FIGHTS

Amateur bouts, Pittsburgh Lyceum outdoor arena.

Charley Massera vs. Steve Hamas, 10 rounds, and Charley Badami vs. Lou Amber and Frankie Klick vs. Al Ciullo, 6 rounds each, Coney Island.

Maxie Rosenbloom vs. LeRoy Haynes (non-title), 10 rounds, Los Angeles.

Primo Carnera in exhibition 4 rounds, and Jimmy Smith vs. Nick Venore, 6 rounds, Leiperville, Pa.

Sammy Slaughter vs. Willie Oster, 10 rounds, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Gordon Fortenberry vs. Buck Everett, 10 rounds, Chicago.

Little Dempsey vs. Louie Gallup, 10 rounds, Fresno, Cal.

Joe Knight vs. Bob Godwin, 10 rounds, Laurel, Md.

Corn Griffin vs. Rosy Rosales, 10 rounds, Fort Benning, Ga.

Young Stribling vs. Benny O'Dell, 10 rounds, Lindale, Ga.

JOCKEY RIDES SIX WINNERS

Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 29.—The brilliant riding of Jockey Leon (Buddy) Haas has overshadowed all other developments of the American turf today.

Haas booted home six winning mounts at the Thistledown track yesterday, five of them in succession, and might have been able to score a clean sweep had he gotten a mount in the sixth race.

He started his string in the first race with Wracia, paying $9.50 for $2 to win; and continued it with Odd Star, paying $3.00 in the second; Copper, paying $4.20 in the third; King Kelly, returning $14.00 in the fourth; Nisia, paying $12.80 in the fifth, and Hypoluxo, at $4.20, in the seventh.

MAXIE STRUB WINS

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Maxie Strub, of Erie, Pa., easily outpointed Jackie Pilkington, of Louisville, last night, winning a newspaper decision in a 10-round fight. Strub weighed 138½, Pilkington 137½.

Fight Results

At Newark—Eddie (Unknown) Winston defeated Tony Galento, 10 rounds; John O'Keefe knocked out Six Second Powell, 1 round; Mickey Battone won by technical knockout over Charley Lasasso, 3 rounds. Jerry Kucera, 4 rounds.

At Chicago—Freddie Heinz defeated Bud Saltis, 8 rounds; Henry Rothier defeated Jerry Kucera, 4 rounds.

At New York—Harry Ebbets knocked out Frank Loblanco, 3 rounds; Murray Brandt defeated Pedro Nieves, 6 rounds; Jimmy Casablanca and Joe Nelson drew, 6 rounds.

At Bethlehem—Danny Devlin knocked out Jackie Wilkinson, 2 rounds; Billy Boyle knocked out Sammy Goldstein, 2 rounds.

At Louisville—Maxie Strub defeated Jackie Pilkington, 10 rounds.

At Syracuse—Bucky Lawless and Baby Joe Thompson drew, 6 rounds; Pedro Lorenzo knocked out the Mohican Kid, 3 rounds.

At Atlantic City—Tony Falco defeated Buster Brown, 10 rounds; Lew Raymond defeated Jimmy Reed, 8 rounds; Bobby Abel and Peter Jackson drew, 6 rounds; Sammy Foster defeated Conrad Bennett, 6 rounds.

At Sioux City, Ia.—Frankie Graham defeated Johnny Stanton, 6 rounds; Floyd Morey defeated Jess Ackerman, 6 rounds; Frankie Wolfram and Young Rightmeier drew, 8 rounds.

At San Antonio—Willard Brown defeated Carlos Garcia, 10 rounds.

At Jersey City—Lou Lombardi knocked out Terry McGovern, 9 rounds.

At Portland Me.—Ad Zachow defeated Juan Barcelles, 10 rounds.

BRITISH TEAM CHOICE

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—England's all-star rugby team, the Cambridge University Vandals, came to Chicago today for a match against the Illinois Rugby Union's fifteen. The Vandals swamped a picked team at St. Louis Sunday, 211 runs to 93, and were favored to beat the Chicago Club.

LOTT, STOFFEN LEAD AUSSIES IN DOUBLES

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Leading by a set, George Lott and Lester Stoefen, today appeared unbeatable as they prepared to resume their national doubles tennis semi-final play against the dangerous Australians, Adrian K. Quist and Don Turnbull, at Longwood.

These teams started play late yesterday, after Frank X. Shields and Frankie Parker had registered their surprising victory over the defending champions, Ellsworth Vines and Keith Gledhill, and a murky sky, the herald for a heavy thunderstorm, soon forced them to suspend play because of the poor visibility.

When the international rivals halted, the American pair had the first set at 6-4 and were trailing one service game to two in the second.

Former Major Leaguer Dead

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Charles H. Wood, 74, a major league pitcher in the '80s, is dead here of injuries suffered when he was knocked down by an automobile here a month ago.

Wood broke into big league baseball with the Detroit Nationals and later played with Pop Anson's Chicago Nationals.

BASEBALL COMEDY

—By NICK ALTROCK—

CLEVELAND, Aug. 29.—I see next year they're going to have a standard baseball in all the major leagues, and, next to non-astigmatic umpires, that's what baseball has needed most for years.

Nick Altrock

A scout would look over a boy wonder in the sticks that was clouting the apple out of the county every time at bat, so he would buy him up at a fancy quotation. Then, when the lad landed in the big show, he would have to swing for a homer to lay down a bunt. And then it would be discovered they were using golf balls for horsehides in the minor league he came from and his batting average didn't mean a thing, except compared with Gene Sarazen's or Walter Hagen's.

But make all leagues use the same kind of agate and these boy wonders will cease to sprout in the underbrush, big league magnates will save a lot of money and the selling of lemons will be confined to the citrus fruit trade. It's a new deal for the major leagues.

(Copyright, 1933, Christy Walsh Synd.)

SCOTT-PAINE'S BOAT READY FOR RACE

ALGONAC, Mich., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Hubert Scott-Paine will not start the motors of his Miss Britain III again until time for the first of the Harmsworth races in Lake St. Clair Saturday.

The British challenger who will race Gar Wood and his Miss America X for the coveted international speedboat trophy made this announcement today following a minute examination of his craft.

Scott-Paine had Miss Britain III out for an extensive trial run yesterday during which he followed the general outlines of the official race course, experimented at making sharp curves in the lake as well as trying out his speed on the straightaway.

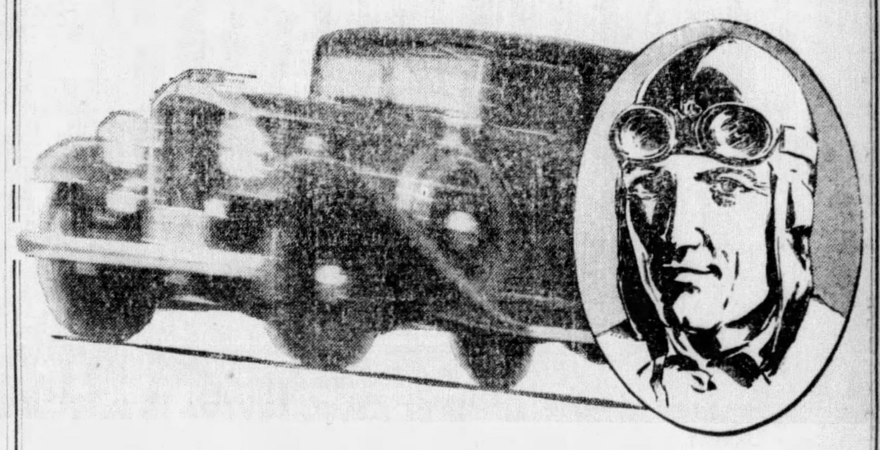
Scott-Paine said he would make another tour of the Harmsworth course when the marking buoys are set out Thursday morning, but would go in a pleasure boat.

Rankin High Open For Grid Games

The Rankin High School football team is open for games with suitable opponents on September 15 and 29; October 13 and 20 and November 4.

Foor games write Rankin High School or call Brandywine 2426 and ask for Rosenberg.

Not One Blow-Out In Golden Ply Tires!



Lasted 3 Times Longer In Gruelling High-Speed Tests

No blow-outs . . . Lasted three times as long . . . First quality tires without the Golden Ply failed at one-third the distance . . . or less.

THAT was the sensational news that made our most skeptical men cheer. Gruelling high-speed tests—on the world's fastest track—proved the amazing stamina of the Golden Ply beyond a question of doubt. The safest tire ever built had been made at least 3 times safer from blow-outs at high speeds. Heat, the unconquered enemy of tires, had been checked.

Naturally . . . hundreds of thousands are flocking to this new kind of tire. Millions more will buy it when they buy tires again, because they are standard tires with extra quality features.

Today's high speeds generate terrific heat inside your tire. Rubber and fabric separate. A blister forms—and grows—until bang! A blow-out!

To protect you from blow-outs, every new Goodrich Safety Silvertown has the amazing Life-Saver Golden Ply. This invention resists intense heat. Rubber and fabric don't separate. Thus, blisters don't form. Blow-outs are prevented before they even start.

Remember, Goodrich Safety Silvertowns are the only tires in the world that offer the life-saving protection of the Life-Saver Golden Ply. But the added features do not add a penny more to the price of these. Put a set on your car NOW and have real protection between you and the road!

Buy Now!
Goodrich Silvertown
Tires at Vanishing "Lows!"
8.40
Size 4.75x19 4-Ply
Other sizes proportionately low!
Tires Mounted Free!

This insignia indicates that The Goodrich Company and Kaufmann's comply fully with the President's Blanket Code.

NRA U.S. WE DO OUR PART

Convenient Payments Arranged on Sizable Purchases
Mail and Telephone Orders Filled—Call ATlantic 1000

The NEW Goodrich Safety Silvertown
WITH LIFE-SAVER GOLDEN PLY

Copyright, 1933, The B. F. Goodrich Rubber Co.

AUTO TIRES . . . SECOND FLOOR

"KAUFMANN'S for TIRES"

WHY BE SICK?
WHEN RELIEF IS AT HAND?

All Chronic Ailments treated. Nerve, Skin and Blood Diseases. Nose, Throat, Lungs, Asthma, Bronchial Diseases, Stomach, Intestinal, Liver and Kidney Trouble. Chronic Ulcers, General Debility, Rheumatism and Neuritis, High and Low Blood Pressure, Acne, Diabetes. Also Diseases of a special or private nature. More than 40,000 Men and Women successfully treated here with Blood Cell Protein Serums, which are administered only here. Consultation, Examination of Blood and Urine Free.

Hours: Daily 9 to 5, Mon., Wed. & Sat. Evenings 7 to 9. Sunday 10 to 1

Pittsburgh Research Laboratory
403 KEENAN BLDG., 7th AT LIBERTY. ATLANTIC 3734

THE DELIGHTFUL C&B WAY LABOR DAY WEEK END VACATION TRIPS

BUFFALO Leave Cleveland Saturday or Sunday night and return as late as Monday (Labor Day) night. Special round trip fare leaving Saturday night $3.75
Special round trip fare leaving Sunday night on the great ship SEEANDBEE $2.50

NIAGARA FALLS
The ideal end of the summer vacation trip, leaving and returning to Cleveland the same days as Buffalo trip. Special round trip rate leaving Saturday $4.25
Special round trip rate leaving Sunday $3.25

C & B steamers leave Cleveland and Buffalo nightly at 9:00 P.M. Eastern Standard Time and arrive the following morning at 7:30 A.M. Berths as low as $1.00. Unexcelled meals at moderate rates.

PORT STANLEY, Canada
Leaving Cleveland Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday at 8:30 A.M. returning leave Port Stanley at 2:30 P.M. arriving Cleveland at 7:30 P.M. Special week-end round trip fare $3.00

St. Thomas, Ont. round trip fare $3.50 London, Ont. round trip fare $4.00
Last trip of season on Port Stanley division Monday

To TORONTO EXPOSITION . . .
up to and including September 9 round trip $9.00

Circle Tours by Boat and Auto Round trip tickets give option of going or returning either by Buffalo or Port Stanley divisions. Automobile rates are lowest ever, $3.00 one way; $5.00 round trip for cars under 120" wheel base. Larger cars slightly higher.

See your local tourist or ticket agency

The Cleveland and Buffalo Transit Co.
East 9th Street Pier Cleveland, Ohio
CHerry MAin 8240

C&B LINE

O'FARRELL TAMES GIANTS

CATCHER STARS AS CARDINALS TOP LEADERS

Associated Press.

There must be something in the makeup of a ball player that sets him afire with vengeance, curtains his batting eye with a piercing ultra-red, when he stalks back into the home grounds of a former employer who once tied the tinware to him and theoretically stamped him "Through."

John J. McGraw had one embarrassing experience of the kind that stands out above all others. Now it's the turn of McGraw's successor at the helm of the Giants, Bill Terry, to see the chickens come home to roost beating their wings like eagles.

With McGraw it was the case of George Washington Harper, now an oil well salesman in Texas, but then a journeyman outfielder, who was sent to the Cardinals in 1928 and bounced right back to hit three home runs in one crucial game at the Polo Grounds and knock the Giants out of that pennant fight.

O'FARRELL HITS TWO

With Terry it's ancient Bob O'Farrell, also of the Cardinals, who was sent away last fall with a bundle of pitchers in exchange for a young catcher, Gus Mancuso. Yesterday at the Polo Grounds the old fellow roused himself and hit two home runs, the last one in the ninth inning touching off a seven-run barrage that snowed the Giants under, 12 to 8, brought their third straight defeat with one tie in the past four games, and completely upset Terry's pitching staff with a terrific doubleheader schedule looming ahead.

O'Farrell may not have spoiled the Giants' title chances, but he and his mates did all they could in one afternoon to trouble the league leaders.

It took Tex Carleton, Dazzy Vance, and finally Dizzy Dean to win for the Cards. The Giants took a run lead in the fourth, lost it when Jim Collins' home run and Pepper Martin's triple accounted for three in the fifth. Lefty O'Doul's homer with Mel Ott aboard tied the count for the Giants in the sixth. O'Farrell broke the deadlock with his first homer in the seventh and the Giants came back in the eighth with a mixture of singles and walks, chasing Carleton and bringing in Vance.

PARMELEE CHASED

Parmelee left after the first man singled in the ninth and O'Farrell greeted Schumacher with his second homer, putting the cards ahead, 7-6. Then the Cards kept hitting until seven runs were home, Joe Medwick contributing a potent triple.

The Giants remained six games in front of the Boston Braves, who ran into Red Lucas on one of his best days and were shut out, 2 to 0. Lucas allowed but two hits in a duel with Lefty Brandt.

Despite their victory, the Cards dropped into a fourth place tie with the Pittsburgh Pirates, who took two games from Philadelphia, 9 to 5 and 9 to 1.

So close packed are the contenders that the third-place Cubs, rained out yesterday at Brooklyn, are but a game ahead of St. Louis and Pittsburgh, with the Braves only one game in front of the Cubs.

Only two games were played in the American League. The Athletics rallied in the last three innings with eight runs to beat Chicago, 9 to 5, while Vic Sorrell tossed four-hit ball to beat the Yankees, 6 to 1.

Amateur Boxers Show at New Castle

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Aug. 29.—Boxing was renewed here last night after two years, with the staging of eight three-round amateur bouts in Castle Bowl under the auspices of Jefferson Athletic Club. George Chip, of New Castle, was referee. The summary:

Emil Canneli, New Castle, defeated Al Solo, New Castle; Young Eagles, New Castle, defeated Jimmy Brownfield, New Castle; Charley Arkett, Ellwood City, defeated Nick Rossi, New Kensington; Tommy Fay, Rochester, Pa., defeated George Sharpe, New Kensington; Frank Cantonese, Rochester, defeated Nick Kresy, New Kensington; Nick Galore, New Kensington, defeated Nick Gregory, Butler; Mickie Cusic, Youngstown, defeated Bert Sheets, New Brighton; Tony Adams, New Castle, defeated Chet Prosser, East Liverpool.

MINOR LEAGUES

GAMES TODAY

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

Indianapolis at Toledo.
Louisville at Columbus.
St. Paul at Kansas City.
Minneapolis at Milwaukee.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

Buffalo at Rochester.
Toronto at Montreal.
Albany at Newark.
Jersey City at Baltimore.

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION

New Orleans at Birmingham.
Little Rock at Memphis.
Nashville at Knoxville.
Others not scheduled.

MID-ATLANTIC LEAGUE

Huntington at Dayton.
Zanesville at Springfield.
Johnstown at Charleston.
Wheeling at Beckley.

NEW YORK-PA. LEAGUE

Elmira at Wilkes-Barre.
Harrisburg at Reading.
Williamsport at York.
Binghamton at Scranton.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE

San Francisco at Seattle.
Los Angeles at Portland.
Oakland at Missions.
Sacramento at Hollywood.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
Columbus	90	46	.662	Toledo	66	72	.478
Minneaps	86	62	.562	Louisville	63	74	.460
Indianap.	72	65	.526	Milwaukee	61	81	.430
St. Paul	70	71	.496	Kansas Cy	54	85	.388

Eastern Division.	W.	L.	Pct.	Western Division.	W.	L.	Pct.
Columbus	90	46	.662	Minneaps.	86	62	.563
Indianap.	72	65	.526	St. Paul	70	71	.496
Toledo	66	72	.478	Milwaukee	61	81	.430
Louisville	63	74	.460	Kansas Cy	54	85	.388

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
Newark	89	57	.610	Buffalo	73	77	.487
Rochester	81	67	.547	Albany	71	77	.480
Baltimore	79	70	.527	Montreal	69	77	.473
Toronto	75	76	.497	Jersey Cy	55	92	.374

NEW YORK-PA. LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
Binghmtn	69	49	.585	Elmira	57	62	.479
Reading	68	53	.562	Williamsp	56	64	.467
Wilkes-B	65	57	.533	Harrisbg	54	67	.446
Scranton	59	62	.488	York	53	67	.442

MID-ATLANTIC LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
Wheeling	35	25	.583	Spngfield	31	29	.517
Zanesville	32	25	.561	Johnstown	29	28	.509
Charlestn	32	28	.533	Beckley	29	31	.483
Dayton	31	28	.525	Huntingtn	17	42	.288

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
N Orlans	37	24	.607	Birmghm.	29	30	.492
Memphis	35	26	.574	Nashville	28	30	.483
Knoxville	34	27	.557	Chattanga	29	36	.446
L. Rock	32	32	.500	Atlanta	21	40	.344

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
L. Angels	89	60	.597	Oakland	68	80	.459
Hollywd	88	60	.595	Missions	62	87	.416
Portland	85	61	.582	S. Francisc	61	87	.412
Sacram'o	83	66	.557	Seattle	58	90	.384

RESULTS YESTERDAY

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

				R.	H.	E.
Minneapolis	0	0	0 4 2 0 0 0 0	6	12	1
Milwaukee	0	0	1 0 0 1 0 0 1	3	11	1

Batteries—Murray and Glenn; Gregory, Caldwell and Young.

				R.	H.	E.
Indianapolis	0	0	0 0 2 0 0 0 1	3	8	2
Toledo	0	0	0 0 0 0 0 3 1	4	9	1

Batteries—Tising and Angley; Lawson and Healey.
Other clubs not scheduled.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

				R.	H.	E.
Montreal	4	0	0 0 3 1 0 0 0	8	14	3
Buffalo	0	0	4 0 0 1 0 6 *	11	9	4

Batteries—Phelps, Pomorski, A. Smith, Michaels and Stack; Gallivan, Gould, Wilson, Milstead and Crouse.

				R.	H.	E.
Toronto	5	0	1 0 1 0 0 0 0	7	13	0
Rochester	0	0	0 0 0 0 0 1 0	1	8	1

Batteries—Brame and Heving; Lindsey, Henry and Florence.

				R.	H.	E.
Albany	0	0	0 0 0 0 0 0 0	0	7	0
Baltimore	0	0	0 2 1 1 2 0 *	8	10	1

Batteries—Miner and Phelps; Mattingly and Linton.
Jersey City at Newark, played August 27.

MID-ATLANTIC LEAGUE

				R.	H.	E.
Wheeling	0	0	0 0 2 0 0 1 2	5	12	2
Beckley	2	0	1 0 0 0 0 0 0	3	8	1

Batteries—Samuels and Holm; Terhune and Heath.
Johnstown-Charleston, rain.
Other clubs not scheduled.

NEW YORK-PA. LEAGUE

Binghamton	5—Scranton	2

Other clubs not scheduled.

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION

New Orleans	7—Birmingham	1

Nashville-Knoxville, rain.
Only games scheduled.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE

No games scheduled.

LIFE AT EBB FOR MAJOR CAVANAUGH

MANSFIELD, Mass., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Life ebbed slowly today for Maj. Frank W. Cavanaugh, former Fordham football coach.

Dr. Donald Peggs, who believed the end to be put a few hours away, left the Cavanaugh home shortly after 2 a. m., unable to give Cav any medical treatment that might be of avail.

Maj. Cavanaugh's health, which caused his retirement from football coaching, seemed improved after a recent abdominal operation. He had been released from the hospital August 9 after a recovery doctors considered remarkable. Last week he suffered a shock.

War wounds contributed to the ill health that forced him to seek rest in this Massachusetts South Shore town. He had entered the World War as a private in a field artillery outfit and was discharged at the end of the war as a major.

He was as successful in his football campaigns as in his campaigns in France. A star end at Dartmouth, he coached at Holy Cross, Worcester Academy, the Denver Athletic Club and then at his alma mater, Dartmouth. After the war he coached Boston College teams to victory and put Fordham elevens high up on the football ladder.

Failing eyesight and a general decline in health forced him to relinquish his place among the great of football.

SANDLOT GAMES TODAY

GREATER PITTSBURGH LEAGUE

New Kensington at Turtle Creek.
Parnelee at Swissvale.

ALLEGHENY VALLEY LEAGUE

Natrona at Springdale.

SUBURBAN LEAGUE

Fort Pitt at Browns.
Universal at Penn.
Verona at North Bessemer.

INTER BORO LEAGUE

Lynwood at Forest Hills.
Swissvale at Cavanaughs.

ASPINWALL LEAGUE.

Hilltop at Humes.

SANDLOT SCORES

CITY LEAGUE

Book	3—Gillespies	0

CRAFTON CHURCH LEAGUE

St. Philips	6—Presbyterian	4

INTERBORO LEAGUE

Cavanaugh	2—Lynwood	1

A-K VALLEY LEAGUE

E. Vandergrift	13—Apollo	1

INDEPENDENT

Mayview	3—Monarchs	0
S. S. Jednota	6—Home, St. Michael	3
Waners	10—City View	7
Penn-Pitt	4—Banksville	3
Fort Pitt	2—Parnelee	1
Lou's Garage	3—Leechburg	2

MUSHBALL SCORES

Summit	9—Verner	1
Mose Butch	8—St. Peters	4
Joe Millers	15—3.2 Club	4
Joe Millers	13—Kay Club	2
Grau Jewelers	5—S. S. Serbs	2
Salem Church	9—Manchester	2
Salem Church	3—Manchester	2
Wallace	4—Hunzaker	2
Meyers	6—Herrons	0
Finnegan	16—Sons of Rest	2

Business

Coal Output Increases As Users Acquire Inventories

By GEORGE H. SNYDER

COAL PRODUCTION has continued to expand since the interruption caused by the recent coal strike. Industrial activity in general has been receding during the past month but bituminous coal output has pushed into higher ground.

Many coal men are of the opinion that the active demand is due to widespread stocking of coal by consumers in anticipation of higher prices. It is believed that advanced quotations must inevitably follow the approval of a coal code by President Roosevelt.

While coal labor troubles have been confined to minor disputes at scattered mines ever since the administration called for a halt in the general coal strike, the fear that an unsatisfactory outcome of the code negotiations might cause new trouble, may have been an additional factor in the building up of inventories of coal.

* * *

Attempted Price Advances Failed

COAL IS MOVING in the greatest volume of any summer period since 1930 but prices show only a moderate increase from the low levels of the depression where large consumers are concerned. Producers announced sharp increases in prices a month ago in anticipation of the increased costs to follow the adoption of a code.

The long delay in settling the problems of the coal industry, however, made it impossible for producers to maintain the full extent of their advanced quotations which amounted to more than $1 a ton in some cases. It is generally expected in the trade that when a code actually is put into operation, prices will jump from 25 to 50 cents a ton over their present levels. Mine run now is quoted at $1.25 a ton at the mines, lump $2 a ton, and slack 85 cents to $1 a ton.

* * *

Slump May Follow Adoption of Code

IF THE BELIEF that a large share of the coal being bought at present is going into stock is correct, the actual adoption of a coal code is likely to be followed by a temporary pause to permit these inventories to be consumed.

It is improbable, however, that this pause will be of long duration if general industrial activity resumes an upward trend in September.

Treasury Offering Is Over-Subscribed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(Universal)—The treasury's offering of $100,000,000 of 91 day treasury bills, dated August 30, and maturing November 29, was over subscribed four times, Acting Secretary of the Treasury Acheson announces.

The total amount applied for was $403,192,000, of which $100,296,000 was accepted at a price range of 99.966 to 99.963. The average price of the bills to be issued will be 99.965, equivalent to 0.14 per cent on a bank discount basis.

RESERVE BANK LOANS FALL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The Federal Reserve Board's condition statement as of August 23 shows decreases for the week of $103,000,000 in loans and investments, $18,000,000 in time deposits, $22,000,000 in government deposits, and $9,000,000 in borrowing from reserve banks.

The statement shows increases of $15,000,000 in net demand deposits and $68,000,000 in reserve balances with reserve banks.

Loans on securities totaled $3,737,000,000, a drop of $58,000,000, and all other loans aggregated $4,768,000,000, a decrease of $20,000,000.

MOTOR SALES GAIN 78 PCT.

DETROIT, Aug. 29.—Sales of new passenger automobiles in the United States in July totaled 185,660 units, according to R. L. Polk & Co. The July total is 78.2 per cent greater than the 104,188 units sold in July last year and 6.6 per cent above the 174,190 units sold in June of this year.

Sales in the first seven months of 1933 total 868,027 units, or 13.1 per cent more than the 767,815 units sold in the same period last year.

The usual sales peak of the motor car industry falls earlier in the year, generally in April.

GENEVA BEGINS GRID DRILLS

Geneva College began its football practice yesterday when Coaches Jimmy Robertson and Bob Schmidt called the candidates together at Beaver Falls.

Duquesne University begins work on the Bluff on Friday, and Waynesburg, which meets the Dukes in the opener at Forbes Field on Friday night, September 15, unpacks tomorrow.

Walter Okeson, commissioner of the Eastern Intercollegiate Association, will be here for his annual rules interpretation meeting at the Keystone A. C., on Tuesday, September 19.

East-West Net Lineup Revised

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—The withdrawal of Sidney B. Wood and the inability of Frank Shields to play on the opening day forced a revision of the eastern lineup for the annual East-West tennis matches to be played at the Orange (N. J.) Tennis Club tomorrow and Thursday. Wood is suffering from a foot injury.

Under the revised schedule, the opening day's singles program will include matches between Joseph Coughlin and J. Gilbert Hall; Jack Tidball and Manuel Alonso, and Lester Stoefen and Gregory Mangin. In doubles, Ellsworth Vines and Keith Glenhill will play Allison and Van Ryn.

Miss Jacobs Forced To Bed by Illness

MARBLEHEAD, Mass., Aug. 29.—(INS.)—Helen Jacobs, national tennis champion, is a sick girl and may not appear again in competition until she defends her laurels next year.

The tennis star was in bed today at the Marblehead home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie A. Friend. She is suffering from a bad cold and an inflamed gall bladder, both of which she fought down during the Forest Hills final that ended in the controversial default of Mrs. Helen Wills Moody.

Shores to Return To Giants Sept. 1

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—E. Lee Keyser, president of the Kansas City American Association baseball club, has announced that Bill Shores, pitcher, has been recalled by the New York Giants and will rejoin that team at Boston September 1.

Shores came to the Blues on option. He had a record of eight victories and 11 defeats.

BRITISH ISLES SOCCER SCORES

LONDON, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Results of soccer matches played in the British Isles yesterday follow:

ENGLISH LEAGUE

FIRST DIVISION

Leeds United	5—Middlesborough	2
Leicester City	4—Sheffield United	0
Sheffield Wednsy	1—Aston Villa	2
Tottenham	4—Wolverhampton	0

SECOND DIVISION

Fulham	1—Blackpool	0
Millwa	2—Swansea Town	1
Oldham	1—Southampton	1
Port Vale	4—Bury	1
Preston N. End	3—Burnley	2

THIRD DIVISION

Cardiff City	2—Reading	0
Clapton Orient	3—Newport	0
Luton Town	2—Charlton	1
Norwich City	7—Bristol City	2
Mansfield	0—Tranmere	0
Rotherham Untd	0—Barnsley	2
Stockport	4—Doncaster	3

ENGLISH RUGBY LEAGUE

Huddersfield	2—Keighley	10
St. Helen	29—Widnes	14

Hopping to Sub For Tom Hitchcock

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(INS.)—Earle W. Hopping will take the place of Tommy Hitchcock, Jr., on the Sands Point team in the national open championships at Meadow Brook, Westbury, next month, it was made known today by the United States Polo Association.

He will ride with his son, Earle A. S. Hopping, Robert Lehman and Raymond Guest.

DEVLIN K. O. VICTOR

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Danny Devlin, 147, Allentown, last night won by a knockout over Jackie Wilkinson, 146, Philadelphia, in the second round of a scheduled 10-round feature boxing bout here.

Long's Sport Comment

(Continued from Page Twenty-two.)

completed play in 3 hours and 40 minutes, an average of less than two minutes per move. At Chicago in October, Banks will undertake to play 156 games simultaneously. He thinks he cannot win more than 90 to 95 of these games, as most of his scheduled opponents are checker players of high rank, but he expects to complete the 156 games in five hours or less.

Newell Banks

Some remarkable checker records already stand to the credit of Banks, who won the title at Toledo in 1910 by defeating Hugh Henderson, of Pittsburgh, in a match of 50 games by four victories to three, the 43 other games being drawn. In a match of 102 games at Boston against a picked team from New England, in which he played the weak side of the board and won 74 games against 4 defeats and 24 draws, his longest time on any move was only 42 seconds. At Newark, N. J., in 1925, he made a blindfold record of 10 games in 40 minutes, winning nine and drawing one. At Bethlehem, Pa., in 1931, Banks played 20 games in 2 hours and 35 minutes, winning 17 and drawing 3. At Findlay, O., he played six games straight in 17 minutes.

The champion has a mixed record of playing 56 games of checkers, 29 games of chess and six other checker games blindfold, all at the same time, in three hours flat. He won 40 and drew 16 of the regular checker games, won 20 and drew nine chess games, and won three and drew three at blindfold checkers.

40,000
Dollar Stock of STANDARD MAKE TIRES
Ordered Sold by Consignee at HALF PRICE
Sale Conducted at the Warehouse Bldg. of the PITTSBURGH & W. VA. RAILROAD
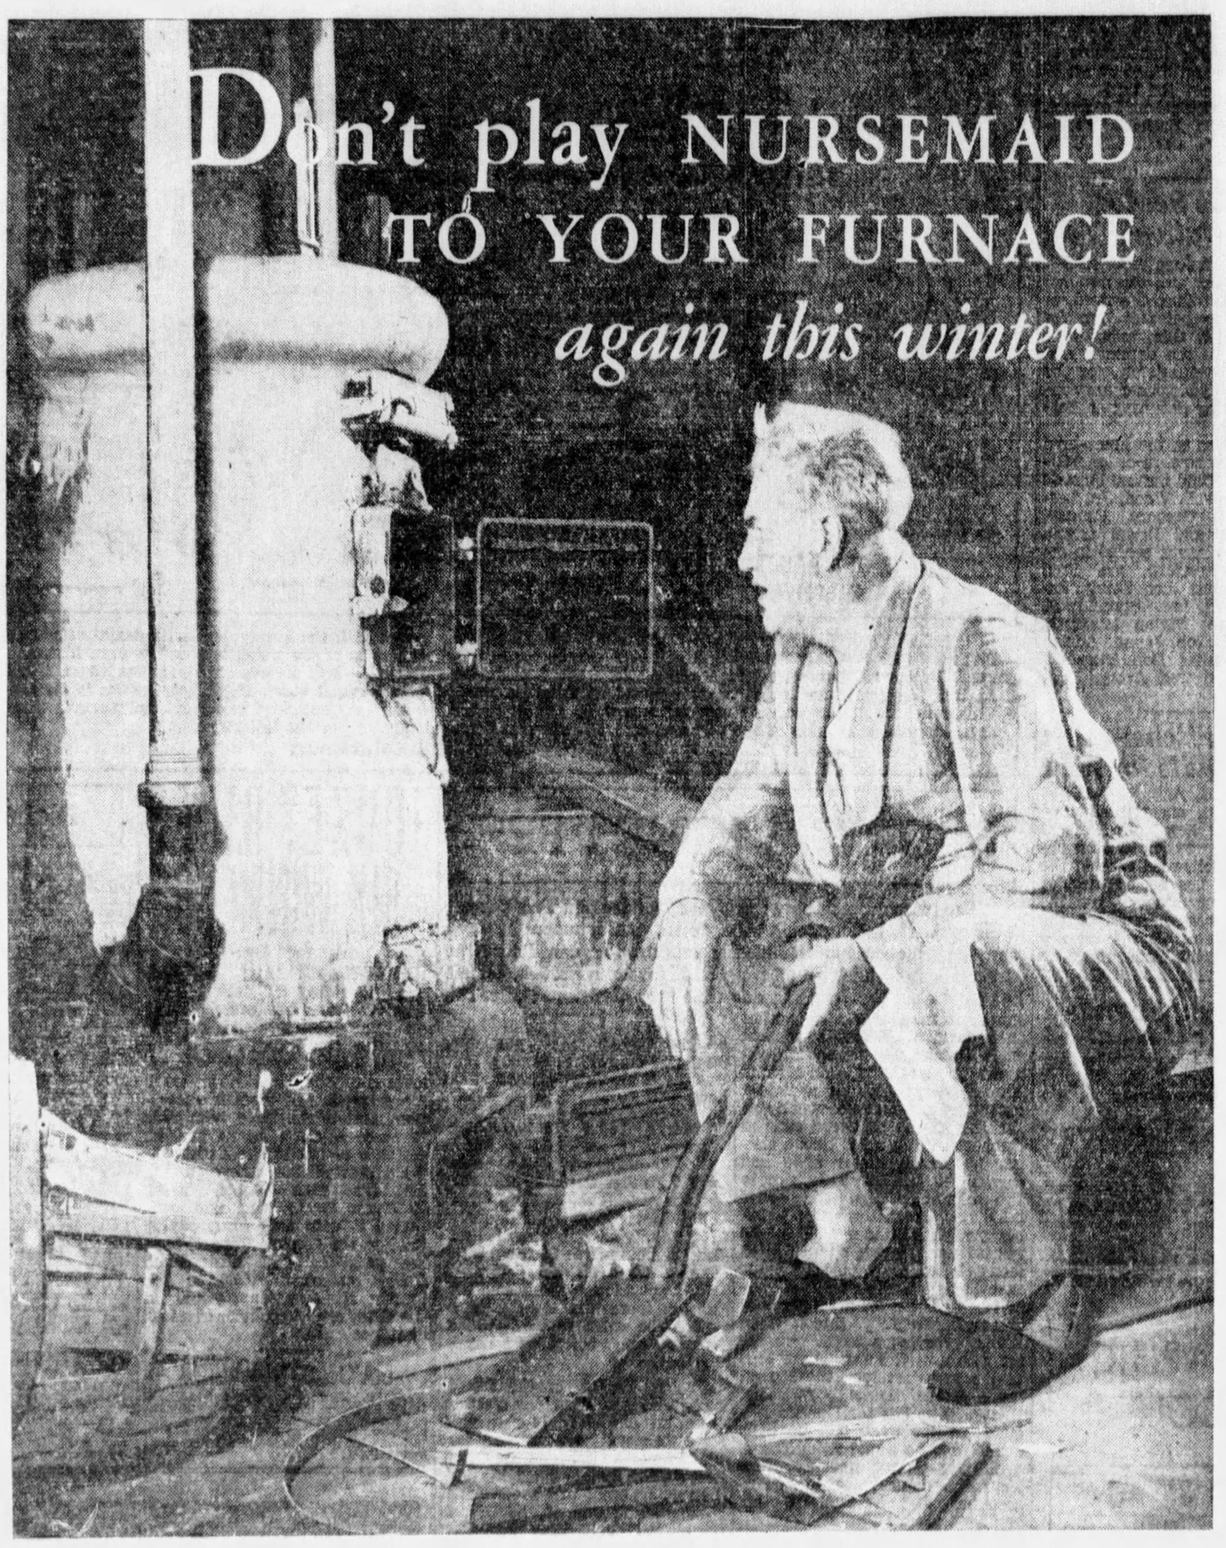
315 FERRY ST.
COR. 4TH AVE.

Come in make offer. Brand new serially numbered, paper wrapped guaranteed fresh stock. 25 sizes in stock. As low as

*4.40 - 21, *4.50 - 20, *4.50 - 21	Heavy Duty $4.00
*4.75 - 19, *4.75 - 20	Heavy Duty $5.00
*5.00 - 19, *5.00 - 20	Heavy Duty $5.00
*5.25 - 18, *5.25 - 19, *5.25 - 20	Heavy Duty $5.50
*5.25 - 21, *5.50 - 18, *5.50 - 19	Heavy Duty $6.00
*5.50 - 20, *6.00 - 18, *6.00 - 19	Heavy Duty $6.50
*6.00 - 20, *6.00 - 21	Heavy Duty $7.00
*6.50 - 18, *6.50 - 19, *6.50 - 20	Heavy Duty $7.50

Other Sizes Priced Proportionately Low. Doors Open From 8 A. M. to 7 P. M. No telephone Calls. No Telephone Orders.

*Available until present stock is exhausted.



WHAT are your plans for the winter? Will you play nursemaid to your furnace again—or will you enjoy the carefree convenience of Automatic Gas Heat?

Will you dance attendance on your furnace like a stage manager with a temperamental star, or will you sit in perfect comfort while the thermostat does all the work?

Will you shovel fuel, carry ashes, build and rebuild fires (or have your wife do it)—or will you truly enjoy your hours at home with automatic attention-free Gas Heat?

Will you be content with a room temperature that is first too hot and then too cold—or will you have the automatically controlled healthful, constant temperature of Gas Heat?

Will you put up with the dirt and dust and soot and ashes that are always a part of bulky fuels—or will you have the healthful spic and span cleanliness of Gas Heat?

When you know the present low cost of automatic gas heat for your home, under current low gas rates, you'll find it a real economy to free yourself forever from furnace-tending drudgery by heating your home the modern way—with Natural Gas.

Ask your Gas Company or your heating contractor for an accurate estimate of the cost of Gas Heat for your home. It's FREE. Send in the coupon below—NOW.

FREE OFFER
Your Gas Company will give you, free of charge, an accurate estimate of the cost of Automatic Gas Heat for your home. Send in the coupon today.

You can enjoy Automatic Gas Heat with a Gas Boiler or Furnace, or by changing your present heating plant over to Gas with a Conversion Burner.

1933 is a Gas Heating Year! Join the big parade to clean, carefree, healthful heat with the modern fuel—Natural Gas.

Your Gas Company will be glad to supply you or your heating contractor — without cost — with reliable engineering data on your present or contemplated gas heating installation.

MODERNIZE ECONOMIZE WITH GAS

NATURAL GAS COMPANIES
Serving the Greater Pittsburgh Area

P. O. Box 500, Pittsburgh, Pa.
Gentlemen:
I'd like to know, without obligation on my part, just what it would cost to heat my home with gas.
Name.....
Address.....
320

MARKETS TURN REACTIONARY, NERVOUS

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Stocks and staples started the day in an optimistic frame of mind, but a rather heavy selling flurry shortly after noon brought nervous and reactionary tendencies.

Although rail and utility equities displayed some resistance, many leading shares were off 1 to 3 or more points before support arrived for the retreating forces. The sharp sell-off was attributed largely to professional operations based on a drop in international dollar rates and softness of grain prices. Cotton was hesitant and bonds mixed. At the height of the decline in stocks the ticker was about five minutes behind floor transactions. The proceedings quited down, however, after about half an hour.

Alcohol issues, off 1 to more than 3, included National Distillers, Schenley, American Commercial Alcohol, United States Industrial Alcohol and Commercial Solvents. Allied Chemical slumped about 5 points and United States Smelting was down around 3. Santa Fe was up a point and Baltimore & Ohio was slightly higher. American Telephone, Case, United States Steel, Westinghouse, Chrysler, General Motors, Western Union and others were down 1 to around 2. Consolidated Gas and North American were fairly steady.

Followers of the carriers were cheered by the reports of the first 58 railroads for July which disclosed a combined increase in net operating income of 424.8 per cent over the 1932 month and 6.1 per cent ahead of last June. That drastic economies were partly responsible for the increased net is shown by the fact that gross earnings of these lines were up 22 per cent above July last year.

In line with the administration's efforts to spread employment among the transportation systems, financial observers were impressed with the report of the Interstate Commerce Commission which showed that Class 1 railroads had a total of 957,532 employes as of the middle of June who received wages of $115,433,189, as against 1,031,014 employes and wages of $123,781,848 at the same time in 1932. The June figures showed a moderate increase over those of May, however, when the same carriers had 938,406 employes with wages of $113,505,929.

While trading circles were closely watching earnings reports and NRA activities, they were not neglecting the visit of Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, with financiers here. Just what, if anything, in the way of a market influence might develop from the visit was the subject of much conjecture. The concensus was that no agreement would be reached, or countenanced by the government, regarding pound-dollar stabilization.

EARLY WHEAT GAINS LOST

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—A little scattered buying pulled wheat prices slightly higher at the opening today, but the gains were quickly erased.

The buying was apparently based on the announcement by the Secretary of Agriculture that the 1934 wheat acreage probably would be reduced 15 per cent.

Opening ⅝ to 1⅜ cents higher than yesterday's finish, wheat quickly lost all the gain. Corn started unchanged to ½ cent lower and later weakened further.

Strength in stocks helped give additional firmness to wheat, but trading later became almost lifeless.

World wheat shipments since July 1 have totalled 77,664,000 bushels, an increase of 11,865,000 bushels over last year, but exports from North America during that period have amounted to only 29,810,000 bushels, or 11,588,000 less than a year ago.

Corn sagged. Weather news from the corn belt showed little change. Oats dawdled with wheat and corn. Provisions eased with grains.

The following quotations on the Chicago Board of Trade are reported by A. E. Masten & Co.:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Yesterday.
WHEAT—
May	96½	96⅝	90⅝	92¼	95⅞
Sept	88⅝	88½	82⅝	84⅜	87⅝
Dec	92¼	92⅜	86⅝	88	91⅜
CORN—
May	61½	61¼	57½	59⅛	61½
Sept	50¾	50¾	46⅝	48	50⅜
Dec	55¾	55⅝	51⅞	53⅜	55⅝
OATS—
May	43⅜	43⅝	41	42⅛	43⅜
Sept	38½	38½	35¾	37	38½
Dec	40½	40¾	38	39½	40⅝
RYE—
Sept	72½	72½	67¼	68½	72⅛
LARD—
Sept	5 70	5 70	5 35	5 40	5 70

DIVIDEND NEWS

Scott Paper Raises

Scott Paper Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 37½ cents on the common, payable September 30 to record September 15. Previously, the company paid 35 cents quarterly.

* * *

F. E. Meyers Resumes.

F. E. Myers & Bros. has declared a dividend of 25 cents on the common stock. In the previous quarter the quarterly dividend on the common was omitted. The regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 on the preferred stock was declared. Both dividends are payable September 30 to record September 15.

* * *

Draper Raises.

Draper Corporation has declared a quarterly dividend of 60 cents a share, payable October 2 to record of September 2. This places the stock on a $2.40 annual basis as compared with $2 previously.

* * *

DIVIDENDS UNCHANGED

	Payable	Record
Un El L&P(Ill)6% pf$1.50q.	Oct 2	—Sept 15
Do (Mo.) 7% pf $1.75 q.	Oct 2	—Sept 15
Cent Ill Lt 6% pf $1.50 q.	Oct 2	—Sept 15
Do 7% pf $1.75 q.	Oct 2	—Sept 15
Westm'land W $6 pf$1.50q.	Oct 2	—Sept 20
Penn Cent L&P $5pf$1.50q.	Oct 2	—Sept 11
Do $2.80 pf 70c q.	Oct 2	—Sept 11
Mon W Penn P S pf1¾ %q.	Oct 2	—Sept 15
Lord & Taylor $2.50 q.	Oct 2	—Sept 16
W H Grant Co 25c q.	Oct 2	—Sept 12
Anchor Cap 15c q.	Oct 2	—Sept 19
Todd Shipyards 25c q.	Sept 20	—Sept 5
Glidden pr pfd $1.75 q.	Oct 2	—Sept 18

U. S. Treasury.

August 26

Internal revenue $	2,433,605.01
Customs receipts	27,766,994.33
Balance	1,200,481,110.26

Liverpool Wheat Market.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 29—The market was due ¼d lower based on sterling at $4.55, opened ¼d off and at 12:30 p. m was unchanged to ⅛d lower.

The market closed unchanged to ¼d lower, based on sterling at $4.54¾.

NEW YORK CLOSE WITH NET CHANGES

‡Indicates actual number of shares sold. All other sales figures are in hundreds of shares (00 omitted). Closing prices in this table. Year's high and low corrected to the previous close (Volume of sales computed to 2:00 p. m.)

Ticker reported "close" at 3:06 P. M.

1933 High	Low	Stocks and Rate	An Div $	Sales	High	Low	Close	Net Chge
—A A A—
13⅝	3	Adams Express		63	11⅞	10⅝	11¼	— ¼
21⅝	8	Adams Mills 1		4	18½	17½	17½
12⅜	6¼	Addressu-Mult		13	11⅞	11⅛	11⅜	— ⅛
9⅝	1⅜	Advance Rumely		9	6⅞	6½	6⅞	+ ⅜
11⅜	7¼	Affiliate Prod 1.20		5	8⅛	8	8	— ⅛
107½	47½	Air Reduction 8		13	106½	102	102	—4¼
41	11⅛	Alaska Juneau		176	33	27	32	+3⅛
8⅝	⅛	Allegheny Corp		309	7⅛	6¼	6⅝	+ ⅛
21⅛	1	Alleg'y C pf ww		14	17¾	16½	16½	+ ⅛
20	1	Alleg'y C pf xw		3	16½	15¼	16½	+ ⅛
21	1⅛	Alleg'y C pf wwxl		1	17	17	17	+1
143½	70¾	Allied Ch & D 6		28	142½	136	140½	—2¼
26⅝	6	Allis Chalmers		34	20½	18½	20	— ¾
24	5¾	Alpha Port Cem		3	17	16¼	16⅜	— ⅜
9¼	⅝	Amal Leather		5	6½	6⅜	6⅜
40	5	Amal Leath pf		2	30½	30	30	+ ½
43½	18½	Amerada Corp		81	43⅛	41¼	41⅜	— ⅜
65	⅛	Am Ag Chem Del		5	30¼	29	29	—1½
28½	8	Am Bank Note		8	21	19½	21	+ ⅜
16⅜	1	Am Beet Sugar		15	12⅜	11¼	12	— ½
42½	9⅛	Am Brake Sh 60		8	33¾	33	33¾	0
97½	49⅛	Am Can 4		56	94½	90	93⅜	+ ¼
39¾	6⅜	Am Car & Fdy		54	33½	30⅛	32½	— ¼
59⅜	15	Am Car&Fdy pf		5	48	47¼	47½
14	1⅜	Am Chain		1	8½	8½	8½
51¼	34	Am Chicle 3b		2	46	46	46	+ ¾
80⅛	13	Am Com Alcohol		160	69	61¾	66½	—2⅜
8	1	Am Encaus Ele		3	3¼	3½	3¾
13	4	Am Europ Sec		1	10	10	10	+ ⅛
19⅝	3⅜	Am & For Pow		176	14⅝	13¼	14½	+ ⅜
46⅜	7¼	Am & For Pw pf		9	29½	27½	27½	+ ½
35⅜	6⅜	Am&For P 6% pf		5	23	22¼	22½	+ ⅜
27¼	4⅜	Am&For P 2d pf		2	18¼	17½	17½	0
21½	4½	Am Haw Steam 1		14	18⅞	17¼	18¾	— ⅛
10	2½	Am H & Leather		1	11	10½	10½	— ½
57½	13½	Am H&Leather pf		1	42	40½	40½	—3
42½	19½	Am Home Prd 2.40		7	34½	33½	33⅝	— ⅜
17⅜	3⅜	Am Ice		13	11⅞	10½	10¾	—1
15⅝	4¼	Am International		27	12	11	11⅞	— ⅝
39⅛	6⅛	Am Locomotive		8	35½	33¼	34	—1½
63	17⅜	Am Locomo pfd			58	58	58
22⅜	8⅜	Am Mach Fdy 80		7	18¾	18	18½	— ⅛
23⅜	3⅛	Am Metal		88	20¾	19¼	20¾	+ ¾
71½	15⅛	Am Metal 6% pf		1	69½	69½	69½
19⅞	4	Am P&W & Gt		101	18⅜	12½	12¾	+ ⅛
41⅜	9⅜	Am P&L 6%pf1½		8	28¼	28	28	+ ¼
19	4⅞	Am Rad St San		167	17¼	16⅜	16⅞	— ⅛
31⅜	5⅜	Am Roll Mill		93	24¼	23⅛	24	— ⅜
47⅜	20⅛	Am Sat Raz 3		2	39	39	39	+1
4½	⅛	Am Ship & Com		3	2⅛	1⅞	2	— ⅛
42½	10¾	Am Smelt & Ref		65	41	36¼	40½	+2
85	31	Am Sm & Ref pf		1	79	79	79
73	20⅛	Am S & R 6% pf		1	60½	59½	60½	+1
49½	32½	Am Snuff 3½c		7	49¼	48⅛	48⅛	—1⅜
27	4⅜	Am Steel Fdy		9	24¼	22⅜	23½	— ½
47⅜	30	Am Stores 2½ B		10	40½	40	40½	+2
74	21⅛	Am Sug Ref 2		7	66⅞	65	65⅞	— ⅛
26	6	Am Sumatra Tob		14	21¼	19½	19⅞	— ⅛
134⅝	86½	Am Tel & Tel 9		173	131⅝	127	128⅜	—1⅛
90¼	49	Am Tob 5		4	88¾	87¾	87¾	— ¼
94⅜	50⅜	Am Tob B 5		19	92¼	88½	90	—2¼
25	10	Am Type Fdrs		2	18½	17	17	—1¼
43¼	10⅞	Am W Works 1		47	31½	28⅛	30⅜	0
35⅞	9½	Am W W 6% 1		22	25½	23¼	24¾	+ ¼
17	3½	Am Woolen		11	14⅝	13¼	13¾	— ⅝
61⅞	22⅜	Am Woolen pf		11	54	52	52½	—2
4½	⅝	Am Writ Pap ctfs		2	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
10⅜	2¼	Am Zinc & Lead		1	8	8	8	— ¼
22⅞	5	Anaconda Copper		167	18½	17	18⅜	— ⅛
39¼	8½	Anch Cap Cp .60		8	28	26	27½	—1
14½	2⅜	Andes Cop M		2	8¾	8⅝	8⅝
7½	1	A P W Paper			6	6	6
29¾	9⅜	Archer-D Mid 1		2	27½	27½	27½	0
90	41	Armour Del pf 7		5	81½	81	81½	—1
7⅜	1¼	Armour of Ill A		52	6½	5	5⅜	— ⅛
5	¾	Armour of Ill B		54	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜	— ⅜
93	1	Armour of Ill pfd		58	63⅜	56	58	—5¼
7	1½	Arnold Constable		3	5½	5½	5½
4¼	⅜	Asso Appar Ind		2	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝
20	3½	Asso Dry Goods		8	16¼	16⅛	16⅞	— ⅛
80½	34⅜	Atch T & S F		122	72½	66½	69½	+ ½
79⅜	50	Atch T&SF pf 3		7	72⅛	69½	70	—1¼
59	16½	Atlantic C Lines		7	53⅜	52	52	+ ½
31⅜	12⅜	Atlantic Ref 1		34	29⅝	28	29	— ⅜
39⅛	9	Atlas Powder		1	30⅛	30⅛	30⅛
17½	1½	Atlas Tack		6	18	17⅛	18	+ ⅛
84⅜	31¼	Auburn Auto 2		71	63¼	59⅛	61	—1
9¾	⅜	Austin Nichols		2	7⅞	7	7	— ⅛
16⅝	5½	Aviation Corp		182	12½	11½	12	— ¼
—B B B—
17⅜	3½	Baldwin Locomo		2	14¾	13⅝	14½	0
60	9½	Baldwin Loco pf		1	46	44	44
37⅞	14½	Baltimore & Ohio		190	86½	84¼	86	+ ⅝
39¼	9½	Baltimore & O pf		17	37⅜	35⅜	36¼	— ⅝
40	20	Bangor & Aroos		12	41¼	39¾	39¾	— ¼
11	3	Barnsdall Corp A		55	10	9	9⅜	0
52⅜	3¼	Bayuk Cigars		43	45¾	42½	44½	+1½
27	7	Beatrice Cream		2	17¼	17¼	17¼	— ⅛
70½	45	Beech-Nut Pkg 3		4	67	65	65½	+ ½
12½	3½	Belding-Heming		8	11¼	10⅝	10⅝	— ¼
94½	62½	Belg NR pf 4.09			93⅝	93⅝	93⅝
21¼	6¼	Bendix Aviation		100	19⅜	17¾	18¾	— ½
15⅝	13⅜	Benef Ind L 1.50		2	14	13¾	14	— ⅛
33⅜	9	Best & Co		3	32⅛	30¼	30¼	—2½
49¼	10⅛	Bethlehem Steel		105	42	39½	41	— ⅝
82	25¼	Beth Stl 7% pf		1	67	67	67	—2½
19¼	3½	Blaw Knox		8	15½	14½	14⅝	— ⅜
64½	9⅛	Boon Al&Brass 1		15	48⅞	47	47⅞	— ⅝
37⅝	18	Borden & Co 1.60		24	28⅝	27½	27⅞	+ ¼
21⅝	5⅛	Borg Warner		31	20⅛	18⅞	19⅞	— ⅜
14⅝	2⅜	Briggs Mfg Co		40	12¼	11¼	12	— ¼
16	7¼	Briggs & Strat 1		2	17	17	17	+1
41½	21⅝	Brooklyn M 1		4	33¼	32½	32⅞	— ⅛
9⅜	3½	Brooklyn & Q T		2	5¼	5¼	5¼	— ¼
59	35¼	Brooklyn&QT pf 6		2	56	56	56
88½	63½	Brooklyn Un Gs 5		3	79	78½	79	+1
57⅜	28¼	Brown Shoe 3		1	50	50	50	+ ½
18½	1⅜	Brunswick B Col		4	11¾	11	11	— ¾
12⅜	2	Bucyrus-Erie		4	10	9⅝	10	— ⅛
19⅜	2⅜	Bucyrus-Er cv pf		8	13⅜	13	13
9⅝	⅝	Budd Mfg Co		8	6¾	6¾	6¾	+ ¼
5⅜	1	Budd Wheel		6	4	3⅞	4	+ ¼
13⅝	2½	Bullard Co		1	9	9	9	— ⅝
5	⅛	Bulova Watch Co			3½	3½	3½
20⅝	6¼	Burrough AM 40		25	18	16½	17¼	— ½
8	1	Bush Term		1	4¼	4¼	4¼	0
4¼	½	Butte Cop & Zinc		3	2¾	2¾	2¾	0
2⅝	1	Butte & Superior		10	2	2	2	+ ⅛
7½	1¼	Butterick Co		1	3¾	3¾	3¾	— ⅛
43¼	8½	Byers (AM) Co		56	36¾	33½	35⅝	0
—C C C—
44⅜	7⅜	California Pack			28½	28½	28½	0
2¼	1⅜	Callahan Z & L		6	1⅜	1¼	1⅜	0
9⅝	2	Calumet & Hecla		7	6⅞	6⅝	6¼	— ¼
16¼	2	Campbell W&C F		4	10¾	10¾	10¾	0
11½	7½	Canada D G A 1		25	32	30	31⅜	— ⅜
20⅜	7⅛	Canadian Pacific		103	17¼	16½	17⅛	+ ⅜
45½	14	Cannon Mills 1		2	28½	28½	28½	— ½
103½	30½	Case (JI) Th Ma		83	78⅞	73⅛	77⅜	— ¼
29⅝	5½	Caterpillar Trac		15	24⅝	23	24	— ⅜
58¾	4½	Celanese Corp		348	48⅜	44⅝	47¼	— ¼
4⅜	⅜	Celotex Corp ct		1	2¼	2⅜	2⅜	0
41	14	Cen Aguirre 1.60		3	34½	33	33	—1¾
42⅜	6⅜	Cerro de Pasco C		112	38¼	34	38¼	+1⅝
7⅜	1	Certain-I Prod		9	5⅜	4¾	5	— ⅜
20½	7½	Checker Cab Mfg		1	16	16	16	— ⅜
48½	24⅝	Chesa & O 2½		261	49¼	47¾	48⅜	+ ⅛
52½	14⅜	Chesapeake Corp 2		34	51½	50	51	0
8½	½	Chi & E Ill pfd		5	4¾	4¼	4¾	+ ¼
16	1¼	Chi & N West		123	13⅜	12⅛	13	+ ¼
34⅜	2	Chi & N West pf		13	27½	25	25	+ ¼
7⅝	1⅜	Chi Gt Western		14	5¼	5	5¼	0
14⅜	2½	Chi Gt West pfd		13	13¼	12¼	12¼	— ½
11⅜	1	Chi M & St Paul		24	9½	8½	9	— ⅛
18¼	1½	Chi M&St Paul pf		130	15⅝	14½	14⅞	— ⅛
12⅜	2⅝	Chi Pneumatic 1		12	11	10¼	10⅝	— ⅜
25¼	5½	Chi Pneum 1 pf		4	22	21½	21⅞	— ⅜
10⅜	2	Chi R I & P		8	7⅜	6⅝	6⅝	— ¼
15	2½	Chi RI&P 6% pf			9¾	9¾	9¾	0
19½	3½	Chi RI&P 7% pf		1	12½	12½	12½
34	5	Chickasha Cot Oil		17	26½	25¼	25⅞	— ½
47⅜	27¼	Chrysler Mot .50g		741	46⅜	43⅜	45⅝	—1⅛
25	7¼	City Ice & Fuel 2		3	19¾	19¾	19¾	+ ⅛
3⅜	¼	City Stores		3	2	1⅞	2	0
41½	10	Cluett Peabody 1		3	30½	30	30	—1¼
195	63½	Coca Cola 8		5	92¾	92	92	—1
22⅝		Colgate Palo P		8	18¾	18½	18⅝	— ⅜
21⅜	3	Collins & Aikman		42	21⅝	19¼	20½	— ⅜
17⅜	3½	Col Fuel & Iron		2	7	6⅜	7	0
71¼	28⅜	Col Carbon 2		22	66¾	61	66¼	+ ¾
28½		Colum Gas&E 80		164	20⅛	19	19⅝	+ ⅛
24½	6⅝	Col Pictures ctfs		2	23	22⅝	22⅝	— ⅜
15¾	4	Com Credit		99	16	14⅜	15¾	+ ⅛
38	16	Com Credit A		4	38	37	38
43⅛	18	Com Inv Tr 2		21	39⅞	38⅞	39	—1¼
57¼	9	Com Solvent 60		555	40¼	37⅛	39¼	— ⅜
6⅛	1⅜	Com & South		64	3½	3¼	3¼	— ⅛
50½	21	Com & So pf 6		4	47	46	46
27⅜	7⅜	Congoleum-N 60		85	24⅛	23	23⅜	— ½
19⅜	3½	Consol Cigar		16	12	11	11	— ⅛
14⅜	5⅜	Cons Film pfd		4	10	9¼	9¾	— ⅛
64½	40	Consol Gas 3.40		152	50¼	48⅜	49½	+ ⅛
5½	2⅜	Con Laundries		1	3½	3½	3½	0
18⅜	5	Consolidated Oil		127	13½	1 ¾	13½	— ⅛
104	95½	Consol Oil pf 8			104⅜	104⅜	104⅜
10⅜	1¼	Con RR of Cub pf		7	6½	6	6	+ ¼
2¼	⅛	Consol Textile		10	1⅞	1¾	1¾	0
10⅛	1¼	Container Crp A		41	9⅞	9	9¼	+ ¼
4½	⅛	Container B		26	3⅝	3¼	3½	— ⅛
18½	3	Contin Bak A		6	14⅝	13¾	13	— ⅛
3½	⅛	Contin Bak B		8	2¾	2½	2¼	+ ⅛
64	36	Contin Bak pf 6		1	61¾	61¾	61¾	— ¼
65⅜	35¼	Contin Can 2		52	65⅞	64	65	+ ⅛
36½	10⅝	Contin Insur 1.20		10	32	30	30	— ½
4	1	Contin Motors		20	2¼	2⅛	2⅛	— ⅛
19½	4½	Contin Oil		91	17½	16½	17	— ⅛
90⅜	45⅝	Corn Prod Ref 3		37	89⅝	86¼	87¼	—2
1⅝	⅜	Coty Inc		4	5¾	5¼	5⅛	— ¾
39⅛	23	Cream of W 2½b		14	32	30	31	— ¾
15¼	2⅝	Crosley Radio		3	10¼	10	10	— ⅜
65	14¼	Crown C & Seal		7	47⅞	46	46¾
38⅛	24½	Crwn Cork pf 2 70		1	37	37	37
5⅜	1	Crown Zellerbach		6	5⅞	5¾	5¾	— ⅜
37⅛	9	Crucible Steel		2	30½	29⅝	29⅞	—1
60⅜	16	Crucible Steel pf		2	49½	49½	49½	+ ¼
4⅜	⅛	Cuba Co		1	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛	— ⅛
11⅛	1¼	Cuban Am Sugar		7	8¼	7⅞	7⅞	— ⅜
59½	20⅝	Cudahy Pack 2.80		10	51	50	50	— ½
62¼	6⅛	Curtis Publish		4	25½	24	24	—1¼
1933 High	Low	Stocks and Rate	An Div $	Sales	High	Low	Close	Net Chge
—D D D—
8¾	1⅝	Davega Stores		7	8½	8¼	8⅜	0
49	24⅝	Deere & Co		77	37½	34	36⅞	— ⅛
93¾	47⅜	Del & Hudson		54	85⅜	79½	82	0
46	17¼	Del Lack & W		144	38¾	36¼	37⅜	— ⅜
19⅜	2	Denver RG&W pf		4	12½	11	11¾
91½	48	Detroit Edison 4		1	72	72	72
53⅜	10	Devoe & Ray 8s A		1	32	32	32	—1
49½	17½	Diamond Match		4	23¾	23⅜	23⅜	0
58⅜	12	Dome Mines 1.20		97	35¼	31⅞	34⅞	+1⅜
26⅜	10⅛	Domin Store 1.20		1	22	22	22	— ½
18¼	10¼	Doug Aircraft .75		35	15½	14¾	15¼	— ⅛
63½	29	Drug Incorp 8		36	47	45½	46⅜	— ⅛
28⅜	9½	Duplan Silk 1		1	21½	21½	21½	— ½
85⅝	52⅛	Du Pont de N 2		110	83⅜	80	83½	+ ⅜
—E E E—
10	1¼	Eastern Roll Mill		1	7	7	7	0
89⅜	46	Eastman Kodak 8		10	85	82	84	—1¼
16	3½	Eaton Mfg Co		23	14	12¼	13½	— ⅜
5¼	⅝	Ellington Schild		11	3⅞	3⅜	3⅜	— ⅛
4¼	1	Elec & Mus Ltd		13	3	3	3	0
47½	10	Elec Auto-Lite		120	28	21½	22¼	— ½
8¼	1	Electric Boat		9	5¼	5⅛	5⅜	— ¼
15⅜	3¼	Elec P & Lt		95	10	9	9¼	0
36⅛	7½	Elec P & L pf		3	22	20¼	20½
32⅜	6½	Elec P & L 6% pf		5	20	19½	19⅝	— ⅜
54	21	Elec Stor Bat 2		1	47⅞	47⅞	47⅞	0
6	⅝	Elk Horn Coal pf		1	3	3	3
14⅜	4	Engineers P S		4	8½	8¼	8½
13⅜	6½	Equit O Bldg 1		1	10½	10½	10½	0
47⅝	3⅝	Erie R R		117	25½	22¾	24⅞	+ ⅛
29⅛	4½	Erie R R 1st pf		11	27⅜	26	26	— ¼
23¾	2½	Erie R R 2nd pf		3	20¾	20	20
18½	3	Eureka Vacuum		10	10	9⅞	10	0
7⅛	⅛	Evans Products		4	4¼	4	4
—F F F—
11⅛	2½	Fairbanks Morse		3	8¾	7¾	7¾	— ¼
11⅜	¾	Fed Motor Truck		3	8½	8½	8½
4⅜	¾	Fed Screw Works		1	3	3	3	0
6⅜	1⅜	Fed Water Serv		1	4	4	4	— ¼
26	10¾	Fidelity-P F 1.20		7	31	30⅜	30⅜
81½	9⅛	Firestone I&R 40		62	27¾	24⅞	26⅛	— ⅝
75	46	Firestone I&Rpf6		2	72	72	72	—1
10⅜	6⅜	First Nat S 2.50		1	57	57	57	— ½
15	6½	Food Mach		2	14½	13¾	14⅛
23	4½	Foster Wheeler		13	18⅜	17½	18	— ¾
23⅜	2	Foundation Co		5	17⅛	16	16	—1⅛
26⅛	13⅝	Fourth N in 1.10		2	22¼	22¼	22¼	— ¾
18½	15¼	Fox Film		20	16⅝	15⅜	15⅜	— ⅜
43¼	16¼	Freeport Tex 2		84	44¼	42	43¼	+ ⅛
—G G G—
5¾	1	Gabriel Snub A		2	5	5	5	0
12	2⅝	Gen Am Inv		19	10½	10	10	— ½
44⅜	13⅜	Gen Am Pr C 1		14	39½	38⅛	39	— ⅜
27	4⅝	General Asphalt		44	23¼	20⅞	22½	— ½
20⅞	15	General Baking 1		7	16	15½	15¾	— ¼
10½	2¼	Gen Bronze		15

HEARST PAPERS DECLARE 13TH DIVIDEND

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Marking the thirteenth milestone in its successful record of uninterrupted quarterly cash dividends, Hearst Consolidated Publications Inc. today declared the regular September dividend on the Class "A" 7 per cent cumulative participating preferred shares.

The board of directors voted payment of dividend number 13 on September 15, amounting to 43¾ cents per share or at the rate of $1.75 per share annually, to stockholders of record September 1.

EARNS DIVIDEND

Hearst Consolidated Publications Inc. stands out preeminently as one of the handful of major corporations in the United States that has steadily maintained dividends earned out of current operations and not drawing upon surplus.

With the revival of public confidence since the national banking holiday, the demand has been greatly stimulated for Hearst 7 per cent preferred shares and they have gained national recognition as a sound and conservative 7 per cent investment.

HOLDERS INCREASE

The total number of shareholders now enrolled upon the books of Hearst Consolidated Publications Inc. has reached a new all time high mark of 39,000, averaging 1,000 new investors each month since the original public offering of Hearst 7 per cent preferred shares in July, 1930.

The nation-wide group of 12 properties owned by Hearst Consolidated, consisting of the New York Evening Journal, Chicago Evening American, San Francisco Examiner, San Francisco Call-Bulletin, Los Angeles Examiner, Los Angeles Herald-Express, Detroit Times, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Oakland Post-Examiner, Seattle Post-Intelligencer, American Weekly Magazine and American Newsprint Corporation, reflects the improvement in business that is becoming more general throughout the entire country.

OIL DROP LED BY OKLAHOMA

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Oklahoma led the way in a 19,862-barrel decrease in the daily average crude oil production of the United States last week, the Oil and Gas Journal reports. Output fell from 2,791,727 to 2,771,865 barrels a day.

In Oklahoma the decrease was from 620,815 to 605,740 barrels. California contributed a 4,000-barrel decrease to 501,500 barrels a day.

Texas production rose from 1,235,099 to 1,237,082 barrels due to Gulf Coast activities. East Texas output dropped from 629,650 to 625,173 barrels.

In Kansas there was a 60-barrel drop to 129,050 barrels; eastern production was down 1,000 barrels to 116,000 daily, and in the Rocky Mountain area there was a decline from 79,980 to 78,180 barrels a day.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(AP.)—Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (00 omitted in sales column of stock list; 000 omitted in sales column of bond list):

STOCKS.

Sales.		High.	Low.	1:00.
	—A—
1	Acme Wire vtc	10½	10½	10½
3	Air Invest vtc	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
24	Allied Mills	14	13	13¾
1	Alum Co Am	80	80	80
1	Am Beverage	2½	2½	2½
4	Am Cit P&LR	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
3	Am C Pow A	⅝	⅝	⅝
4	Am Cyan B	14	13¾	14
3	Am & Forn P war	9⅛	9⅛	9⅛
2	Am Founders	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
23	Am Gas & El	32½	30⅝	31½
1	Am Invest	4½	4½	4½
2	Am Light & T	19	18⅝	19
*25	Am Meter	12½	12½	12½
14	Am Maracaibo	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
44	Am Sup Pow	4⅝	4⅝	4⅝
1	Do pfd	52½	52½	52½
2	Ark Nat Gas	2⅜	2⅛	2⅛
1	Do A	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
7	Armour Ill	9⅛	9⅛	9⅛
1	Armstrong Cork	26⅝	26⅝	26⅝
11	Armour Ill war	3⅝	3½	3½
2	As G&E	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
39	Do A	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
3	Do war	1/32	1/32	1/32
7	Atlas Corp	15	15	15
2	Do war	7⅛	7	7
	—B—
4	Baldwin Bond rts	11	11	11
*25	Bell Tel Can	110½	110½	110½
3	Blue Rid cv pf	34	34	34
5	Braz T&L	14½	14⅜	14⅜
6	Brillo Mfg	7	6⅞	7
2	Bristol Myers	40½	40	40
2	Br Am Tb B	26	26	26
	—C—
5	Can Ind Alc A	18⅜	18⅛	18¼
10	Can Marc Wire	3	3	3
42	Carib Syn	5½	5⅛	5½
2	Carrier Corp	11⅞	11⅜	11⅜
*25	Celluloid pfd	28	28	28
8	Cen St E pf	2⅝	2⅜	2½
16	Cities Service	3⅛	3	3⅛
*10	Do B B pfd	13	13	13
*25	Col G&E cv pfd	107	107	107
1	Comwith & So war	⅝	⅝	⅝
1	Cons G&E Balt	80	80	80
6	Cord Corp	13	12⅞	12⅞
2	Cosden Oil cod	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
1	Cramp & Sons	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
1	Creole Pet	8	8	8
1	Crown C Intl A	7	7	7
1	Cust Mex	11-16	11-16	11-16
	—D—
18	Dist Co Ltd	19⅜	19⅜	19⅜
12	Dist Corp Seagr	28	17⅛	27¼
1	Dow Chem	72⅞	72⅞	72⅞
19	Duval Tex	8	6	7⅛
	—E—
*50	East G & F 6 pfd	57½	57½	57½
1	East Sta Pow	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
1	Easy Wash M B	5⅞	5⅞	5⅞
1	Economy Grocer Strs	24⅜	24⅜	24⅜
188	El Bond & Share	26⅝	25	25⅞
2	Do pfd	51⅜	51½	51½
2	El Pow As	7½	7⅛	7½
5	Do A	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞
2	El Shareholding pf war	5	5	5⅛
2	Do 2nd pfd A	16⅜	16½	16⅜
*25	Emer Br Seltz B	25	25	25
7	Equity Corp	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
3	Europ El A	8⅛	8⅛	8⅛
2	Europ Ir deb rts	1¼	1¼	1¼
	—F—
5	Fidel 10 Brew	3⅜	3½	3½
25	Fisk Rub	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞
1	Do pfd	44⅜	44⅜	44⅜
3	Ford M Can A	16⅜	16	16
8	Ford Mot Ltd	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝
	—G—
*250	Gen T & Rub	99⅜	99½	99½
5	Glen Alden	20	19½	20
5	Gohr Mfg vtc	29	28½	28½
*180	Gt Atl & P nv	145	142	145
1	Gulf Oil	125	124½	125
4	Gulf Oil Pa	56¼	56¼	56¼
	—H—
1	Hecla Min	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝
19	Hir Walker	47⅜	46½	46⅝
1	Holling Gold	9⅜	9⅜	9⅜
6	Hudson Bay M&S	10⅛	10⅛	10⅛
	—I—
2	Imp Oil Can	14	14	14
1	Ins Co N Am	44	44	44
14	Internat Pet	18⅛	18	18
1	Int Min Corp war	3⅜	3½	3⅜
3	Inter Utili B	2¼	2¼	2¼
1	Irving Air C	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝
8	Ital Superpower A	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
	—J—
*50	Jer C P&L 7s pfd	80	80	80
	—K—
1	Kirk Lake G M	⅜	⅜	⅜
5	Krueger Brewing	18¼	18	18
	—L—
20	Lake Shore Mining	45⅛	44⅝	44⅝
2	Lerner Stores	13	13	13
2	Libby McN&L	5	5	5
2	Life Savers	19	18	19
2	Long Island Lt	6⅞	6⅝	6⅝
*10	Do pfd	70	70	70
*50	Do pfd B	55	54½	55
3	Louisville L&E	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
	—M—
2	Massey Harris	6⅜	6⅜	6⅜
11	Mavis Bottle A	1⅝	1½	1⅝
3	Mead Johnson	48⅛	48	48⅛
1	Memphis Nat Gas	4½	4½	4½
1	Mid West Ut pfxw	2	2	2
1	Molybdenite Cor vtc	4¾	4¾	4¾
2	Mort Bank col	4¼	4¼	4¼
2	Mt Prod	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝
	—N—
4	Nat Avia	12⅜	12⅜	12⅜
7	Nat Bell Hess	3⅛	3	3⅛
1	Nat Investors	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
4	Nat Inves war	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
1	Nat Leather	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
*50	Nat P&L 6s pf	62⅜	62⅜	62⅜
1	Nat Screen	12	12	12
5	New Bedford	1½	1½	1½
6	Newmont Min	49⅞	49	49⅛
33	Niag Hud Pow	9½	9¼	9¼
12	Nipissing Mines	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
3	Nitrate B	¼	¼	¼
	—O—
4	Ohio Cop	⅜	⅜	⅜
*25	Ohio Edis pfd	64½	64½	64½
	—P—
2	Pac G & E 1 pfd	22	21⅞	21⅞
9	Pan Am Airways	58½	58	58½
1	Pantepec Oil	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
1	Parke Davis	23	23	23

Sales.		High.	Low.	1:00.
*50	Parker Rust-Pr	68⅝	68	68⅝
11	Pennroad	4⅛	4	4⅛
11	Phoenix Sec	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
8	Pioneer Gold	12⅞	12¾	12¾
1	Pgh Pl Gl	37	37	37
3	Premier Gold	1¼	1¼	1¼
	—Q—
*40	Quaker Oats	135	135	135
	—R—
1	Relian Intl A	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
1	Repub Gas	5-16	5-16	5-16
3	Rich Oil pfd	1	⅝	1
	—S—
32	St Anth Gold	⅜	⅜	⅜
4	St Regis Pap	5⅝	5½	5⅝
1	Seaboard Util	⅜	⅜	⅜
1	Segal Lock	⅜	⅜	⅜
1	Sel Ind (ai ctf)	58	58	58
1	Sentry S Con	⅛	⅛	⅛
6	Seton Leather	12⅜	12⅛	12⅜
4	So Am G & Pl	3	3	3
7	So Penn Oil	17⅜	16⅝	17
1	So C El C pfd	18⅜	18⅜	18⅜
1	Southland Roy	5	5	5
21	Swift & Co	18⅜	18	81
	—T—
1	Tampa El	27½	27½	27½
6	Tastyeast A	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
7	Teck-Hugh Gold	6⅞	6⅞	6⅞
1	Tranzont Air	4¼	4¼	4¼
5	Tubize Chat	20⅜	19½	19½
	—U—
2	Union Gas Canada	5¼	5¼	5¼
8	Ut Oil Ind	30⅛	30⅛	30⅛
2	Do ex	17	17	17
1	Stand Sil-Lead	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
9	Sterling Prod	57⅛	56½	57
1	Stutz Mot Am	10	10	10
1	Sun Invest	3½	3½	3½
1	Union Tob	⅜	⅜	⅜
2	Unit Corp war	3	3	3
20	Unit Drug Corp	7⅞	7½	7⅞
18	Unit Founders	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
19	United Gas	4¼	4¼	4¼
2	Do pref	32½	32	32½
36	Un L & P A	5⅞	5⅝	5⅝
4	Do cv pfd	21	20⅞	21
7	Un Molasses Ltd	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛
*50	Unit Shoe M	55½	55¼	55¼
2	U S & I Sec pfd	54	53	53
1	U S Dairy A	1½	1½	1½
3	U S Elec Pow	1¼	1	1¼
2	U S Foil B	9	8⅝	9
1	United Verde	4	4	4
1	Utility Equities	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝
*25	Do pfd	43	43	43
4	Util Pow & Lt	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
2	Utility & Ind	2¼	1⅞	2⅛
1	Do pfd	5	5	5
	—W—
*20	West Md 1st pfd	50	50	50
152	Wright Harg	7½	7¼	7½
	—Y—
12	Yukon Gold	⅝	⅝	⅝

DOMESTIC BONDS.

3	Ala Pow 5s 51	81½	81	81½
1	Do 4½s 67	67¼	67⅜	67⅜
5	Alumin Ltd 5s 48	75	74½	74½
5	Am Cmwl F 6s 40	8½	2⅜	2⅜
7	Do 5½s 53	2	2	2
1	Am Com P 5½s 53	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝
2	Am El&P 6s 57A	27	27	27
7	Am G&E 5s 2028	80	79½	79½
5	Am G&Pow 6s 39	34½	33½	33½
6	Do 5s 52	28½	28	28
3	Am P&L 6s 2016	59¼	59	59
6	Am Roll M 5s 48	73¾	73½	73½
3	Do 4½s 53	103⅜	103¼	103⅜
3	Do 4½s 53 cts	102⅞	102⅝	102⅞
9	Appal El Pow 5s56	90½	90½	90½
9	Ark P&L 5s 56	71½	70½	70½
1	As Elec 4½s 53	33½	33½	33½
3	AsG&E5½s38inv ct	18	17	18
7	Do 5s 50	16⅞	16¾	16⅞
16	Do 5s 68	16½	16	16
28	Do 6½s 49	15	14⅜	14⅜
7	As Rayon 5s 50	44½	44½	44½
10	Bald Loc 6s 38ww	117½	117½	117½
11	Do 6s 38 ww	75	74⅝	75
4	Bell T Can 5s55A	102	102	102
3	Do 5s 57 E	102	102	102
5	Do 5s 60 C	102	102	102
3	Birm El 4½s 68	65½	65½	65½
1	Bflo G El 5s 56 A	105⅛	105⅛	105⅛
1	Do 5s 39	105⅞	105⅞	105⅞
1	Can N R 5½ 7s35E	102	102	102
22	Can Pac 6s 42	112⅞	112	112¼
5	Cen Ill P S 5s 56E	66⅛	66⅛	66⅛
1	Do 5s 68 G	65½	65½	65½
1	Do 4½s 81 H	61	61	61
7	Do 4½s 67 F	60¾	60½	60½
6	Cen P & L 5s 57	54	54	54
5	Cen Pow 5s 57D	61	60	60
2	Cen P Svc 5½s 49	3	3	3
1	Do 5½s 49xw	2½	2½	2½
5	Cen St El 5½s 54	47¼	47¼	47¼
2	Do 5s 48	47	46⅞	47
9	Cen St P&L 5½s 53	44	43⅞	44
2	Chi Dis E 4½s 70A	71¾	71½	71½
2	Chi Ry cod 5s 27	59	59	59
33	Cities Ser 5s 50	34½	34⅛	34½
1	Cit S Gas 5½s 42	34¼	34⅛	34¼
10	Cit S P&L 5½s 49	34½	34⅜	34⅜
2	Cit S Pow 5½s 52	34½	34	34
1	Clev E Ill 5s 54 A	107¼	107¼	107¼
1	Comwl Ed 5s 54B	99½	99½	99½
2	Comwl Ed 4½s56C	94½	94½	94½
2	Do 4½s 57 D	94	94	94
2	Do 4½s 60 E	93	93	93
16	Do 4s 81 F	81	81	81
40	Do 5½s 62 G	101¾	101	101
2	Comwl Sub 5½s 52	77½	77½	77½
3	Commun P&L 5s57	49½	49½	49½
5	Conn Riv P 5s52A	99⅝	99½	99½
1	Con GEL&P 4½s35	104	104	104
1	Do Ba 4s 81	99	99	99
3	Con Gas Ut 6s43A	41¾	41¾	41¾
28	Cont G&E 5s58A	50⅞	48¾	50
1	Crane Co 5s 40	87	87	87
6	Cudahy P 5½s 48	99	99	99
6	Cumb CP&L 6s 49A	88	87½	88
1	Dallas P&L 6s 49A	105⅞	105⅞	105⅞
3	Dayton P&L 5s 41	105	104⅞	105
7	Det C Gas 6s 47 A	93	92⅝	93
1	Do Int Pr 5s 52	8⅝	8⅝	8⅝
5	Ed El Ill 5s 35	102¼	102¼	102¼
6	Do 5s 34	102⅝	102⅝	102⅝
21	Elec P&L 5s 2030	47⅞	46	46½
1	Empire Dis E 5s 52	55½	55½	55½
5	Emp G&E 5½s 42	47¼	47¼	47¼
1	Fed Water 5½s 54	34	34	34
1	Firestone C M 5s48	88½	88½	88½
5	Fla P&L 5s 54	62¾	62¾	62¾
11	Gai Power 5s 56	77	77	77
8	Do 6s 41	68½	68½	68½
3	Do B	68⅝	68½	68⅝
4	Gen M Accept 5s 36	103⅜	103⅜	103⅜
3	Gen P Util 6½s 33	46	45	46
10	Gn Refract 6s38ww	104¾	104¾	104¾
5	Ga Power 5s 67	87⅞	87⅞	87⅞
1	Godchaux S 7½s 41	99	99	99
3	Gulf O Pa 5s 47	102¼	101⅞	101⅞
12	Do 5s 37	101½	101½	101½
4	Hack Wat 5s 38	103	103	103
4	Hall P 5½s 47 A	67½	67	67
5	Houst L&P 4½s81E	93	93	93
2	Hudson Bay 6s 35	115¾	115¾	115¾
5	Illinois Cent 4½s34	79⅝	79⅝	79⅝
1	Ill P & L 6s 53 A	67¾	67¾	67¾
2	Ind Elec 5s 53 A	63	63	63
17	Indnpls P&L 5s57A	91½	91	91
5	Int P Sec 7s57E	83	83	83
10	Do 6½s 55 C	78	78	78
1	Int Salt 5s 51	89	89	89
8	Int P Svc 5s56D	58¾	57	58¾
4	Do 4½s 58	53⅜	53½	53⅜
2	Jacksonv Gas 5s 42	48½	48	48
15	J Cen P&L 4½s61C	89⅝	89	89½
3	Jon & Laugh 5s 39	104¼	104	104
32	Kan P&L 5s 57 B	86	85	85
6	Ky Util 5s 61 H	65	65	65
1	Kop Gas & C 5s47	78½	78½	78½
1	Lex Util 5s 52	68	68	68
8	Lib McN&L 5s 42	66½	65	66½
1	Lone Star Gas 5s 42	111	110¾	111
1	L Ang G&E 5½s49I	101	101	101
5	L G&E Ky 4½s61C	99⅞	99⅞	99⅞
1	Mass Gas 5½s 46	88¼	88¼	88¼
2	Do 5s 55	85⅞	85⅞	85⅞
1	Metro Ed 5s 62 F	87½	87½	87½
2	Midw Util 5s 35 ctf	11	11	11
1	Minn P & L 5s 55	79½	79½	79½
2	Miss Riv F 6s 44ww	95	95	95
6	Miss P & L 5s 57	59½	58⅝	58⅝
3	Miss Pow 5s 55	57	56⅝	56⅝
1	Miss Riv P 5s 51	104⅜	104⅜	104⅜
19	Mont LH&P 5s 51A	102⅛	102	102
7	Do 5s 70 B	101	100⅜	101
1	Munson SS 6½s 37	19¾	19¾	19¾
1	Narragansett 5s 57	102½	102½	102½
1	Nat P&L 6s 2026 A	74⅞	74⅞	74⅞
9	Do 5s 2030 B	64⅞	64¼	64⅞
4	Nat P S 5s 78 ctf	14⅜	14⅜	14⅜
8	Neisner Bros 6s 48	45	44	45
2	Nevada Cal E 5s 56	66½	66½	66½
1	N Eng G&E 5s 50	48	47⅞	48
2	Do 5s 47	47½	47½	47½
4	N Eng Pow 5½s54	59½	58½	58½
3	Do 5s 48	55½	55½	55½
2	N Orl P S 6s 49 A	93	93	93
5	N Y&West L 4s2004	93⅜	93⅜	93⅜
2	N Y P &O 4½s35	98½	98½	98½
4	N Y P&L 4½s 57	92⅝	92⅝	92⅝
6	Niag Falls Pw 6s50	107	106⅞	106⅞
1	N Am L&P 5s 34	100½	100½	100½
6	Do 5s 36	92½	92⅝	92⅝
5	Do 5½s 56 A	36	36	36
1	N Con Ut 5½s 48A	33¾	33½	33¾
3	Nor Oh P&L5½s51	96	95⅝	96
10	Nor St P 4½s 61	91¼	91¼	91¼
2	NW P S 5s57 A	68¼	67½	67⅝
6	Ohio Edis 5s 60	89½	89	89
3	Ohio Pow 5s 52 B	100⅜	100⅜	100⅜
3	Do 4½s 56 D	98⅜	98¼	98¼
8	Okla G&E 5s 40	88¾	88¼	88¼
3	Oswego Falls 6s 41	57	56	56
17	Pac G&E 4½s 57 E	96⅝	95¾	95¾
6	Do 4½s 60 F	96½	95⅝	95⅝
1	Do 5s 55 D	102¼	102¼	102¼
8	Do 5½s 52 C	104¾	104¾	104¾
1	Pac P & L 5s 55	56⅛	56¼	56⅛
2	Palmer Louis 6s 38	94	94	94
2	Penn C P&L 4½s77	69½	69½	69½
4	Penn-O Ed 5½s 59B	67¼	67¼	67¼
1	Penn Pow 5s 56	102	102	102
3	Penn Tel Cor 5s60C	92⅜	92⅝	92⅝
11	Peo GasL&C6s57	98⅛	98⅛	98⅛
2	Phila El 5s 66	108⅜	108⅜	108⅜
18	Do P 5½s 72	107⅛	107	107
2	Port G&C 5s 40	94½	94⅛	94⅛
2	Pot Ed 4½s 61 F	83⅜	83⅜	83⅜
26	P Sv N Ill 6½s 37G	97⅛	97	97
17	Do 6½s 52 H	92	91⅛	91⅜
1	P Sv Okla 5s 61	76	76	76
1	P Sve S 5½s 49 A	58¼	58½	58⅛
16	Pug S P&L 5½s 49	57	56½	57
1	Do 5s 50 C	54⅝	54⅝	54⅝
4	Do 4½s 50 D	52½	52	52
2	Rep Gas 6s 45 Acod	21¼	21¼	21½
3	Safe Harb W 4½s79	99⅝	99⅞	99⅞
5	Schulte R E 6s35xw	12½	12⅜	12½
2	Shaw W&P 4½s67A	73⅜	73⅜	73⅜
5	Sher-Wyo 6s 47	45½	44	45½
2	SEP&L 6s 2025 A	68½	68½	68½
4	So Cal Ed 5s 54	102	102	102
8	So Cal Gas 5s 37	88¼	88¼	88½
1	So Ind Ry 4s 51	62⅛	62⅛	62⅛
3	Sou Nat G 6s 44	61¼	61¼	61¼
3	So'west A T 5s 61A	51	51	51
8	So'west G&E 5s57A	73½	73	73
5	So'west L&P 5s57A	70	70	70
5	So'west Nat G 6s45	32¾	32¼	32¾
5	Stand G&E 6s 35	61	61	61
5	Do 6s 40cvt	62	62	62
11	Do 6s 40	49⅝	48⅝	49⅝
3	Do 6s 66	46	45½	45½
4	Stand Inv 5s 37	77	77	77
4	Stand P&L 6s 57	45⅝	45⅝	45⅝
1	Stand Tel 5½s 43	16⅝	16⅝	16⅝
1	Sun Oil 5½s 39	103	103	103
1	Superpwr 1114½s68	72½	72½	72½
2	Swift & Co 5s40	99½	99½	99½
12	Do 5s 44	104	104	104
2	Tex El 8 5s 66	78	78	78
5	Tex Gas Ut 6s 45	22	20	20
2	Tex P&L 5s 37	100⅜	100⅜	100⅜
3	Tide Wat P 5s79A	61½	61½	61½
19	Toledo Ed 5s 62	92⅝	91⅞	92
1	Ulen & Co 6s 44sta	35	35	35
1	Union El 4½s 67	98½	98⅛	98⅛
1	Un L&P 5½s 59	79½	79½	79½
22	Un L&R 5½s 52	52	51½	51½
3	US Rubber 6½s 35	87	87	87
6	Wash Gas Lt 5s 58	96	96	96
7	Wash Wat P 5s 60	96	96	96
3	West Tex Ut 5s 57A	50	49¼	50
2	Wisc P&L 5s 58 F	76	76	6

FOREIGN BONDS

2	QuenAirPr 7s 52stp	35	35	35
1	Ger Bk Ger 6s 52A	28	28	28
5	Do 6s 51 B	52½	52½	52½
4	Danish Con5½s 55	78⅜	78	78⅜
8	Ger C Mun 7s 47	34½	33⅝	33⅝
5	Do 6s 47	38	38	38
2	Gesfuerel 6s 53	30⅝	30⅝	30⅝
2	Guan & WesRes58A	25	25	25
8	Hambrg El 5½s 38	43	42⅝	43
10	Nippon E J 6½s 53	66½	66½	66½
1	Parana Bra 7s 58	11½	11½	11½
9	Rubr Gas 6½s52A	42½	42½	43⅞
1	Saxon P Wks 6s37	37½	37½	37½
48	Stinnes 7s 46	34⅝	34⅜	34⅝
3	Un El Sve 7s 56	76⅝	76⅝	76⅝

*Actual sales. †Ex-dividend. ‡Ex-rights.

CORPORATIONS MUST OBEY NEW LAW

Foreign corporations doing business in Pennsylvania will be subject to heavy penalties if they fail to comply with the provisions of the state's new corporation law before October 3.

The new law, which went into effect July 3, requires corporations organized under the laws of other states to secure certificates of authority to do business in Pennsylvania from the secretary of the commonwealth within three months of the effective date of the new law.

Along with their applications, the corporations must file certified copies of the certificates issued by states under whose laws they are organized. While many states supply these documents promptly, some are behind in doing this work. Delaware is six weeks behind in supplying this data. Due to this situation prompt action is advisable.

Over 1,000 applications from foreign corporations have been received but only 500 certificates have been issued due to the number of applications which were incomplete or improperly made out and which had to be returned.

Section three, clause C of the Business Corporation law follows: "Every foreign business corporation heretofore admitted to do business in this commonwealth, which, if now seeking admission, would be required to comply with the provisions of this act, shall, within 90 days after the effective date of this act, secure a certificate of authority from the department of state, and shall thereafter be subject to the provisions of this act."

U. S. RECEIPTS TOP OUTLAY

Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—For the first time since 1929, federal receipts exceeded ordinary expenditures during the first 25 days of August, Treasury figures reveal today.

Receipts totaled $161,936,317 while expenditures in the "ordinary course of business" amounted to $156,936,317. Emergency expenditures, however, brought the total to $287,040,459.

Treasury Department officials were heartened by the large gain in income. Receipts for the fiscal year thus far have totaled $324,642,184, as compared with $170,748,895 for the corresponding period a year ago.

Ordinary expenditures during less than two months of the current fiscal year were $558,011,170, as compared with $818,299,982 for the same period in the last fiscal year. The deficit to date is $233,368,986 as compared with $647,551,087 a year ago.

Miscellaneous internal revenues so far this month totaled $109,353,893, compared with but $44

Death Notices 1

APPEL—Suddenly, Sunday, August 27, 1933, CHARLOTTE APPEL. Funeral services at Aberle's chapel, East North avenue and Sandusky street, North Side, Wednesday at 2 p. m. Friends invited.

AUPKE—Sunday, August 27, 1933, at 8:10 a. m., SUSANNA AUPKE (nee Zimmerman), wife of the late Henry D. Aupke. Funeral from the family home, 313 Brilliant avenue, Aspinwall, Wednesday, August 30, at 1:30 p. m. Services at the Evangelical Lutheran Church, Sixth and Clay streets, Sharpsburg, Pa., at 3 o'clock. Remains may be viewed at the church one hour previous to service. (Canton and Malvern, O., papers please copy.)

BAUMGARTNER—Monday, August 28, at 2:10 p. m., CHRISTINA, sister of Bertha Baumgartner. Funeral Thursday, August 31, at 8:15 a. m., from her late residence, 363 Columbia avenue, West View. Requiem mass at St. Athanasius Church at 9 a. m. Friends invited. Take car No. 10 to Harvard avenue.

COHN—At New York City, Sunday, August 28, 1933, JULIUS COHN, brother of Mrs. Harry Diamond. Funeral services will be held at the Abraham Lappman Memorial Chapel, West View Cemetery, Wednesday, August 30, at 2 p. m.

GRAF—Monday, August 28, 1933, at 8:15 p. m., ALMAMIE GRAF (nee Riddle), wife of the late Jacob Graf and mother of Walter, Roy and Lambert Graf. Funeral services at the James Lowrie Memorial Home, 1[illegible] Chateau street, at Pennsylvania avenue, North Side, Thursday, August 31, at 2 p. m. Friends are invited.

HESSIN—On Monday, August 28, 1933, at 3:55 p. m., MARGARET F. HESSIN. Services at her home, 2581 Beechwood boulevard, Squirrel Hill, on Wednesday, August 30, at 2 p. m. Interment private.

IRVIN—Monday, August 28, 1933, at 12:40 a. m., ROSE BOHN IRVIN, widow of George and mother of Mrs. Dina Hughes, William and Walter Irvin. Funeral from the home of Schellhaas & Son, 767 East street, North Side, Wednesday at 2 p. m. Standard Council, No. 80, D. of H., and friends invited.

IZZO—Sunday evening, August 27, 1933, JOHN IZZO. Funeral from the residence of his sister, Maria Mignella, 6331 Joseph street, East End, Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock. Requiem mass at the Help of Christian Church at 9 o'clock. Friends invited.

KELLY—Tuesday, August 29, 1933, at 1:30 a. m., ARTHUR STANLEY, son of W. M. and Anna Reese Kelly, aged 9 years. Services at the parents' home, 1123 Pearl street, Wilkinsburg, Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

KELLY—Sunday, August 27, 1933, at 2:30 p. m., THOMAS J., beloved son of Catherine L. Dugan Kelly and the late Thomas F. Kelly. Funeral from the family home, 300 Augusta street, Duquesne Heights, Thursday, August 31, at 8:30 a. m. Requiem high mass at St. Mary's of the Mount Church at 9 o'clock. Members of the Holy Name Society, K. of C. Council No. 491, F. O. D. No. 76 and friends invited.

LAVELLE—Sunday, August 27, 1933, at 1:35 p. m., EDWARD J. LAVELLE, son of the late John and Johanna Lavelle (nee Sullivan). Funeral from the family home, 5845 Center avenue, Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock. High mass at Sacred Heart Church at 9 o'clock. Court No. 706 Catholic Order of Foresters and friends invited.

MEISEL—Tuesday, August 29, 1933, at 7 o'clock a. m., EVA IMOGEN MEISEL, in her 26th year, daughter of J. Jeffe Meisel and Virginia Sawhill Meisel. Funeral services at their home, Thursday, August 31, 1933, at 2 p. m.

NELSON—Sunday, August 27, 1933, at 6:10 p. m., at her residence, 1029 Bedford avenue, MARY, widow of Thomas Nelson. Funeral services Wednesday, August 30, at 2 p. m. Friends invite SCHWARTZER—Monday, August 28, 1933, at 11 a. m., IDA LAUSCH SCHWARTZER, widow of Joseph Schwartzer, in her 72nd year. Funeral from her late residence, 216 Mathew avenue, Knoxville, Thursday, August 31, at 8 a. m. Requiem high mass at St. George's R. C. Church at 9 a. m. Friends and members of Christian Mothers are invited. Interment in St. George's Cemetery.

SUSMAN—Monday, August 28, 1933, FRANCES WATKINS SUSMAN, of 5863 Ellsworth avenue. Interment from H. Samson's, 537 Neville street, Thursday afternoon.

TIERNEY—Sunday, August 27, 1933, at 4:30 a. m., at his residence, 202-A Saybrook apartments, 340 Craft avenue, TIMOTHY, husband of Margaret Tierney (nee Action). Funeral Wednesday, August 30, at 8:30 a. m. High mass of requiem at St. Agnes' Church at 9 o'clock. Friends invited.

WILLS—At the Suburban General Hospital, Bellevue, Pa., Tuesday, August 29, 1933, at 4:20 a. m., FRANK WILLIAM, aged 45 years, husband of Edna Richy Wills. Services at his late residence, 5 McKinley avenue, Emsworth. Notice of time later.

MUST sell my 4-grave lot in Pittsburgh's finest modern, near-in, non-sectarian, perpetual care cemetery for $160. Write B-177, Sun-Telegraph.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY MEMORIAL PARK INFORMATION PHONE ATLANTIC 9847.
MOUNT ROYAL MAUSOLEUM
Entombment space available. AT 3629.

Funeral Directors 1-D

FUNERALS COMPLETE
FROM $100 UP
Grime & Blair
4112 Main St. Schenley 3000.

Lost and Found 2

CLASS RING—Lost at Y. W. C. A. Mon.; initials M. A. D.; reward. HO 2360-M.

FOUND ON STREET CARS AND BUSES THURSDAY, AUGUST 24.
Purse, Washington Interurban car.
Glasses, route 60.
Glasses, route 68.
Book, route 42.
Glasses, route 42.
Prayerbook, route 78.
SATURDAY, AUGUST 26.
Ring, route 82.
White purse, route 50.
SUNDAY, AUGUST 27.
Change purse, route 42.
Purse, Washington Interurban car.
MONDAY, AUGUST 28.
Pocket knife, route 46.
Ring, route 40.
Information concerning these articles may be had by calling Pittsburgh Railways Company, Lost Department, Grant 7450. Ask for Extension 148.

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS

Personals 3

CASH FOR OLD GOLD, SILVER, GOLD BRIDGE WORK. AT 4318.
PGH. GOLD REFINING CO.,
ROOM 505, PGH. LIFE BLDG.

CASH For Old Gold H. & L. GOLD REFINING CO., 515 CLARK BLDG. AT 0621.

SKIN DISORDERS treated and all facial blemishes removed. Dr. Liebs, 401 Nixon Bldg., Atlantic 1104. (Licensed.)

ELECTRO, vibratory, salt glows, pine baths, 2630 5th ave.; hrs. 10 to 8. MA 1621.

DENTAL WORK—Did not raise prices! Dr. Rosnick, 116 N. Highland ave. MO 8480

ELECTRO vibratory, violet ray; licensed; 9 to 9; Sunday, 1 to 7. AT 5550

ELECTRO-THERAPY treatment for hair, face & scalp, 9 to 9, Sun. 9 to 6. AT 9777

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS

Male Help Wanted 4

A SOUND OPPORTUNITY

As a business executive, I do not believe I have ever seen a more profitable sound opportunity for men regardless of age, previous experience or education than that offered by the concern listed below. Knowing business as I do, I can frankly say that there is no field today that offers such immediate and substantial earnings without investment. The worst workers can make $35.00 a week. The best a couple hundred. And they are doing it.

The Manager will personally interview all who call between 10 and 12 a. m. Wednesday, 201 Law and Finance Bldg.

A Chain of Retail Stores.

Steady work with promotion. Must have good appearance, aged 22 to 40, satisfied with moderate earnings while learning the business. Only those wanting a permanent connection with a future will be considered for these openings. You will start in outside contact work with manager and with transportation furnished. Apply Wednesday 9:30 a. m. or 2 p. m. No other time. Room 404, 519 3rd ave.

CANDY salesman to sell line of package goods for outstanding New York firm in Pittsburgh territory. Write Box Y 244, Sun-Telegraph.

LARGE Pa. pretzel & potato chip mfgr. wants dist. Allegheny Co.; no inv.; ref.; trucks or cars needed. P-231, Sun-Tele.

MAN to take up landscape work. Must be satisfied with $35 weekly at start. No experience needed. Handle orders for roses, evergreens, shrubs, fruit trees, berries, for old and new customers. C. Moore Co., Newark, N. Y.

MEN—Sell 25c silverite Roosevelt sign; cost 6c. Sidman, 415 4th, Rh. 304.

Salesmen Neon Signs

3 neat appearing high grade specialty salesmen; fair education and good character essential. Must have car to follow leads. Men selected will be given thorough training to qualify for a permanent position. Apply after 4 p. m.
W. H. McBride, Alpha Claude Neon Corp., 2900 Liberty Ave.

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS

Male Help Instruction 4-A

WELDERS needed. Learn all branches at Pgh. School of Trades, 405 Penn ave.

$105-$250 MO.—Gov't post-depression jobs; men-women 19-50; steady; qualify now; sample coaching and list jobs FREE. Write today sure. W-230, Sun-Telegraph.

Female Help Wanted 6

FOUR neat appearing women interested in cosmetics; no cash required. Call Mrs. Ross, 508 Lyceum Bldg.

MOTHER'S helper, white, stay nights; $2 wk. start. Lehigh 2619-J.

WHITE girl, general housework; stay nights. 1125 N. St. Clair st. MO 9269.

WOMAN—Dignified, with business tact and good personality, over 30, for a congenial position. Permanent. Appointment only. Atlantic 2657.

WOMAN—Educated, with definite object in working. Write H 102, Sun-Telegraph.

Female Help Special 7

HAIR DYE, 75c.
Wednesday, Aug. 30, 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. 437 Penn ave., second floor.

Agents Wanted 9

WANTED—Agents in every community to give away big beautiful pictures with famous White Cloverine Salve (for cuts, sores, burns, etc.) which you sell at 25c a box (giving picture FREE). Choice of Cash commission or valuable premiums. Be first. Write today for trial order outfit on trust. W. C. CO., Dept. 99-2, Tyrone, Pa.

Work Wanted 10

Amer. or Swiss Watch repairing, Properly rep. & ci. No mat. charge. $2 to $2.50; gtd. C. D. Jobe, 402 Keenan Bldg. Crystals 25c.

COLORED gen. housework girls, cooks, chauf. & wife, houseman, chefs, jans., laundresses, day help, odd job. AT 2787.

CURTAINS made to order, $1 pr., including material; slip covers, $1 each. CH 3225.

EUROPEAN college graduate speaks 6 languages, desires position. Write S-231, Sun-Telegraph.

Furs Cleaned & glazed, $2.50 up. Jackets made from old fur coats, $15; guar. LO 2403-J.

HANDY MAN wants any kind of work. Box E 134, Sun-Telegraph.

Paper and Hanging, comp. Nat'l Dec. Co. AT 1299. $4.50

PAPERHANGING average $2.25 rm., trim both edges. H. H. Hunter, FE 3045-J.

PAPERHANGING—$5 rm. up, with paper; nice sel., best ref.; guar. Blinn, SC 1881.

PAPERHANGING, $2.50 rm.; trim both edges; go anywhere, Collins, HE 4317.

PIANO MOVING AND HOISTING. WALTER, CIDAR 2628.

PITTSBURGH ASSN. IMP. OF POOR
Free Employment Bureau.
SKILLED MECHANICS, HANDY MEN, Carpenters, Painters, Plumbers, Electricians, etc., Coal Carriers, Housemen, Orderlies, Handy Men, Farmers, Pick and Shovel, etc. Capable, dependent family men personally known to us. Help us find these men work. Free Employment Bureau, 428 Duquesne way. Atlantic 4183.

PLUMBER, 1st class, registered, work for cash or what have you? SC 1119.

RADIO service, 50c; washer repairing guaranteed. HE 8243.

ROOFING, spouting repaired; all kinds; reas. J. J. Martin, 3015 Forbes. MA 4534.

Slip Covers, $3.95

8-piece set, 2 chairs, davenport, 5 cushions, fit on your furniture; heavy material. Moore, Churchill 3225.

TRUCK driver with own new light truck wants work. Fairfax 4216.

Situations Wtd., Female 11

COOK desires work with responsible family, available Sept. 1, unencumbered; best city ref. Write X 73, Sun-Tele.

COMPETENT bkkpr. and steno., charge of office; excellent references. EV 8148.

EXPERIENCED COLORED WOMAN desires day work; best ref. GR 1981.

GIRL wants house or laundry work, go home night, city ref. Call MA 3214.

JAZZ Piano, voice, all instruments 50c. F. Rose, 830 E. Ohio st. CE 2261.

RELIABLE colored woman wants house or day work; best ref. MA 2287.

WASHINGS taken home, exp. col. woman; call and del.; ref. Court 5197.

WHITE woman wants gen. housework; stay nights, $2-$3 week. 1 Gillnore st., city.

WORK—Colored girl, by wk or day; good references. Call Court 1757.

Sale, Business Opportun. 12

EXCELLENT OPPORTUNITY—We establish you with a legal vending machine route. Cash investment secured. Profits $50 up weekly. Exclusive territory. No selling. Address K 62, Sun-Telegraph.

½ INTEREST in men's furnishing store, good location, or sell outright. Marshall's, 636 Merchant st., Ambridge, Pa.

GROC.—Good cash bus., rent $20, taking in $800-$900 mo., sac. 36 S. 18th st., S.S.

Schools and Instructions 16

ENROLL now in Pittsburgh's first beauty school, Maison Fegeric Beauty School, 207 Fifth ave. Atlantic 0884.

Dressmaking Schools

ENROLL now. Keller Dressmaking School. Day, eve. classes. Century Bldg. AT 4863.

Liquor & Drug Treatm't 18-B

IS this going to be just another DRUNKEN YEAR? You know you can't quit without treatment. Information, literature free.
SHADYSIDE SANITARIUM
(FORMERLY KEELY INSTITUTE)
265 Shady ave. Emerson 9382.

Moving and Storage 19

Storage for Furniture
FIREPROOF WAREHOUSE
HAUGH & KEENAN
STORAGE & TRANSFER CO.,
Center and Euclid Aves.
Montrose 6700.

K. & E. United Van Service—Loads wanted to and from all parts U. S., Canada. Bonded, ins. 1302 Clark Bldg. GR 3171.

WANTED return load from Wash., D. C., Richmond, Va., way points. MO 4150. O'ROURKE'S STORAGE & TRANSFER CO.

Ed Werner— Local, long dist. moving. Storing. CA 4425.

BLANCK'S Moving, Storage. 6344 Penn ave. Hiland 0466.

HASLEY BROS. TRANSFER & STORAGE. LOC., LONG DIST. MOVING. FA 6104.

IVORY, Brooks, Kauffman need return load from N. Y., way points. MO 0605.

BRICELAND'S Moving, $3 rm., storage, $1.50 rm. 5132 Penn ave. MO 7619.

Coal, Oil and Wood 21

COAL WILL BE HIGHER IN SEPT. ACME TRIPLE SCREENED LUMP $3.75. ACME COKE—NO SMOKE—NO DUST $6. WEIGHT—SATISFACTION GUARANTD. ACME COAL & COKE CO. ——— SC. 0444.

BLACK DIAMOND COAL.
No. 1 lump, $3.75; No. 2 lump, $3.60; egg, $3.50; shute or stoker, in free. LO 1678.

LOWEST prices, gtd. wght.; lump $3.25; egg $3; r.o.m. $2.75. W. M. Kellerberg, BR 2404

AA-1 DOUBLE SCREEN LUMP—$3.65; egg, $3.50; furnace, $3.25, Lin. 4195-W.

A-1 Wildwood coal $3.75, run of mine $3.25 in 2-ton lots. Call EV 1291.

A-1 LUMP, $3.75; No. 2 lump, $3.65; curb delivery. Etter Coal, EV 2188.

FOR SALE—Mine props, rails, ties, coal chutes. 401 Pittsburgh Life Bldg.

A-1 BEST clean furnace lump, $2.75; lump, $3.50; egg, $3. FA 7208.

BEST grade lump $3.25; egg, $3.15, delivered. MO 4818.

BUSINESS WANTED

INDIVIDUALS AND FIRMS LISTED HERE ARE OFFERING BETTER SERVICE AT REDUCED PRICES.

Beauty Aids

PERM. $1 & $2 special Croquignole, $2.50. Espey's, 339 5th av., rm. 703. AT 2082

Blinds

BLINDS CLEANED CH 1910, Acme Pro.

Fur Cleaning and Repairing.

FUR coat made a jacket, $15; fur jackets cleaned, $1.50; plain fur coat and lining cleaned, $2.50. Firtko 426 Penn ave., nr. Horne's, 2d flr., pp. Hotel Mayfair.

Furniture Wanted

FURNITURE wanted; will pay cash and move immediately. Call Atlantic 5564.

General Repairs

GET your repairs done while prices are still down. Carpentering, plastering, etc., cheap. HI 0566-J.

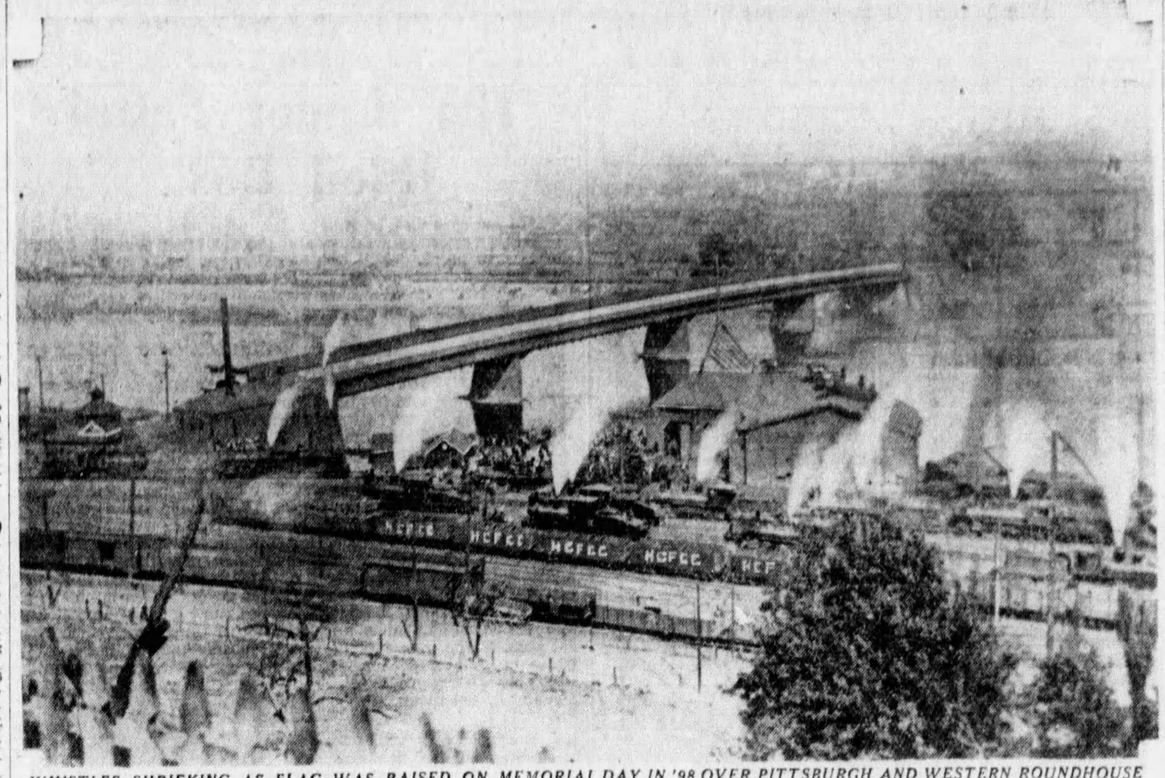
Mattresses Rebuilt & Renovated

MATTRESSES rebuilt and renovated like new, $3; all work guaranteed. FA 9323.

Weatherstripping, Venitian Blinds.

WEATHERSTRIP, WINDOW CAULKING, SCRNS. & VENETIAN BLINDS, AT 8562

REMEMBER WHEN The Whistles Shrieked This Way?



WHISTLES SHRIEKING AS FLAG WAS RAISED ON MEMORIAL DAY IN '98 OVER PITTSBURGH AND WESTERN ROUNDHOUSE

The scene at Millvale in 1898 during the Memorial Day flag-raising on the roundhouse of the P. W. R. R., now part of the B. & O. Notice the Frick coal cars, labelled "H. C. F. C. C. This picture was lent by Thomas D. Burns, Millvale.

Have You Any 'Remember When' Pictures?

"Remember When" pictures—the older the better—may be submitted by mail to the REMEMBER WHEN EDITOR, Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa., with full explanations for consideration as suitable for publication on this page. Pictures of groups of more than six people are unacceptable. WARNING: Write name and complete address on the back of each picture to assure safe return.

FOR RENT Furnished Rooms 30

AIKEN AVE., SO., 401—Large steam heated rms., gentlemen or ladies employed. MO 8639.

BELLEVUE, Lincoln ave.—Attr. furn. 3-rm. suite, nr. bath, gent., $5. LI 5407-W.

BRIGHTON ROAD—Cheerful rm., next bath; shower; mod. conv., $4. LI 0781-M.

CRAIG, nr. Bayard—Newly furn. twin bed-rm., also sing., pvt., apt.; gent. MA 4798.

DORMONT, 2966 Voelkel—Large rm., adult home, near 42 car; reas. Lehigh 0451-J.

E. E.—Penn Ave., 6923; large front newly furn. room, next bath, shower; gar. opt.; 1 or 2 adults. MO 3334.

E. E., Gettysburg st.—2nd flr. rm., $3 wk., nr. Linden School. Montrose 2520.

E. E., S. Winebiddle; large rm., twin beds, stm. htd. apt.; board opt. MO 7824.

E. E., 709 College—Comfortable rooms, newly decorated; nr. all cars. MO 4827.

E. E., 208 S. St. Clair—Fine room, private home, 2 adults. Gar. Ref. MO 9143.

E. E., 142 S. Negley Ave.—Lovely 2nd fl. room, twin beds; $4 week.

ELLSWORTH, 4803, at Clyde—Attr. cheerful rooms for business women; also large studio room to share. SC 5067.

HOMEWOOD—Large front rm. next bath, unlim. phone, meals opt., reas. PE 9503.

IF YOU do not find what you want in this column phone Rental Service, Grant 5400 for additional listing of furnished rooms.

MT. LEB., Washington Rd.—Attr. rm., refined priv. home. Gentleman. LE 2005.

MT. LEBANON—2 lovely rms., next bath, gentlemen, $3.50 or $2.50. Locust 1508-R.

OAKLAND, 3502 Fifth or McKee place, near University; sleeping rm.; very reas.

SPRING GARDEN, 1338—1 rm., bath, private home, $3; garage opt. CE 3946.

TERMON ave. dist., nr. Ohio River blvd.—Cozy rm., priv. home.; reas. LI 5408-J.

WIDOW will rent attr. rm., priv. home; bus. people pref., beaut. sur. LI 4205-J.

WHETHER you have a few suitcases or many rooms of furniture to be moved, you can find some one for the job by consulting today's classification 19, Transfer and Storage.

Unfurnished Rooms 31

BROOKLINE—3 rms., enclosed rear porch; light, gas, heat, inc., $28. LE 6964-R.

DORMONT—3 rms., bath. Protestant adults, garage. LE 0520-J.

E. E., 1009 Lincoln—3 rms., 2d floor, priv. bath, hot water heat, $20. HI 6879.

E. E., 827 S. Negley—2 rms., sink, range, nats. unltd. phone, $20. MA 1634.

E. E., 342 Dennison—3 rms., 2d flr., priv. bath; everything incl. MO 3108.

FRANKSTOWN Ave., 6468—Cheerful rms., furn. or unfn; conv. E. Lib. Sta. HI 5103.

PHONE Rental Service, Grant 5400 for additional listing of unfurnished rooms.

Housekeeping Rooms 32

AIKEN AVE., S., 303, E. E.—Lge. 2-rm. apt., water, $5.50; all conveniences, park.

ALLEGHENY AVE., 1113—Clean, new 2-3-room apts. CE 7135.

BEECHVIEW, 1424 Methyl—2 or 3 rooms, nicely furnished, $7 and $9. LE 5595-J.

BELLEVUE, 192 Brighton rd.—2 rms., 1st floor, sink, range, heat, $6. LI 2485-J.

BUENA VISTA ST., 1407—Lg. rm., sleep. or hskpg.; working man, lady, $12 mo.

DORMONT, 2914 Voelkel Ave.—3 or 4 rms., furn. or unfurn., h. w. ht., gas ht.; reas.

E. E., 827 S. Negley—Large, well fur. efficiency rm., all conv., $5 wk. MA 1634.

E. E., 649 Maryland ave.—Single room for housekeeping; all conv.; free park'g. $3.

EAST END, 5811 Bryant st.—2 nicely furnished rooms, $5 per week.

FORBES ST., 3454—2-rm. apt, $5; housekeeping rm. $4., running water. MA 4171.

FORBES ST., 3434, nr. McKee Pl.—2 rms., $5; 1 rm., $4; run. water. MA 4171.

N. S., University Ave.—Large furn. rm., 1st flr.; range; ideal loc.; $3.50. FA 8245.

REDDOUR ST., 1201, N. S.—Pank loc., large 3-rm. apt., reas.; also 1 rm., $3.50.

SHADYSIDE—2 lovely rooms and private bath. Mayflower 3862.

WARRINGTON Ave., 158—2 furn. rms., pch., conv. cars; $6. end tunnel. EV 3887.

Rooms With Meals 33

BELLEVUE—Room, priv. home; unlimited phone; board, la'dry, very reas. LI 4613.

E. E.—Unusual home, teachers, bus. girls; excel. meals, reas. home priv. MO 3110.

N. S.—Large rm.; meals opt.; home priv. 23 Bonvue st. Fairfax 9730.

CARRICK—Exceptional nice rm., private family; $8.50 wk. CA 1840-J.

Apartments Suburban 35

GROSS ST., 256—1st fl. apt., 5 rms., sun porch, tile bath, gar., Frigidaire, supplied heat, $60. Open for inspection. Bon Ton Realty Co., 716 Grant Bldg. AT 0246.

WILKINSBURG BARGAINS
Attrs. mod. apartments, 2 to 5 rms., $25 to $45. Also houses. PE 1742.

WILK.—5 rms. $35; heat, hot water incl. Kelv., hardwood floors. PE 4827.

WHETHER you have a few suitcases of many rooms of furniture to be moved, you can find some one for the job by consulting today's classification 19 Transfer and Storage.

Apartments, East End 36

THE BELVEDERE
5523 Ellsworth Ave., corner Graham, SHADYSIDE
Choice apartments, 3 to 7 rooms, all conveniences, reasonable rentals.

$45— Beechwood blvd. nr. Lilac st., mod apt., in duplex, 5 rms., sun par., frig., heat furnished. HA 7749.

BEECHWOOD BLVD.—5-room duplex, hardwood flrs., $30, near Murray ave. FOURTH & GRANT REAL ESTATE CO., 304 Berger Bldg. Court 4730.

"THE HOWE AND KENT"
Shadyside—5759 Howe; airy 4-rm. alcove; 5-r., porch, st. heat, frig., jan. HA 3573.

HIGHL'D Pk. dist.—4 r., with s. p. & bkft. rm., frig., ht. furn., pchs., $45. MO 3673.

McPHERSON Blvd., 6 rms., 2nd. fl., mod. steam heat furnished, $40. MO 9878.

WILKINSBURG—4 rooms, bath, newly redecorated, handy. Call AT 3300.

Apartments, South Hills 37

Mt. Lebanon's most beautiful apts., furnished or unfurnished.
THE EMBASSY.
230 Beverly Rd. LO 1500.

MT. WASH.—5 rms., tile bath, breakfast nook, steam ht., very light, lawn, conv. location; reas. rent. EV 0731.

DORMONT, Voelkel, attr 5-rm., Frig., pchs., inst. h.w., $40, nr cars. LE 1668.

MT. LEBANON—A 2 or 3 rm. mod. effic. apt., unfurn., $35; furn. $45. LE 0144.

DORMONT—2 modern 1st. 2d fl., 5-rm. apts., $25, $35; 2 car lines. LE 4656-R.

DORMONT, 1129 Wisconsin ave.—5 rooms, tile bath, laundry, garage; reasonable.

VODELI ST., 2131 Beechview—5-rm. apt., 2nd flr. bath, nr. school, $25. AT 4802.

MT. OLIVER—Attractive modern 3-rm apt., bath, indry, furnace, $26. EV 1758.

BROOKLINE—Attr 3-room apt., first flr., tile bath. Lehigh 0814-J.

ALLENTOWN—4 rms., bath, steam heat, $30. Call LE 1960-J.

Wanted, Real Estate 80

HAVE a buyer for a modern house on Troy Hill up to $8500. Send full particulars. L. P. SCHAEFER, 737 E. Ohio st., N. S. Pittsburgh

CAN RENT OR SELL your property. Call or see Union Real Estate Co., Law & Finance Bldg. Atlantic 9930.

Mortgage Loans 81

PRIVATE funds, 1st and 2nd mortgages. Frank J. Shermer, 508 Grant st. AT 1365

$1,000 to 5,000 for mtgs., money ready. S. W. Gault, 323 4th ave. CO 0415.

WHETHER you have a few suitcases or many rooms of furniture to be moved, you can find some one for the job by consulting today's classification 19 Transfer and Storage.

East End 40

COZY English type, Shadyside; 6 rms., bath, water, heat, special proposition to right party; $55. HA 6285-J. HI 6146.

MODERN—8 rms., 2 baths, shower, hot water heat, frig., garage, excellent condition. $75. SC 1402.

LA MONT PL., 342—Brick, 8 rms., bath, porch, yd., $30. ½ mo. free. PE 9737.

ATLANTIC Ave. dist., 6-5-4-3-rm. houses, mod., $30-$26-$21-$18; mo. free. LO 4487.

LINDEN AVE. S., 308—New 8-rm. stone, 3 baths, double garage. HI 3151-J.

E. E., Maryland Ave.—4 large rms., sun parlor, bath, 2nd floor. MA 0418.

North Side 41

PERRY DIST.—226 Chester ave., 5 rms., bath, lndry., large yd.; $28. EM 0277.

CARRINGTON, 258—6-rm. brick, new, modern, bath, ldry, shwr., furn. CE 9395.

NR. KIRKBRIDE ST.—4 rms., toilet, double attic, $20. J. O'Neil, Fairfax 2141.

South Hills 42

COTTAGES over Labor Day; 3 days for $1.50 per person, includ. free pool, tennis. Twin Willows, Rt. 8, near Bakerstown. Phone Mars 36 R 1-2-1. R. L. Heckert, Valencia, Pa.

MERIDAN ST., Mt. Wash.—9 rms., mod., tile b., h. w. ht., hdw. flrs., refrig., pchs., gar., reas. AT 0613, EV 0846 eve.

BRENTWOOD, 116 Point View Rd.—6 rooms, bath, hwd. flrs., includ. ht., $30.

DORMONT bungalow, 2702 Philadelphia ave.—5 rms., bath, gar., h. w. heat, $40.

DORMONT—Mod. 6-rm. house, frig., ins. ht., t. b., nr. H. S. Reas. Carnegie 1736.

DORMONT, Illinois Ave.—6 rms., bath, brkfst. nook, pch., yd.; reas. MA 8673

Furn. Apts. & Houses 45

Must Sublet—Leaving city, compelled to rent my 3-rm. furn. apt. at sacrifice. HI 1131.

N. S., 926 Madison ave.—2-3-4 clean, cheerful priv. apts., beautiful furn., laundry, very reasonable.

BEECHVIEW—3 rms., tile bath, elec. ref., gar. heat, lt. incl., $30. LE 5184-J.

CRAIG, N., 344—2 or 3 rms., bath, partly furn., also furn. rm., reas. MA 4162.

HOWE, 5812—Bedrm., livrm., kitchen; also bed-livingrm. comb., priv. bath. MA 1721

OAKLAND—2 or 3-rm. apt., beautifully furn., newly decorated; nr. cars. MA 3962

DORMONT—Attr. 6-rm. hse., nr. cars, stores; frig., coal furn., gar. LE 7154-M.

DORMONT dup., 5 rms., completely furn.; gar., ht., frig., $60. Apply 1485 Park blvd.

SHADYSIDE, 708 Clyde st.—2-r. eff. comp. furn.; no lease; gar. opt.; bus people.

MT. WASH.—Mod., 3 rooms, bath, very light; priv. entr.; 1st fl.; $30. EV 0731.

MT. WASH.—4 attr. well-furnished rooms, porches, yard; greatly reduced. EV 2809.

SHADYSIDE, 321 Melwood—3 rm. apt. and sleeping rms., men only., reas. MA 8584.

COLTART, 216—Oakland; 2-3-4-rm. apts., with priv. bath, Frig., lt., ht. CE 1080.

KNOXVILLE, 305 Chalfont St.—6 rms., bath, garage; reas. Key next door.

HIGHLAND Park, attractive 7 rm. house, furnished. Garage. Montrose 1876.

FOR SALE City & Suburban Houses 60

14 RM. brick, income $768 yearly; $4,700. Joswick, 1723 Edwards way, S. S. Pgh.

NEW log cabin, 4 rms., ½ acre, paved st., bath, big fireplace; $2,150. CO 0151.

East End Houses 61

EAST END HOUSES, APTS., DUPLEXES. HUSS BROTHERS, REALTORS. 5972 BAUM BLVD. MONTROSE 8684.

McPHERSON BLVD., nr. Dallas—9-r. br., tile b., large Frig., el. range, awnings; A-1 cond.; sac.; terms. Owner, MO 4861.

WHETHER you have a few suitcases of many rooms of furniture to be moved, you can find some one for the job by consulting today's classification 19 Transfer and Storage.

North Side Houses 62

ON BRIGHTON RD.
Stone dwelling, 7 rooms and tile bath, modern in every respect. This home cost $30,000. For quick sale will let it go for $15,000. See my agent
L. P. SCHAEFER,
737 E. Ohio st., N. S. Pittsburgh

LET ME SHOW YOU
A wonderful home, arranged for two families, located off East st., that can be bought for $4,800.
L. P. SCHAEFER,
737 E. Ohio st., N. S. Pittsburgh

FOR AN UNDERTAKER
Wonderful location in Perrysville ave. dist., $16,000 for $8,000.
L. P. SCHAEFER,
737 E. Ohio st., N. S. Pittsburgh

Dormont, Mt. Lebanon 63

MT. LEB.—Brick and stone, 8 rms., 4 b.r., 3 baths; $10,500. Write Y 73, Sun-Tele.

Beechview, Brookline 64

BUY NOW
Prices Are Still Down.
New 6-rm. brick, tile bath, bargain. 922 Norwich ave., Brookline.
$4,650.00.
Eugene S. Reilly Co. Court 5500.

Lots For Sale 71

LOT in good residential section of Brighton Heights. 38x126; to 1102 Pemberton ave.; $2,000 cash. Call owner, LI 6315.

Sale Farms—Acreage 72

50 A., BUTLER County, buildings, orchard, $2,500. $1100 down, $20 mo. CO 0151.

116 ACRES, 8-room house, barn, outbldgs., joins North Park. WE 0921-R.

Mfg. Sites and Plants 74

FOR SALE OR lease—2,636 feet along main line of P. R. R. Part or all will take stock value of property for brewing, distillery, bakery, packing plant. Can have sub cellars without excavation (12½ sq. feet). See your broker. Will pay commission. X231, Sun-Telegraph.

Household Goods 86

Moving NRA Storage
SHANAHAN
7535 Penn Ave. Penhurst 7201. 3460 Fifth Ave. Madlower 7800

Automobiles For Sale 94

R. E. LOUGHNEY, INC.
Labor Day Specials

1932 Plymouth P. B. Sedan; paint perfect; tires new; new car guarantee; 9,000 miles. This is your opportunity to own a small family car like new at a great sacrifice. $450

1932 DeSoto Brougham; new style radiator front; perfect condition; new tires, new paint; new car guarantee. Price $550

1930 Dodge Sp. Sedan; 6 w. w. and trunk rack. This car is a real value at only. $295

1931 Hupmobile Straight 8 Custom Sedan, in wonderful condition; advertised everywhere at $550; our price $550

1932 Willys 8 Coach; excellent condition; price cut from $375, to Labor Day special $395

5536 Center Ave. Montrose 4725.

AUBURN '29 Sedan. Kamin Lot, 4750 Baum Blvd. SC 6214. $135

BUICK 1928 47-S 4-door Brougham Sedan—Traded on a new Buick by the original owner, who drove it but 22,000 miles and gave it exceptional care. Must be seen to be appreciated. North Side Buick & Pontiac Co., 100 W. Stockton ave. Fairfax 7800.

BUICK 1932 5-pass. Coupe—Like new, low mileage and guaranteed the same as a new car; only $375 down. North Side Buick & Pontiac Co., 100 W. Stockton ave. Fairfax 7800.

BUICKS, 1929. A complete assortment of 5-passenger standard and master models, all in pink of condition; each carry a 30-day written guarantee; prices from $50 to $150 under market. Don't miss these bargains. Smith Chevrolet Co., Lot 2040 W. Liberty ave. LE 8200.

BUICK 1931 Victoria Coupe—Special today at only $595. Originally cost new $1,650. An ideal car for a small family or salesman. North Side Buick & Pontiac Co., 100 W. Stockton ave. Fairfax 7800.

BUICK 1928 5-pass. Coupe—As near perfect as a traded car could be. Let us show you this car before buying. You'll like it. North Side Buick & Pontiac Co., 100 W. Stockton ave. Fairfax 7800.

BUICK '29 sp. sdn., 6 w., perf. shape, priv. owner; $200. 1615 Forbes st. CO 9572.

BUICK USED CARS
Keystone Buick Co., Baum and Liberty.

CADILLAC LA SALLE USED CARS
Royston Cadillac La Salle, 5807 Baum blvd.

CHEVROLET 1932, 6 w. w., Sedan, equipped with trunk rack and trunk; this car is beautiful in every respect; $450.00. Donaldson Motor Co., 1103 Western ave., N. S. Cedar 3601.

Chevrolet, 1931 DeLuxe Sedan; 6 w. w.; car in fine shape; price $325. Dormont Motors, 2875 W. Liberty ave., Dormont. Lehigh 9191.

CHEV. '32 Coach, barg. Pinkerton Motor, 1940 Brigton rd., N. S. FA 1195.

CHEVROLET 1930 coupe, $75 down, bal. easy. J. N. Gregg, Irwin, Pa. Phone 2119.

CHRYSLER Roadster, 1931, only $450. Let us show you this one. We will take your car in trade. North Side Buick & Pontiac Co., 100 W. Stockton ave. Fairfax 7800.

CHRYSLER 77—Sport Roadster, perfect condition. MA 3962.

CHRYSLER USED CARS
SAMSON MOTOR CO., 4647 BAUM BLVD.

ESSEX '30 Sedan, $175. C. A. Rehtmeyer, Inc., 5860 Baum blvd. MO 2248.

ESSEX—Late 1929 dark blue 2-door sedan, $70 cash. Lehigh 8700.

ESSEX '30 Coupe, $165. C. A. Rehtmeyer, Inc., 5860 Baum blvd. MO 2248.

ESSEX 1928 coupe, perfect condition, will sacrifice. 3941 California ave. LI 2210.

ESSEX '31 Coupe, $265. C. A. Rehtmeyer, Inc., 5860 Baum blvd. MO 2248.

ESSEX '31 Sedan, $285. C. A. Rehtmeyer, Inc., 5860 Baum blvd. MO 2248.

FORDS—FORDS
All types, models; terms; fine cond. West View Garage, 4833 Perrysville rd.

FORD 1931 5-pass. Coupe, $295; Ford 1931 Business Coupe, $215. North Side Buick & Pontiac Co., 100 W. Stockton ave. Fairfax 7800.

FORDS, Chevrolets, $35 down, bal. $4 wk. Jones Motor, 1317 Carson st. HE 8100.

FORD, late 1931 sedan, good condition, $355. White, 519 Water st. CO 6200.

HUDSON 1931 Sedan; cl

PREMIERE -:- Gripping Story of Life Behind The Scenes at Hollywood -:- By ROBERT TERRY SHANNON

(Continued from Yesterday.)

CHAPTER XLI.

"Weren't you tempted to hire cheaper lawyers?" she asked out of curiosity. "That is a lot of money, isn't it?"

"It will take a lot of money to save Poletzki from the rope," he told her. "That's the way it is, sweetheart. I can't take a heavenly creature like you riding in a day coach and put you up at a third rate hotel. I can't help it—whenever I think of you I get that Ritz feeling. For myself I'm good-natured and can put up with anything if I have to. If my luck is still right we'll have the best of everything. You see, if I were to use your money it would be against the grain all the way. We'd both be miserable. Right?"

What he was saying about money had a rather empty sound to Leni because, through it all, she was listening to the over-tones of his devotion. They were on the divan, her cheek snuggled securely against the masculine fabric of his shoulder.

"I, too, know what it means to have money," she said. "Without it, we are different people. With money you and I have nothing on this earth to worry about. So what are we going to do?"

"Coast along, I suppose," said Cavanaugh, smilingly, "and pray for the breaks!"

"You mean we must wait?"

"It looks that way. Maybe I'll have to leave. It's almost Saratoga time—"

"The races at Saratoga in New York state," Cavanaugh explained. "That's one spot where I'm always pretty good."

LENI OBJECTS

Leni lifted her head and caught hold of his lapels. Half playfully, yet wholly in earnest, she began to shake him.

"No, no, no! None of what you say is right. Money is important—yes. But so am I and so are you. We would be fools to wait and wait and wait! Also—this gambling on horses! No! That kind of man is no good. For a pastime, perhaps—but not for a profession. I am not going to let you be just a common, professional gambler!"

Her vehemence brought an involuntary smile to Cavanaugh's face.

"Well—you certainly make it tough for me to figure out," he said slowly.

Cavanaugh threw back his head and suddenly the whole room rang with the peals of his laughter. Leni's eyes flew open very wide.

"What's so funny about that?" she asked.

"That's the way with a woman!" said Cavanaugh. "Right away they start to reform you."

If he had been depressed this return of his old laughter was a signal that his vitality and gaiety was restored.

"You are not afraid to face life as other people do?" she asked, her bright head a little sidewise.

"How should I know what other people have to face?" said Cavanaugh, with an air of humoring her. "But don't worry—we'll come down the stretch all right."

"It may not be so easy—this future—as your past has been," Leni told him.

A NEW LIGHT

Cavanaugh smiled at her with a trace of overconfidence, as though he possessed information beyond her ken. He fancied she knew little about him. This was masculine egotism. Yet in one instant her intuition could tell her more than he could say with his voice in an hour. Because he was in love with her he wanted, man-like, to reveal himself.

"The thing I love about you," he said, "is that you do something to me. I've been like a man living in a room with one window. You come along and knock out the four walls. I'm beginning — just beginning—to see in all directions."

Leni nodded. "How marvelous!" she said and her wise woman's eyes saw him expand under her approval.

"A man like me lives by his luck," he went on. "I actually believe that. Once in a million times somebody is born lucky. I happened to be any of 'em. That's why I never did any real work—it was too easy to get what I wanted without effort. When I was 17 years old I went to a track with my father and won $500 on the day, starting from a two-dollar bet."

SAVED IN TIME

"What a wonderful boy you must have been!"

"Nothing wonderful at all—just a fresh kid. But the point is—this luck stopped me from learning anything worth while. I might have been a lawyer now, earning a couple of thousand dollars a year. When I was 21 I was able to pick up as much money in a week as men of 50 earned in a year. It was nothing to my credit because most of it was luck. Of course, I learned the ropes and used my head, too. If I hadn't met you, you know what would have happened?"

"It's too horrible to think of!" murmured Leni.

"I'd have gone on clicking a few more years. Then, one day, the tide would have turned. My luck would have run out. I've been around sporting and gambling people since I was 17 and I've seen it happen plenty times. A day comes and that mysterious power draws a black line right across the middle of your life. There aren't many laughs after that."

Leni moved apart from him, drew up her knees and wrapped her arms around them. This so she could study him better with her still and understanding smile.

"I'm glad you found me before they drew that black mark," she said.

"As long as I was alone I had a perfect right to gamble with my own life," Cavanaugh told her seriously. "It's different now. I've got to find something to fall back on if my luck runs out. Something solid. I've got to take what I've got left of my luck and begin to use it on something real. There's no reason why luck should apply only to gambling, is there?"

HIS LUCKY NIGHT

Leni agreed with everything he said. He was smoking endless cigarets, carried away on the new stream of thought he had opened up. It was all inextricably tangled up with the enthusiasm of a lover.

Leni listened, a tenderness pulling at her heart. When he was feeling his very wisest, she looked upon him with something like the affection of a mother for a small boy.

Life as yet had not marred him. He was still the magnificent work of humanity, virile, beautiful and unscarred as a piece of statuary in marble. He was explaining life to her who had gotten through it.

Yet nothing, really, had happened to Lucky Cavanaugh. He had never endured prison and shame and danger—never tasted suffering and starvation, brutality and struggle. Nor the deadly, drugged wine of Fame. His manly stuff—the substance of his real self was still infolded as if in a cocoon . . .

"All of this I'm telling you has become clear in my mind since we met," he told her. "I never had any aspirations before. It was all hey-hey. Win the first bet and double up on the second."

"And now?"

"It would be a lovely fairy story if I fell in love and was immediately transformed," Cavanaugh smiled. "It's not quite that easy, though. I got a little money left—some cash in my pockets—and when I leave here tonight I know a place where the wheel's straight. I think I'm going to be lucky. On a night like this I couldn't miss. I could put the markers down blindly and still hit. It's in the air—you can reach out and feel it with the tips of your fingers!"

Leni had no exaggerated idea of humanity including herself and Lucky Cavanaugh. She knew that time proves everything. The shining goal was near . . . it receded . . . then came back closer than ever before . . .

"Do as you will," she told him in a glow of happiness. "I've given up the pictures because you are more to me than all else. I want to give myself completely to you. But what you do, after all, rests with yourself—not with me. You see what a good wife I am going to make? You'll go to the wheel tonight. Maybe it's the last time. Maybe you'll go five, six, ten times more. Who knows? But I think you'll come back. I think you'll come back because you meant those things you said a little while ago."

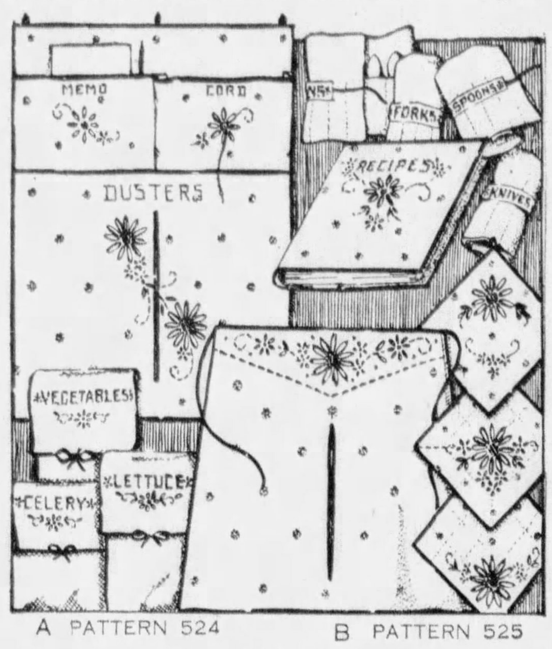
Cavanaugh leaned over and kissed her warm lips steadily and for a long time.

"I'll come back," he said. "And I mean what I said a little while ago."

THE END

(Copyright, 1932, by Robert Terry Shannon. Distributed by King Features Synd., Inc.)

KITCHEN ACCESSORIES



A PATTERN 524 B PATTERN 525

By LAURA WHEELER

The modern housewife spends a good part of her time in the kitchen. Because of this, she demands attractive and practical accessories to aid her at her task. The accessory bag, with pockets for dusters, memo pad and pencil, and special pocket for a ball of cord, a cover for a recipe index—removable and washable—and the four markers for the silver bags, come to you in Pattern 524.

The clothes-pin apron-bag so convenient to tie on, the three colorful potholders, and the three icebox bags—easy to make and easy to launder—come to you in Pattern 525. Each pattern consists of transfer pattern for the simple embroidery motifs and detailed directions and yardages for making every article shown.

This collection of articles is so practical and colorful that it represents an excellent opportunity for making attractive items for that church affair—an imminent kitchen shower—or to put aside for Christmas—for who can start doing that too early?

Send 10c for each pattern (20c for both) to Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph Needlecraft Department, 82 Eighth avenue, New York City.

The Junior Patrol Mail Box

Are you on a diet, fellows?

Do you eat certain things and not eat other things? Sometimes, when people get ill or when they get too fat, doctors put them on a diet because the doctors have discovered that certain foods act as medicine and others are harmful when a person is ill or fat or too thin, perhaps.

If you are a healthy fellow, you should be on a kind of a diet anyway—especially if you are not really ill but yet you aren't quite as full of pep and health as you would like to be. Maybe you aren't strong or maybe you get stomachaches and headaches once in a while. Most small troubles like that are due to what is called a "faulty diet."

We aren't doctors here at headquarters and so we aren't going to prescribe any diets—only doctors should do that. But we have heard that certain things are mighty good for children. For instance, vegetables of all kinds—spinach, corn, rhubarb, beans, asparagus, onions, and tomatoes are all good for you. The most important thing in eating is to eat what are called "balanced meals." That means that each day you should eat some vegetables, some meat and potatoes, some ice cream and candy, and lots of other things, but you should eat them in the correct proportion. Probably your mother is trying to feed you balanced meals right now but either because you eat in too big a hurry or else because you don't like a lot of things you don't really eat them.

Some good eating rules are—

1—Eat balanced meals.

2—Eat plenty of vegetables, especially green vegetables and lots of fruit, including oranges and lemons.

3—Drink lots of water—two quarts a day if you are growing fast.

4—Drink plenty of good fresh milk.

5—Eat all your meals slowly, so that you can enjoy them and help to digest them by chewing your food well.

6—Don't eat between meals or before going to bed.

7—Don't eat too much of anything.

And now look at this fine letter we got today from Betty Jane Sipe, of 450 Riverview drive, New Kensington, Pa. She writes:

"My name is Betty Jane Sipe. I am 13 years of age, have light hair, blue eyes, and a dimple in my left cheek.

"I read the Junior Patrol Mail Box and like it very much. I also enjoy the pictures that other children draw. I would like very much to be a member of the Junior Patrol and I am going to try to start a club."

We are happy to welcome you as a new member, Betty Jane. Start your new club just as quickly as you can. Ten members are needed, you know. Can you draw pictures yourself? If you can, we would like to see them.

And that makes us think about the boys down the river. Have you been noticing how exciting their adventures have been lately? Old Peg Leg was grateful when the boys fished him out of the well, wasn't he? Maybe, now, because the boys were kind to him and helped him, he will be a better fellow, and earn an honest living instead of robbing other people.

We have a letter today from Mary Louise Motte, of R. F. D. 4, McDonald, Pa. She sends in 11 pledges, but no explanation. Are you a captain, Mary Louise? Please let us know right away, because if you have been elected captain we want to send you an armband.

Also got a pledge today from Dixon Wilmoth, of 397 South Penn street, Punxsutawney, Pa. How about starting a Junior Patrol club in Punxsutawney, Dixon?

Cook-Coos

By TED COOK

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Mayor Kelly, of Chicago, is demanding immediate action on some of the features of the fair Midway. "The veiled dancing ladies," he says, "are not veiled."

But, after all, most people expect to be gyped when they go in for things like that.

* * *

Simile—

Out of place as a silk hat in a rumble seat.

* * *

A REAL TREAT.

(Lamar, Mo., Democrat.)

The 32-piece band, headed by Gene H. Loy, gave a concert at the bandstand in the courthouse yard at 3 o'clock, Saturday afternoon.

There was a good crowd out to hear the concert. While the boys were playing each number, one heard the folks who were present commenting on the concert: Isn't it a fine band? Say, those boys can play. Believe me, this is a band!

The boys stood up and played "You Gotta Quit Kicking My Dog Around!" Maybe it didn't make a hit with the crowd!

* * *

"And a gal's getting along," sighs Genevieve, the kitchen cynic, "when she has a stop fighting for her honor and begin fighting for her waistline."

* * *

Presidents of the largest banks Have no use for income blanks.

* * *

Revise from Tom Mannix—

"They laughed when I turned on the radio—but their laughter turned to groans when I tuned in the hillbillies."

* * *

Q. & A. DEPARTMENT

Dear A. Bella—

Do you know how a girl can become able to walk across a ballroom floor without feeling self-conscious? Confused.

Ans.—Auntie B. knows one way a gal can get so she's able to turn handsprings across a ballroom floor without feeling self-conscious. But it's hard on the health.

A. ("Always Poised") Bella.

LYRIC.

Having to Do with Art Versus Nature and Kindred Topics.

My heart sinks down when I behold
The cafeteria salads spread
Out in a neat formation—bold
The color schemes of all—with red
And yellow, blue and green abused
To make them bright and make them gay;
But is there one that should be used
For nourishment? Alas! I say,
There is not one. My wistful gaze
Shies from each creation unnamed,
Upon a fork not one I'd raise—
Though some would be okey if framed. Awk.

* * *

"And what puzzles me," postcards Henry Binder, "is how the new minimum wage scale and maximum working hours will affect the college football players this fall."

Be that as it may, the handsomest-looking life guard at Catalina Island is named Floyd Mussellman.

* * *

Adam Scoffiaw's Djournal

This daye given my zaney an swimming lesson, I tieing an stout rope anent her waist line and when she go in the water I standen on shore and strain or slacken rope, causing her to swim when I slacken and to float when strain, but if she renounce to swim when I slacken she is consequently soon readie to submit to swim.

The Beauty Box

By HELEN FOLLETT

Girls who would take on curves so as to qualify for the 1933 figure, can do so easily enough by sticking to the proper diet—that is, if health is up to par. The day should begin with a bowl of cereal, one egg and two strips of bacon. At the finish of luncheon and dinner there should be lapped up a glass of cream and milk, half and half. Long hours of sleep give the body a chance to build cushiony tissues. Exercise should be moderate; no activity continued to the point of fatigue.

Scalp specialists agree that dandruff does no great damage to hair growth, unpleasant as it is. But it invites bacteria, offers itself as a convenient lodging house for germs that produce scalp disorders. Soften with hot oil the night before the shampoo, and the soapy treatment will bring it away. Never disturb it by using the fine comb. Scratching with the finger nails is a bad practice, causes abrasions, sometimes creates what is known as "habit rash."

Cultivate the habit of breathing deeply. You can take your lung exercises any time, while waiting for a street car, while clipping off your two-mile walk, or standing before an open window. Breathe from the diaphragm, flattening the tummy, expanding the chest to the limit of measurement. Draw in the air through the nostrils, exhale through the lips. Deep breathers aren't as likely to take on fat as shallow breathers. Certainly, flushing the lungs and getting proper oxygenation have a beneficial effect upon eyelights, complexion and disposition.

If you are a poor sleeper, don't worry about it. Find a comfortable position, inhale and exhale slowly, let your mind dwell on pleasant thoughts. Imagine yourself in a dark quiet forest. Make the body feel heavy; that means that muscles are relaxed. By resting instead of fretting, sleep is more likely to come. Thrashing around and worrying do more damage to the nervous system and youthful looks than loss of sleep.

JUNIOR PATROL PLEDGE

I promise to help children less fortunate than I am,
I promise to do my best to make my parents proud of me.
I promise to watch carefully when crossing streets and to aid other children in keeping out of danger.
I promise to study hard and do errands willingly.
I promise to be a 100% Junior Patrol member.

Signed .....

Date of Birth.....Address.....

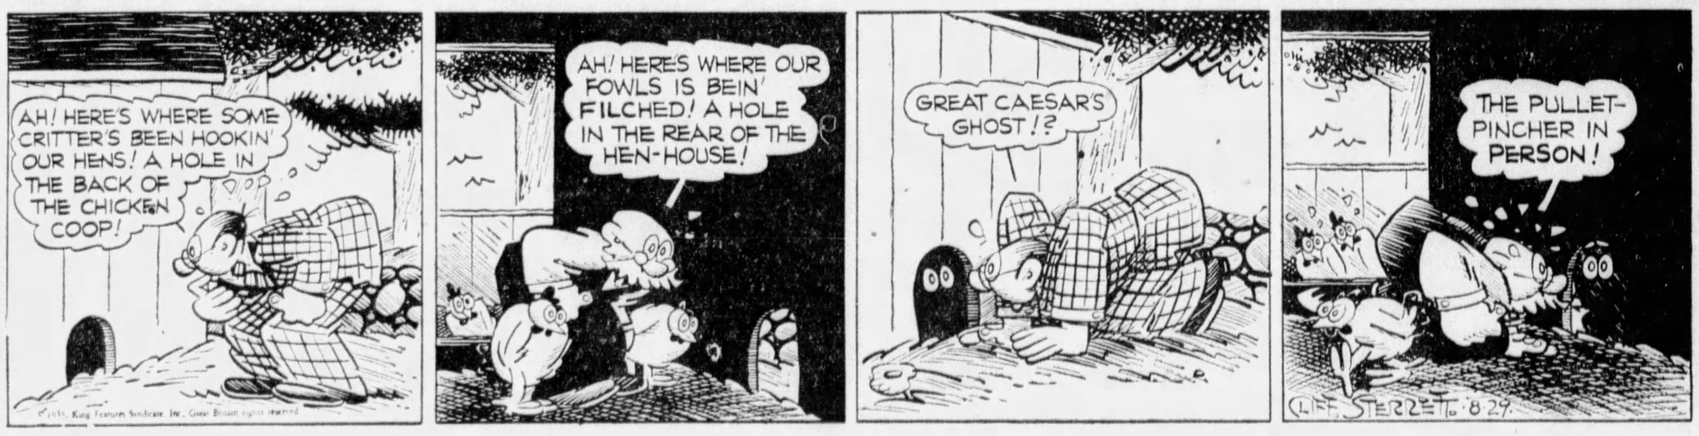
School .....

Address this pledge to the JUNIOR PATROL, Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa. Upon its receipt you will be registered as a member of the JUNIOR PATROL and will be forwarded a membership card and an official emblem.

THIMBLE THEATER—STARRING POPEYE

Now Showing—"Magnetic Metal"

POLLY AND HER PALS



A Pair of "Poultry-Pinchers"

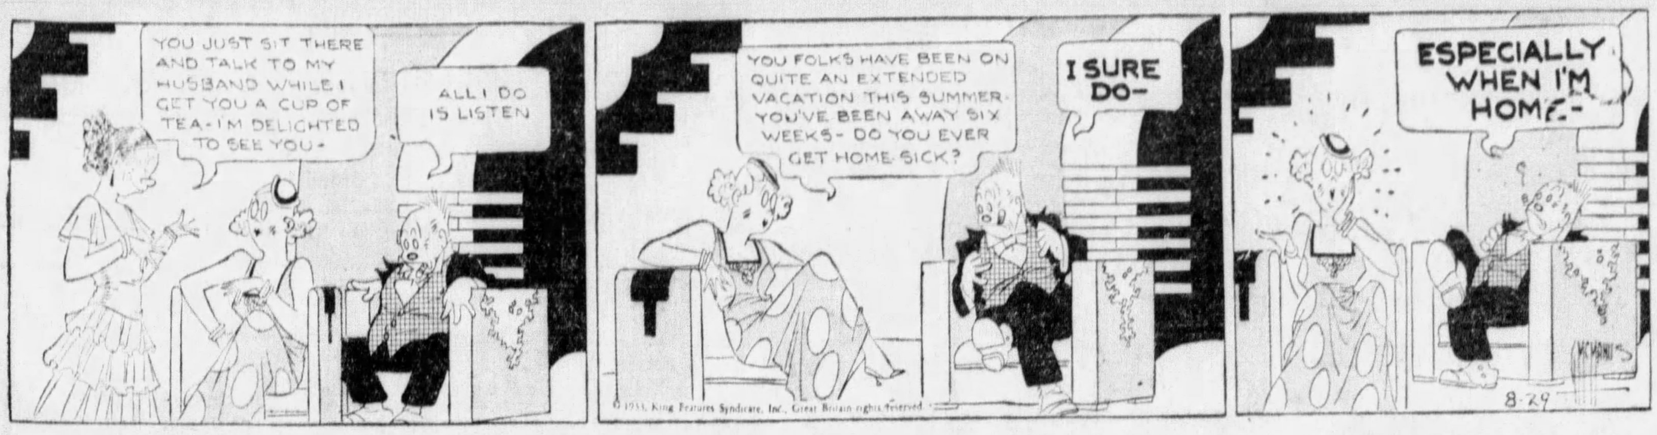
TIM TYLER'S LUCK

The Hornets' Nest

THE JUNIOR PATROL

Snuggins Happens to Think of Something

BRINGING UP FATHER



A Common Affliction

TILLIE THE TOILER

Putting Rosie to the Test

MICKEY MOUSE

A "Suspended Sentence"

THE NEBBS

The Fashion Plate

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

An Emergency Case

THE BUNGLE FAMILY

An Emergency Case

KRAZY KAT

A "Flighty" Kop

Hush!

Bugs Baer

It Will Change Football

We never knew how college football stars spent their summers until Cash-and-Carry Pyle took Red Grange off the back of an ice wagon and put him in the front.

Now we know. Some of them keep in training firing locomotives, harvesting the crops or saving lives on the beaches.

But do you know what most of them did this summer? They pulled rickshaws out at the Century of Progress.

And those boys can pull those Chinese ambulances! They step out like a wolf in a blizzard.

Every one of them is a football player somewhere in the land. And rickshaw-pulling is going to have some effect on the games this fall. Give the team a bowl of rice during halves and they will yank the stadium down, tear up the goalposts and drive their opponents to a terrible destination.

If we get two rival elevens who were all rickshaw pullers it will probably result in a tie game on the 50-yard line. They will just twist each other's ears off in the center of the field and call it a 40-hour week.

We talked to one husky kid who whizzed us through the fair grounds like a sea gull covering the waterfront. He said, "I've been engineering this uncovered wagon all summer. I've got legs like a ballet dancer, arms like a weight-lifter and I can run all day. If I ever get that football in my mitts I hope I run the right way."

The rickshaw jockeys are in great shape after spending the summer in the famous Cantonese Route Army Number 10. All they wear are jerseys and shorts. They're such gentlemanly hosses that the passengers don't have to carry whips.

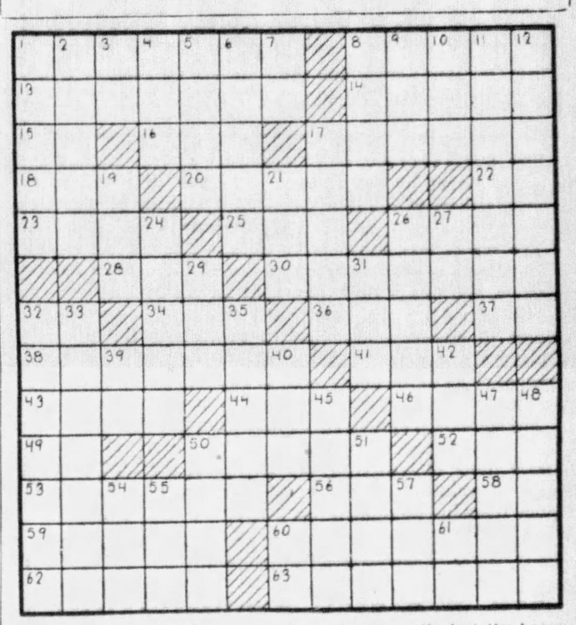
In addition to keeping in perfect scrimmaging shape the boys pick up a little money. Most of them live in the fraternity houses around Chicago and report for work in limousines.

So don't be surprised this autumn when the coach hollers, "Take out that half-back and put in a wagon."

That will win the game for dear old Rutabaga as you can't stop a rickshaw runner once he gets in the shafts and has the car of juggernaut to pull on.

(Copyright, 1933. Distributed by Universal Service, Inc.)

Today's Crossword Puzzle



HORIZONTAL

1—Scenic representation.
8—Marks remaining after wounds are healed.
13—Form of devotion said at the sound of a bell.
14—Hebrew book of laws.
15—One of the United States (abbr.).
16—Make lace.
17—Fruit.
18—Writing fluid.
20—Separate.
22—Chemical symbol for krypton.
23—Appear.
25—Salt.
26—What President of the U. S. was called "the Napoleon of the Stump?"
28—Affirmative.
30—Candidate for office.
32—Chemical symbol for samarium.
34—Sailor.
36—Pale.
37—Symbol for dysprosium
38—Laid up a store of money.
41—Greek letter.
43—River in Germany.
44—Craze.
46—Lubricates.
49—Japanese measure.
50—Causes to be omitted.
52—Encountered.
53—Wise and faithful counselor.
56—Cover.
58—Depart.
59—What tricksy spirit appears in Shakespeare's "Tempest?"
60—Stuffed seat without a back.
62—Thibet is to the north of what independent state on the southern slope of the Himalayas?
63—Defensive tower.

VERTICAL

1—Who was the Democratic candidate for President in 1924?
2—Stupid.
3—Biblical king of Bashan.
4—Steep in moisture.
5—Exclamation of despair.
6—Muffles.
7—Like.
8—Heavenly body.
9—Regard studiously.
10—Constellation.
11—Festered.
12—Who recently lost the heavyweight title to Primo Carnera?
17—Under.
19—Who composed the American national anthem?
21—Vehicle.
24—Rhythmic arrangement of syllables.
26—Piebald.
27—Upon.
29—Downcast.
31—Girl's name.
32—What American general made a famous march from Atlanta to the sea in 1864?
33—What great French dramatist wrote "The Would-Be Gentleman?"
35—Direct elsewhere.
39—Month in the Jewish calendar.
40—Split pulse.
42—Intention.
45—Alluvial deposit at the mouth of a river.
47—Licit.
48—Small rock.
50—Girl's toy.
51—Poses for a portrait.
54—Pinch.
55—Beverage.
57—Minute point.
60—What river flows 3,200 miles from Western Siberia to a gulf of the same name?
61—Note of the musical scale.

Herewith is the solution to yesterday's puzzle.

D	E	S	T	I	T	U	T	E		E	T	C
O	V	E	N	S		S	A	W		A	R	A
N	E	A	T		D	E	L	E		S	A	N
A	N	T		M	O	D	E	L		R	E	I	N
T	S		S	O	U		S	E	E		T	O
E		H	O	B	B	Y		S	P	O	O	N
	F	I	R		T	E	N		E	A	R
D	A	D	D	Y		S	O	L	A	R		S
E	T		I	F	E	R		B	A	T		B
L		B	I	R	D		O	N	L	Y		F	R	O
A	G	E		O	G	E	E		R	E	A	P
T	U	A		D	U	E		S	I	E	V	E
E	E	L		D	E	D	I	C	A	T	E	S

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Read 'The Jungle Terror'—Thrilling Tale of Romance and Lost Treasure—American Weekly Next Sunday

WHY PITTSBURGH IS GREAT
Has Largest Independent Concern Making Steel for Bridges

Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph

BE A PITTSBURGH BOOSTER
To Your Friends in Other Cities

TUESDAY, AUGUST 29, 1933

Established 1927, by Pitt Publishing Co., Pittsburgh, Pa. President, William Randolph Hearst; Publisher, Wilmer M. Jacoby; Assistant Publisher, Charles H. Joseph; Treasurer, A. W. Clark; Managing Editor, Dwight Fee; Secretary, McHenry Browne. Entered as second class matter in the postoffice at Pittsburgh, Pa.

National advertising representatives Paul Block and Associates, 247 Park avenue, New York; Palmolive Bldg., Chicago; General Motors Bldg., Detroit; Little Bldg., Boston; Guarantee Trust Bldg., Philadelphia; Russ Bldg., San Francisco; 1151 South Broadway, Los Angeles.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for re-publication of all news credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein. All rights of re-publication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

Red Herrings

The Voters Should Not Be Diverted From the Issues by Discussions of Irrelevant Matters

John M. Henry, candidate for the Democratic nomination for mayor, has challenged his opponent, William N. McNair, to debate with him, at a meeting in Carnegie Music Hall or Syria Mosque, the issues on which they disagree.

First among these issues Henry places the liquor question. Claiming for himself the virtue of being "a political wet," he attacks McNair as "a political dry."

McNair may be, as Henry says, a dry; but he supported Alfred E. Smith and Franklin D. Roosevelt, advocates of the repeal of prohibition, so he is certainly not a fanatic on the subject.

But we fail to see what this has to do with the fitness of either McNair or Henry to be Mayor of Pittsburgh. Not the Mayor, but the people, and Congress and the Legislature, determine our liquor policies, and the Mayor's sole function in respect to this matter is to enforce the laws. If he is an honest man, he has no discretion in the matter.

Henry suggests, to be sure, that McNair, because of his alleged dryness, might, as Mayor, persecute people involved in the liquor traffic. But that seems like a pretty far-fetched idea, and it might be said with equal logic that there was danger that a wet as ardent as Henry claims to be would be too lenient to the keepers of speakeasies.

The discussion is irrelevant. The liquor problem is being rapidly taken care of by the people. Pennsylvanians will vote on it on November 7. But it is not properly an issue in the mayoralty campaign, and is not to be settled in the Democratic primary.

Both McNair and Henry have advocated a number of municipal projects and changes of policy in the city government. If they have differing viewpoints on these matters they would provide good material for debate, and such a debate might be interesting and profitable.

But let us stick to the real issues.

Let us not be diverted from consideration of the genuine problems of city government by discussions of irrelevant matters.

And let the candidates' appeals be directed to the reason and intelligence of the citizens, and not to their prejudices and passions.

What the Lawyers Think

Their Opinions Concerning the Judiciary Candidates Will Be Valuable, If Frank.

The Sun-Telegraph called attention several months ago to a report issued by the Chicago Bar Association concerning the qualifications of the candidates for a number of places on the bench that were to be filled at an election then impending.

The report was surprisingly frank. The association did not hesitate to condemn certain of the sitting judges seeking re-election, and to say they were unfit for the bench.

Now, the Allegheny County Bar Association is asking its members to answer questionnaires concerning the judiciary candidates now presenting their claims to the people. Opinions are requested as to the honesty, legal ability, patience, courtesy, fair-mindedness and other qualities of the various aspirants.

The consensus of opinion, as thus determined, is to be used in making recommendations to the voters. If the lawyers are perfectly frank in answering the questions, the report should be of great value—for many voters heretofore have had little to guide them in determining the fitness of judiciary candidates for the bench, and have voted more or less blindly.

Mr. Moley's Resignation

He Is Needed in the State Department Because of His Sound Americanism

It was with regret, although not altogether with surprise, that the report was received of Assistant Secretary of State Moley's resignation.

The fragments of information which have leaked out of Washington during recent weeks, coupled with the unusual assignment of an Assistant Secretary of State to special duties in the Department of Justice, confirmed the public impression that a serious strain had developed between Secretary of State Hull and Mr. Moley. It was hoped, however, it would not result in a definite breach, as the Assistant Secretary enjoyed public confidence to a greater extent perhaps than did his chief.

The latter has advocated so many things that are in plain variance with the President's policies, and in conflict with the convictions and purposes of the American people, that the presence at his side of an assistant whose Americanism was so much sounder than his own, was regarded by the public as a source of safety.

On the great and pressing questions of adequate tariff protection, the independent control of our own currency, and the collection of the European debts, Mr. Moley rang true and Secretary Hull does not.

By common consent Assistant Secretary Moley was the ablest and most statesmanlike of the group of Presidential advisers who are described as the "brain trust." His utterances and the various proposals with which his name is associated revealed a sane combination of the practical outlook with the theoretical, of the actual with the academic, which went far in overcoming the instinctive public distrust of the professor in politics.

In approaching every problem, he kept America uppermost in his thoughts. His loyalty to American principles and interests was manifest and uncompromising. His ability and capacity for work of high usefulness were undisputed.

The Hearst papers are sorry that he should leave the government service, where he is needed—and where he will be missed.

Park's Pledge

It Would Be More Impressive If He Had Uncovered the Frauds Found by the Federal Grand Jury.

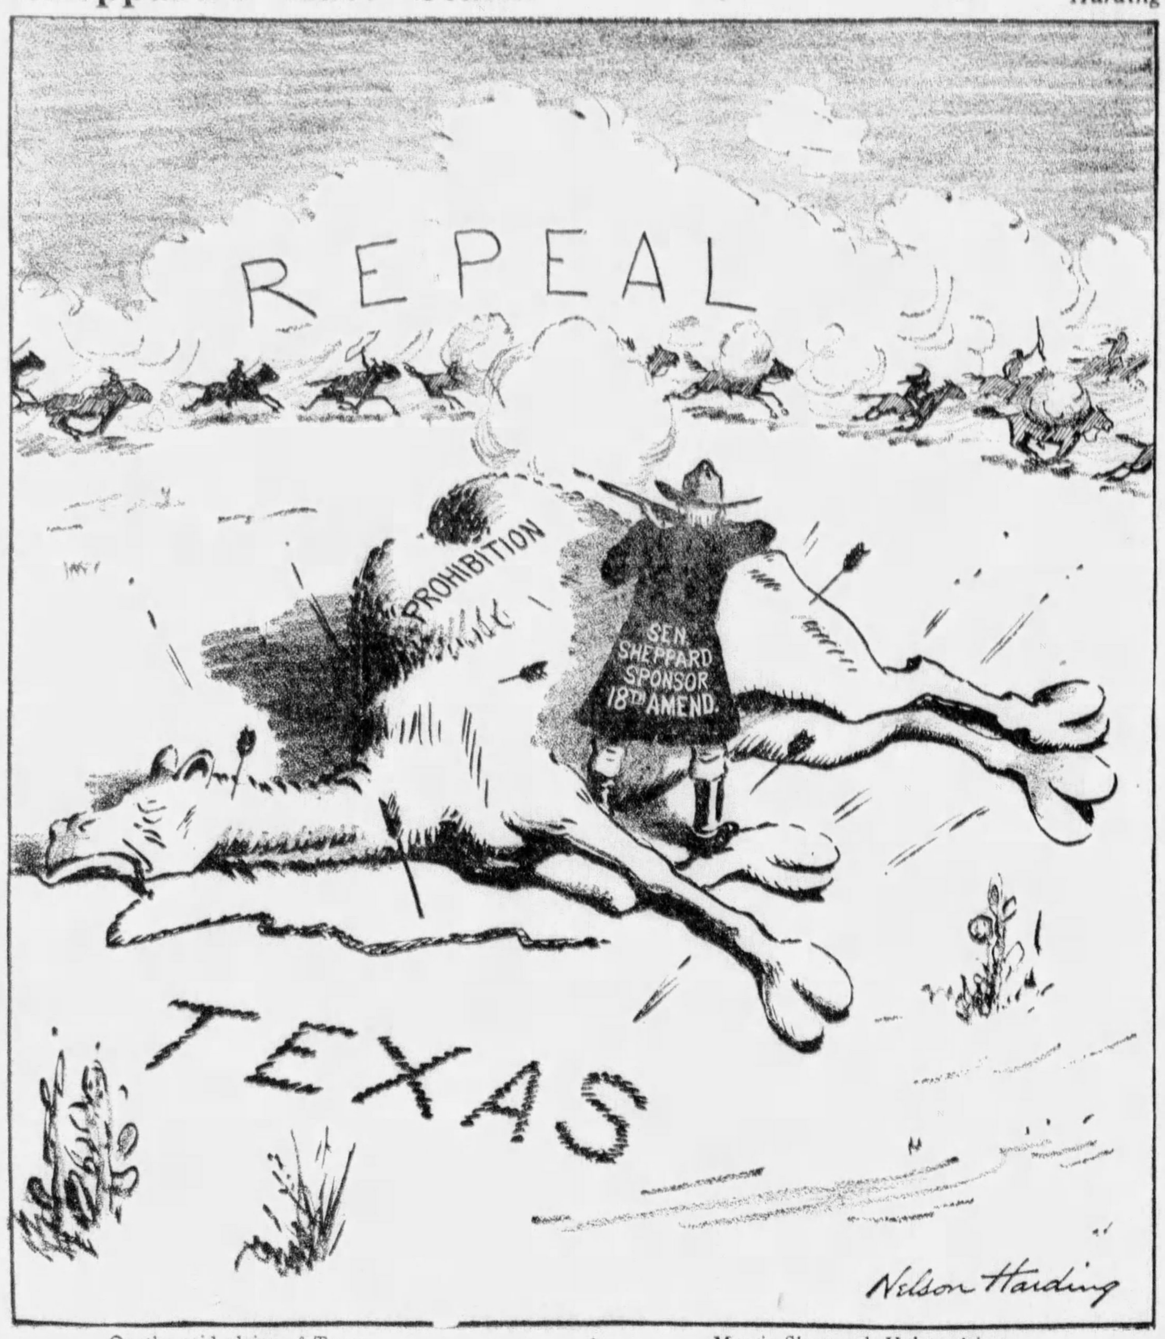
Leo A. Riordan, the County Commissioners' investigator, reports that in the Twenty-second Ward assessment list he has found 169 more "phantoms"—among them one James Anderson, whose address is given as Federal and East Ohio streets, where stands a bronze statue of Col. James Anderson, deceased.

Taking cognizance at last of the repeated charges that attempts are being made to cheat in the approaching primary, District Attorney Andrew T. Park has issued a statement in which he promises that "vigorous prosecutions will follow any successful attempts to corrupt this election."

The pledge would carry more weight if Park had vigorously prosecuted those guilty of the flagrant frauds in the election of last November. The United States grand jury, with narrowly limited powers, brought indictments against more than 100 persons accused of cheating in the congressional elections alone. But so far as anything done by Park reveals, the election was as pure as the driven snow.

Sheppard's Last Stand

By Nelson Harding



On the arid plains of Texas
Lies the fatally wounded camel,
While its rider makes his final
Stand against surrounding foemen.

Morris Sheppard, Volstead hero,
Bone dry Senator from Texas,
Forlorn hope of Prohibition,
Fought a hard, but losing battle.

Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

What No Man Believes

Woman may have helped herself to most of man's rights, but she has not yet gone so far as to expect a man to count her laundry, hang up her beach-trousers and hunt for her hat.

* * *

A philosopher is a man who has discovered that there is no such thing as love without heartaches, drinking without a headache, a woman without flaws or happiness without a price.

* * *

What's wrong with this sentence? "Yes," said the climber, "we've bought a new car; but we can't afford it, so let's not talk about it."

The only thing about a man's clothes that any woman really envies him, is his ability to wear the same suit and hat, year after year, and still be the glass of fashion.

* * *

The whale that kept Jonah away from home for three whole days and nights, says the Cynic, must have been a whale of a good party.

* * *

Alimony may have its weak points. But if a man will give a woman a good living for censoring his diet, hiding his gin, mussing up his morning newspaper and making him carry his umbrella, why shouldn't he gladly pay her a lot more money for letting him ALONE?

Why does everybody blame the younger generation for being self-centered? Most modern parents are worms of the dust—and the natural human impulse, when you see a worm, is to STEP on it.

* * *

"No man will believe it," says Reno Ruth, "but the average girl hates being mauled; and, honestly, it isn't a bit thrilling to have a bristly cheek rubbed against yours—unless it happens to be the cheek you love to touch."

* * *

Some men struggle out of marriage, others crawl out of it, and others just "check out" as though it were a transient hotel.

* * *

Marriage is not always a failure. Like a fountain pen, it SOMETIMES works—even in these days.

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Wise Words

Some folks are wise, and some are otherwise.—Smollet.

To be proud of learning is the greatest ignorance.—Jeremy Taylor.

The wheel of fortune turns round incessantly, and who can say to himself, "I shall today be uppermost."—Confucius.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Very few writers of note live in New York any more. Time was when the most distinguished resided in Greenwich Village or Washington Square. It was believed a close contact with editors and publishers was necessary. This has proved a fallacy.

Top-notch novelists and magazine writers come to town once a year but usually to catch a steamer for Europe. Often they do not even call at the editorial rooms. Nearly all have their literary agents transact their affairs by mail and telegraph.

Any number, including Hemingway and Louis Bromfield, reside in Europe. Scores live on the Pacific coast—more indeed than on the Atlantic. A few live in Boston environs, notably Ben Ames Williams. Harold Bell Wright in Tucson may not come East for three years at a stretch.

Gouverneur Morris sold fiction steadily for years from Tahiti and there is, of course, Pearl Buck's amazing success from far away China. Vicki Baum did well by herself from Germany for a long time. Editors have scouts who rush to those who can deliver the goods wherever they are.

* * *

Expert chefs rarely smoke because of the fear of dulling their highly sensitized taste. Oscar of the Waldorf was no exception until three years ago—his 64th year—he began smoking a pipe. His interest became so keen his collection of pipes is now regarded as the finest in the world.

* * *

Incidentally, Lucius Boomer, director of the Waldorf, is, next to Dr. John Finley, of the Times, the town's most indefatigable walker. It was not unusual for him to walk from the old Waldorf to Mt. Vernon. George M. Cohan is the most tireless stroller of the theater, averaging at least six miles daily.

* * *

The most spectacular of the rural speakeasies, masquerading as a "country club," has been running full tilt two months near picturesque hills of Mt. Kisce in Westchester. The proprietors are also pilots of Manhattan's most pretentious hideaway. The "speak" was originally a half million dollar manor moved stone by stone from an English Tudor estate. There are terraces, formal gardens, swimming pools, dance floors, four restaurants and a tremendous bar. So enormous is the patronage, especially on Saturday nights, it's necessary to keep eight state troopers on duty until 6 a. m. to control traffic.

* * *

In a Mid-West hotel where we once lived was a girl of 6 who could be perfectly described as a brat. Cruelly wicked, she tried to drown kittens and stick pins in the pet dog. Her bursts of uncontrollable temper were amazing studies in human fury. My wife and I often wondered her finish. Today we learned. She is a nun.

* * *

There is something of a grand descriptive writer in a truckman who called at Leon Gordon's studio for a nude the artist was keeping for a friend. The truckman's receipt read: "Rec'd—1 smear of a frail in birthday clothes."

* * *

Barbara Hutton's engagement ring from her prince was a smoked pearl and jewelers report a run on smoked pearls for engagement rings. New York!

* * *

The most industrious street beggar is One Man Band Ike. On his back is a bass drum with cymbals which beat and clash, due to a wired connection, when he kicks up his heels. In one hand he carries a tambourine, in the other a clarinet which gives the effect of six pigs caught under a fence. No one can so enliven a city block. He tells me he averages $4 a day.

* * *

Marine artists are seldom expert navigators in sail. Two of the notable exceptions are Rockwell Kent and Stephen Etnier. They manage their boats with the graceful casualism of old salts. On the other hand only men who have known the sea intimately—Conrad, McFee et al—have ever been successful in turning out fiction tales of the deep.

* * *

I should say the most exotic Park avenue wound of the season was that sustained by a gilded youth named Winthrop Saltus who was bitten by a pet ocelot.

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

LISTEN, WORLD

By Elsie Robinson

Should women give up their positions in the business world?

"Big Ben" opined that they should. According to him, women workers, particularly married ones, were the real cause of the depression, and the millenium would come pronto if they were headed out of industry and herded back into their corner.

But—we wondered. So we passed his letter on; and we're still trying to dig out from under the come-back. The first mail brought 379 answers. Of these, 187 were for ousting ladies from jobs; the other 192 were for keeping them in! So then, what? Do those five-odd votes prove anything? Fill in the answer for yourself.

And while you're wrangling over that, give a thought to this point which no one brought up:

WHY DID WOMEN LEAVE THE KITCHEN?

Was it because of female pride and perversity?

Was it because they were too lazy to do their "regular work"—wanted to gallivant around, wear prettier clothes than their husbands could afford, have an easier time?

The anti-feminists would have us believe that these are the reasons. But the cold facts of history tell a different story. Those facts show that—

WOMEN DIDN'T TAKE MEN'S JOBS, UNTIL—

MEN TOOK WOMEN'S JOBS!

WOMEN DIDN'T LEAVE THE KITCHEN, UNTIL—

MEN SHOVED THEM OUT OF IT!

AND IF WOMEN TODAY WENT BACK INTO THE KITCHEN AND DID THE WORK THEIR GRANDMOTHERS DID,

IT WOULD ROB HALF THE MEN OF WORK!

You don't believe it? Then figure it out for yourself. What did a woman do in the days when the kitchen was her empire?

SHE COOKED. She didn't just open a can or phone the grocer. She cooked everything—EVERYTHING her family ate. Baked all the bread and pastry. Canned all the fruits and vegetables. Cured hams and bacons. Stored roots for winter. Bottled her own soft drinks. Brewed her medicines.

SHE SEWED. She didn't just do a little embroidery; hem a particularly fine table cloth. She sewed everything her family used. Spun the thread; carded the wool; wove the cloth; bleached or dyed the finished product. Every stitch that was taken in the home passed through her flying fingers. She hemmed her curtains; patched her quilts; tied her "comforters"; braided her rugs. She tailored the suits—her own overcoat as well as her family's—made her husband's shirts.

SHE WASHED. All of the laundry was done at home—WITHOUT modern conveniences.

Nor are all these labor matters of very ancient history. Most of them were performed by this writer in her own home. Many of them are still being performed. (Believe it or not, I'm going from this article to put up blackberry jam and cut out a new plaid dress for Lee!)

In short, until the last 30 years a woman's home was not only a social center, but a BIG BUSINESS. And a housewife was Important Citizen No. 1. No Busy Bunch of Boasting Rotarians ever got a bigger kick out of their achievement than did the Mamas of 1900 when they paused to compare records.

Then why did they stop making those records?

MEN ARE WHY.

Who is doing the cooking and canning today? Who has taken over the sewing and laundry work? Who is busy building the "modern conveniences" which have displaced hand work—the tiny apartments which have replaced the "old fashioned home?"

MEN.

And why are men doing these things? Was it because women laid down on the job? It was not. It was because—

MEN FOUND PROFIT IN DOING THEM. MEN TURNED HOUSEWORK INTO MONEY. SO MEN TURNED HOUSEKEEPERS.

AND NOW THEY'RE BEEFING BECAUSE WOMEN HAVE TURND CLERKS!

Which leaves women just where? YOU tell 'em.

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Text for Today And let us not weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.—Galatians, vi: 9.

(Today's text is suggested by the Rev. W. H. Main, pastor, Free Methodist Church, East End.)

The Human Side of the News

How the Chinese of New York City Adjudicate Disputes—A Witness Swears by the Blood of a Chicken

By EDWIN C. HILL

THE Chinese have a marvelous aptitude for minding their own business. But they like to mind it in their own way, being individualists of a very rugged brand. Sometimes they call in the boo how doy, the hatchetmen, and settle disputes with 45 calibre Colt pistols. But in ordinary times they employ their own peculiar courts, for they don't understand the white man's complex legal system.

It is an interesting experience to attend a session of the supreme court of New York's Chinatown. Its official name is the Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Association and it sits on certain nights on the top floor of an old building hard by the Bowery.

The association came into being when Chinatown was founded. Since there was then no Chinese consul in New York, it handled all consular business, looked after Chinese welfare generally, and did charitable work in the Chinese colony. When New York's Chinatown grew larger and its business spread, all transactions concerning restaurants, laundries and property were made before the association, which in turn announced the impending deal on posters and billboards in the streets of Chinatown and in the Chinese newspapers.

* * *

Tong Delegates Attend Court

IT became a court, adjudicating between buyer and seller. To this court come the delegates from the two great tongs, the Hip Sing and the On Leong, bringing a variety of cases which would mean tong wars and bloodshed if they could not be settled peaceably before the Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Association tribunal.

The big meeting room is plainly furnished, almost bare except for rows of chairs facing the president's table. His table is upon a low platform, and behind it is a big blackboard covered with Chinese writing and symbols—a list of the cases to be heard. At a small side table sits a plump court clerk, thumbing a thick ledger of rice paper, and dabbing at the pages now and then with his writing brush. One by one the tong delegates arise and present their cases. They speak in sharp, clear voices, with sing-song intonation. Nearly all the cases involve money, disputes over rentals or the purchase price of laundries.

The room is fogged with cigar and cigaret smoke as the business of the court drones on hour after hour. Off the big room is a closet containing a gas stove and a boiling tea kettle. A big teapot is kept filled and hot in an iron bucket of boiling water. As the arguments proceed there is an endless procession back and forth from the courtroom to tea closet.

The dramatic moment comes at midnight, when one of the litigants, a very modern-looking young Chinese, makes a short angry speech with a catlike snarl. The interpreter shakes his head and confides laconically: "He no like". . . And one wonders, as one exits down the dark and narrow stairway and out into the clamorous Bowery if the Chinese gentleman who is so plainly vexed with the proceedings of the court would try for his rights some night with one of those big pistols which are said to make all men equal.

* * *

Intricacies of Chinese Disputes

CHINESE legal disputes are usually too baffling and intricate for the white man's courts. In the Supreme Court in New York, justice grew dizzy over a wet wash rumpus. The laundry firm of Foon, Fo, Feng, Eng, Kong, Mean & Company, took to the Supreme Court their grievance against five other Celestials. Foon and so forth had paid $23,000 to the five for the wet wash laundry. Whereupon the five went right out and started another wet wash business in direct competition.

The judge gave a Scotch verdict and fled to his chambers.

The Chinest mind works on a different plane from the mental operations of us western barbarians. If a Chinese witness refuses to take oath on the Bible there is nothing much the court can do about it. The Chinese is within his rights.

Some years ago there was a murder case in the criminal part of the New York Supreme Court. The principal witness refused to swear upon the Bible. The interpreter explained that the witness would make oath only over the blood of a newly-slain chicken. The startled judge could scarcely believe his ears, but he was told that the witness would most surely tell the truth if he was permitted to take the chicken blood oath. So all hands adjourned to the cellar of the Criminal Courts Building, the dignified judge holding up his silken robe as ladies used to hold up their skirts in the remote past when crossing a muddy street. After him trailed the jury and the bailiffs, the lawyers, witnesses and the gleeful reporters.

A spry young assistant district attorney went out and bought a rooster—a white one, the color being important. But before the fowl could be executed it got away from the law and made a wild break for liberty. Everybody chased it about the cellar except His Honor and the man on trial for murder. Finally, the rooster was nabbed and beheaded. The witness took the oath, dabbling a few drops of the blood of the white rooster upon his forehead and promptly proceeded to give evidence that sent a Chinese hatchetman to the chair.

Only a few years ago one of these laundry rows started a first class tong war. This writer, accompanying the police, burst into a Chinese gambling house in Pell street. It was as dark as the inside of a hat until flashlights cast weird beams over hall and stairway. Floor and stairs were slippery with fresh blood. Blood dripped from the landing above with a horrible monotony, drop by drop. In one room above stairs were six dead Chinese, their throats cut, or stabbed to the heart. Wholesale murder by steel. In that room was death and darkness and a yellow canary singing its heart out as the electric lights went up.

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

WHAT DO YOU KNOW?

By S. H. Connolly

Match correctly:

1. "Answer a fool according to his folly." — Bacon.
2. "Marriage and hanging go by destiny." — Byron.
3. "And this our life exempt from public haunt
   Finds tongues in trees, books in the running brooks,
   Sermons in stones and good in everything." — Bible.
4. "Man's love is of man's life a thing apart
   'Tis woman's whole existence." — Shakespeare.
5. "He that hath a wife and children
   Hath given hostages to fortune;
   For they are impediments to great enterprises,
   Either of virtue or mischief." — Burton.

Do you know:

6. What are the three primary colors?
7. What does the expression "according to Hoyle" imply?
8. What branch of law is admiralty?
9. What is meant by net price?
10. For how long did the Popes have residence in France?
11. About how much blood is there in the human body?
12. When did the battle called the Defense of the Alamo occur?
13. What is meant by prima facie evidence?
14. To what sort of people is the term "Pharisees" now applied?
15. What does the Jewish feast of Passover commemorate?

Answers to Today's Tests:

1. Bible. 2. Burton, "Anatomy of Melancholy." 3. Shakespeare, "As You Like It." 4. Byron, "Don Juan." 5. Bacon, "Of Marriage and Single Life." 6. Red, yellow, blue. 7. According to strict rules (Hoyle was first to systematize laws of whist). 8. The law which treats of civil and criminal cases on the high seas. 9. The price after all discounts and other deductions have been made. 10. 1309-1377 at Avignon. 11. About ⅓ of the weight; about six quarts in a man of average weight. 12. 1836. 13. Evident at the first glance. 14. Self-righteous or hypocritical persons. 15. It commemorates the passing over the houses of the Israelites whose doors were marked with the blood of the lamb, when the first-born of the Egyptians were killed.

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

You may blame a relative because he does not give you financial aid.

He has a fine home and everything in it is in keeping.

You know that his income has been reduced, but you feel that he still has enough to be able to assist you if he so desired.

If you knew the truth about his income you might be surprised.

He has the appearance of affluence, procured in days when money was plentiful.

But that appearance does not represent his purchasing power today.

With all his holdings shrinking, no market to sell, taxes and insurance to keep up and a certain amount of repairs, he has far more to worry about than you.

He may spend many sleepless nights trying to figure out a way to retain his possessions, to no purpose, apparently.

Sold to satisfy debts, he could get but a fraction of value on his home, and sold at what he values it, a smaller fraction of its worth.

There are thousands in this country caught in just this way, and, to add to their troubles, the consciousness that someone is probably berating them because they seem to show such a "lack of feeling."

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Isn't It So?

Birds of a feather will gather together.

Humility is a virtue all preach, none practice, and yet everybody is content to hear.

One of our troubles is that frozen assets seem to have been accompanied by cold feet.

Occasionally one meets a man who asks for only half a chance, but the majority prefer their chances whole.